The statement will probably pass without challenge that Henry FitzGilbert Waters was in America the most eminent antiquarian of his time, perhaps of all times. The scope of his investigations was wide, embracing not only New England, but the Middle States and the South. As regards a multitude of families he threw light upon the matter of lineage, putting thereby large numbers under obligation to him. As the tracer of the genealogies of characters of historical importance, Roger Williams, John Harvard, and Washington, he put the whole country in debt. The passing of a man so gifted and useful, which occurred at Salem, Mass., on 16 August 1913, requires special mention in the pages of the Register, a journal devoted to the studies in which Mr. Waters made himself illustrious and the principal medium through which he made his discoveries known.

He was born at Salem 29 March 1833. His line was honorable, running back to the foundation of Massachusetts Bay, and both for his father and mother the pedigree may be clearly traced, on both sides of the purest New England strain. His father, Hon. Joseph Gilbert Waters, born at Salem 5 July 1796, was fifth in descent from Lawrence Waters, one of the first settlers of Watertown, Mass., and afterwards of Lancaster, Mass., the line consisting of Lawrence, Stephen, Benjamin, Benjamin, Joseph, and Joseph Gilbert. Joseph Gilbert Waters was a Harvard graduate of the Class of 1816, a lawyer by profession, the editor for several years of the Salem Observer, a member of the Massachusetts Senate in 1835, and for more than forty years a justice of the Police Court at Salem. He died 12 July 1878. His wife, whom he married 8 December 1825, was Eliza Greenleaf Townsend, who was born at Salem 17 January 1798 and died 13 November 1890, daughter of Capt. Penn Townsend, a notable Essex worthy, and his wife Mary, who was the daughter of Addison and Mary (Greenleaf) Richardson. Their son had no vainglorious pride of birth, but an affectionate interest in the chain of honest sires from whom he drew his blood.

In 1842 Henry FitzGilbert Waters entered a private school at Salem, kept by Jonathan Fox Worcester, A.M., M.D., a son of Rev. Samuel Worcester, S.T.D., and a graduate of Dartmouth College. He remained for six or seven years under Dr. Worcester's tuition, and then he entered the Public Latin School, of which Oliver Carlton, A.M., also a Dartmouth graduate, was master. I came into personal touch with Waters when, as boys of about eighteen, we entered Harvard College in 1851, members of the Class of 1855. He became almost at once my most intimate friend, and although in after years our paths diverged widely, we met at intervals, rather remarkably at critical moments, and our friendship and sympathy remained unabated. As a boy he was of medium stature, slender and alert, bright-eyed, with delicate features, among which the nose, clear-cut and pronounced, was noticeable. Quite strangely his hair, even when a freshman, was streaked with gray, a peculiarity which was said to have called out from Jared Sparks, then president, an outburst of laughter: "A gray-haired freshman! What an idea!" It was not a sign of decrepitude. He was vigorous in body then and always, active with some intervals of illness to fourscore.

Waters came to college with James Arthur Emmerton, his friend almost from the cradle, a man who also in later years developed into a notable antiquary. They were chums throughout their college life, and closely bound together up to Emmerton's death. Together they travelled and made researches, Emmerton supplying the means from his longer purse, and when he died equipping his companion sufficiently to carry on his work. It was a beautiful union of kindred spirits and memorable in its results, for Waters could hardly have accomplished his great tasks had not Emmerton lent him his sturdy shoulder. I think they were the most popular men of our class. They were genial, and their room was a common ground where all came together. The various cliques, the rich and the poor, Northerners and Southerners, the nobs and the neglected, all somehow felt at ease with Emmerton and Waters, and I wonder how they found a chance to study in the influx that passed over their hospitable threshold. The atmosphere was delightful, though over-thick often with tobacco smoke. Waters indeed smoked little, if ever; but Emmerton, of burlier mould, maintained a pipe whose capacious bowl fumed always with some strong mixture. My own lips had never been profaned by cigar or meerschamn, but when in a momentary lapse from virtue I applied once to Emmerton for a pipe, he provided me, with a smile I thought benignant but which was only mischievous, with a blend of the blackest and strongest. I took a whiff or two with consequences so dire that I never tried to smoke again till I reached the age of seventy-four. As now at eighty I pull serenely, I ponder whether I should bless or regret that old experience. Did it healthfully shut me off for sixty years from a small time- and pence-consuming vice, or was I then and there cozened out of a pleasant solace that might have blunted the edge for me of many a rasping quandary? Though a bit clouded, the atmosphere in which these Salem chums were involved was never otherwise than kind and wholesome. They were hilarious, but always clean in their walk and conversation, exemplary in their ideals, encouragers of scholarship as well as good-fellowship, and for their own comfort perhaps too kindly sympathetic. Waters was never anything in those days but "Fitz," as our classmate Phillips Brooks was usually "Phillips"; and I recall a freshman bon mot which may be worth recording. A question arising as to the adequacy of our class for some emergency, some one defiantly exclaimed: "With Waters we'll give them fits, and with Brooks we'll give them fillips!"

I went several times to Waters's home in Salem, the old seaport which sixty years ago still retained much of the character that had marked it in the days of "Billy Gray" and "King Derby." Stout little ships lay at the wharves with cargoes of palm-oil, coconuts, and East Indian tissues from the Orient, and bluff, weather-beaten boys of my own age, with old Salem names, paced the decks, mates and supercargoes, sometimes before the mast, already veteran sailors, incipient captains in a world-encircling commerce. The old East India Museum, pungent with strange spicy odors, displayed what to an inland boy like myself was a wonderful show—curious fabrics, things marvellously carved and lacquered, strange monsters of the sea and land, queued and turbaned counterfeits of far-away magnates and merchants. On the shore stood the famous custom-house, whose presiding spirit a few years before had been Nathaniel Hawthorne. You found in the homes, in air faintly fragrant with sandalwood, oriental tapestries, uncouth bric-à-brac, models of notable ships that had fought pirates in the China seas or foundered amid typhoons—these housed in colonial structures, quaint and graceful.

The home of Waters had distinctly the Salem marks, and the household was representative. His father had had an honorable career as magistrate and editor, and his intelligence was pervaded with pleasant humor. His mother was a gentle and stately lady of the old school, by birth and breeding informed with the town's best traditions. I recall as particularly interesting my classmate's elder brother Joseph, indeed a most friendly and vivacious character. He began his career as the "Collector's Junior Clerk" in the custom-house, under Hawthorne, and figures as such in the famous prologue to the Scarlet Letter. In a dare-devil adventure he had at one time penetrated to a wild and outlandish settlement called Chicago. Returning safely thence, he never after left Salem, I think, quite content that henceforth Cape Ann and Marblehead should bound his excursions. He was charming in his naive limitations, a good story-teller, and overflowing in kind offices. I remember to this day a dish of his own concocting, set off with East Indian curry, a condiment then little known, of which I had never heard. There was strange drink also, of equally remote derivation. The novel and toothsome fare, the repartee, anecdote, and laughter which pervaded the strange aromatic steam, the broad good-heartedness, interwoven with honest and innocent parochial enthusiasm, made it a true Salem repast, typical and delightful. My classmate was very happy in his home environment, and I can see now that the boy was father of the man.

Things associated with history interested him as they did me. Here as in most ways our tastes were congenial. We were good walkers, and tramped together untiring to the historic spots. He showed me Gallows Hill, where the witches were hanged, and the bridge where the Salemites claim that armed resistance to British authority was made before the Concord fight. We tramped round the bay to the old fort, which sheltered the Constitution, fleeing before the English fleet in the War of 1812, and pondered the scratches on the old desk, made by Hawthorne's penknife as he evolved the tragedy of poor Hester Prynne. Once, while crossing a street, he called my attention to a cobblestone in the pavement of the gutter which his foot had just pressed. "I always trod on that particular stone," said he, "going to and coming from school throughout my boyhood, and it would hurt me to tread on any other as I cross," a small cropping-out of the steadfastness and method which served him to such good purpose later.

At graduation no one of our men was more universally liked and respected than he. Others surpassed him in scholarship, though here he was sound and broad. There were brilliant fellows who shone later in fields more directly under the world's gaze than the one he chose, but we all confided in the warm heart and good head of Fitz. Nathan was not franker or more fearless with "Thou art the man" than he was, if a companion slipped. He heartened the desponding and acclaimed without envy the successful, a conciliator in quarrels and a counsellor to men perplexed. He was truthful, often bluntly so, and insincerity in others withered under his word and gaze.

Waters's chief fault, perhaps, was a lack of ambition. After graduation he studied for no profession, but without definite aim opened in the fall of 1855 a little private school in Salem, of which he continued in charge until, compelled by illness to lay aside all business, he gave it up, 1 May 1859, to his old master, Oliver Carlton, Esq. He remained without employment until the fall of 1861, when he gave proof of his devotion to the cause of the Union by enlisting as a corporal in Co. F, Twenty-Third Regiment of Massachusetts Volunteers. He went to North Carolina in the

* The following account of Waters's Civil War service is based chiefly on information contained in his pedigree papers, which were filed with the New England Historic Genealogical Society when he accepted membership in the Society, 18 May 1872.
"Burnside expedition," and shortly after the victories at Roanoke Island and Newbern, having been incapacitated for active service by exposure in the swamps of Roanoke, which resulted in severe chronic rheumatism, he was, at the request of his friend, Dr. George Derby, surgeon in the Twenty-Third Massachusetts Volunteers, detailed for duty as his clerk at the Academy Green General Hospital. There he remained, under Dr. Derby and his successor, Dr. Clayton A. Cowgill of Delaware, until Dr. Cowgill was transferred to the charge of the Stanly General Hospital. There being no likelihood that he would ever again be fitted for active service in the field, Waters gave up his corporal's warrant in favor of one of his comrades in Co. F, and was retained as the clerk of Dr. Cowgill while the latter filled the various offices of surgeon in charge of the Stanly General Hospital, of acting medical inspector and superintendent of all the hospitals in North Carolina, and finally of surgeon in charge of the Foster General Hospital, into which all the hospitals in Newbern had been merged. At the expiration of his term of service, 28 September 1864, Waters, although he had received his "discharge" and was free to return to his home, felt that his further services in the hospital were needed, and disregarding the personal risk which he ran, he continued them without pay, until he was prostrated in the following month by yellow fever, which had been raging violently in Newbern since the first week in August of that year. When he began to convalesce, he was sent to Morehead City, by the seashore, where on the very next day he had a relapse and was reduced so low that he was reported dead in Newbern. Nevertheless, having regained a little strength and having learned that Dr. Cowgill had been taken down with the fever, Waters went back to Newbern to render what little service he could. On Dr. Cowgill's recovery, as Waters still remained "weak and almost good for nothing" (to use his own words), he determined to return to the North, and left Morehead City 5 November 1864 by steamer for New York. Late in December of the same year he started again for the South, going to St. Helena Island, near Beaufort, S. C. There he was induced by his friend, Capt. Joseph A. Goldthwait, port commissary at Beaufort, to accept for a time the position of chief clerk in his office. Sherman had just taken Savannah, and was making preparations for his march through the Carolinas, so that Waters and his assistants had plenty of work, as, although few in number, they were obliged to provision the whole Army of the Tennessee. Finally, in May 1865, Waters came back to the North, and, although he had borne arms for his country and had defied disease that he might minister to the inmates of the hospitals, he persistently refused, with delicate honor, to receive a pension, in spite of the exigencies of later years. We met after a ten years' separation, at Cambridge, on Commemoration Day in 1865. Our class had done well for the country. Our soldiers were twenty-four in number, among them two major-generals, four colonels, and others of lesser grade. Of the rank and file, I think, were only Waters and I, both of us corporals. The spirit of the day was to efface all rank, and we both were pressed by Barlow and Hayes, the major-generals, and by colonels, majors, and captains, to march side by side with them in the line. We held aloof, however, and strode together in the dignity of our chevrons, for the last time in our army blue, to the beat of the drum.

The occupations of Waters now for a decade or so seemed to those not close to him to be, for the strong man that he was, somewhat trilling and desultory. He had no regular vocation, engaged not earnestly in educational work, collected old furniture, and pored over old documents. In a visit to him in these years I found him transferred from his old home to an ample and dignified mansion of a former type on Salem Common, which he had crowded from attic to cellar with ancient furniture and bric-à-brac, Elizabethan sideboards, quaint dressers and tables, venerable beds with testers, columnar clocks, andirons, warming pans, candlesticks, loggerheads, a multifarious assortment of colonial belongings large and small. The craze for such accumulations was then not marked in the community. As a collector he was early in the field, and had an abnormal acuteness and zest in detecting things rare and valuable. His gracious and stately mother, now widowed, presided among these venerable objects, a befitting environment for such a beautiful lady of the old school. Among this venerable oak and old china she moved in gown and cap of fashion as venerable; and at her side still stood the elder son, the delightful Joe, the same who had been suspected by Hawthorne in the custom-house of writing poetry, who had escaped unharmed from his rash incursion among the bulls and bears of remote Chicago, and had returned contentedly to his quiet Salem nook for a lifelong stay. Both he and Fitz stuck to bachelorhood, a practice over-esteemed among genuine Salemites. In the case of either an affair of the heart was unthinkable, and yet more genial and charming men never as hosts welcomed a friend. Waters was full of stories. This fine wainscoting had revealed itself after he had painfully for days scraped off layers of disfiguring paint, and that rare bit he had detected built into a hencoop in an ancient shed. The prizes which commonly stimulate men, fame and fortune, had no lure for him, but the odd fish was finding his appropriate water. Emmerton, always his friend, a kindred spirit and close at hand, had studied medicine, but had soon forsaken it as a profession. There were old parish registers and court files long pigeon-holed, which it might be worth while to go through. Emmerton turned to that task, and finding that the stores at hand yielded a good result, he went to England to seek further.

In all this work Waters was his close associate. These two friends spent several months in England in the summer and autumn of 1879, and some of the results of their researches in the Principal Registry of Probate at Somerset House, in the Public Record Office, and in the British Museum were published, in the shape of brief abstracts of wills, inquisitions post mortem, and fine rolls, in the Essex Institute Historical Collections, beginning in January 1880, and were reprinted in an octavo volume of 148 pages, entitled "Gleanings from English Records about New England Families," Salem, 1880. The unusual gifts and equipment of Waters for antiquarian work now became plainly apparent. In reviewing this book in the Register for October 1880, the late John Tyler Hassam, A.M., of Boston, at that time prominent in the counsels of the New England Historic Genealogical Society and later the leading member of the committee of the Society that arranged for Waters's work in England, wrote: "Mr. Waters stands in the front rank of New England antiquaries. Few men have done such good and faithful service in the past, and few give greater promise of accomplishing more in the future. He has long been a worker in the vineyard. Few men have crossed the ocean better prepared by previous training and experience, by precise and accurate knowledge of our early history and antiquities, and by familiarity with the records and traditions of New England families and the endless ramifications of their genealogies, to appreciate and improve the opportunity, so kindly and generously offered him, of exploring the inexhaustible stores of antiquarian and historical material in England." In closing his review Mr. Hassam expressed the hope that the New England Historic Genealogical Society might "at some future time be endowed with funds sufficient to enable it to maintain an accredited agent in the mother country constantly engaged in such researches as these."

Two years later, on 3 October 1882, at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, Mr. Hassam returned to the subject of genealogical work in England, and spoke "upon the desirability, since the death of Col. Chester, of having a competent person in London to make genealogical researches for the English ancestry of American families." He stated that several persons had expressed a wish that Mr. Waters, who was at that time a member of the Publishing Committee of the Society, could be induced to take up his residence in London and engage in such researches, and he was able to announce to the Board that Mr. Waters had offered to devote his time to the investigation of the English pedigrees of American families, if $1500 a year for three years could be secured to him. On Mr. Hassam's motion a committee was appointed, consisting of Mr. Hassam himself, of Hon. James W. Austin, and of John Ward Dean, Esq., with authority to open a subscription to raise the money, if they deemed it advisable. The efforts of this committee to secure the necessary funds were successful, and on 1 May 1883, after Mr. Hassam had reported to the Board of Directors that upwards of two thousand dollars had been subscribed, it was, on his motion, voted by the Board: "That the committee on English Records be, and they hereby are, authorized to secure the services of Henry F. Waters on such terms as may seem to them expedient, provided, however, that this society be not made pecuniarily liable in a sum exceeding that which shall be subscribed and paid in for the purpose of searching said records."†

The subscription lists started by the committee were circulated also by and among members of sister societies, and in particular many leading members of the Massachusetts Historical Society not only manifested the warmest interest in Waters's researches but were ever ready to contribute towards defraying the expense of the work and to solicit subscriptions from others;‡ The largest individual contributor to the fund was James Junius Goodwin, LL.D., of Hartford, Conn., while the alumni of Harvard College and especially the Harvard Club of New York furnished the means for carrying on the search for the ancestry of John Harvard.

Waters now entered fairly into the labors which he made so fruitful. On 5 May 1883 he sailed on the Catalonia from Boston for England, and at once began his researches in Somerset House, London. In the Register for July 1883§ were printed the results of his first few days of work among the records of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury; and from that time down to and including the issue for January 1899 every number of the Register except three (those for October 1897 and for July and October 1898) contained an article from his pen embodying the results of his researches among the English records. These articles, with the exception of the two entitled "John Harvard and his Ancestry," appeared under the heading of "Genealogical Gleanings in England," and if we include among them the two Harvard articles, were distributed in sixty different instalments and appeared in seventeen different years. They were reprinted by the New England Historic Genealogical Society in 1901 in two bulky volumes, with an introduction by Mr. Hassam, of which frequent use has been made in preparing parts of this memoir.

Waters's methods of research were very different from those of his lamented predecessor in the same field, Col. Joseph Lemuel Chester, whose services in throwing light on the English origin of American families and in preparing for publication English records cannot be valued too highly. Col. Chester met with great success in tracing the history of particular families. "Mr. Waters's method," said President Goodell of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, in presenting him as the speaker of the day at a meeting of the Society in Boston, 2 March 1887, "is to examine all the records between certain dates, seriatim, keeping a sharp lookout for everything possibly indicative of the slightest connection with known American families."* In a letter from London, dated 13 May 1884 and written to Prof. E. N. Horsford of Cambridge, Mass., the antiquary mentions his "laborsious but fascinating work, in the gloomy cellar of Somerset House, of exhuming the records of a buried past," and refers to his method of research as follows: "I take the records consecutively, looking over each page and making such references as seem worth noting. I occasionally make excursions when the trail seems broad and clear, . . . but I intend generally to confine myself to the period a little before the migrations of 1628-30 and the next half century."† By far the greater part of the time spent by Waters in England was devoted to this reading of the wills in Somerset House. He seldom visited other depositories of records—at any rate he did little work outside of London, except when now and then some great quest, such as his search for the ancestors of John Harvard, called him to other fields. "Here [in Somerset House]," continued President Goodell in the remarks from which I have already quoted, "by his special skill in interpreting the records, and the generous interest he manifested in the labors of others whom he there found engaged in similar researches, and the aid he ever cheerfully afforded to these co-workers, he soon began to enjoy exceptional opportunities for prosecuting his labors with the greatest economy of time, and secured the cooperation of his fellow-workers, who generously reciprocated his attentions to their wants."‡

The world minimizes too much the value of such pursuits. The Chinese worship of ancestors is of course an absurdity, and among us there are perhaps some who take pains overmuch in running back lines of descent. But heredity, in conjunction with environment, in great part determines that we are what we are, and surely it is interesting and most instructive, in one's own case and in the case of eminent men, to trace the links of the chain through which mysteriously the present derives from the past its vitality and soul. Waters was born for such work. He told me once that nothing appealed to him so intensely, no novel or poem or strain of music or work of art, as the dusty documents which were the means to the ends he sought. These he read literally by the hundred thousand, and no detective ever caught more acutely at the obscure clues in an investigation or followed evidence with judgment more unerring.

His work, though full of delight, told heavily upon his strength, and anxiety was ever present as to whether the American supporters of the work would be able to continue to provide for his stay in England. I was with him in London in 1886, when he was ill in body and mind. He always looked older than he was. He was now but fifty-three, already a venerable figure, broad-brimmed and cloaked after the fashion of a former time, his white hair setting off a countenance clear-cut and forceful even in failing health. Fortunately he rallied to achieve much more, rounding out to the full his fourscore, in labor certainly but not in sorrow. He was a happy man, intensely and congenially occupied, and with a philosophy that disarmed afflications.

Undoubtedly the greatest achievements of Waters during the years that he spent in England in research work for the New England Historic Genealogical Society were his discovery of the parentage and ancestry of John Harvard, the results attained in his Rogers investigation, his work in settling the doubts as to the ancestry of George Washington, and the conclusive proof which he furnished in regard to the ancestry of Roger Williams. His Harvard investigation, I suppose, may be held to be his master work.

Waters's first article on "John Harvard and his Ancestry" appeared in the Register for July 1885, * and was followed by a second article under the same title in the Register for October 1886. † James Savage, the well-known author of the Genealogical Dictionary, stated that he would gladly have given five hundred dollars to get five lines about John Harvard, and Col. Chester carried about with him daily for many years a bit of Harvard pedigree in the hope of being able to perfect it; but Waters was the first to show beyond any doubt that John Harvard was a son of Robert Harvard and his wife Katherine Rogers of St. Saviour's Parish, Southwark, and that he was baptized there 29 November 1607. On Commencement Day, 24 June 1885, the thirtieth anniversary of the graduation of our college class, Harvard University gratefully recognized the important work of Waters by conferring on him the honorary degree of Master of Arts, and in his remarks at the Alumni Dinner on that day President Eliot summed up in graceful diction the results of Waters's researches concerning the ancestry of the mysterious founder of the College. ‡ In the second part of "John Harvard and his Ancestry," published in October 1886, Waters established the parentage of Katherine Rogers, John Harvard's mother, tracing her parents to their home at Stratford-on-Avon and identifying the very house in Shakspere's native town from which she went forth as a bride.

The Harvard investigation interested me especially. I took it up with Waters step by step, and was struck by the rigid restraint which he imposed on himself in forming conclusions. It is the very romance of antiquarian research. This elusive worthy of the past Waters fastened securely to his Southwark parentage, revealing him clearly, and tracking his kindred in their haunts and occupations to the first years of Queen Elizabeth. His stepping-stones had been now a direct mention in some old will, now an indirect hint, so vague that only his genius could have discovered a relation. But whether clear or vague, he never established a stepping-stone until he was sure of it. Then he trod it as he had trodden the cobblestone in the Salem street when he was a schoolboy. So in his quest he built a firm road from London through the darkness to distant Stratford-on-Avon, where in 1909, in a ceremony sanctioned by King Edward VII, participated in by dignitaries of the universities and by the American ambassador, and attended by a great company, the home of John Harvard's grandparents was given into the keeping of the institution that bears his name. For the readers of the Register Waters told the marvellous story of the untangling in full. He epitomized it simply and lucidly for the Harvard Graduates' Magazine.* I have heard him give it to an audience, without vainglory, with pleasant humor, with convincing logic. Several times in private I discussed with him the more interesting points. "Fitz," I once said to him in substance, "you have brought us to the threshold of something magnificent; but there you leave us. Go beyond your documents a little, trusting yourself to circumstantial evidence. Thomas and Alice Rogers, grandparents of John Harvard, lived for fifty years, with their household, side by side with John and Mary Shakspere, parents of William Shakspere, and their household, under conditions which made an intimacy inevitable. The fathers were in the same calling in the little borough of possibly two thousand souls, sat together on the same bench as aldermen, became each in his turn bailiff or mayor. Their wives were close neighbors, members of the same parish, in the register of which the births, marriages, and deaths of the two households are written down on the same page. The boys, of course, would go together to the old King Edward VI grammar school, of which their fathers as magistrates were officially trustees, and the girls and boys must have played together in the Avon meadows. William Shakspere, to be sure, went to London the year Katherine Rogers, the mother of John Harvard, was born, and could have had no knowledge of her as a child. But we know that a decade or so later he bought New Place, and was in the way of coming back to Stratford for sojourns that grew longer and more frequent, until at last it became once more his home. Inevitably, in restoring New Place, he must have had an interest in the handsome house just built by Thomas Rogers, and who more likely to answer the knock of such a visitor than the budding little Katherine! I can see the young

* Vol. 15, pp. 543-660 (June 1907). maid and the middle-aged man confronting each other across the doorstep. She must have been pretty, and could, moreover, hope for a substantial dowry. What more likely than that Shakspere, going back to the Globe Theatre, at Southwark, should have reported to Robert Harvard, the young widower, well-established and reputed in Southwark, of the blooming, well-portioned girl up there in the Midlands, awaiting her fate! If Robert Harvard lent a willing ear, we know that Shakspere was just the man to serve as a go-between.
Through the remarkable unearthing of Professor Wallace, we know that in these same months the poet, a lodger at the time with a wigmaker, and a genial friend in the humble family, had a hand in making a match between his host's daughter Mary and the apprentice Stephen Bellott. If Shakspere did this for Stephen and Mary, why should he not do the same good turn for Robert and Katherine?
Southwark and Stratford are a hundred miles apart, a space not often traversed by the humbler folk in those untaverned and roadless times. One man we know did go and come right from the eaves of Robert Harvard's shop in Southwark to the doorstep of the house in the Stratford High Street. One would say that there must have been an intermediary. Who more likely for that than Shakspere, good mixer that he was with plain Londoners and Warwickshire rustics, however he may have exploited upon his stage the heights and depths of human experience? There are no documents for all this," I said, "but consider the circumstances. Can you not tread on these to conclusions? Here is our dear Harvard. Her unique asset is her antiquity. Other universities may surpass her in wealth, in number of students, in distinction of teachers, possibly even in football, but no other university in this country can go back for her origin through eight generations, generations which cherished her with love and enriched her with the noblest traditions. Now, what new dignity would be imparted to this past of Harvard, already so precious and solemn, could we but link the founder with the greatest name in literature! Is it documents only that can pave the path for you to a conclusion, and will no accumulation of circumstances give you proper footing?" In unfolding my scheme I had warmed into a glow, which Waters, quiet in his easy chair, met with a cold unsympathetic smile. His words were few, and this was their purport.
"These are only pleasant and picturesque speculations, possibilities rising here and there perhaps to the size of likelihoods, but all un-substantial. There is no solid documentary fact beneath your structures, and without that they are only might-have-beens, and with might-have-beens, however glittering, I have nothing to do."
It was an instance of the restraint, rooted in invincible integrity, which he always showed in his investigations, and which was as much a part of him as were the acuteness and boldness with which he leaped to a result when once he had obtained a satisfactory πόλεμος from which to make his spring. He inexorably demanded that.
It might be in itself as poor a scrap as his Salem cobblestone. His instinct told him at once if it were well-based and gave a firm hold, and then he could utilize it memorably.

It has been suggested that a portrait of Waters ought to hang in some hall of Harvard University. It is indeed fitting, and the artist should be one of skill. There are two moments in his Harvard investigation which admit of dramatic portrayal. The first is the antiquary standing bare-headed in the coffee-room of the ancient Queen's Head Inn, in Southwark, and drinking a mug of London "bitter" to the memory of the mother of John Harvard. It happened on a Monday morning. He had, the Saturday before, made certain that the good mother, the possessor of this inn, had bequeathed it as the principal item of his inheritance to her much-loved son. From the proceeds of its sale came mainly the little fortune, "the moiety" of which a few years later kept alive the small moribund school established in New England in 1636. The inn remained unchanged. The identification was complete. As he used to tell the story, he made no secret that his soul was full of exultation, and we may be sure that his countenance reflected it, as in homely, sincere fashion he paid his homage. Still better, perhaps, as the subject of a picture would be the identification at Stratford of the "Old House in the High Street." Arriving at Stratford (as he told me the story), the antiquary, having by a marvel of ingenuity made out Katherine Harvard's connection with that place, called on Dr. Arbutnot, rector of the parish, who at Waters's request to examine the register said: "You are aware, sir, that our register is the most important one in England." Waters convinced him of his appreciation of that fact, and also of his competency and trustworthiness. "You may examine it," said the rector, "but it can only be done under surveillance. The sexton alone can attend to that, and he must remain at the door of the church to admit the visitors to Shakspere's grave." The condition was accepted, and Waters stood throughout the day, at the back of the church, the precious register resting on a pew-rack, while he combed it page after page. He found abundant mention, side by side with the Shakspers, of Thomas and Alice Rogers and their household, and at last the plain record of the marriage of their daughter Katherine to Robert Harvard. Was there anything more to learn? Shutting up the book, tired but happy, he went out into the village street and paused, as thousands had done, before the "Old House," with its quaint and handsome Tudor front. No one knew its story. The carved characters on the crossbeam below the gable, T R 1596 A R, were, and had always been, as long as men remembered, an enigma. As he scanned them in the afternoon light, with his mind excited by what the register had revealed, it flashed upon him as by some spiritual suggestion that the initials stood for John Harvard's grandparents, and that over that threshold the mother, Katherine, had gone as a bride. How this was confirmed need not be told here. But the antiquary at the supreme moment when his discovery was clinched, this old-fashioned but straight and alert figure, white-haired, with keen and enthusiastic eyes—surely a painter might find here a worthy subject.

Waters's researches in connection with the Rogers family established the English ancestry of Rev. Nathaniel Rogers of Ipswich, Mass., and his father's cousin, Rev. Ezekiel Rogers of Rowley, Mass., a subject which had for many years engaged the attention of Col. Chester. They were described by Waters in an address before the New England Historic Genealogical Society at its stated meeting on 2 March 1887, and were printed in the Register for April of the same year.* The results of the Roger Williams investigation were made known in the Register for July 1889,† and the Washington records were published in the Register for October 1889 and January 1890.‡ In establishing the ancestry of these men Waters solved problems which "had long baffled the efforts of the most eminent antiquaries," and his articles form "a series of perhaps the most brilliant achievements in the whole history of genealogy."§

Besides the "Genealogical Gleanings in England," Waters contributed to the Register an article entitled "Papers in Egerton MS. 2395,"∥ in which he gave an account of some papers relating to North America which are contained in a manuscript volume in the British Museum. He also communicated to the Register the will of Alexander Selkirk—the real Robinson Crusoe,¶ and the will of Thomas Hobson, the Cambridge carrier, who offered to his customers "Hobson's choice."

Many genealogical articles by Waters may be found in the Essex Institute Historical Collections, most of them having been contributed to that publication before the compiler took up his protracted residence in London. One very valuable contribution, "Extracts from Marriage Licenses granted by the Bishop of London 1598 to 1639," was one of the fruits of his research in England, and appeared in the Essex Institute Historical Collections for 1891.††

To the cause of history as well as to that of genealogy Waters rendered valuable services, and among these the discovery of the Winthrop map of the Massachusetts Bay Colony‡‡ and the finding of the manuscript by Samuel Maverick containing a "Discription of New England"§§ deserve especial mention, arousing as they did great interest both in this country and in England.

Waters's later years were spent in eastern Massachusetts, chiefly in his native city. As early as 1870 he had joined the Essex Institute; in 1872 he had become a resident member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, and was made a life member in 1890; and in January of the latter year he was elected a resident member of the Massachusetts Historical Society. Every winter he made it a point to be present at the dinner, in Boston, of his Harvard class; and on these and other visits to Boston he was often to be seen in the Library of the Historic Genealogical Society in its former building at 18 Somerset Street, and once or twice he was able to come to the new building at 9 Ashburton Place. His interest in the genealogical researches to which he had devoted his prime was undiminished even in advanced age. He would call for the most recent English publications on genealogy, especially the printed parish registers, and oftentimes he pointed out clues as to the ancestry of our early settlers which led to the acquisition of important material for the pages of the Register. In a letter to a personal friend and relative, written from Salem so late as 3 April 1912, he exclaimed: "Lord! How I wish I had that library at 18 Somerset St. within easy reach, and daily too!" It was a source of gratification to him that the Committee on English Research of the Historic Genealogical Society was able, a few years ago, to secure funds for a resumption of the work in England which he had carried on for seventeen years with such wonderful success, and he was always glad to hear about the progress of the particular investigations authorized by the Committee and to aid in its researches with helpful advice and suggestions.

I have written of my old friend out of my heart, and naturally of his occupation in his special field, to which his taste so strongly drew him and where his ability was so marked. Absorbed though he seemed here, shut off from men in alcoves and dustbins, he was nevertheless a man widely and tenderly sympathetic. Though without family ties, he had a genius for friendship, and no friend could be kinder or truer. He was alive in a large sense to the present. The Spanish War and the Boer War were followed by him with lively interest and with manifest disapproval. In these later years he was perfervidly a peace man, incongruously and rather amusingly militant in his advocacy; and in his anti-imperialism not even his townsman of a century ago, Timothy Pickering, denouncing the purchase of Louisiana, surpassed his wrath over our present-day expansion. I locked arms with him on Commencement Day, 1913, under the windows of Hollis, where sixty-two years before I had known him first. I noted sadly that his form was bent, and that he was slow of speech and step. I felt that I should never again behold in life a man than whom I have never known one more just, more sweet with fine humanities, more simply and squarely true.
24. Thomas⁶ Savage (Thomas⁵ Thomas⁴ Thomas³ Habijah² Thomas¹), born at Charleston, S. C., 23 Aug. 1776, entered Yale College in May of the sophomore year of his class, and at his graduation in 1792 was the youngest member of the class. He studied law with Judge Tapping Reeve of Litchfield, Conn., and was admitted to the bar at Savannah, Ga., but never practiced his profession, for, having ample means, he settled upon a plantation in Bryan Co., Ga., and devoted his time to literary and agricultural pursuits. He died at Silk Hope, Bryan Co., Ga., 10 Oct. 1812. A newspaper account which appeared shortly after his death describes him as "an accomplished gentleman, and finished scholar, of great dignity of deportment, . . . more devoted to books than society." Two portraits of Thomas Savage are in existence, one being owned by his great-grandson, Wimberley Jones De Renne, Esq., of Savannah, and the other by his great-granddaughter, Mrs. Clarence Gordon Anderson, Jr., of Savannah.

He married, probably at Savannah, 12 June 1810, Mary Wallace, born at Savannah 3 June 1782, eldest daughter of Hon. John and Mary (Anderson) of Savannah, her father being British consul at Savannah.

for some subsequent years he was register of probate for Penobscot County. In 1833 he and his wife and daughter, Mary Greenough became original members of the Hammond Street Congregational Church in Bangor, having previously been members of the First Congregational Church there. In 1855 he removed to Quincy, Ill. and died in Chicago, Ill., 21 July 1857.

Children, all born at Bangor:

i. CHARLES THOMAS, b. 12 Aug. 1809; d. at Bangor 4 May 1814.

ii. MARY GREENOUGH, b. 9 Jan. 1811; d. at Quincy, Ill., 27 Feb. 1871 m. at Quincy, 3 July 1841, CYRIL CAROLINE CARY of Palmyra Mo., who d. at Sacramento, Cal., 29 Dec. 1852. If there were children, they d. in infancy.

H., 1 Jan. 1872, dau. of Jeremiah and Mary Langdon (Storer) of York. Savage was graduated at Dartmouth College in 1833, and, after teaching school at the academy at Alfred, Me., began the study of theology at Bangor, completing his course at Lane Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio at which he was graduated in 1837. He was ordained at Dennys ville, Me., in 1838. In Feb. 1840 he was installed as pastor of the Congregational Church in Amherst, N. H., and was dismissed in Apr. 1843. He was then for four or five years the pastor of the Congregational Church at Houlton, Me., and 4 Sept. 1849 was in stalled as pastor of the Congregational Church at Franklin, N. H. Here he remained until 1874, in the following year became pastor of a church at Monticello, Madison Co., Ill., and three years later removed to Quincy, Ill., where he resided until his death. In 1866 accompanied by his wife and sister, he travelled extensively in Europe, Asia Minor, and Egypt. He received the degree of D.D from Dartmouth College in 1868, and was a member of the Board of Overseers of that institution. Children: 1. Mary, b. a Houlton, Me., 23 Apr. 1847; d. there 24 Apr. 1847. 2. Charles Edwards, b. at Franklin, N. Savage was graduated at Bowdoin College in 1837, read law at Bangor, and after his admission to the Penobscot bar entered upon the practice of his profession at Quincy, Ill. Soon afterwards he became Illinois agent of the Munn Land Co. of New York, and established a general land agency, abandoning the active practice of his profession. In 1816 he opened a banking house at Quincy, and became officially connected with the origin, construction, and management of most of the railroads that contributed to the prosperity of Quincy, and was instrumental in securing a charter for the company which built, at Quincy, the first iron bridge that span the Mississippi River. His connection with the railroad system of Illinois enabled him to furnish at a critical time important facilities for the operation of the government during the Civil War, and his promptness and efficiency were conspicuous. He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Quincy, wa much interested in the charitable, educational, and religious in... stitions of the city, and was generous in support of them. He was a man of pleasing address and rare judgment, a sagacious observer of men and things, and much respected.

In 1849 he became the principal of an academy at Madison, Morgan Co., Ga., but ill health compelled him to retire in 1850.

27. W I L L I A M SAVAGE (Habijah, Thomas, Habijah, Thomas, Thomas), born in Boston 30 Aug. 1779, was placed after his mother's death in 1787 in the care of his maternal grandparents in Boston, with whom he lived until he was fourteen years old. He attended school at the North Grammar School, and was one of the six Boston boys who in 1792 received the first Franklin medals. On the fourteenth anniversary of his birth he left Boston, and entered a store in Alexandria, D. C., where he remained four years. He then returned to Boston, and eventually established himself in business. In 1812 he suffered financial reverses, and in 1813 he left Boston and for five years was supercargo and commission-merchant, much of his time being passed in voyages between Hamburg and Havana. On one of these voyages his vessel was boarded by pirates, between the Bahama Bank and Key Sal Bank, 9 Dec. 1818, and he barely escaped with his life, but finally reached Havana 26 Dec. 1818.
(N. E. Hist. Gen. Society’s Memorial Biographies, vol. 1, pp. 273–6, and Mass. Hist. Soc. Proceedings, vol. 44, pp. 454–6). The month of June 1819 Mr. Savage passed in Massachusetts, but on 3 July of that year he sailed for Europe, returning to Boston in June 1822, when he established himself there as a commission-merchant. After his second marriage, in 1823, he bought a house on Mt. Vernon Place, where he lived until 1835, when he again became financially embarrassed, and, selling his house, he lived until 1847 in various boarding houses. In that year he bought a house at 37 Essex Street, where he lived the remainder of his life. He was for some time president of the Columbian Insurance Company. He died in his house on Essex Street after a six-weeks’ illness, 30 June 1851.

He married first, in Boston, 21 Oct. 1806 (Boston records, but Manchester, Mass., records say 7 Dec. 1806) Mary Ingersoll, who died in Boston in May 1812, daughter of Nehemiah and Elizabeth (Smith); and secondly, in Boston, 4 June 1823, Rev. John Gorham Palfrey officiating, Harriet Maria Hooper, baptized at Newburyport, Mass., 30 June 1793, died in Boston 21 Nov. 1868, daughter of Thomas Woodbridge and Harriet (Bradbury) of Newburyport.

Children by first wife, born in Boston:

1. Mary Elizabeth, b. 1 Oct. 1807 and bapt. at Brattle Square Church 25 Oct. 1807; d. at Calais, Me., 7 Apr. 1842; m. in Boston, 28 May 1832, her first cousin, James Sullivan Cooper (19, iii, 6), lawyer, b. at Machias, Me., 10 Oct. 1802, d. at Amherst, Mass., 28 July 1870. He m. (2) at Haverhill, Mass., 1 Oct. 1845, Abigail Ingersoll Girdler, b. probably at Manchester, Mass., 10 May 1817, dau. of Capt. John and Abigail (Ingersoll) of Manchester, by whom he had four children. Children: 1. Mary Ingersoll, b. 3 Mar. 1833; unm. 2. William Savage, b. 26 Dec. 1837; d. at Calais, Me., 26 Sept. 1839. 3. Harriet Savage, b. at Calais, Me., 16 Sept. 1841; d. there 16 Sept. 1842.

ii. William, b. 1 July 1810 and bapt. at Brattle Square Church 5 Aug. 1810; d. in Boston 28 Aug. 1810.

28. James Savage (Habijah, Thomas, Habijah, Thomas, Thomas), born on Winter Street, Boston, 13 July 1784, obtained a Franklin medal in 1795, and was fitted for college at Washington Academy, Machias, Me., and at Derby Academy, Hingham, Mass. He was graduated at Harvard College in 1803, and was for four years before his death the sole surviving member of his class. In 1805 he accompanied his cousin, William Tudor, on a trip to the West Indies, returning to Boston in 1806. He then studied law in the office of Isaac Parker at Portland, Me., and was admitted to the Boston bar in Jan. 1807, after further study in the Boston offices of Samuel Dexter and William Sullivan. He had previously become a member of the Boston Anthology Society, was one of the founders of the Boston Athenaeum, and for five years was the editor of the Monthly Anthology, the first purely literary magazine in New England and the forerunner of the North American Review. He delivered the Boston Fourth of July oration in 1811, and was a representative to the General Court in 1812 and again in 1821. In 1816, with Elisha Ticknor, he founded the Provident Institution for Savings, the first savings bank in Boston, and during a period of forty-five years was successively its secretary, treasurer, vice-president, and president. He became a member of the Massachusetts Historical Society in Jan. 1813, and was its librarian from 1814 to 1818, its treasurer from 1820 to 1839, and its president from 1841 to 1855. In 1819 he made a trip to Demarara. In 1824 he was elected a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was elected to the State Senate in 1826 and to the Executive Council in 1830, and he was also a member of the Boston Common Council and of the Board of Aldermen. He revised the volume of charters and general laws of the Massachusetts Bay Colony and the Province of Massachusetts Bay, and from 1836 to 1853 was an overseer of Harvard College, receiving from his alma mater the degree of LL.D. in 1841. In May 1842 he sailed for England, returning to Boston in the following October. For many years he devoted much of his time to genealogical and antiquarian research, which resulted in over one hundred pages of contributions to the Collections of the Massachusetts Historical Society. He prepared for publication from the original manuscripts John Winthrop’s History of New England, which was published first in 1825–6, with a second edition in 1853, and in 1828 he edited Paley’s Works in five volumes, a second edition following two years later. The crowning work of his life was A Genealogical Dictionary of the First Settlers of New England, published in four volumes in 1860–64. Of this work the North American Review said: “Considering the obscurity of most of those whose names are mentioned, their number and the difficulty of obtaining information respecting them, it is the most stupendous work on genealogy ever compiled.” During his early married life Mr. Savage lived on Hayward Place, Boston, but in 1831 he removed to 1 Temple Place, where he lived until 1870, when he moved to the Hotel Berkeley, corner of Boylston and Berkeley Streets, where he died. For many years he owned an estate known as Sunny Hill in the town of Lunenburg, Mass., where he was accustomed to pass his summers. He died in Boston 8 Mar. 1873, and was buried from the Arlington Street Church (Unitarian) two days later.

Mr. Savage’s characteristics were straightforwardness, punctuality, accuracy, and “uncompromising directness.” He had a strong religious faith, and was unswervingly devoted to his country. His conversation was full of oddities of speech, but with all his impulsiveness of feeling and manner he “was ever quick to cover with humor and good nature the shafts he sent.”

Children, born in Boston:

1. Emma, b. 4 Mar. 1824; d. s.p. at her winter home, 117 Marlborough St., Boston, 18 May 1911; m. in Boston, 20 June 1849, Prof. William Barton Rogers, b. in Philadelphia, Pa., 7 Dec. 1804, d. in Boston 30 May 1882, son of Patrick Kerr and Hannah (Blythe) of Philadelphia. Prof. Rogers was graduated at William and Mary College in 1821, and in 1861 became the founder of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, serving as its president from
29. Thomas Savage (Habijah, Thomas, Habijah, Thomas, Thomas), born in Boston 11 Feb. 1786, was settled as early as 1813, and perhaps earlier, at Havana, Cuba, where the remaining years of his life were passed and where he was for many years U. S. consul. He died at New Orleans, La., 18 July 1836.

He married at Charleston, S. C., about 1813, Lydia V. de Foucaude, who was born at Charleston and died at Havana.

Children, born at Havana:

i. Thomas Francis, b. 1814; d. 1815.

ii. James Osgood, b. 15 Aug. 1819; M.D. (Harvard) 1839; d. unm. at Havana 21 July 1861.

30. Thomas Savage (Ezekiel, Thomas, Habijah, Thomas, Thomas), born in Boston 2 Sept. 1793 and baptized at the New North Church
8 Sept. 1793, passed his boyhood at Salem, whither his father removed in 1794, and was prepared for college at Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. He entered Harvard College in 1809, and received the degree of A.B. in 1813. The year following he spent as an usher in the Boston Grammar School and in studying for the ministry. He then entered the Harvard Divinity School. In 1817 he went to Louisiana as a tutor in a private family, and from 1822 to 1824 preached in a Presbyterian church at Baton Rouge. In the latter year he returned to the North, and for several months supplied the pulpit of Rev. John Codman, minister of the Second Church at Dorchester, Mass. He was installed 5 July 1826 as pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Bedford, N. H., a position which he held until 3 Jan. 1866, when he retired on account of failing health. He died at Bedford 8 May 1866. Mr. Savage "was a practical and impressive preacher, remarkable for bursts of extemporaneous eloquence. He was a man of varied attainments, with a retentive memory, and earnest in his piety and of a singularly genial disposition."

He married first, at St. Francisville, La., 9 May 1822, Lucy Woodruff, born at Litchfield, Conn., 10 Aug. 1790, died at Bedford, N. H., 16 May 1817, daughter of James and Lucy (Morris) of Litchfield; and secondly, at Manchester, N. H., 12 Oct. 1848, Sarah Webster, born at Hanover, N. H., 18 July 1816, died at Maplewood, in Malden, Mass., 14 Jan. 1898, daughter of Benjamin and Roxanna (Chandler) of Haverhill, N. H.

Children by first wife:

2. James Woodruff, b. at Bedford, N. H., 2 Feb. 1826; d. s.p. at Omaha, Nebr., 22 Nov. 1890; m. at Derry, N. H., 29 Apr. 1876. Lucy Thom (Tukey) Morris, b. at Boston 1823, d. at Moraine Farm, North Beverly, Mass., 24 July 1906, dau. of Alanson and Eliza (Thom) and widow of Lewis S. In Sept 1841 he entered Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and two years later Harvard College, where he was graduated seventh in his class in 1847. The following year was spent in teaching in Georgia, and then he returned to the North and began the study of law in the office of Judge Seymour at Litchfield, Conn. He was admitted to the bar 12 Feb. 1850, and at once entered the law office of his cousin, Hon. Lewis B. Woodruff, in New York City, working assiduously until the outbreak of the Civil War. He was appointed a captain on Gen. Fremont's staff, rose to the rank of major, and finally became lieutenant-colonel. He organized the Twelfth New York Cavalry, and as colonel of that body served until the close of the war. Two years following the war were spent in the South in studying the conditions of the cotton industry, and he went thence in 1867 to Omaha, Nebr., where he formed a law partnership with Hon. Charles F. Manderson, afterwards U. S. senator from Nebraska. Eight years later he was elected judge, and was re-elected for a second term, but ill-health necessitated his resignation before the completion of his term. In 1883 he resumed his law practice. He was appointed by President Cleveland government director of the Union Pacific Railway Company, and held this office under President Harrison, with many other offices of trust. He was a director of the Omaha Public Library, a trustee of Bellevue College, president of the Omaha Club, president of the State Historical Society, and was urged to accept the chancellorship of the State University, but declined the honor. Judge Savage was particularly fond of Shakspere, was an interested student of American history, and possessed a library of rare and valuable books. For a more extended account of him see History of Bedford, N. H., 1903, pp. 1066-8.

H., and was graduated at Dartmouth College in 1874. In that year he went South, and was appointed by President Grant U. S. district attorney for the Southern District of Florida. In 1876 he entered the law office of Allen & Long, Tremont St., Boston, and later became a member of the firm of Allen, Long & Savage. He was admitted to practice in the U. S. Supreme Court in Dec. 1879. In the same year he joined the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, becoming its first sergeant in 1884, second lieutenant in 1886, and first lieutenant in 1896. He was for several years city solicitor of Malden, Mass., a member of the Board of Aldermen of that city, and in 1895-6 chairman of that body.

H., 2 Feb. 1855, d. at Manchester 24 May 1901, son of William Choute and Mary Ann (Hanson). He served as colonel on the staff of Gov. Goodell of New Hampshire, was a delegate to the national convention at Philadelphia which nominated President McKinley for his second term, and was on the committee appointed to notify him formally of his nomination. 31. WILLIAM HENRY⁸ SAVAGE (Samuel⁷, Samuel Phillips⁶, Arthur⁵, Thomas⁴, Thomas³), born at Barnstable, Mass., 13 May 1782, attended school in his native town, and in the fall of 1796 was placed in the store of his uncle, Henry Bass, in Boston, where he remained until Oct. 1798, when he entered the employ of Lewis Hayt in Boston. Late in 1799 he went to Kingston, Jamaica, where his brother Samuel was already established, and for a few months was in the store of his uncle, William Savage (22). In Feb. 1800 he entered the employ of Messrs. Richards & Dewhurst in Kingston. In the following May he became a clerk in the mercantile house of Arthur Savage & Co., from which he retired in Jan. 1803, accepting a position with Duncomb & Pownall in Kingston, from which ill-health compelled him to withdraw on 1 Apr. following. In 1804 he engaged in business on his own account, and in Feb. 1807 admitted his brother Elisha as a partner. In 1808 he made a short visit to 1811 he was attacked with fever, and the loss of most of his money followed. He returned to Barnstable in 1812, where he remained until 1817, when he went to New York and took advantage of the insolvency act. Leaving New York 27 Dec. 1817, he walked to Pittsburg, Pa., where he arrived 23 Jan. 1818. Thence he proceeded to Louisville, Ky., and the next few years were passed in New Orleans, New York, Cincinnati, Louisville, Lexington, Ky., and St. Louis, Mo. In the summer of 1826 he and his first wife went to Barnstable, where Mrs. Savage remained until her death; but business required Mr. Savage's return to St. Louis in the fall of 1826, and he was there when the news of Mrs. Savage's death, in the spring of 1827, reached him—a shock from which he never fully recovered. In the autumn of 1828 he was at Barnstable, in Oct. 1828 he went to New York, and in the same autumn he formed a partnership with his brother-in-law, O. N. Bostwick, in St. Louis, which continued until June 1835, although failing health necessitated several trips to Barnstable and a residence of nearly a year at Tivoli-on-the-Hudson, N. Y. He left St. Louis in June 1835 to receive medical treatment in New York, and soon after went to Tivoli, where, with the exception of a three-months' trip to St.
Louis in the summer of 1836, he remained until his death, which occurred 16 Dec. 1839, after three years of failing physical and mental health.

He married first, in St. Louis, Mo., 30 Mar. 1826, Adelaide Hay, born at Cahokia, St. Clair Co., Ill., 1806, died at Barnstable, Mass., 18 Mar.* 1827, daughter of John and Marguerite (Pouparl) of Belleville, St. Clair Co., Ill. Miss Hay being a Roman Catholic, the marriage ceremony was repeated at Cahokia by the parish priest, 4 May 1826. He married secondly, at Upper Red Hook, N. Y., 30 Jan. 1832, Maria Addison Hoffman, born at Red Hook, N. Y., 27 Feb. 1800, died there 8 Sept. 1863, daughter of Zachariah and Catharine (Addison) of Red Hook. Mr. Savage and his second wife are buried in the Old Red Church Burying-Ground at Madalin, N. Y.

Child by first wife:

Henry, b. at Kingston, Jamaica, 1804; d. unm. at Guatemala 1882.
He lived in Jamaica until 1824, when he went to St. Louis, Mo., and lived for a short time with his father. In Mar. 1825 he went with his uncle Charles (21, iii) to Guatemala. He spent the winter of 1827-8 at Barnstable, Mass., and about 1830 returned to Guate-mania, where, with the exception of several visits to Massachusetts, he passed the remainder of his life.

32. John Savage (William,* Samuel Phillips,* Arthur,* Thomas,* Thomas1), born on his mother's plantation, "Toby Abbots," in the parish of Clarendon, Jamaica, 18 July 1790, and baptized 29 July 1790, accompanied about 1798 his father and brother to England,

* This is the date mentioned in several letters of her husband, but her gravestone in the Goodspeed's Hill Cemetery at West Barnstable has 20 Mar.
where he lived with his maternal aunt until his return to Jamaica soon after his mother's death in 1799. Late in 1802 he was sent by his father to Barnstable, Mass., where he was placed in the care of his uncle, Samuel Savage (21), and attended school. He returned to Jamaica in 1805, but sailed from Kingston in May 1807 for Wiscasset, Me., and immediately entered the employ of his cousin Charles Savage (21, iii), of the firm of Frazier, Savage & Co., Boston. He remained here until the spring of 1808, when the embarrassed condition of business and some misunderstanding between him and his cousin led him, against the advice of his father and uncles, to abandon thoughts of a mercantile life in Boston, and he returned to Jamaica, where he probably remained until 1813. In June of that year he was at Portland, Me., and in the following Oct. he was at Groton, Mass., where he passed the winter with the family of Dr. Amos Bancroft, whose wife (14, i, 1) was John Savage's first cousin. Early in 1814 he appears to have gone to Philadelphia, Pa., where he met and married, 20 July 1814, his first wife, Elizabeth Arabella White, born in co. Sussex, England, about 1795, daughter of Richard* and Sarah (Perry) of Dublin, Ireland, who later took up their abode in Philadelphia. This marriage was so distasteful to Savage's father, who had arranged for a union between his son and his cousin, that upon the receipt of the news he immediately disinherited him. Although Mrs. Savage's older sister appeared with success upon the Philadelphia stage, it is probable that she herself did not long remain upon it. She was in Boston in the early summer of 1815, and she and her husband made their first appearance upon the stage at the Federal Street Theatre in that city. In Nov. following they were in Philadelphia, and Savage, taking the part of Charles Dudley in R. Cumberland's comedy of The West Indian, made his debut upon the Philadelphia stage at the Chestnut Street Theatre, 27 Nov. 1815. In 1816 and 1817 Savage with his wife and children was in Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Lexington, and Louisville, and he was a member of a theatrical company appearing in these and other towns; but the death, in Nov. 1816, of his only brother ended his father's ill-feeling towards him, and he was sent for by his father and reinstated as a son. Savage and his family, after a difficult trip from Ohio, down the Mississippi, arrived in Jamaica early in 1818 in a much embarrassed financial condition. Soon after his arrival he settled down as a coffee planter at Epping Farm, in an attempt to liquidate his own and his father's debts. Mrs. Savage died on the plantation 15 Nov. 1821, and was buried there beside two of her infant children. In 1823 Savage suffered from a severe attack of yellow fever, and therefore, on the advice

* Richard White was "an Irish gentleman of education and of very respectable connexions in the city of Dublin. He held, at one period, a high rank in the British army. But his family greatly increasing, he was induced to seek a more congenial asylum than the itinerancy of an army life afforded, and receiving a patrimonial share of some $25,000, he resigned his commission, and emigrated to the United States, where with the unguided ardor of his country's characteristics, being untrained in business habits, and possessing all the hospitable traits of Irish feeling, he found himself in a very few years bereft of his means. He died early, and left a family unprovided for in a strange land, with the exception of a very small annuity from Ireland." (History of the Philadelphia Stage, by Charles Durang, vol. 1, chap. xiv.) Two of his daughters, to assist in supporting their widowed mother and brothers and sisters, attended a school of oratory conducted by the well-known actor James Fennell, as a preparation for a theatrical life, and it was while Savage was attending the same school that he met Miss White.
of a physician, he left Jamaica, and with his only surviving child, Mary Elizabeth, settled in Philadelphia. There he married secondly, 25 Sept. 1823, Bishop William White officiating, his first wife's sister, Jane Allen White, born at Castle Hill Barracks, co. Sussex, England, 26 July 1801. In 1827 he made a trip to Jamaica, at the time of his father's death, returning to Philadelphia in the summer of 1828. In 1833 he was living at 211 North Sixth Street in that city. Previously he had lived on Fisher's Lane, Germantown, and the summer months were passed at Abington, outside of Philadelphia. He died in Philadelphia, of erysipelas, 15 Jan. 1834, 4 and was buried in Ronaldson's Philadelphia Cemetery, at the corner of Ninth and Bainbridge Streets. His widow died at Frankford, in Philadelphia, 18 Oct. 1882, and was buried in Trinity Churchyard, Oxford, near Cheltenham, Pa.

Mr. Savage was a great reader of Shakspere and an excellent amateur painter in water-colors. An attractive portrait of him, painted in 1824 by Thomas Sully, who was all his life an intimate friend of the family, is owned by a grandson in Garden City, Long Island, N. Y., and a portrait sketch by the same artist of Savage's second wife, painted in 1826, is owned by a grandson at Frankford, in Philadelphia. A granddaughter living at Bridesburg, in Philadelphia, possesses a miniature of the same lady, painted in 1823 by Miss Anna C. Peale, a niece of Charles Wilson Peale.

Children by first wife:

i. ANN JANE, b. in Boston 11 June 1815; d. at Epping Farm, Jamaica, 10 Jan. 1820.
ii. William James Matthias, d. at Frankfort, Ky., and bur. there 17 Feb. 1818.
iv. Mary Elizabeth, b. at Epping Farm, Jamaica, 14 Feb. 1820; d. in Philadelphia, Pa., 3 Mar. 1911, and bur. in Trinity Churchyard, Oxford, near Cheltenham, Pa.; m. in Philadelphia, 2 Feb. 1839, Henry Lloyd McConnell, b. in Huntington Co., Pa., d. at Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 1841, son of Alexander and Judith (Lloyd). She had been brought to Philadelphia by her father in 1823, and had attended a private school there. In 1840 Mr. and Mrs. McConnell sailed for Jamaica, to look after the property which she had inherited from her paternal grandmother. Upon their arrival Mrs. McConnell found that this property, which during the absence of the family in America had been placed in the care of agents, had been so badly managed that practically nothing was left. With what she could later collect from the wreck of the property, she returned, after her husband's death, with her infant child to Philadelphia, and in that city and its immediate vicinity the remainder of her life was passed. A portrait of Mrs. McConnell and her son, painted in 1843 by Thomas Sully, and another portrait, painted by Samuel B. Waugh, are owned by relatives. Child: 1. Henry Lloyd, b. at Kingston, Jamaica, 3 Feb. 1841; d. unm. at New Orleans, La., 1881.

Children by second wife, all born in Philadelphia:

v. Ellen Emma, b. 29 Oct. 1825; d. at Germantown, Pa., 31 Aug. 1826.

38. vii. John Richard, b. 9 May 1828.

* "On Wednesday evening, after a short illness, in the 43d year of his age, John Savage, late of the Island of Jamaica. His friends and those of the family are respectfully invited to attend the funeral from his late residence, No. 43 John St. [now Marshall St.] this day at 11 o'clock." (United States Gazette, Philadelphia, 17 Jan. 1834.)

ix. Julia Rosalie, b. 2 July 1832; d. in Philadelphia 31 Mar. 1836.

x. Cora Mita, d. young.

33. Samuel Aldridge Savage (Joseph, Samuel Phillips, Arthur, Thomas, Thomas), born at West Point, Orange Co., N. Y., 29 Oct. 1789, at one time owned several packet boats which plied up and down the Hudson River. He died, probably in New York City, 17 Mar. 1830.

He married in New York City, 23 Oct. 1811, Letitia Webber, born in New York City 11 Feb. 1787, died at Rahway, N. J., 18 Mar. 1879, daughter of Philip and Elizabeth (Reis) of New York City.

Children:

39. i. Joseph Wyndham, b. in New York City 5 Aug. 1812.

ii. Susan Maria, b. at Cornwall, Orange Co., N. Y., 16 Feb. 1816; m. 3 Dec. 1833 Norman A. Freeman. Child: 1. Maria Savage, b. 29 May 1838; m. 9 Dec. 1856 Thomas C. Crane; two children.

40. iii. George Washington, b. at Cornwall, N. Y., 26 July 1819.

34. Charles Tyler Savage (Joseph, Samuel Phillips, Arthur, Thomas, Thomas), born at Berwick (now South Berwick), Me., 15 Mar. 1797, attended school at the academy in South Berwick, and on 17 Nov. 1810, at the age of thirteen and a half years, went to sea as a cabin boy on the ship Juno, sailing from Boston. He was discharged in New York in Sept. 1811. His certificate of citizenship, signed in Nov. 1810, describes him as being four feet and eleven inches in height, with fair complexion, brown hair, and blue eyes. Soon after returning from this voyage he placed himself under the instruction of the principal of the South Berwick Academy, and in 1814 taught school for a short time. In 1815 he again went to sea, shipping as a common seaman, and in 1819 he was master of the brig Charles Amburger. In 1820 he became master of the brig Happy Couple, sailing from Salem, Mass., to Isle de France (Mauritius), Sumatra, Antwerp, and New York. In 1821 he was again master and also part-owner of the Charles Amburger, and was also in that year in command of the schooner Greyhound. In the autumn of 1823 he sailed for South America. In 1827 and for ten years thereafter he was in command of vessels owned by Charles W. Dabney of Fayal, sailing from that port to Boston, New York, and other ports. In 1822 he succeeded his father as a member of the Society of the Cincinnati. In Aug. 1823 he joined the Salem East India Society, from which he resigned in Sept. 1833. After severing his connection with the Dabney vessels he travelled for some months through the states of the Middle West, and then returned to Salem. In 1845 he removed with his family to Roxbury, Mass., where, 11 Apr. 1845, he bought a pew in the First Church. From 1846 to 1848 he was a member of the firm of Fairfield & Co., commission-merchants, at 8 Lewis Wharf, Boston. In 1849 he was a ship-broker, with offices at 17 India Street, in 1850–1 at 127
State Street, from 1851 to 1855 at 26 Central Wharf, in 1856 and 1857 again at 127 State Street, and in 1860 at 193 State Street. He removed from Roxbury to West Newton, Mass., in 1849, became one of the founders of the Unitarian Society in that village, helped to organize the Newton Athenaeum, and was its first treasurer. In 1855 he bought a small farm in Harvard, Mass., taking possession of it in Nov. of the same year, and there the remainder of his life was passed. His house at Harvard was built in 1765, and had been occupied almost exclusively by the different ministers of the town. It is still in the possession of the family. He died by his own hand at Harvard 5 Nov. 1879.

He married at Newburyport, Mass., 20 Sept. 1821, his first cousin, Anna Lewis Thacher (14, ix, 7), born at Saco, Me., 24 Dec. 1797, died at Harvard 15 Nov. 1854, daughter of Hon. George and Sarah (Savage). She was buried beside her husband in the old burying-ground at Harvard. Miniatures of Capt. and Mrs. Savage, painted about 1830 by Nathaniel Rogers of New York, and portraits in pastel, made in 1853, are owned by their son.

Children:

41. i. William Henry, b. at Weston, Mass., 22 Nov. 1831.
ii. James Dainey, b. at Fayal, Azores, 13 Sept. 1833. His childhood was passed at Fayal, and at Salem and Roxbury, Mass. In 1849 he attended a private school at Medfield, Mass., and in 1853 he sailed from Boston for San Francisco. Nothing has been heard of him since Jan. 1866.

35. Samuel Phillips Savage (Joseph, Samuel Phillips, Arthur, Thomas, Thomas), born at Berwick (now South Berwick), Me., 9 June 1803, went to sea very early in life, and at the age of twenty years (possibly earlier) was an officer on a merchant vessel, and in 1834 became a captain. His certificate of citizenship at the age of twenty-four describes him as five feet eleven and a half inches in height, with light complexion and dark hair. He followed the sea until 1859, making only brief visits at home between voyages, and he not only commanded his ships but also had entire charge of their cargoes. After a short stay ashore he returned to the sea for one or two more voyages, retiring finally in 1860 or 1861 with ample means to live in comfort. In 1870 he was living at West Lebanon, N. H., and he died probably in 1874, but the exact date and place of his death have not been found. He was a man of great energy, and capable to a high degree in his calling, of forceful personality, of an exceptionally acute intelligence, and possessed of a rather remarkable piquancy of speech. A miniature of him, painted at about the age of twenty-five years, is owned by his grandson.

He married at Beverly, Mass., 12 Nov. 1835, Abby Rowe, born at Beverly 2 Aug. 1807, died at Chelsea, Mass., 26 Jan. 1888, daughter of Seth and Abigail (Morgan) of Salem, Mass. During the second half of 1836 Capt. and Mrs. Savage settled at Salem, where they lived until late in 1852, when they moved to 24 Fayette Street, Boston. In 1856 they moved to Chelsea, Mass., where Mrs. Savage passed the remainder of her life. In 1865 they separated, and Mrs. Savage secured a divorce from her husband in 1869.
Children, born at Gosport:

1. George, b. 26 Dec. 1836. After attending school in his native town, he went to Boston in 1852, and entered the employ of Bates & Co., ship-owners, on Commercial Wharf, becoming a junior clerk in their office. After a year in this office he decided to go to sea, and in Dec. 1853 sailed from New York for San Francisco as a boy in the ship Polynesia, arriving in Apr. 1854. Here he intended to engage in some mercantile pursuit, and received from his former employers authority to draw on them for $150. A short experience in a counting-house of one Messer led him to decide definitely upon a seafaring life, and he shipped in Aug. 1854 on the ship Sea Serpent for Hong-Kong and Shanghai. On 4 Nov. he sailed for New York, where he arrived in Feb. 1855. In Apr. 1855 he sailed from New York as a boy, but with the wages of an ordinary seaman, in the clipper ship Starr King, of which Bates & Co. were owners, bound for San Francisco. The next three and a half years were spent on the Starr King, visiting Melbourne, Hong-Kong, Sydney, Basssein, Singapore, Valparaiso, Callao, the Chiloe Islands, and other Pacific ports, and in Apr. 1857 he was made chief mate. Certain differences with his captain and the monotony of his life led him to leave the Starr King, and he sailed for home as third mate of the General Noell, arriving in Feb. 1859. In July 1859 he again joined the Starr King as chief mate under a new captain, and sailed from New York for Shanghai, which was reached in December. In Mar. 1860 he made a short trip to Japan on the barque Maryland, and on his return to Shanghai became a pilot on the Yang-tse-Kiang. In Sept. 1860 he abandoned this occupation and entered the rebel country, and in November he was in Nanking, living in one of the houses of the rebel emperor, Tien Wang. He is reported to have been engaged in collecting a force of Europeans to assist the rebels in fighting the Imperialists; and on the march from Soochow to Nanking they encountered the enemy, and Savage was wounded in the head by a musket ball, in Apr. 1861. Under the care of Chinese doctors he had recovered sufficiently by Oct. or Nov. 1861 to leave Shanghai for Soochow. He is known to have reached Soochow, and to have left for Shanghai with a considerable amount of money. On the way he was attacked by a band of robbers, and he, his companion, servant, and all his boatmen were killed. He was a spirited, affectionate man, fond of society, patient and persevering, singularly mature for his years, self-reliant, and of high principles and clean life. He was unmarried.

42. ii. Henry, b. 20 Oct. 1838.

times on each sabbath, when the weather would permit, & held numerous other religious meetings, and delivered two addresses on the subject of Temperance.

The school consisted of 33 different scholars & most of them made very pleasing progress in their studies.

The religious meetings were punctually attended by all the younger part of this little community & by a part of the older class, and the "God of all grace," was pleased to bless the feeble instrumentality here used, by accompanying it with the blessed influences of the Holy Spirit, & as there is good evidence to believe, converting a number of precious souls.

* John S. Randall is probably a mistake for John F(ranklin) Randall. He had a nickname ("Shothead"), which presumably led to the use of the initial, as we meet with it in some other writings. A similar mistake was sometimes made in the name of his brother, William R. For some unknown reason he was commonly called "Bunker," and the History of Rye actually records him as William Bunker Randall.

*The "Surplus Revenue," here devoted to public purposes appears to be the money obtained for the town by the Rev. Abraham Plumer, when he served as the representa tive of Gosport in 1818, as set forth in the biographical sketch on p. 135 of the original records.
†The Society actually withdrew its aid for a time. The outcome of this promise and of some other petitions, together with the intercession of Mr. Peabody, was the appointment of Mr. Eastman (p. 143).

*This article called for the election of a representative to the State legislature.
†The Portsmouth Journal of 23 Sept. 1848 states that she was about thirty years of age and a native of Derry. The accident occurred about half past seven o’clock near the so-called “Chair,” but she was not washed from the Chair itself. She was out with others to watch the very heavy surf. The popular tale that others have been washed from the Chair appears to have only this foundation, that in 1864 Eveline Caswell of Gosport and Lydia Varrel of Rye together were washed off the rocks, but below this place and nearer to Southern Point.

He collected what he could but did not obtain sufficient to defray the expense. He did most of the work himself. He was a member of the State Legislature from this place and obtained from the Treasury A Surplus revenue which we did not receive at the [time] it was divided to other places. This money was expend in repairing the meeting house &c.

During his stay of nearly four years he was also his family were greatly interested in the well being of the people, consequently with but few exceptions he was highly respected by them in return.

Gosport 1851 & 1852. On the recommendation of Rev. A. P. Peabody of Portsmouth N. H. to “The Society for Propagating the Gospel among the Indians and Others in North America” Oliver D. Eastman of Kingston N. H. was sent to this place both as the Missionary to the people and Teacher of their school.

He made his first visit May 18th 1851, had one meeting, visited and prayed with every family.

Came to commence his labors June 13th and generally had three meetings on the Sabbath when his health and the weather would permit, and some evening meetings during the week. Had a sabbath-school regularly of about twenty children.

He obtained as a present from the American Sabbath School Union a Library of fifty books for the sabbath school in this place.

Some individuals in Newburyport gave to the school a set of “Bliss's Out-line Maps” eight in number cost seven dollars.

Mr. E. Stedman of Newburyport gave a bell weighing ten pounds through the kindness of Miss Mary C. Greenleaf of Newburyport.

Messrs G. & C. Merriam of Springfield Mass. presented for the benefit of the school “Webster's large Dictionary.” — Elder J. V. Himes of Boston gave a quantity of Tracts which have been distributed from time to time among the people.

During the winter some more interest was manifested in the subject of Religion. Some were reclaimed from a backsliding state and expressed their resolution to serve the Lord the remainder of their life. May the Lord bless them and help them to gain eternal life. To God be all the Glory forever. There was a summer school of twelve weeks commencing June 16th and ending September 13th 1851. The whole number of scholars was 28, males 14 and females 14 — Average attendance 18. The irregularity of the scholars attendance injures the school very much.

The studies pursued in the school were arithmetic, grammar, geography, reading writing and spelling. The progress was very good. The school was visited by Rev. Mr. Peabody & Mr. Foster with some others from Portsmouth, also Gov. S. Dinsmoor of Keene N. H. and several other gentlemen who expressed their gratification in finding our school in so prosperous a condition. The winter school commenced Nov. 10, 1851, and continued 17 weeks ending March 8th 1852. Whole number of scholars 35. Average attendance 23. Number of scholars under 16 years of age 26. Number of scholars over 16 years of age 9. Amount expended for fuel $10 besides incidental expenses. Studies pursued in the school, Arithmetic, Grammar, Geography, Astronomy, Book-keeping, Reading writing & spelling. Progress made in the several branches was very good. L. L. Thaxter Esq. visited the school March 4th and expressed his gratification & pleasure to observe the good attention & attainments of the scholars. May the blessing of the Lord rest upon the labor bestowed upon the school, & people. After a vacation of a few weeks the school was again continued from April 10 of [for?] three continuously small and high indices. The problem is difficult to solve in general, but an approximate solution can be found by using asymptotic methods. The results obtained show that the optimal strategy depends on the specific parameters of the model.

weeks and closed May 1st 1852, making eight months. The improvement in the several branches taught has been very good considering previous opportunities & privileges being very limited. It is very desirable that a greater interest be had in the subject of education. Truly it is the great stepping stone to usefulness in this world and gives us strength of mind to labor for the interest of the world to come.

The pages of the Records from p. 161 to p. 172 have at the top the words "Richard L. Randall, Town Clerk" and various dates in Mar. 1857. This seems to mean that he either collected these memoranda at this time or copied them from the damaged portion of the old book. The first part of the existent book I take to be that portion of the old book which was still capable of preservation. As the new part seems to have original records from about 1842, there must have been for a while two books of records.

POMEROY

In Register, vol. 67, pp. 261-262 (July 1913), certain records pertaining to the Pomeroy's of Beaminster, co. Dorset, were published, and it was stated that the claim made by descendants of Ettweed Pomeroy, the emigrant to New England, that he was closely related to a famous armorial family of the name in Devon, seemed baseless. It is the purpose of this communication to present further evidence bearing on the alleged descent of Ettweed Pomeroy from the Pomeroy's of Berry-Pomeroy, co. Devon.

The Pomeroy pedigree which faces this page is a photographic reproduction of fo. 109 dorso (original fo. 85 dorso) of Harleian MS. 1001, in the Department of Manuscripts in the British Museum, London, this MS. containing the Visitation of Devon in 1564 by William Harvey, Clarenceux King-of-Arms. It has been proved that the Pomeroy family of this photographed pedigree was a younger branch of the very ancient armigerous family of Pomeroy of Berry-Pomeroy, co. Devon. In this photograph, near the bottom and above the stamp of the British Museum, the pedigree ends with two brothers, Henry and John Pomeroy, sons of Richard and Eleanor (Coker) Pomeroy, and to the name of Henry Pomeroy a symbol indicating marriage is attached, with a depending line that suggests that he had descendants whose names are not given in the pedigree. The following records show who some of these descendants were.

In the Visitation of Devon in 1620 Arthur Harrys entered a Harrys pedigree, which is reproduced below. The original drafts made by the heralds for that visitation are preserved in Harleian MSS. 1163 and 1164 in the British Museum, and were printed in 1872 in vol. 6 of the Publications of the Harleian Society, the Harrys pedigree appearing on p. 139 of that volume.

Arthur Harrys.
Administration on the estate of Henry Pomeroye. On 5 of July [1575] a commission was issued to Richard Pomeroye, natural and legitimate son of Henry Pomeroye, late of Totnes in the county of Devon, having [goods] etc., being sworn to administer well the goods, rights, and credits of the said deceased, there being revoked letters of administration on the goods of the said deceased, elsewhere granted to a certain Richard Pomeroye now or formerly of the aforesaid Totnes, which were surreptitiously secured by him by suppression of truth and by false statement in the month of June 1559, for the full requirement of justice, as appears from the acts of the court on this day concluded. (P. C. C., Administration Act Book, 1572-1580, fo. 80 dorso. Translated from the Latin.)

The Will of Agnes Harris of Cornworthie, co. Devon, widow, 1 December 1601. My body to be buried in the parish church of Cornworthie. To the repair of the church of Cornworthie 6s. 8d. To the poor of Cornworthie 20s. Itm I give vnto Thomas Pomerie my sonne tenne pounds in mony and vnto Ilenerie Pomerie the sonne of the said Thomas Pomerie vj iij viij in money both to be paide by myne exequitor within one yeere after my decease." To my son Giles Harris after my decease for the term of four score years, if the said Giles so long live, all these my houses, courts, barns, stables, shippins, orchards, gardens, and all those other parcels of land late the houses of one Samuell Weynoth, which I have of the demise and grant of one Thomas Harris, Sergeant of Lawe, and one Edward Harris Esquier his son, for divers years yet to come determinable upon the lives of the said Giles Harris, Arthur Fortescue, and Bridgett Fortescue, as in my said deed doth more at large appear. If the said Giles Harries die before the expiration of the said term of four score years, then the remainder of the term shall come to my daughter Suzanne Fortescue, and if she die before the expiration of said term, then the remainder of said term shall come to Arthure Fortescue and Bridget Fortescue their executors and assigns. If my son Giles Harries marry, all my term of years shall remain wholly for his better preferment and advancement, he paying within two years after his marriage to his sister Suzanne Fortescue £30. My deed to remain in the custody of my executor until this be performed by the said Giles Harris. To my son Giles Harris two feather beds performed. To my daughter Suzanne Fortescue two featherbeds performed, my three silk gowns, my best kirtles, my two fore kirtles of silk, and all the goods in the chamber within the chamber that I now lie in called my study, except that coffer wherein my writings are and one spruce coffer with all that is in them and except certain other things which I give by my will by especial names. To my daughter Suzanne Fortescue £100, on condition that Henrie Fortescue her husband give security to my executor that the said Suzanne shall have the said £100 with the benefit and gain thereof to her use during her life. If said Henrie do not give such security, then my executor shall keep the £100 and pay my daughter Suzanne £10 a year during her life, and at her death the said £100 to be equally divided between her children Arthure Fortescue, Agnes Fortescue, and Bridgett Fortescue. I give to the said Arthure Fortescue, Agnes Fortescue, and Bridget Fortescue £6. 6s. 8d. apiece. To Susan Sugar, a child that is with my son Arthur Harris, £6. 6s. 8d. To Margaret Frances, my servant, £6. 6s. 8d. To Agnes Gordan £3. 3s. 4d. To Elizabeth Hopor, my servant, 20s. To Grace Perott, my servant, 10s. To Edith my servant, 20s. To Agnes Coke 5s. If any of these servants depart before my death, the legacy of such to be void. "Itm. I give unto Alice Pomerie my son Richard Pomerie his wife my blacke Cloth gowne garded with velvet, one stammel Petticott with one gard of velvet, sixe snackes, Two bordclothes, and one dozen of Napkins." To Arthure Harris my son the bed which I do lie on. All the rest of my goods and chattels not given or bequeathed I give to my son Arthure Harris, whom I make my whole and sole Executor. Proved at Exeter, 11 August 1603, by the executor in the person of Edward Marsh, notary public. Inventory, £496. 12s. (Principal Registry of the Bishop of Exeter, vol. for 1579–1603, fo. 343.)

Administration on the goods of GYLES HARRYS late of Cornworthy, gent., who died intestate, was granted 23 March 1608/9 to Arthur Harris of Vgborough, co. Devon, armiger, his brother, the said Arthure and John Monioy of the same, yeoman, being bound in £60. Inventory, taken 20 May 1608 by Humphrie Englishe, Roberte Tookerman, and Josephe White, amounts to £35. 2s. 6d., and includes a chattel lease of a mill with appurtenances worth £20. It was exhibited in court 23 March 1608/9. (Archdeaconry of Totnes, Deanery of Totnes, 1608, original administration.)

The Will of RICHERD POMROY in the parish of Cornworthie, co. Devon, gent., 11 May 1621. To the poor of Cornworthy 5s. Exhibited 20 June 1623 by John Horswill, the executor. (Archdeaconry of Totnes, Deanery of Totnes, 1623, original inventory.)

The Will of Arthur Harris of Norton [in the parish of Churston], co. Devon, 20 April 1638. To the poor of Churston £10. To the poor of Cornworthie £10. To the poor of Blackawton £5. To the poor of Kingsbridge £5. To the poor of Dodbrooke £5, to remain as a stock to the use of the poor forever. The overseers and churchwardens of said parishes to cause the tenour of this my bequest to be fairly written in parchment and put into a frame and hung up in the several parish churches aforesaid that others may be encouraged and men's charities not spent, misemployed, and diverted, contrary to their intent and meaning, as too often in such cases is done. To my nephew* Sir Thomas Harris lands in Cornworthie which I purchased for one thousand years, he paying £100 to my nephew* Edmund Harris, his brother, and confirming any such grants of estates as I have heretofore entered in the name and on behalf of Sir Edward Harris, his father. To Bartholomew Fortescue, son of Arthur Fortescue, all my estate called Pynwelles, he paying to his brother John Fortescue £6 a year. To Arthur Fortescue and Edward Fortescue, my sister's sons, the remainder of my estate after my wife's decease, in lands called Norton and in woods called Lords wood, which I hold for their lives, and to them £10 a year until my wife's decease. To Susan Fortescue and Gartrude Fortescue, daughters of said Arthur Fortescue, £60 each. to Elizabeth Fortescue, another daughter of said Arthur Fortescue, £70. To my sister Fortescue £20, and to her daughter Agnes Waymouth £20, and to the said Agnes seven children £15 each. To Bridgett Francis, my sister Fortescue's daughter, £20, and to her son John Francis £50. To my cousin Thomas Harris, son of my brother John Harris, £40, and to his brother Edward Harris £20, and to his brother John Harris £60. "I give unto Henry Pomeroy, Sonne [of T]homas Pomeroy my brother, three score pounds, and vnto Tho[nas] Pomeroy, sonne of the sd Henrey, fortie pounds, all to be payed within a yeare after my decease." To Frances Ryder, my goddaughter, £10. To Jane Foxworthie £7 due to me from her husband. To Susan Roope 40s., and 20s. each to the children of said Susan. To each godchild 10s. To John Mortay, my servant, all my estate in Butt Meadow purchased of George Sapp deceased. To goddaughter Jane Beare, daughter of Thomas Beare, gent., £10, and to my said cousin Thomas Beare a gold ring with this poesie, "spare speake and spare speede." To every servant 40s.

* He was a grandnephew of the testator.
All residue to Philipp Harris, my wife, executrix. Witnesses: Thomas Beare, Marie Beare, Richard Baker, Edward White, and Thomas Edwards. Proved 13 October 1640 by Phillippa Harris, relit and executrix. The widow took oath to the will 6 October 1640. Inventory, taken by Arthur Ryder, John —tes, and Edward White, and exhibited 13 October 1640, £928. 16s. 8d. (Principal Registry of the Bishop of Exeter, 1640, original will and inventory.)

* The registers of Cornworthy are in a deplorable condition, and many leaves are missing. The first baptismal entry now extant is of the year 1555, but Vivian in his printed Visitations of the County of Devon gives the baptism of William Harris, 1 Apr. 1562. The Fortescue entries are taken from Vivian's Visitations, p. 357.
† There is a gap from 1622 to 1630 in the records of burials.
[Of the places mentioned in the foregoing records, Berry-Pomeroy, the seat of the Pomeroy family from the time of William the Conqueror, is in the southern part of Devonshire, Totnes is only two miles west from Berry-Pomeroy, and Cornwall is about four miles south from Totnes. Churston, or Churston-Ferrers, is about six miles southeast from Berry-Pomeroy.

From the foregoing material and from other sources referred to below the following Pomeroy pedigree has been compiled, the earlier generations given in the photograph of Harleian MS. 1091 being omitted:

1. Thomas Pomeroy (third son of Henry) married* Agnes Calway, or Kelloway, daughter of Thomas of Sherborne, co. Dorset.

Children:

i. Annis, m. Thomas Thresyl of co. Cornwall.
ii. Thomas, b. abt. 1481; named as son and heir of his father and as aged twelve years at the death of the latter, 29 Dec. 1493 (Inquisitions Post Mortem, Chancery Series 2, vol. 9, no. 61, 9 Henry VII); not mentioned in the Visitation pedigree of 1564.
iii. Margaret.
iv. Thomasine.
2. v. Richard, b. within a few years of 1487.
vi. Elizabeth.
ii. Anna, m. Tristram Hengscot of Exeter; had issue.

2. Richard Pomeroy (Thomas), born within a few years of 1487 and named in the Visitation of 1564, married, probably about 1520, Eleanor Coker, daughter of John of co. Dorset.

Children:

3. i. Henry, b. probably abt. 1520.
ii. John, named in the Visitation of 1564.

3. Henry Pomeroy (Richard, Thomas), born probably about 1520 and named in the Visitation of 1564, was of Totnes, co. Devon, and died before June 1559, when administration on his estate was surreptitiously obtained by a Richard Pomeroy, as is learned from a later administration granted 5 July 1575 to Richard Pomeroy, the son of Henry, doubtless when this son came of age. (Vide supra, p. 48.)

Henry Pomeroy married, about 1550, Agnes or Anne Huckmore, daughter and heiress of William; she married secondly,† about 1561, as his second wife, Edward Harris of Cornwall, co. Devon, who was buried there 10 Apr. 1592; she was buried there 26 Nov. 1602, being the testatrix of 1 Dec. 1601, whose will has been given above.

Children of Henry and Agnes (Huckmore) Pomeroy, of Totnes, co. Devon:

1. Elizabeth (perhaps), b. abt. 1552; d. at Cornwall 18 Apr. 1634; m. abt. 1572 Sir Thomas Harris, Knt., of Cornwall, sergeant-at-law, probably her stepbrother, b. abt. 1517, eldest s. of Edward of Cornwall by his first wife, —— Vowell;* Sir Thomas Harris...

* Probably about 20 Sept. 1478, when land was conveyed by deed to Thomas Pomeroy and his wife from the latter's father. (Vivian's Visitations of the County of Devon, p. 607.)
† Vivian, in his Visitations of the County of Devon, p. 607, erroneously states that she married first Edward Harris and secondly Henry Pomeroy. For her children by her second husband, Edward Harris, vide infra, p. 51.
‡ Edward Harris evidently had also by his first wife, —— Vowell, a son, John, who is named in 1618, with his three sons, Thomas, Edward, and John, in the will of his half-brother, Arthur Harris.
Harris was bur. at Cornworthy 25 May 1610. On the Harris tomb in Cornworthy church is an inscription to Sir Thomas Harris and Lady Elizabeth his wife and to their children, in which the date of Sir Thomas's death is given as 17 May 1610; and on an escutcheon appear the Harris arms quartering those of Pomeroy with Kelloway, thus indicating the line of descent of Lady Elizabeth. Children, bapt. at Cornworthy: 1. Anne, bapt. 22 Aug. 1574; m. Sir Thomas Southwell, Knt., of Suffolk.* 2. Sir Edward, justice of Munster, Ire., bapt. 13 Dec. 1575; m. Elizabeth Vowell, and had issue: Thomas, bapt. 18 June 1598, named in 1638 in the will of his great-uncle, Arthur Harris; Arthur, bur. 28 Aug. 1630; Elizabeth, bapt. 15 Apr. 1604; Edmund, named in 1638 in the will of Arthur Harris. 3. Honor, bapt. 6 Oct. 1578; m. Sir Hugh Harris, a knight of Scotland.† 4. Christopher, slain in the wars in Flanders.†

ii. Richard Pomeroy, of Cornworthy, b. abt. 1554; bur. at Cornworthy 15 June 1621; m. Alice —, who survived him. On coming of age he obtained administration on his father's estate, 5 July 1575, as stated above. He and his wife Alice are named in 1601 in the will of his mother, Agnes (Huckmore) (Pomeroy) Harris of Cornworthy, who gave to him her lands in Totnes. In his own will, dated 11 May 1621, he neither names nor refers to any children; but he gives to three children of Robert Tuckerman (husband of Agnes Fortescue, a niece of the testator) a lamb each, and leaves all the residue of his estate to his wife. The will of his widow, Alice, dated 21 Apr. 1623, neither names nor refers to any children. It is, therefore, perfectly evident that this Richard Pomeroy left no issue.

iii. Thomas Pomeroy, b. abt. 1557, is named in 1601 in the will of his mother and also in 1638 in the will of his half-brother, Arthur Harris. The name of his wife is unknown. Child: 1. Henry, b. probably abt. 1580; named in the wills of his grandmother, Agnes (Huckmore) (Pomeroy) Harris, in 1601 and of his half-uncle, Arthur Harris, in 1638; had at least one child, Thomas, who also is named in the will of Arthur Harris in 1638.

i. William, bapt. 1 Apr. 1562; bur. 29 [sic] Feb. 1594/5.

ii. Giles, named in his mother's will in 1601; d. unm.; bur. 15 Jan. 1607/8. Administration on his estate was granted 23 Mar. 1608/9 to his brother, Arthur Harris.

iii. Susan, bapt. 20 Jan. 1565/6; m. 5 June 1586 Henry Fortescue. Children: 1. Agnes, bapt. 14 July 1588; m. (1) 2 Dec. 1615 Robert Tuckerman of Cornworthy; m. (2) —— Weymouth, being called Agnes Weymouth in 1638 in the will of her uncle, Arthur Harris; children by first husband: Frances, Violet, and Susan, all named in 1621 in the will of their great-uncle, Richard Pomeroy. 2. John, bur. 4 June 1592. 3. Bridget, bapt. 21 Jan. 1592/3; m. —— Francis, being called Bridget Francis in 1638 in the will of her uncle, Arthur Harris. 4. Arthur, bapt. 28 Feb. 1595/6; named, with issue, in 1648 in the will of his uncle, Arthur Harris. 5. Philip, bur. 22 June 1599. 6. Edward, bapt. 26 Sept. 1602; named in 1638 in the will of his uncle, Arthur Harris.

iv. Arthur, of Churston, co. Devon, the testator of 1638, b. abt. 1568; m. twice; d. s. p. He entered the Harris pedigree in the Visitation of Devon in 1620. His will seems to indicate that he intended to leave legacies to all of his near kindred, including grandnephews and grand-nieces; and therefore the fact that no desendants of his half-brother, Richard Pomeroy, are mentioned in this will affords further evidence that there were no such descendants.

* The words "of Suffolk" are obtained from the inscription on the Harris tomb at Cornworthy.

The foregoing records prove beyond question that Richard Pomeroy, born probably about 1554, son of Henry and Agnes (Huckmore) Pomeroy, died at Cornworthy, co. Devon, in June 1621, leaving no issue. Nevertheless, I am informed that the History and Genealogy of the Pomeroy Family, 1912, p. 67, represents this Richard Pomeroy as identical with a Richard Pomeroy who was the father of Eltweed Pomeroy, the emigrant to New England, baptized 4 July 1585 at Beaminster, co. Dorset, a parish which is over seventy miles northeast from Cornworthy. As the foregoing records prove that these two Richard Pomeroy were not identical, the pedigree given in the History and Genealogy of the Pomeroy Family breaks down, and at present nothing is known of the ancestry of Richard Pomeroy of Beaminster, the father of Eltweed. The descent of Eltweed Pomeroy from the armorial family of Pomeroy of Berry-Pomeroy is, therefore, entirely conjectural, and according to heraldic usages the desendants of Eltweed Pomeroy have no right to bear the Pomeroy arms until the descent from the armorial family has been established.

Considerable work has been done in an effort to find the true ancestry of Richard Pomeroy of Beaminster, co. Dorset, the father of Eltweed Pomeroy. Eighty Pomeroy estates previous to 1650 are referred to in the calendars of the various probate courts at Exeter, co. Devon, but the documents pertaining to thirty-four of these estates are missing; abstracts have been made of the papers relating to the remaining forty-six estates.
The general probate records for co. Dorset, now preserved at Blandford, do not begin until about 1660. Wills of many testators, belonging to various families of Beaminster, Netherbury, Symondsbury, and other neighboring parishes, in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury and in the Peculiar Court of the Dean of Sarum, have been read. Some work also has been done in searching the registers of parishes around Beaminster.
No definite results have been obtained; but the region around Beaminster teams with yeoman families named Pomeroy, and at least two Richards have been found, either one of whom may possibly have been identical with Richard the father of Eltweed.—E. F.]

[Immediately preceding p. 109 in the History and Genealogy of the Pomeroy Family is a facsimile of a manuscript pedigree which is certified to be "a true reading of the words shown in the photograph of Harleian MS. 12993 submitted to me this day."* A comparison of this facsimile in the History and Genealogy of the Pomeroy Family with the photographic reproduction of fo. 109 dorso of Harleian MS. 1091 (which faces
p. 47 above) shows that in preparing the pedigree for the History and Genealogy of the Pomeroy Family a photograph of fo. 109 dorso of Harleian MS. 1091 was taken, that certain changes and additions were then made at the beginning of the pedigree, and that at the bottom of the pedigree the family of Richard of Beaminster was added from records derived from the transcripts of the Beaminster registers, Richard of Bea-

* In this certification the number 21893 has been crossed out. The meaning of this number is not clear. In the British Museum only the so-called "Additional MSS." have such high numbers, and Additional MS. 21893 is a tract by Rev. Hugh Jones of minister being regarded as identical with Richard the son of Henry and Agnes or Anne (Huckmore) Pomeroy. Then apparently the whole composite pedigree, including these changes and additions, was photographed, and was certified as has been stated above, and it is evidently a facsimile of this later photograph which is given in the History and Genealogy of the Pomeroy Family. Obviously such a pedigree has no value as evidence of the ancestry of Richard Pomeroy of Beaminster, the father of the emigrant Eltweed, since it is merely a present-day compilation of material derived from various sources.

The records given by Miss French in this article destroy the particular heraldic line of ancestry that has been claimed for Eltweed Pomeroy. Whether or not he was in any other way a descendant of the Norman armorial family of Pomeroy of Berry-Pomeroy can with our present knowledge neither be affirmed nor denied. In America a general misconception exists that all persons bearing the same place-name, such as Pomeroy, Skipwith, Berkeley, and the like, are descendants of the Norman lords of that place in England. In reality, however, throughout England, at the time (about 1300) when the common people began to assume hereditary surnames, many peasants of Anglo-Saxon or British origin and without surnames, whose ancestors were serfs of these Norman landlords, on removing from their native places took the names of these places as family names, and became the progenitors of yeoman families which bore surnames derived from place-names but were not descended from the Norman lords of those places. Eltweed Pomeroy may have been descended in some junior line from the Norman armorial family of Pomeroy of Berry-Pomeroy, but on the other hand he may not have been of their blood at all.—J. Gardner Bartlett.]

[From the foregoing data and from New England records the following Babbage pedigree has been compiled:]

1. ROGER BABBAGE is first mentioned, so far as is known, at Totnes, co. Devon, on 1 Oct. 1621, when he married HESTER GREENE.* His ancestry is uncertain. The Totnes registers are continuous and in good condition from 1556, and his baptism does not appear therein. It is possible that in the record of the baptism of a son of George, 11 June 1597, the name "Robert" should be "Roger," especially since in an entry in 1630 "Robert" seems to be an error for "Roger." It is possible also that Roger Babbage was a son of the Thomas Babbedge who married Beaten Davyes in 1596, his first child recorded in Totnes being baptized six years later in 1602, and one of his sons being christened Christopher, a name given also to one of Roger's children. It is possible also that Roger Babbage of Totnes was the Roger mentioned in 1604 in the will of Alice Babbage of Abbots Kerswell, a parish about six miles from Totnes. The lack of wills makes a settlement of this question difficult. It is not known when Roger Babbage died; but his son Roger is called "Jun." 28 Jan. 1660/1.

Children, baptized at Totnes:

1. Joane, bapt. 19 Dec. 1621; m. at Totnes, 20 June 1640, Thomas Every of Avery.
3. Roger, the testator of 1703/4, bapt. 21 Oct. 1627; banns for his marriage to Julian Mircel, widow, the testatrix of 1704, were published in Totnes church, 11 Feb., 18 Feb., and 25 Feb. 1629/30, but the marriage took place elsewhere. Children: Richard, Hester, and John.
5. Christopher, bapt. 17 Apr. 1631.

2. Christopher Babbage (Roger) of Totnes, co. Devon, and of Salem, Mass., baptized at Totnes 17 Apr. 1631, married there, 31 Dec. 1655, Agnes Trigg or Triggs, daughter of John Trigg, Tricks, or Trix, of Totnes.* About 1662 he emigrated to Salem, Mass., sailing from Dartmouth in the ship Nathaniel, John Adams, master, as the following deposition of Nicholas Bartlett and Damaris Philpennay states: "2 September 1706, Nicholas Bartlett aged eighty six years and Damaris Philpennay aged fifty nine years depose that forty-four years ago they came to New England in the ship Nathaniel of Dartmouth, John Adams master, and with them came Christopher Babidge of Tatness, son of Roger and Hester Babbage; that the said Christopher had three brothers named Richard, Roger, and John, and a sister Jone; that he served his time with George Marke, tailor, of Tatness, that he married Agnes Triggs of Totness, and that deponents were his next neighbors there." (Notarial Records, Salem, Mass., vol. 1, p. 61.) There were numerous Bartletts in Totnes, but no Nicholas Bartlett appears in the registers. Nor did I find about 1647 any child of any family who was christened "Damaris." I strongly suspect that the deponent Damaris Philpenny, then wife of Joseph Philpenny and formerly wife of Thomas Searle, was Damaris Bartlett, and a daughter of Nicholas Bartlett. Agnes (Triggs) Babbage died at Salem 17 Nov. 1667; and Christopher Babbage married secondly, 5 Oct. 1674, Mrs. Hannah (Jewett) Carleton, daughter of Joseph and Mary (Mallinson), and widow of John of Haverhill. Christopher Babbage† was living as late as 1711.

* For the Triggs family vide infra, pp. 59-60.
† Charles Babbage, the eminent mathematician, born in or near Totnes 26 Dec. 1792, son of Benjamin Babbage, was doubtless of the same family as Christopher Babbage.
Children by first wife:

i. Esther, b. at Totnes 22 Oct. 1656.
ii. Naomi, b. at Totnes 2 Oct. 1661.
iv. John, b. at Salem 15 Apr. 1666.

Children by second wife, born at Salem:

v. Hannah, b. 15 July 1675.
vi. Mary, b. 1 Mar. 1676/7.

1662 Thomas Trigs of this town and Sarah Shillaber of the same published 18 October [and two succeeding Sundays].
1662 Thomas Trigs and Sarah Shillaber married 9 November.

[From the foregoing records the following Triggs pedigree has been compiled:

1. Gabriell Trix, Tricks, or Triggs, of Totnes, married ELIZABETH ——, who survived him and administered his estate. He was buried at Totnes 21 Mar. 1629/30, and it was probably his widow who was buried at Totnes 14 Feb. 1648/9.

   Children, all except the first two recorded as baptized at Totnes:
   i. Mary, bur. at Totnes 25 Jan. 1590/1, having d. in the plague which raged in Totnes for over a year.
   ii. Thomas, bur. at Totnes 13 Apr. 1612.
   2. iii. John, bapt. 3 Sept. 1594.
   iv. Gabriell, bapt. 1 Mar. 1596/7; bur. at Totnes 13 May 1642; m. at Totnes, 3 Sept. 1626, ANN HUNT. He lived at Bridgetown, across the river from Totnes. Children: Grace, Gabriell, and probably others.
   vi. Richard, bapt. 4 June 1602.
   viii. Edward, bapt. 10 July 1608; bur. at Totnes 19 Oct. 1617.
   ix. Alse, bapt. 2 Sept. 1610.
   x. John, bapt. 29 Nov. 1612.

2. John Triggs of Totnes, baptized there 3 Sept. 1594, was buried there 6 June 1637. The name of his wife is not known.

   Children, baptized at Totnes:
   i. Agnes, bapt. 17 May 1628; m. at Totnes, 31 Dec. 1655, CHRISTOPHER Babbage.
   ii. Nicholas, bapt. 1 Jan. 1631/2; bur. at Totnes 15 Aug. 1633.
   iii. John, bapt. 6 July 1634.

Cade or Cady

The Will of Phillippe Cade, daughter of Christopher Cade deceased, of Northam, Co. Devon, spinster, 28 December 1624. To the inhabitants of Northam 40s., to be employed for the use of the poor of Northam for ever. Toward the reparation of the church of Northam 10s. To my sister Thomzen Rowe half my clothes and £7. 10s. To my brother John Cade 20s. To my brothers William and James Cade £7. 10s. each. All residue of my goods I give to my mother Mary Hoop' and make her executrix, being of that portion of £50 willed me by my father Christopher Cade in his last will. The residue which he willed me conditionally, being £40, to be equally divided between my brothers and sisters, as my father's will it was it should be. Overseers: my grandfather James Cade and John Vernam. Witnesses: William Leigh and John Vernam. Proved 22 April 1625. Inventory, taken 19 April 1625 by Pathericke Coles and Edmond Shernne, £96. 10s. (Archdeaconry of Barum, 1625, original will.)

[The will of Christopher Cade is not now extant, nor have any wills bearing on his ancestry been found. Northam is a delightful village by the sea, and is of great interest to lovers of Charles Kingsley as the home of Sir Amyas Leigh, the hero of Westward Ho!—E. F.]

[The will given above is that of a sister of James Cade, of Hingham, Mass., in 1635, who was a son of Christopher Cade and a grandson of James Cade of Northam, Co. Devon. See Descendants of Nicholas Cady, pp. 11-12, for further information.—J. Gardner Bartlett.]

Hollard alias Silke

From the Parish Registers of Netherbury, Co. Dorset, 1592-1672

1664 Hugh son of Thomas Silke als Hollard baptized 30 November.
1668 Richard son of Thomas Silke baptized 13 December.
1671 John son of Thomas Hollord baptized 10 July.
1671 John son of Thomas Hollord buried 10 July.

[These records supplement those given in Register, vol. 64, pp. 346-347, on the ancestry of Angel Hollard, the baptism in 1614 being that of the emigrant, and the burials in 1655 and 1662 being those of his father and mother. See also Register, vol. 63, pp. 381-383.—E. F.]

Norman

The Will of Hugh Norman of Orchard, co. Somerset, you[man],
1 August 1623. To be buried at Orchard. To my daughters Phillis and Ann £50 each, to be paid out of the debts due me. To my sons Hugh Norman and William Norman £20 each at the age of one and twenty years. To my son William, after the death of Agnes my wife, my house with appurtenances in Taunton, going into the churchyard of St. Mary Magdalene. To my son Hugh Norman, “which is in my house at Orchard,” a table board, a form, and a cupboard in the hall, one form and a board in the kitchen, and a bedstead and featherbed furnished, after the death of his mother. If my debts be not all recovered, each legatee to bear a proportionate part of the loss. Exectrix and residuary legatee: wife Agnes. Overseers: my cousin Henry Woolcott and my cousin Richard Sweetinge. If my wife marry before my children be of age, she shall pay their portions to my overseers. [Signed] sign' Hugh Norman. Witnesses: Richard Sweetinge, Henry Woolcott, and Edward Woolcott. Proved at Taunton 19 September 1623 by the executrix. Inventory, £101. 1s. 8d. Bondsmen: Henry Woolcott of Tolland, co. Somerset, yeoman, and Richard Sweeting of Taunton Magdalen, yeoman, in £600. (Archdeaconry of Taunton, original will, 1623, No. 23.)

From the Parish Registers of Orchard Portman, co. Somerset 1596 Hugh Norman and Agnes Woolcott married 26 July.
1623 John Phillips and Phillip Norman married 6 October.

[Hugh Norman of Plymouth in New England married 8 Oct. 1639 Mary White. He moved to Yarmouth before 1643. His daughter Elizabeth, aged 6, was drowned 28 May 1648. He had other children also, as Thomas Allyn and Thomas Richards testified, 26 Mar. 1654, that he had returned to his English home at Orchard, near Taunton, abandoning his family in New England. (Plymouth Colony Deeds, vol. 2, pp. 104-105.)]
The connection of the Norman and Woolcott families is interesting. Possibly the emigrant's mother, Agnes Woolcott, and Henry Woolcott of Tolland, co. Somerset, founder of the American family, were cousins. — E. F.]

ROGERS

From the Parish Registers of Great Wigborough, co. Essex 1617 John Rogers minister and Dorothy Wiseman widow married 23 April.

[I think that the date and place of the marriage of the father of Rev. Nathaniel Rogers to his second wife have not hitherto been made public. — E. F.]

WHITCOMB

From the Registers of St. Mary's Parish, Taunton, co. Somerset 1623 John Whetcomb and Frances Coggon married 26 November.

From the Registers of St. James's Parish, Taunton, co. Somerset

Baptisms, 1626-1637*

1626 John son of John Whetcombe 6 August.
1628 Jonathan son of John Whetcombe 14 September.
1629 Robert son of John Whetcombe 20 December.
1634 Joane daughter of John and Frances Whetcomb 18 May.

[There are no Whitcomb wills in the probate registry at Taunton, co. Somerset, and of the Coggon wills there none throws light on the ancestry of Frances Coggon. She may have been a daughter of Henry Coggon of Taunton, whose will, now unfortunately missing, was proved in the Taunton registry in 1612. — E. F.]

[John Whitcomb was an early settler of Dorchester, Mass., where he was a proprietor as early as 1636. About 1640 he removed to Scituate, and was admitted freeman of Plymouth Colony 3 June 1652. Two years later he removed to Lancaster, Mass., where he died 24 Sept. 1662, leaving a widow Frances, who died 17 May 1671. He left no will; and on 7 Oct. 1662 his widow Frances and "soe many of the children of the deceased as therin is concerned" petitioned the court to sanction a division of his estate upon which they had agreed. The petitioners were Frances Whitcomb, the widow, and the following children: John, Jonathan, Job, Josiah, Mary, and Abigail Whitcomb; but the wording of the petition indicates that the deceased left other children, who had doubtless received their portions in his lifetime. (Middlesex Probate Records, vol. 2, pp. 67-70.)

Children:
1. CATHERINE, b. abt. 1624; m. at Scituate, 25 Dec. 1644, RODOLPHUS ELIMEN, and had issue. She is not named in the division of her father's estate in 1662.
2. JOHN, bapt. at Taunton, co. Somerset, 6 Aug. 1626.
3. JONATHAN, bapt. at Taunton, co. Somerset, 14 Sept. 1628.
4. ROBERT, bapt. at Taunton, co. Somerset, 29 Dec. 1629; living at Scituate in 1670; not named in the division of his father's estate in 1662.

THE LINCOLNSHIRE ORIGIN OF SOME EXETER SETTLERS

By Victor Channing Sanborn, Esq., of Kenilworth, Ill.

LINCOLN Minster stands, if not supreme, at least in the front rank of English cathedrals. Its archives form a treasure house of historical material, as doubtless do those of many another episcopal see. But the diocese of Lincoln fortunately has in Canon Foster an antiquary whose energy and ability have made this vast store of records accessible to the student. The genealogist will inevitably compare these Lincoln records with those of many other dioceses, greatly to the disadvantage of the latter. It is earnestly to be hoped that before it is too late the local authorities of other dioceses will cause their archives to be arranged in the same systematic manner.

It is owing to Canon Foster’s labors and courtesy that I am able to present these notes gleaned in a visit to Lincoln last summer. The transcripts of Lincolnshire parish registers exist from an early period. They supplement to a great degree the local registers, where these have disappeared wholly or partially in the lapse of centuries. We searched the transcripts of thirty parishes within a five-mile radius of Wheelwright’s own parish of Bilsby. The results prove the origin of several of our early Exeter and Hampton settlers—Cram, Dearborn, Rabone or Haborne, Wight, and Willix, and supply new data concerning the Wheelwrights.

Several of the American Crams have attained distinction in art, letters, and military affairs. They all descend from John Cram or Cramme, who is first found near Boston at Muddy River, where his house-lot was bounded in Jan. 1637/8.† He went to Exeter with Wheelwright, and his name is attached to the Combination of 1639. Later he was of Hampton.

Family genealogists have identified him with a John Cram, born at Felling in co. Durham in 1607, son of Burchard Cram, who was perhaps descended from the Von Cramms, a German baronial family. This theory has rested mainly on a lease of certain fish-pools in co. Durham, said to have been made in 1634 by John Cram, who is therein mentioned as “being about to travel to foreign parts,” and who was entitled to his share “when he shall have returned from over seas.”

As our John Cram was one of a group of Lincolnshire men at Muddy

* This marriage has been printed in Phillimore’s Lincolnshire Parish Registers.
† Second Report of the Boston Record Commissioners, pp. 22-3. The allotments of Jan. 1637/8 were evidently the final record of the act of a committee appointed at a prior meeting, on 14 Dec. 1635. Therefore our John Cram may have reached New England in 1635 or earlier. Probably he came over either with William and Anne Hutchinson in 1634 or with Wheelwright in 1636.
River and later at Exeter and Hampton, and as the name of Cram is still found in Lincolnshire, I questioned this presumed identification.

First, I found the will (of which an abstract is given above) of Thomas Crambe of Bilsky, dated in 1638 and mentioning a son John. Then the Bilsky transcripts showed the baptism of this son John in 1596/7 and his marriage in 1624 to Esther White. The Willoughby transcripts disclosed a connection between these Crams and the Wheelwrights. Finally, in the transcripts of Farlshorpe, the next parish to Bilsky, I found the baptism of "Joseph the sonne of John Crane and Heaster his wife" in 1632 — the very son Joseph who was drowned at Exeter in New England 24 June 1648.

Bell quotes from some Exeter record, which I cannot identify, the death of this son Joseph, describing him as "aged 15 years, the son of John and Lide Cram." On the strength of this Bell and Pope credit our John Cram with a first wife, Lydia, besides the wife Hester with whom he lived so many years. Luckily the death of this son Joseph is also entered in the old Norfolk County records, and there he is called "Joseph, son of John and Hester Cram." Thus the alleged Exeter record is proved to be a mere scrivener's error, and the identification of our John Cram with the John of Bilsky and Farlshorpe is complete.

He was undoubtedly the son of Thomas Cram or Crambe of Bilsky, and his pedigree may be thus constructed:

1. John Cram of Well in Alford, born about 1540.
   Children:
   2. i. Thomas, b. abt. 1563.
   iii. Francis, bapt. at Alford 21 Dec. 1572.
   iv. Christian, bapt. at Alford Jan. 1582/3; m. (1) Thomas Raithby of Belloe (licence 17 June 1613); m. (2) at Hannah, 27 Oct. 1631, Theophilus Drury; m. (3) at Hannah, 26 July 1636, John Newman.
   v. Mary, bapt. at Alford 16 Sept. 1587.
   vii. Elizabeth, bapt. at Alford 16 May 1590; bur. there 24 Apr. 1592.

2. Thomas Cram or Crambe (John) of Alford and Bilsky, the testator of 1638, born, probably at Alford, about 1563, died between 3 Apr. 1638 and 30 Mar. 1639. He married Jane ———, who was buried at Bilsky 17 Feb. 1612/13.
   Children, all except the first baptized at Bilsky:
   i. Richard, bapt. at Alford 19 Apr. 1589; d. abt. 1636; m. Alice ———, and had issue.

The Dearborns are a typical American family of the older class. They were among the earlier settlers of New Hampshire, and their integrity and sterling worth qualified them to conduct with ability the larger affairs of their growing nation. The frontier post bearing their name has grown into the second largest city of the United States. Their most distinguished member was Maj.-Gen. Henry Dearborn. A young doctor in Nottingham Square, he raised a company of minutemen in a day after the news of

*This marriage has been printed in Phillimoro’s Lincolnshire Parish Registers.
Concord Fight, marched them at double quick to the front, fought at Bunker Hill, and served with distinction through the Revolution. In later years he served through the War of 1812, was Jackson's secretary of war, and was accredited minister to Portugal. His son, a major-general of militia, lived in more peaceful times, organized the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, and laid out the beautiful Mount Auburn Cemetery at Cambridge.

The first of this sturdy race to come to New England was Godfrey Dearborn, who signed Wheelwright's Combination at Exeter in 1639. All the earlier accounts of the family, including the excellent genealogy printed in the Register, vol. 2, state that Godfrey Dearborn was born in Devonshire in England. Where this persistent misstatement originated I do not know. In the Register, vol. 60, p. 308, I showed that the family came probably from Lincolnshire.

In the transcripts of the parish registers of Hannah I found the baptisms of the two older sons of our Godfrey Dearborn, who was a weaver there. He was the son of William Dearbarne of Willoughby, a parish which was the birthplace of Capt. John Smith and gave the family name to a distinguished Lincolnshire line, the Lords Willoughby d'Eresby.

Curiously enough, the name of Derburne is also found in Somersetshire and Devonshire. In Lincolnshire the name is spelled Deearbarne, as it is spelled in the will of our Godfrey Dearborn, whose pedigree may possibly be as follows:

1. DEREBARNE, probably of Hogsthorpe.
   Children:
   i. Michael of Hogsthorpe, the testator of 1573, bur. at Hogsthorpe 29 May 1573; m. Agnes ——. Children: 1. John of Siibsey, the testator of 1608. 2. Thomas of Spilsby, mercer, the testator of 1688.
   3. William.
   iv. Janet.

2. William Dearbarne of Willoughby.
   Children:
   i. William.

3. William Dearbarne (William) of Willoughby, buried at Willoughby 5 Nov. 1631, married at Markby, 2 May 1594, Agnes Hay.
   Children, baptized at Willoughby:
   ii. Thomas, bapt. 23 Dec. 1600; m. at Willoughby, 12 Aug. 1627, Susan Greene.

1685/6. He signed the Combination at Exeter in 1639, and lived there until 1648/9, when he moved to Hampton. The name of his first wife, whom he married in England, is unknown, but she was living in 1650, when, as Goody Dearbarn, a seat was allotted to her in the Hampton meeting-house. He married secondly, 25 Nov. 1662, Dorothy Dalton, widow of Philemon of Hampton. His will, dated in 1680, was not proved until 1711. It is signed “Godfrey Dearbarn his marke.” In this country the name soon became Dearborn.

Children by first wife:

i. Thomas, bapt. at Hannah 1 Nov. 1632; d. at Hampton in 1710; m. Hannah Colcord, dau. of Edward; lived at Hampton.
ii. Henry, bapt. at Hannah 22 March 1633/4; d. at Hampton in 1723; m. Elizabeth Mallman, dau. of John; lived at Hampton.
iii. A daughter, who is known only because her father mentions three daughters in his will.

v. Sarah, b. abt. 1641; m. Thomas Nudd of Hampton.

vi. John, b. abt. 1642; d. at Hampton in 1731; m. Mary Ward, dau. of Thomas; lived at Hampton.

Rabone or Haborne

From the Bishop’s Transcripts of the Parish Registers of Huttoft*

1600 Robert Rabone son of Edward baptized 22 June.
1605 Rose Rabone daughter of Edward baptized 7 July.
1609 Robert Rabone buried 3 January [1609/10].
1621 Sarah Haburne daughter of William baptized 9 September.
1622 Edward Haburne buried 12 August.
1627 John Stubbes and Rose Haburne married 26 April.†
1627 Margaret Haburne daughter of William baptized 29 April.
1629 Ann Haburne wife of John buried 7 February [1629/30].
1635 John Rogerson and widow Haburne married 4 February [1635/6].†
1638 Jane daughter of William Haburne buried 12 January [1638/9].

Among the signers of Wheelwright’s Combination was one with the curious name of George Rawbone, also known as Rabone or Haborne. He went with Wheelwright to Wells, but removed to Hampton in 1651 and died there before 3 Oct. 1654, when his nuncupative will was proved in the Norfolk County Court, leaving all his estate to his wife Susanna. Thomas Levet and Robert Smith of Exeter, both Lincolnshire men, appraised his estate. The widow married secondly Thomas Leader of Boston, and died in 1657, leaving bequests to many of the Wheelwright group, Levet and Godfrey Dearborn witnessing her will. All this convinced me that Rabone also was a Lincolnshire man, and I found in the transcripts of Huttoft several entries which confirm that idea. From the records which are given above it will be seen that the names Rabone and Haburne were interchangeable at Huttoft, which is a Lincolnshire parish within four miles of Alford and Bilsby.

*In Phillimore’s Lincolnshire Parish Registers, vol. 9, p. 50 (Huttoft Marriages), is printed the marriage of John Haburne and Ann Laverocke, 28 Jan. 1617/18; at Hannah the marriage of Edward Habborne and Katherine Thorpe, 21 Oct. 1656, is recorded (ib., vol. 7, p. 80); and at Markby and Saleby several Rabone, Rawbone, or Raybone marriages are recorded from 1557 to 1617 (ib., vol. 7, pp. 87, 88, 110, 112).—Editor.

Most of these Wheelwright records are now published for the first time. The Wyll'm Wheylwreyth of Farforth, co. Lincoln, the testator of 1550, who had wife Marion and sons Robert, John, Ralph, and Thomas, may have been an ancestor, perhaps the grandfather, of John and Robert, the testators of 1610/11 and 1611, but evidence on this point is lacking. The following pedigree, however, is derived chiefly from these records:

1. ——— Wheelwright had sons:

    2. i. John.

2. John Wheelwright of Mumby, co. Lincoln, yeoman, the testator of 1610/11, died 11 Feb. 1610/11 and was buried at Mumby on the same day. He married first Alice ———, who was buried at Mumby 11 Jan. 1602/3; and secondly, at Anderby, co. Lincoln, 20 Oct. 1603, Elizabeth Smyth, who survived him and married secondly, at Mumby, 20 Aug. 1613, Andrew Gray, yeoman.

    Children by first wife:

    i. Robert of Mumby, yeoman, the testator of 1621/2, bapt. at Mumby 18 Feb. 1585/6; d. s. p. 26 Feb. 1621/2 and bur. at Mumby the next day; m. Amy ———, who survived him and m. (2) at Mumby, 13 Oct. 1625, Charles Smyth. His cousin Rev. John Wheelwright, later of New England, was sole executor of his will and his residuary legatee.

    ii. A daughter, m. Peter Rylay.

    iii. Jane, m. Robert Rylay of Mumby. She was living 24 Jan. 1621/2, and had issue.

    Children by second wife, baptized at Mumby:

    vi. Elizabeth, bapt. 2 Apr. 1608; living unm. 24 Jan. 1621/2.
    viii. —Ell (dam.), bapt. 9 Feb. 1610/11; probably d. young.

3. Robert Wheelwright of Cumberworth and of Saleby, co. Lincoln, yeoman, the testator of 1611, was buried at Saleby 23 Feb. 1612/13.

*This marriage has been printed in Phillimore’s Lincolnshire Parish Registers.
He married first Alice ———, who was buried at Cumberworth in 1592; secondly Catherine ———, who was buried at Saleby 8 July 1605, and thirdly, at Saleby, 17 Nov. 1606, Catherine Money, widow of John.

Children by first wife:
1. A daughter, m. Thomas Kingerby of Wainsfleet, co. Lincoln; d. bef. 13 Oct. 1611, as she is not mentioned in her father’s will.

2. John, b. abt. 1592, since he was a minor in 1611, when his father made his will, but was of age 7 Mar. 1612/13, when the will was proved. He was the celebrated Anthonian, the founder of Exeter and third pastor at Hampton, N. H. See Register, vol. 21, pp. 363-365 (article by Col. Chester); Bell’s Memoir of John Wheelwright; Charles Francis Adams’s Three Episodes of Massachusetts History, vol. 1, pp. 368 et seq.

Children by second wife:
3. Elizabeth, bapt. at Cumberworth 24 June 1596.
5. Ellen or Elynor, bapt. at Cumberworth 29 June 1601.

From this pedigree it appears that Robert Wheelwright of Mumb, who died 26 Feb. 1621/2, was a cousin, not an uncle, of Rev. John Wheelwright. There were not, therefore, as Col. Chester supposed, two brothers named Robert Wheelwright, but an uncle and a nephew of that name.

In Col. Chester’s day the transcripts at Lincoln were not as carefully arranged as they are now, for none are now missing, and in several, which have apparently been found since Col. Chester made his search, there are Wheelwright records of importance. For instance, the burial of John Wheelwright’s first wife is in the Bilsby transcript for 1629. This transcript was supposed to be missing, and from its non-appearance the supporters of the “Wheelwright Deed” claimed that John Wheelwright might have been in New England in that year. In fact, it is in the file, and is signed, like others, “John Wheelwright, vicar.”

The record of the baptism of Susanna Wheelwright in 1628 is also a new discovery. It was she who married Edward Rishworth. Previously printed pedigrees have stated that her husband was a son of the Edward Rishworth of the Exeter Combination, but I believe that in fact her husband was the original Exeter settler.

Attention has already been called to the connection shown in the transcripts between the Crums and the Wheelwrights.

It is worth noting that the land in Mawthorpe, parish of Willoughby, which Wheelwright bought from Francis Levet (Register, vol. 67, pp. 66-67) was acquired during Wheelwright’s last visit to England, in 1658. At this date Francis Levet, who is described in Wheelwright’s deed to Crispe as a “gentleman, of North Willingham,” had not taken orders, and therefore could not be called a clergyman. My theory is that this Francis Levet was an own cousin of Thomas Levet of Exeter and Hampton. (Register, vol. 67, pp. 66 et seq.)

Thomas Wight, one of the signers of the Exeter Combination, is considered by Savage to be a Thomas Wright, but wherever the name appears in autograph the surname is distinctly Wight and nothing else. Apparently he left no descendants who remained in New England. He did not move from Exeter when Wheelwright left. He appears occasionally on the records, and was made a freeman in 1647. After this date we find him no more on the records, and I think he died about 1650, leaving a minor son, Israel Wight. Israel seems to have been a ward of Capt. Richard Waldron of Dover, and came of age about 1664. In 1665 administration on the estate of Thomas Wight of Exeter was granted by the County Court to Israel Wight. Previous to his coming of age Israel had perhaps been a servant or protégé of Gov. Bellingham, for we find him in 1656 witnessing a deed from Bellingham to Everill and a mortgage taken back. At the Quarterly Court in Salisbury, Apr. 1664, Israel Wight sued Capt. Waldron for withholding his estate, which had been committed to Capt. Waldron at the time when Waldron was guardian for Wight. The case went up to the Court of Assistants, and finally to the General Court, which heard it in 1666, but by this time Israel Wight had apparently left the country.

Thomas Wight is an interesting link, for he was one of the grantees named in the "Wheelwright Deed." The only family of the name I found in Lincolnshire was that of Robert Wight, a clergyman at Hareby, a parish half-way between Spilsby and Horncastle. Robert Wight had some connection with Alford, for he was a witness to Balthasar Willick's will there in 1598/9, and in 1613 he married there his second wife, Bridget White. The will of Robert Wight and the Hereby transcripts show that he had a son Thomas, baptized 6 Dec. 1607, who may have been the Exeter settler, although proof that he was the Thomas Wight of the Combination has not yet been found.

*This marriage has been printed in Phillimore's Lincolnshire Parish Registers.
Balthazar Willix was a settler at Exeter in New England in 1640, and Mr. Frank W. Hackett, in a brief article containing interesting information about him and his family (Register, vol. 50, pp. 46-48), stated that his name could scarcely be English. He was unquestionably the son of Balthasar Willick or Willich of Alford, co. Lincoln, the testator of 1598/9, who had a wife Anne, and who was buried at Alford 13 Feb. 1598/9. The entries in the transcripts of the Alford registers show the baptisms of three sons of the elder Balthasar, namely; Peregrine, 22 July 1596, Balthasar (the Exeter settler), 27 July 1596, and Edward, 30 Apr. 1598, and the burial of a daughter Susanna, 28 May 1600. Of the three witnesses to the will of Balthasar Willick of Alford Robert Wight was perhaps the father of Thomas Wight of Exeter, as we have seen; Leonard Thorly was of a good Lincolnshire family; and William Bellingham lived at Alford, married there, 3 July 1600, Anne, the widow of Balthasar Willick, and had a daughter Susanna, baptized there 1 Sept. 1601. This daughter was married at Alford, 11 Oct. 1627, to Philemon Pormort, later of Boston, where he was schoolmaster, Exeter, and Wells. William Bellingham made his will 25 Aug. 1606, and was buried at Alford 2 Sept. 1606.*

This Bellingham connection is interesting, although I do not believe that the Alford yeoman was closely if at all related to the morose and aristocratic Puritan, Richard Bellingham, recorder of Boston in England and governor of the Massachusetts Bay.

Balthasar Willick of Alford seems to have been a man of substance, and was perhaps a protege of Peregrine Bertie, Lord Willoughby d'Eresby. The oldest son of this Balthasar was evidently named Peregrine in honor of Lord Willoughby, and here one may indulge in theory to help out the gaps in genealogy. Nowhere else in Lincolnshire or in England have I found the name of Willick. It has a Flemish sound. Peregrine Bertie was a typical Elizabethan nobleman, a friend of Sidney, and in command when the latter fell at Zutphen. Bertie was born at Cleves, and from 1582 to 1590 was almost constantly abroad on diplomatic or military service, mainly in Holland and the Low Countries. In 1597 he was made governor of Berwick Castle. He died in 1601, and is buried at Spilsby in Lincolnshire. It may well be that Lord Willoughby attached to himself the Flemish youth, Balthasar Willich, and brought him to England on one of his numerous visits. This would explain the fact that the name appears nowhere else in England, and might account for the leaseholds which Balthasar Willich of Alford acquired from his lord.

It would be interesting to follow the line of Anna Willix, one of the daughters of Balthazar of Exeter, who, according to the records presented by Mr. Hackett, married first Robert Roscoe, who moved to Roanoke and died there; secondly ——— Blunt; thirdly ——— Southwell; and fourthly Col. Leare of Virginia.† It will be remembered that Winthrop recites with rather too much particularity the murder of the first wife of Balthazar Willick of Exeter. The recently published files of the old Norfolk County Court show that at the court at Hampton, 7 Sept. 1648, Willex sued one Robert Hithersay “for raising an evil report of his deceased wife, and for breach of promise in carrying his wife to Oyster River in a canoe and not bringing her up in a canoe again.” Hithersay, who roved from Concord to Lynn, Exeter, and York, was apparently a wayward character, and may have been suspected of the murder.

THE DAUGHTERS OF BALTHAZAR WILLIX OF EXETER

By Virginia Hall of Cambridge, Mass.

The following records and notes relate to the daughters of Balthazar Willix* of Exeter and may be regarded as a continuation of the article by Mr. Frank W. Hackett in Register, vol. 50, pp. 46-48.

"Whereas Hon. Seth Southell, Esqr. and James Blunt, both of North Carolina, did by their Last Wills give and bequeath unto Anna: first wife of said Blunt and afterwards the wife of said Southwell and her heirs, afterwards wife of Col. John Lere of Vergeness and so Died. Whose Sisters and Brother-in-law, Hazelpenny Wood of Ipswich in the Province of Massachusetts in New England, and Francis Jownes and Suzana his wife of Portsmth in the Province of New Hampshire, said Hazelpenny and Suzannah own sisters both by father and mother's side to the above said Anna and so right heirs, in consideration of £250 sell unto our kinsman Thomas Pickeringe of Portsmth formerly our attorney, all the estate given to our sister Anna Lere by said Blunt and Southell in North Carolina." Dated 4 June 1697. Witnesses: James Allen, John Pickeringe. Recorded 6 Sept. 1709. (N. H. Province Deeds, vol. 1, p. 313.)

The estate conveyed by the deed given above is described in a deed, dated 15 July 1699, from Thomas and Mary (Gee) Pickering to William Partridge and Pelatiah Whitttenmore, all of Portsmouth, as "a certain estate in North and South Carolina, more particularly, the estate of Seth Southel, Esqr. in the Province of North Carolina adjoining Salmon Creek, Kendrick Creek, Little River, Peatty Creek and the River Pasquatak, consisting of 12000 acres excepting 4000 acres formerly sold by said Pickering to William Duckenfield." (N. H. Province Deeds, vol. 7, p. 344.)

The following facts about Anna, daughter of Balthazar Willix, are found in the North Carolina Historical and Genealogical Register, vol. 1, pp. 34, 74, vol. 3, pp. 247, 254:

James Blount came to Chowan Precinct, Colony of Carolina, from Isle of Wight Co., Va., in 1669, where he was living with his family in 1669. Mrs. Anna Blount, his wife, who first appears as "Anne Willis of Ipswich, Massachusetts," married first Robert Roseoe of Roanoke; secondly James Blount, whose will was proved 17 July 1686; thirdly Seth Southel, governor of North Carolina, whose will was proved 3 Feb. 1693/4;* and fourthly Col. John Lear of Nasmound Co., Va. In a suit brought by the executors of Col. Lear in 1697 he was called executor of Madam Anna Lear, and mention was made of certain goods consigned to her as Madam Southell from Col. John Foster of Boston.

The first mention of Hazelpenny Willix is found in the will of John Cooper, "now resident in Weymouth," dated 24 Feb. 1652/3. The wife of Henry Waltham, “in whose house I now sojourn,” is to be fully paid, and “if there is anything remaining, Hazelfpenah Willowes dwelling with Mr. Waltham shall have 10s.” (Suffolk Wills, vol. 1, p. 96.) The Boston records show the birth of John, son of John Gee and Hazelfpanah his wife, 27 May 1662. Hazellepomyi Gee was baptized in the First Church, Boston, 19 day, 9 mo., 1671.

“The Depositions of Benjamin Norton & Thomas Pease Sein’ of Edgartown Testiffeth & saith that they very well Remembered John Gee formerly of Marthes Vinyard & further we Testifie we Rememberd Mary Gee his Eldest Daughter we going to school each of us with her unto her mother at Edgartown at the house of ye above Gae about a mile Distance from the harbour about Sixty years since in the year One Thousand six hundred & seventy we being very well acquainted with the family & that Mary Gee was the Reputed Daughter of sd Gee & so called & further saith not.” Attest, Jabez Athearn, clerk. Joseph Merry of Hampton married, 1659, Elizabeth, widow of Emanuel Hilliard, who with Hannah Willix and others is named in a deed, dated 22 Mar. 1663/4, from Ruth, widow of Rev. Timothy Dalton of Hampton, N. II., to Nathaniel Bachiler, being included among those who are to receive legacies after the death of the grantor. (Pope’s Pioneers of Massachusetts, p. 129; Dow’s Hampton, vol. 2, p. 253.)

The depositions of Samuel Wood, son of Obadiah Wood of Ipswich, William Harris and Susanna Stone, both of Ipswich, William and Abigail Cotton, and Samuel Lovell of Portsmouth, dated 26 Apr. 1732, are found in Suffolk Court Files, 33564. William Harris depoased that he “well remebered Oladiah Woods Intermarriage with the widow Hazellepomyi Gee near about sixty years ago he brought her from Boston. that it was the talk of the times when she came to Dwell in Ipswich that her former husband Gee was a Dweller or inhabitant at Marthes Vinyard. She brought with her into Obadiah Woods family a maiden Daughter named Mary I was well acquainted with the family & the said Mary we who use to call Mary Gee till she Intermarried with one Thomas Pickerin who lived at Piscataqua & the sd Mary is still Living there for ought any thing I know for I never heard of her Death.”

A similar deposition of William Harris was communicated to the Essex Antiquarian (vol. 8, p. 164) by Charles E. Banks, M.D., author of the History of Martha’s Vineyard. In this deposition, dated 7 Oct. 1736 and taken from Dukes County Deeds, vol. 6, p. 238, Harris says that the Widow Gee had three daughters, Mary, who married Thomas Pickering, Anna, who married Samuel Hodgkins of Gloucester, and Martha, who married Thomas Cotes.

In the Ancient Burying-Ground at Ipswich is the gravestone of “Hasel-epony Wood widdow of Obadiah Wood died Novem’ ye 27 1714 aged 78 years.” (See Essex Antiquarian, vol. 13, p. 79, for illustration.)
THE ENGLISH ANCESTRY OF THE AMERICAN BELKNAPS

By Henry Wyckoff Belknap, Esq., of Salem, Mass.

At different times during the past fifteen or eighteen years the compiler of this article has attempted to discover the ancestry of Abraham Belknap, who was a landowner at Lynn, Mass., in 1635 or thereabouts, and who brought with him, when he came to New England, his wife Mary and several children.

These efforts resulted in the acquisition of a considerable amount of information about a knightly family of Belknaps, from Sir Robert de Belknap, who was chief justice of the Court of Common Pleas in the time of Richard II and died in 1400, down to his great-grandson, Sir Edward, who was born in 1473, was custodian of Warwick Castle and a privy councillor of Henry VIII, and died 26 Mar. 1521, leaving no sons.

The clue, however, which led to the discovery of the English home of the ancestors of Abraham Belknap was obtained from an old gentleman whose acquaintance was made several years ago through his reply to some genealogical queries. He had formerly lived in the parish of Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, and remembered that the name Belknap occurred in the parish registers there. He was employed to make a search, and in due time produced many entries from the registers of St. Mary the Great, Sawbridgeworth, together with a number of wills from the Commissary Court of London for Essex and Herts. By piecing together the facts obtained from these records an incomplete pedigree of the family was secured, and a certain Bennet or Benedict Belknap seemed most likely to be the father of the American immigrant. Unfortunately, however, the will of this particular man, while recorded as having been offered for probate, was nowhere to be found, and the officials connected with the probate registry came to the conclusion that it had been placed at some time in the wrong bundle and was therefore practically lost.

The search, therefore, came to a standstill until about two years ago, when it was decided to make one more attempt to identify positively the father of the immigrant. The services of Mr. Charles A. Bernau of London were obtained, and he was furnished with all the material at hand.

Mr. Bernau began his search with the Lay Subsidy Rolls in the Public Record Office in London, and there discovered that the surname of the Sawbridgeworth branch of the Belknap family was sometimes Beltoft or Beltofte. With this fact in mind, it was easy to find in the probate records the missing will of Bennet Beltoft, the father of Abraham Belknap. It had been proved 15 June 1624 by his widow Grace and his son Josias in the Commissary Court of London for Essex and Herts, and was entered in the Probate Act Book for 1623-1626 under the name Belknapp, while it appeared in the Calendars of Will under the name Beltoft, which is the form used in the will.

These facts were brought to the attention of the authorities at Somerset House, and both in the Calendars and in the Probate Act Book the entry has been made to read "Belknapp otherwise Beltoft." *

In this number of the Register and in the issue for April some English records relating to the family of Belknapp alias Beltoft will be given, and these will be followed by a pedigree showing the ancestry of the American immigrant. †

The papers immediately following are preserved in the Public Record Office, London, and relate to a case in Chancery, begun not later than 1549, in which Richard Beltoft, grandfather of the New England settler, Abraham Belknap, was complainant. Of the documents in this case apparently only the depositions of the witnesses for the defendant are missing. These records are printed here in full. The exact relationship of Richard Beltoft, the complainant, to the brothers John and Edmond Beltoft who are mentioned in this case has not yet been proved; but it is believed that a Henry Beltoft, who was buried at Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, 5 July 1561, was a brother of John and Edmond Beltoft, and that the complainant Richard was a son of this Henry.

the statute made for the extingment of uses & wylls the seyd Margaret was possessed of the terme aforesaid the remainder thereof ye seyd besecher bys heyres & after the seyd Margaret dyed after whose death your seyd besecher entred the 'p'mysses & thereof was seased in his demene as of fee by force of the gyft aforesaid. So it yeright Honable Lord that after the death of the said Margaret the seyd dede & lere of attorney casuallly came to the hands & possession of one Thomas Westwood of Maudlyn with in the Countie of Essex who by color of the above thereof hath wrongfully entryed ynto the 'p'mysses & thereof expulsed & putt out ye seid Orator & will not suffer hym to occupy & enjoye the 'p'mysses as of right he ought to doe of whom albeit your seyd Orator have divers & sundrie tymes required the delieverey yet them to delyver he hath alwayes refused & yet doth contry to all right & good conceneye. And for as much as your seyd Orator knoweth not the date of them nor whether they be conteyned in bag box chest locked or otherwise your seyd Orator ys with out remediye for the obteynyng of them by the order of the common lawe. And so lykely to be dysherited & undon for ever unless your lordshippe favor be to hym shewed in that behalfe. In consideracon whereof ytt may therefore please your good Lordshippe the premises considered to grant the Kyngs most gracious writt of subpena to be dyrected to the seyd Thomas Westwood commanding hym by virtue thereof p'sonally to appeare before your good Lordshippe in the Kyngs moste high Courte of Chancery att a certen day & under a certen payne therein by your good Lordshippe to be limitted then & there to answer to the 'p'mysses & further to stand & abyde suche order & direction therein as by your good Lordshippe shal be thought convenyent & your seyd Orator shalle daily pray unto God for the p'sanacyon of your good Lordshippe long in honor to contynewe.

The said defendant saith that the said bill of complaint ys untrue uncerten & insufficient in the lawe to be unanswered unto & the matter therein conteyned untruly imagyned & devysed to put the deft to wrongfull vexacon cost & expenses & the matter determynable at the common lawe where unto he prayeth to be remytted Nevertheless the advantage of the insufficieny of the seyd bill to him at all tymes saved for declaration of the truth of the matter & for answer saith that true yt ys that the seyd John Beltofte in the said bill of complaint menconed wasse seased of & in the tenement & other the 'p'mysses in the bill of compaynt espcified in his demean as of fee & being sease about the 26 yer of the Raigne of the late King of famous memory Kynge Henry VIII inficft thereof John Payne the elder & George Mathewe to have & holde the said 'p'mysses to them & to thare heyres to the use of the said John Beltoft for the tearme of his lyfe & after his decease to the use of one Margaret wyfe of the said John Beltoft & of her heyres by force whereof the said John Beltoft wasse thereof sead in his demean as of freehold the remainder thereof to the said Margaret to her heyres in fee & the said John Beltoft dyed after whose death the same Margaret entred into the 'p'mysses & wasse thereof seased in her demene as of fee & so being of the 'p'mysses seised take to husband the said defendant by force whereof the said debt & Margaret in the right of the said Margaret were of the 'p'mysses seased in there demene as of fee & so being thereof seased they had issue betweene them one Thomas Westwood yetlyvinge & the said Margaret dyed after whose death the said deft held hym the said p'misses tenant by the curtesey of England & ys thereof seased in his demean as of freeholde the reversion thereof to the said Thomas the son being of the age of 3 yeres or thereabouts & prayeth in ayde of hym & for that the said Thomas the sonne ys within age the said deft prayeth that the poll may demurre & saith that dyvers evidence consuyng the said p'misses been in his hands custoyde & possession which he deteyneth in his hands custodye & possession for the p'uscon of hys estate & the interest of the said Thomas his sonne as lawfull ys for hym to do without that the said John Beltofte infefted of the said p'myses the said Henry Chauncye other in fee to theene & behoife of the said Margaret for term of yeres & after to the use of the compleynant & his heires in manner & forme as by the said bill of complaynte ys untrue allegedy. And without that that there was any other matter or thinge mencoyneyd or conteyned in the sayd bill of compleynyt matterill or effectuall to be answered unto & in this answer not being confessed & avoyded denied or traversed ys true all which matters the said defendant ys ready to averre & p'ye as this houable Courte shall awarde & prayeth to be dismyssyd with his reasonable costs and charges by hym susteyneyd in this behalfe. EMINENT NOVA SCOTIANS OF NEW ENGLAND BIRTH

NUMBER TWO

HON. HIBBERT NEWTON

Hon. Hibbert Newton, one of the earliest Bostonians to settle in Nova Scotia after its final capture from the French in 1710, was the only son of Thomas Newton, Esq., of Boston, who is said to have been born in England 10 June 1660 and who died in Boston 28 May 1721. Thomas Newton appeared in Boston in 1688, Chief Justice Sewall calling him "a newcomer" there (5 Mass. Hist. Soc. Coll., vol. 1, p. 216). He was sworn there as an attorney 7 June 1688; but in his own affidavit (ib., vol. 1, p. 55), made apparently in 1707, he states that he has been in New England "for near sixteen years last past." In Sept. 1692 he was in New Hampshire as secretary of that province. In Boston he became a leading lawyer, being the first member of the legal profession in Massachusetts who was called barrister (Register, vol. 31, p. 206). He was employed in the investigation of persons accused of witchcraft, was appointed deputy-judge in the Court of Vice-Admiralty for Massachusetts Bay, New Hampshire, and

Joseph Huckins adopted as his son George M. Cross, son of Joseph and Eliza (Batchelder) Cross. George M. Cross (afterwards George M. Huckins) was born at Wentworth 4 July 1803, and married 31 Mar. 1890 Ella S. Lamprey, born at Orford 20 July 1867, daughter of George W. and Celinda C. (Trussell). George M. Huckins, farmer, and wife were living at Orfordville in 1910.
Rhode Island, was sworn as comptroller of Her Majesty’s Customs 31 Oct. 1707, and was appointed attorney-general, probably in June 1720. He was one of the founders of King’s Chapel, was a member of its vestry in 1699, and was warden in 1704 and afterwards; and in 1835 his great-grandson, Hon. Edward Augustus Newton, placed in that venerable church a tablet to his memory.* (Annals of King’s Chapel, vol. 1, p. 182.) His will, dated 6 Mar. 1720/1, was proved 5 June 1721. His valuable library, which, it was said, contained the best collection of law books that had ever been offered for sale in this country, was advertised for sale soon after his death. That his wife Christian, whose maiden name is unknown (although it may possibly have been Phillips), was a widow when Thomas Newton married her seems probable from the statement in her will, dated in Boston 19 Mar. 1727/8 and proved 12 Feb. 1730/1, that her “daughter Thompson” is to have her “estate at Plastow in old England.” The children of Thomas and Christian Newton were: Hibbert, the subject of this sketch; Elizabeth, who probably died unmarried; Christian, who was married, 11 Feb. 1723/4, to John Wainwright of Ipswich; and Hannah, who also may have died unmarried.

The date of the birth of Hibbert Newton is unknown. He may have participated in the siege of Annapolis Royal, N. S., but there is no record of his presence there at that time. In 1711, however, when he was presumably under twenty-five years of age, he was appointed (through what direct influence is not revealed) collector of customs at Annapolis Royal, then and until 1749 the capital of Nova Scotia, and he held this position until his death in 1751. This collectorship was the chief collectorship of customs in Nova Scotia, and for a time, at least, the collectorship of Canso was coupled with that of Annapolis. He was a member of the Military Council of Nova Scotia, having been appointed by Governor Phillips 6 May 1720, when he formed his first council at Annapolis Royal, but his name is not found among the members in attendance after July 1725. (Nova Scotia Archives, vol. 3.) During his life of over forty years at Annapolis Royal Mr. Newton’s intercourse with Boston was frequent. He undoubtedly spent much time in that town, and in 1738 his sisters Elizabeth and Christian conveyed to him a house on Marlborough Street of which he was already in possession. His will, dated 4 May 1750 and proved 5 June 1752, is recorded in Boston.

Hibbert Newton married, probably at Annapolis Royal, although the date of the marriage is unknown, Hannah Adams, baptized in Boston 17 Sept.

* The inscription on this tablet is not free from errors, as may be seen by comparing it with the Boston News-Letter for the week from Monday, May 22, to Monday, May 29, 1721, which contains the following: “On the Lord’s Day Morning the 28th Instant, (being Born on the said Day) Died here Thomas Newton, Esq; Aged 61 Years.” An account of the career of the deceased is then given, which appears with sundry changes and additions in the News-Letter for the week from Monday, May 22, to Monday, June 5, 1721, this second notice (a part of which is printed in Annals of King’s Chapel, vol. 1, p. 183) reading as follows: “On Thursday last the first Currant, was Honourably Interred here, Thomas Newton Esq; His Majesty’s Attorney General of this Province, Comptroller of His Majesty’s Customs, had been Judge of the Admiralty, Justice of the Peace, and for many Years one of the Chief Lawyers of this Place: He was a Gentleman born in England the 10th of June 1659, being Whitsunday, and Died on the Lords Day the 28th past being also Whitsunday, in the 61st Year of his Age; He was Educated there, and entirely beloved both there and here by all that knew him, one who carried himself very handsomely, just and well in every Station and Post which he sustained, being Affable and Courteous, of a Circumspect Walk and Deportment, and inoffensive Conversation, of Strict Devotion towards GOD, exemplarily for Family Government, as well as Humanity to all his Fellow Creatures, A Lover of all Good Men, and therefore the more lamented at his Death. His Funeral was Attended by His Excellency the Governor, Gentlemen of His Majesty’s Council, with other principal Gentlemen, Merchants and others.”
1699, daughter of John and Hannah of Boston and of Annapolis Royal, John Adams also being a member for many years of the Military Council of Nova Scotia. (Register, vol 32, pp. 132, 133.)

According to Hibbert Newton's will, he and his wife Hannah had nine children: Thomas; Phillips, commissioned a first lieutenant of the 40th Regiment 29 July 1751 and captain-lieutenant of the 48th Regiment 8 Apr. 1762; Hibbert, baptized at King's Chapel, Boston, 6 May 1725 and commissioned a first lieutenant of the 40th Regiment 15 Oct. 1754; William; John; Henry, born in 1731, for whom see below; Christian; Hannah Adams, married (license granted 26 July 1759), as his second wife, to Hon. Jonathan Binney, M.C., who was born at Hull, Mass., 7 Jan. 1724/5 and was the founder of an important family in Halifax, his grandson Hibbert becoming the fourth Anglican bishop of Nova Scotia; and Mary.

Hon. Henry Newton, youngest son of Hon. Hibbert Newton, became chief collector of customs for Nova Scotia at Halifax on his father's death in 1751, was admitted to the Council in 1761, and died in office as collector in 1802, his father and he having held the office successively for over ninety years. A tablet to his memory in St. Paul's Church, Halifax, bears the following inscription: "Sacred to the Memory of the Honourable Henry Newton, the first Collector of His Majesty's Customs in Nova Scotia, at Halifax, which appointment he held for fifty years with signal honour to himself and advantage to the public. His father, Hibbert Newton, Esq., filled the same office at Annapolis forty years. He was a member of His Majesty's Council for the Province forty-two years, and invested with other offices of distinction and trust; greatly beloved and respected for his many virtues, but chiefly for his exemplary Christian character and conduct, consistently sustained through a long life in an age of great laxity and religious indifference. He died universally lamented on the 29th of January, 1802, aged 70 years. This monument is erected by his son, Edward Augustus Newton,* as a memorial of his father's exalted worth, and in fervent gratitude for his pious teaching and example. 'The righteous shall be had in everlasting remembrance.'"

Hon. Henry Newton married, in Halifax, Ann Stuart, sister of the artist Gilbert Stuart, who with her parents had removed to Newport, N. S., from Rhode Island a few years before the Revolution. The year after her husband's death Mrs. Newton came to Massachusetts and opened a school for young ladies in Medford; later she had a similar school in Boston.

In several encyclopedias are to be found brief sketches of Gilbert Stuart Newton, a painter of much note, who is usually but incorrectly called a son of Edward Newton of Halifax and his wife Ann Stuart. He was, however, a son of Hon. Henry and Ann (Stuart) Newton. Like his more distinguished uncle, Gilbert Stuart, he went early to England, where he became an associate of the Royal Academy and a few years later an Academician. In 1831–2 he painted in America. He died at Wimbledon, England, 5 Aug. 1835. He married in Boston, 22 Aug. 1832, Sally Williams Sullivan, who was married again in Boston, where she was residing, 25 June 1840, to William F. Oakey of New York. (King's Chapel registers.)

PROCEEDINGS OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

By John Albree, Recording Secretary

Boston, Massachusetts, 7 May 1913. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 p.m., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the April meeting were approved, and the reports of the Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, and Council were accepted.

One corresponding member and fifty-three resident members were elected by ballot.

The rules were suspended, and on motion of John Carroll Chase, Vice-President for New Hampshire, it was voted that in recognition of the efficient services of Miss Mary Ella Stickney during her term of office as Assistant Librarian, soon to be terminated, she be made a life member.

The paper of the afternoon was by William Lyman Underwood, and was entitled A Trip on a Great Lake Freighter. An account of a voyage from Cleveland to Duluth and return was given, and by means of slides, which the speaker himself had made and colored, there were shown the life on a large freighter, the extensive development of the freight-carrying business, and the methods of handling the cargoes, together with the scenery on the Lakes.

1 October. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 p.m., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the May meeting were approved, and the reports of the Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, Historian, and Council were accepted.

Three corresponding members and twenty-seven resident members were elected by ballot.

Hon. W. Prentiss Parker of Roxbury, Mass., a member of the Society, read a paper on Colonial and Historic Houses, using as illustrations lantern-slides of photographs which he had taken, beginning in 1888. Since then forty per cent. of these old buildings have been removed. The closing picture was of a portion of the old Indian trail from Boston to Plymouth in Franklin Park, near Seaver Street. Thence it may be traced to Mattapan, where the Neponset River was forded.

After adjournment refreshments were served.

5 November. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 p.m., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the October meeting were approved, and the reports of the Council, Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, and Historian were accepted.

John Carroll Chase, Vice-President for New Hampshire, gave notice that he would offer an amendment to the By-Laws of the Society, the effect of which would be to place the election of members in the hands of the Council.

By ballot the following were elected members of the Nominating Committee: Francis N. Balch, Frank A. Bates, Charles K. Bolton, Mrs. Florence C. Howes, Mrs. Mary S. Randall.

The address of the afternoon was by Pe-Ahm-E-Squeet, a member of the Chippewa tribe of Indians. She was graduated at the Haskell School in Lawrence, Kans., and then came to Boston for the study of music. Appearing in Indian costume, she told of the home life of the Indians, their legends, and their customs, and then she sang a number of their songs. At the close of the address she showed how the Harvest Ceremony was performed. Included in this are prayers for rain, planting of corn, and other expressions of Indian thought and life in song and gesture.

NOTES

It having come to the attention of this Society that certain genealogists and publishers have used the name of the Society in connection with their own enterprises, the Society again desires to state that it has NO genealogical representatives in this country or in England, nor is it in any way connected with any publications other than those that it issues over its own name at 9 Ashburnon Place, Boston.

The Committee on English Research desires to state, however, that although the Society has no official representative in England the Committee is employing Miss French for a part of her time as a searcher of records there along special lines for the benefit of the REGISTER.

CHICKERING.—Information about the English ancestry and environment of the Chickering family of Massachusetts has been published in the REGISTER, vol. 61, p. 189, vol. 63, pp. 282-3, and vol. 64, pp. 136-7. From these pages it appears that members of this family resided in the parishes of Ringsfield, Wrentham, Westleton, and Henstead, all in co. Suffolk. The following entries in the registers of Bramfield, co. Suffolk (vide Hill's Registers of Bramfield, 1894, pp. 9, 10, and 2 Misc. Gen. et Herald., vol. 3, p. 238), a parish less than ten miles from Ringsfield, show that Henry Chickering, the father of the emigrants to Massachusetts, lived at Bramfield from 1588 to 1595, perhaps even for a longer time.

The registers of baptisms, marriages, and burials at Bramfield from 1596 to 1693 are missing; but among the entries given above, which are all the Chickering entries in the Bramfield registers, is found the record of the baptism of Henry Chickering, one of the emigrants to Massachusetts.

BARLOW RECORDS.—Among the papers of Mrs. Rachel Ward (Hurd) Allerton, who was born at Amenia, N. Y., 2 July 1822, was married there, 25 Jan. 1845, to David Allerton, and died at Binghamton, N. Y., 24 Oct. 1903, a small manuscript book was found, containing a partial list of the descendants of Peleg Barlow of Sandwich, Mass., and of Amenia, N. Y. It is not possible now to say positively by whom this record was written; but from the paper, penmanship, and general appearance, it must have been prepared about seventy-five years ago, and there is some reason for believing that the compiler was one of the children of Thomas Barlow by his second wife, Lucy Allerton. From the fact that in all cases where it has been compared with other records it has been found to be correct, it should undoubtedly be accepted as a valuable contribution to the history of the family.

The parentage of Peleg Barlow has not been definitely ascertained. He was, however, probably a son of Moses Barlow, of Sandwich and Rochester, Mass.
Mrs. Allerton, the former possessor of this record, was herself a descendant of Peleg Barlow, being a daughter of Hebron and Eliza (Barlow) Hurd (vide infra). The record is given below as it was written, except that some additional details, enclosed in brackets, have been supplied.

Sandwich, July 15, 1690, died at Amenia, May —, 1759 [daughter of Samuel and

NATHANIEL WINSLOW’S ACCOUNT BOOK.—An Account Book without the original owner’s name is now in the possession of Mr. George H. Thomas of Marshfield, Mass. The entries in the book were made between 1717 and 1723. On the first page I found the births and deaths of the original owner’s family, with no surname. By comparison with the Marshfield, Mass., Vital Records, published in The Mayflower Descendent, vol. 5, p. 236, I was able to determine that the original owner was Nathaniel Winslow, Jr. His first wife, the mother of his first ten children, was Lydia, daughter of Josiah and Rebecca (Barker) Snow. Her mother’s name has been many times incorrectly published as Baker. His second wife, the mother of the last three children given below, was Deborah (Barstow) Bryant, widow of John Bryant of Scituate. The Winslow Memorial, vol. 1, p. 97, published in 1877, contains an abridgment of the family record, as recorded by Nathaniel Winslow himself. The record in full is as follows:

GEORGE WALTER CHAMBERLAIN.

DERBY-JAMES-BLANCHARD.—Jane1 James, born 6 Nov. 1664, daughter of Francis2 and Elizabeth (Hyland) James of Hingham, Mass., married 7 Dec. 1704 Edward Derby, “of Taunton.” (Hist. of Hingham, vol. 2, p. 879.) Some years ago the suggestion was offered (Register, vol. 49, p. 340) that this bridegroom was the son of Edward and Ruth (Whitmarsh) Derby of Braintree and Weymouth and was born 16 May 1688, “on both town records.” The Weymouth Vital Records show the birth of Edward, son of Edward and Ruth Derby, on 18 May 1688. Had he lived, he would have been only a little more than sixteen and a half years of age at the date of the marriage; but the printed Braintree Records, p. 674, show that a second Edward, son of Edward and Ruth Derby, was born 22 Aug. 1691.

It was Edward Derby, Sr., who married Jane James for his second wife. Doubtless the intention (Weymouth V. R., vol. 2, p. 62) of Edward Derby and

--- 4 Nov. 1704, was theirs. Jane died; and he married thirdly, 16 Oct. 1707, Mrs. Rebecca (Sumner) Hobart, whose first husband, Aaron Hobart of Hingham, had died 3 Mar. 1704/5. (Hist. of Hingham, vol. 2, p. 339; Sumner Genealogy, 1879, p. 2.)

Edward Derby, Sr., died at Weymouth 6 Jan. 1723/4, leaving a will dated 4 Jan. 1723/4 and proved 20 Jan. of the same year, which is not satisfactorily referred to in Register, vol. 49, p. 310. The legatees were: wife Rebecca; son Jonathan, son Samuel (who “went from me at Nineteen Years of age and Married”), daughters Sarah Cobb, Jane Derby (whose legacy was £50 “and four silver spoons her mother left”), Rebecca Derby, and Ruth Derby. The unmarried daughters were to receive their portions at twenty-one or marriage. (Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 23, p. 101.)

Francis James of Hingham did mention his sister Jane Derby in his will, dated 28 Dec. 1717 and proved 10 Jan. 1717/18, as stated in Register, vol. 49, p. 340; but so imperfect a statement of that fact is misleading, as the will reads: “Jane Derby the Daughter of my sister Jane Derby dec’d.” The other legatees were: brother Thomas James, Samuel James, sister Sarah Sale, and brother-in-law John Sale, the last two receiving life tenure in certain real estate. (Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 20, p. 180.) On 21 Sept. 1738 Samuel Blancher of Weymouth and Jane his wife, together with Samuel James and several of the heirs of Thomas James, all of Hingham, sold to Samuel Slater of Hingham real estate described as “part of the estate that Francis James, John Sale, and Sarah Sale died seized of.” (Suffolk Deeds, vol. 107, p. 41.)

Jenkins-Jones.—The following record is preserved on a loose sheet of paper which was found in an old Bible concordance now in the possession of a lady residing in Brattleboro, Vt. The book was rescued from a rubbish heap, on which it had been tossed by people who occupied the house in which the family of its present possessor once lived. The letters M. P., which appear in large capitals at the bottom of the sheet, are perhaps the initials of Miles Phillips, whose name, with the date 1775, is written in ink on the margin at the top of one of the pages of the concordance. The sheet on which the record is written now measures about 10¾ by 8¼ inches, but its size has been reduced by wear and tear. Perforations in the left-hand margin indicate that the sheet was at one time fastened into a book.

HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE

STANDISH.—The New England Historic Genealogical Society has received from England copies of twenty-five deeds, hitherto unpublished, relating to the lands in various Lancashire parishes and in the Isle of Man which, according to the statement of Capt. Myles Standish in his will, had been "surruptiously detained" from him. Some of these deeds are in Latin, others in English, the earliest one dating from 1481. They reveal a branch of the Standish family which settled in the Isle of Man and indicate one of its members as in all probability either the father or the grandfather of Capt. Myles of Plymouth. These deeds, with an article by their discoverer, will be printed in the Register for April or July 1914.

PHILLIMORE'S PARISH REGISTERS.—Thomas M. Blagg, Esq., of 124 Chancery Lane, London, editor of the series of English Parish Registers projected by the late W. P. W. Phillimore, Esq., and published for many years under his direction, has sent to the librarian of the New England Historic Genealogical Society several copies of the new catalogue of the volumes thus far issued, and in his letter accompanying this gift makes the following appeal:

"I would ask that you give some of these [catalogues] to people likely to support the series by becoming subscribers to at least one county series. At present the support of the series from your side of the Atlantic is almost negligible. Genealogists in America seem content to use the public libraries there and do not realize that, if a few more of them would subscribe to the county they are specially interested in, that increased support would enable that county to be printed at double the pace and completed within a few years, whereas with the almost complete absence of the private subscriber several counties have for long been entirely at a standstill and is is at times doubtful if the series as a whole can be continued.

"The same neglect is strangling the good work of the British Record Society."

GENEALOGIES IN PREPARATION.—Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence, and death. All names should be given in full if possible. *No initials should be used when the full name is known.

CHAPTER III

Introduction

The objective of this chapter is to provide a comprehensive overview of the results obtained from the experimental study. The chapter begins with a detailed description of the methodology used in the experiment, followed by a discussion of the results obtained. The results are then analyzed and interpreted, and the implications of the findings are discussed. Finally, the chapter concludes with a summary of the main conclusions drawn from the study.

Methodology

The experiment was conducted using a randomized controlled trial design. A total of 100 participants were recruited for the study, with 50 participants assigned to the experimental group and 50 participants assigned to the control group. The experimental group was given a specific intervention, while the control group received a placebo treatment. The intervention was administered twice a day for a period of one week.

Results

The results of the experiment were analyzed using statistical software. The data was found to be normally distributed, and a t-test was used to compare the means of the experimental group and the control group. The results showed a significant difference between the two groups, with the experimental group showing a higher level of improvement.

Discussion

The results of the experiment suggest that the intervention used in the study was effective in improving the desired outcome. The implications of these findings are significant, as they provide evidence for the effectiveness of the intervention in real-world settings.

Conclusion

In conclusion, the results of this study provide strong support for the effectiveness of the intervention used. The findings have important implications for future research and practice, and suggest that the intervention could be considered for use in similar contexts.

APRIL, 1914

WILLIAM THEOPHILUS ROGERS MARVIN, A.M., L.H.D.

By Mrs. Elizabeth Eliot Marvin Wood of New York City

William Theophilus Rogers Marvin, a resident member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society from 1900 and a member of its Council for the years 1902–1904, died at his home at 70 Perry Street, Brookline, Mass., after a long and painful illness, 24 February 1913, at the age of eighty-one years. He was born in Boston, Mass., 30 December 1832, the son of Theophilus Rogers and Julia Ann Coleman (Coggeshall) Marvin.

His paternal line in New England was derived from Reinold Marvin, one of the early settlers of Connecticut, who was born in the later years of the sixteenth century at Great Bentley, co. Essex, England, a son of Edward Marvin of that parish. This Reinold, who lived at Hartford, Farmington, Saybrook, and Lyme, Conn., died at the last-mentioned place in 1662. His son, Reinold, was of Lyme, Conn., was lieutenant and representative, married Sarah, daughter of George Clark, and died in 1676. Capt. Reinold of Lyme, who was born in 1669 and died in 1737, was by his second wife, Martha, daughter of Thomas Waterman of Norwich, Conn., the father of Capt. Elisha of Lyme, who was born 8 March 1717/18, married, 17 May 1739, Catharine Mather, and died 31 December 1801. Their son, Gen. Elihu of Norwich, who was born in December 1752, married, 25 December 1780, Elizabeth, daughter of Theophilus Rogers, Jr., and died 13 September 1798. His youngest child and only son was Theophilus Rogers, who was born at Norwich 23 February 1796, married, 3 April 1832, Julia Ann Coleman Coggeshall of New Bedford, Mass., a descendant of President John Coggeshall of the Colony of Rhode Island, and died at Brookline, Mass., 9 May 1882, his wife, who was born 3 April 1811, dying 30 January 1882, only a little more than three months before her husband. Theophilus Rogers Marvin was the founder, in 1823, of what is now the oldest printing house in the city of Boston, a public spirited man, and at one time a member of the Massachusetts General Court. In 1859 Williams College conferred on him the honorary degree of Master of Arts.

William Theophilus Rogers Marvin was educated in the public schools of Boston, his native city, attending the Adams School and the Boston Latin School, where he was graduated in 1850, winning the much prized Franklin Medal. He was prepared for Yale College; but a visit to Williamstown at Commencement time brought him under the influence of that "grand old man," Mark Hopkins, and he decided to enter Williams instead. While in college he became a member of the Sigma Phi fraternity, which he always loved and of which he was a devoted son, being ever ready to do anything in his power for any of its members. By the younger men of the fraternity he was looked upon as an example of what a loyal member might be. He was graduated in the Class of 1854, and received from his alma mater the degree of Master of Arts in 1857. Seven years later, in 1864, he obtained a charter for the Williams chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa, being himself one of the charter members. In 1909 the College conferred on him, for his literary attainments and "his absolute loyalty to the college," the degree of Doctor of the Humanities. From 1859 to 1912 he was absent from only two Commencements, a unique record. In all these years he made a practice of preserving printed matter pertaining to the affairs of the College, and a short time before his death he sent to the College Library this collection of "Collegeana," in twelve bound volumes.

Immediately after his graduation at Williams he entered the printing office of his father, and in 1856 he was given an interest in the business, the name of the firm being changed to T. R. Marvin & Son. For fifty-seven years Dr. Marvin was a printer, at first with his father, then alone, and later with Mr. Frederick C. Fairbanks as his partner. He took much pride in the books that he printed, and endeavored to make each one as nearly perfect as possible. When other printers were troubled with strikes, he laid the points at issue before his men, and averted any complications. The firm was originally established at 32 old Congress Street, but in later years was moved to 24, then to 42, and in 1870 to 131 Congress Street, where the business was carried on in a large and well-equipped office until the plant was completely destroyed in the great Boston fire of 1872. Then, after occupying temporary quarters on Cornhill, the firm was rehoused at 49 Federal Street, and was moved still later to 73 Federal Street, where it remained until after Dr. Marvin's death. The motto of the house, Sine Labore Nihil, has well expressed its dominant spirit.

At one time in his early manhood Dr. Marvin was much interested in military affairs, and was a member of the New England Guards. Later he was a sergeant in the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company. He joined also the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia, and was appointed quartermaster-sergeant on the staff of Col. Burbank, who was then in command of the First Regiment. In later years he took much pleasure in telling "how we used to do things in those days."

In 1857 Mr. Marvin became a Mason, joining Columbian Lodge of Boston. After reaching the grade of Master Mason he served his lodge in various offices, and was master in 1871-72. In 1883 he was elected secretary of Columbian Lodge, and continued to serve in that capacity until his death. In 1885-86 he was also senior grand warden in the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts. He edited and published various works on Masonic history and antiquities, among them a report on "The Arms of the Freemasons," published in the Proceedings of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts for 1880, his thorough knowledge of heraldry making him especially well-qualified for this task.

Dr. Marvin's interest in antiquarian matters was pronounced. In the New England Historic Genealogical Society, in addition to his term of three years (1902-1904) as a member of the Council, he was in 1902 a member of the Committee on the Cabinet, in 1903 and 1904 a member of the Committee on Epitaphs, in 1904 a member of the Committee on Collection of Records, and in 1903, 1904, and 1905 a member of the Committee on Papers and Essays. He was a director in the Bunker Hill Monument Association, and was a life member of the Bostonian Society, serving for some time on the Council of the latter society and printing for many years its Publications. Knowing his keen interest in genealogical research, many of his friends would smile over his father's statement that he feared William had no head for genealogy. He was, in fact, an accurate genealogist, and a careful, critical printer of many genealogical works. He compiled the Marvin genealogy and pedigrees which appeared in Salisbury's "Family-Histories and Genealogies," he wrote "The English Ancestry of Reinold and Matthew Marvin of Hartford, Ct., 1638," which was published in 1900, and, in conjunction with Mr. George Franklin Marvin of New York, wrote the "Descendants of Reinold and Matthew Marvin," which appeared in 1904. He also edited and printed "The Greene Family in England and America with Pedigrees," 1901.

Numismatics claimed a large share of Dr. Marvin's attention, and among numismatists he was well-known as the author of "The Medals of the Masonic Fraternity," 1880, a subject on which he continued to collect data until his death, and of other papers on this branch of knowledge. Although appearing merely as one of the editors of Betts's "American Colonial History Illustrated by Contemporary Medals," he was in reality responsible for much of the information contained in this work. For nearly forty years he edited and published the American Journal of Numismatics. He was an active member of the Boston Numismatic Society, an honorary member of the American Numismatic and Archaeological Society of New York and of the American Numismatic Association, a corresponding member of the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society of Philadelphia, and, in recognition of his attainments in this field of antiquarian research, he was made a foreign associate of the Royal Numismatic Society of Belgium.

From 1872 on Dr. Marvin resided in Brookline, and for twenty-two years (1875-1897) he was a member of the School Committee of that town, watching closely the development of the curriculum of the high school and insisting that thoroughness is the foundation of knowledge. He was also a member of the Brookline Thursday Club, being its president for two years.

Those who believe that a person beyond seventy is unable to take up a new line of original research must make an exception in the case of Dr. Marvin. During the last years of his life he became much interested in a document in the possession of the Bostonian Society, and known in English legal phraseology as a "fine." It was written in the legal Latin of the reign of James II, abounded in legal abbreviations and other shortened forms, and had never been translated. He had seen the document years before, and had puzzled out a few words, but had given the translation up as too great a task for a busy man. In the last year of his life he attacked the problem again, and with infinite patience constructed an alphabet and worked out all but a few words. The translation was published in the Bostonian Society Publications, vol. 10.

For more than fifty years Dr. Marvin was a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church. He became closely identified with the Church of the Messiah in Boston, serving as vestryman and later as junior warden, and being often chosen as a delegate to the diocesan convention. In the leaflet of that Church for 2 March 1913, the rector, Rev. John McGaw Foster, wrote:

"The memory of Mr. Marvin’s life is that of a Christian gentleman of the old school. With a mind remarkably keen to keep abreast of the topics which concern modern thought, his faith was the simple faith of his fathers — the Faith once for all delivered to the saints.

"None could know Mr. Marvin well without being impressed by the ripeness of his scholarship and the vigorous cultivation of his mental powers. . . ."

Dr. Marvin married first, 17 April 1861, Anne Maria Howe, who was born at Milford, N. H., 27 June 1837, daughter of George and Judith Ray (Sawyer) Howe of Boston. She died suddenly in Boston 9 July 1870, leaving three children: Florence, who now resides at Cambridge, Mass., the widow of George Hoffman Embree; Julia Rogers, who was married to Lieut. Charles Brooks Clark and is now deceased; and Theophilus Rogers, now deceased. He married secondly, at Brookline, 30 December 1874, his cousin, Mary Ritchie, who was born at New Bedford, Mass., 12 June 1845, daughter of Edward Samuel and Abby Russell (Pope) Ritchie of Brookline. By his second wife, who survived him, Dr. Marvin had three children: Elizabeth Elliot, now the wife of Howland Wood of New York City; John Reginold, who married Grace W. Field and resides at Evanston, Ill.; and George Ritchie, who married Florence Ruth Dennis, resides in Boston, and is a member of the printing firm of which his father was for so many years the head. In his family life Dr. Marvin was a most loving father, always interested in whatever concerned his children, especially in their literary work, and ever ready with advice or friendly criticism.

37. Samuel Hay Savage (William Henry, Samuel, Samuel Phillips, Arthur, Thomas, Thomas), was born at Barnstable, Mass., 8 Mar. 1827. His mother dying when he was less than two weeks old, he passed the first two years of his life with his grandfather Savage at Barnstable, and then, until his fourth year, he lived with his paternal aunt, Mrs. Lemuel Shaw (21, ix), in Boston. In 1832 he was taken to Tivoli-on-the-Hudson, N.Y., to live with his father and stepmother, and in the summer of 1833 accompanied his father to St. Louis, Mo., where he attended school. In June 1835 he returned to Tivoli, where he was placed in school, and he remained there until his father's death in 1839. He was then sent to Boston, to be under the care of Mrs. Shaw, and was soon placed in a Quaker school at Sandwich, Mass., kept by Paul Wing. He was a pupil at the English High School in Boston from 1840 to 1843. After a few months passed in a store at Worcester, he travelled extensively in Central America, spending much time with his half-brother Henry in Guatemala. In 1848 he was at Tampico. About 1857 he returned to Boston, where for two years he was a merchant and lived with his uncle and aunt at 49 Mt. Vernon Street. In 1861 he was in the counting-room of Elisha Atkins, a merchant at 26 India Wharf, where he continued until 1870. In 1860, after his marriage, he lived at Brookline, Mass., in 1862 at 20 Bowdoin Street, Boston, and from 1863 to 1870 at 9 West Cedar Street. In 1870 he moved to 431 Beacon Street, and in 1887 to 521 Beacon Street, which was his home for the remainder of his life. In June 1874, accompanied by his wife and children, he went to Europe, returning to Boston in Nov. 1876. He died in Boston 21 Oct. 1901, and is buried in the Goodspeed’s Hill Cemetery, Barnstable.*

He married in Boston, 24 Oct. 1860, CATHERINE Davenport Hayward, born in Boston 26 Sept. 1833, daughter of Joseph Henshaw and Catherine (Davenport) of Boston and granddaughter of Dr. Lemuel Hayward, whose first wife was Sarah Savage (12, xi).

Children, born in Boston:

i. Adelaide Hay,* b. 6 Sept. 1861; m. in Boston, 17 Nov. 1886, Francis Tiffany Bowles, b. at Springfield, Mass., 7 Oct. 1858, son of Benjamin Franklin and Mary E. (Bailey) of Springfield and grandson of Samuel Bowles, founder and first editor of the Springfield Republican. He entered the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., in 1875 and was graduated with high honors in 1879. Several years thereafter were passed at the Royal Naval College at Greenwich, Eng., and upon his return home he was appointed secretary of the Advisory Board of the U. S. Navy. In 1886, while stationed at Norfolk, Va., he was appointed constructor at the navy yard, and in 1901 became chief constructor, U. S. N., with the rank of rear-admiral. In 1903 he accepted the office of president of the Fore River Shipbuilding Co. of Quincy, Mass., and since July 1913, when the Company was transferred to the Fore River Shipbuilding Corporation, he has continued to act as president. He is a member of the Boston Harbor Commission, of the Institution of Naval Architects of London, and past-president of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers of New York. He belongs to the Metropolitan Club of New York and to the Metropolitan Club of Washington. He has had for many years a summer home at Barnstable, Mass., and his town house is at 148 Marlborough St., Boston. Children, b. at Norfolk, Va.: 1. * The following notice of Mr. Savage appeared in the Boston Evening Transcript, a few days after his death.

"The death on Monday of Mr. Samuel Hay Savage of Beacon Street removed another of our genuine Boston type from a large family and social circle.

"Mr. Savage was a man of much culture from a large reading of books and intercourse with men of thought and action. Full of heart, life, sympathy, always ready to speak a kind word and perform a kind act, he will be tenderly remembered by a large circle of friends. It was well said of him that he never did a thing that a true gentleman should not do. He was a Unitarian in his faith, and believed that the love of God would prepare him for all and for all who tried to do their duty a home of peace and happiness beyond.

"Born in Barnstable, Mr. Savage delighted to return to the scenes of his childhood, and he had but just purchased a summer home there, and was engaged in preparing it for occupation another year, when death so suddenly but peacefully called his spirit from earth to the Father's house of many mansions."

38. JOHN RICHARD7 SAVAGE (John,6 William,5 Samuel Phillips, Arthur,3 Thomas,2 Thomas1), born in Philadelphia, Pa., 9 May 1828, was baptized at St. Peter’s Church in that city 9 July 1828. He was a manufacturing chemist on Orthodox Street, Frankford, Philadelphia, the name of the firm at different times being Savage & Allen, Savage & Keyser, Savage, Keyser & Stovell, and Savage & Stovell. He had considerable artistic talent, which with training and study would undoubtedly have given him a prominent position as an artist. He died at his home on Orthodox Street, Frankford, after a short illness, 8 June 1900, and is buried beside his wife in Oxford Churchyard near Cheltenham, Pa. A portrait of Mr. Savage in the dress of an art student, painted in 1847 by Samuel B. Waugh of Philadelphia, is owned by Mr. Savage’s son at Frankford.

He married at St. John’s Lutheran Church, Philadelphia, 26 Dec. 1854, SALLY ANN KEYSER, born in Philadelphia 6 May 1828, died at Frankford 12 Mar. 1886, daughter of Elhanan Winchester and Maria (Fox) of Philadelphia.

Children, born at Frankford:

Mr. Savage entered the University of Pennsylvania in 1884, and was graduated in 1889 with the degrees of B.S. and
C.E. While at the University he was vice-president of his class. From 1889 to 1890 he was in the service of the Pennsylvania R. R. Co., and from 1890 to 1895 he was assistant engineer, U. S. Engineer Corps, and was stationed at Portland, Oreg. In 1895 he became engineer of the Seattle & Lake Washington Waterway Co., at Seattle, Wash., and from 1897 to 1901 was again in the employ of the Pennsylvania R. R. Co. In 1901 he entered the employ of the Lackawanna Steel Co. at Buffalo, N. Y., and in 1904 became and still is chief engineer of the Long Island R. R., with headquarters at Jamaica, L. I. He resides at Garden City, L. I. Children, b. at Garden City: 1. Virginia Murray, b. 15 May 1906. 2. John Richard, b. 16 Aug. 1908. 3. Hugh Murray, b. 25 Dec. 1912.

39. JOSEPH WYNDHAM SAVAGE (Samuel Aldridge,6 Joseph,5 Samuel Phillips,4 Arthur,3 Thomas,2 Thomas¹), born in New York City 5 Aug. 1812, became in early life a prominent Whig, and served in the state legislature, where he acquired a wide reputation as a public speaker. While a member of the legislature he delivered in the assembly a strong speech entitled "The Tomb of Washington," in which he made a vigorous plea for the purchase of Mount Vernon by the Government. He was a candidate for the nomination for governor of New York before the convention of 1853. In New York City he was successively president of a bank and of an insurance company and director in various financial institutions. He removed later to Rahway, N. J., where in 1881 he was elected mayor, served three terms, and died in office at Rahway 17 Dec. 1884.

He married first, in New York City, 13 Sept. 1838, CAROLINE F. CHILD, born in New York City 14 Sept. 1823, died there 21 June 1843, daughter of Francis and Mary of New York City; secondly, in New York City, 16 Oct. 1860, SARAH FRANCES MAHIE PIKE, born in New York City 9 Mar. 1832, died at Rahway, N. J., 10 May 1871, daughter of Noah Thorp and Lavinia (Parcells) of New York City; and thirdly, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., 20 June 1872, FRANCES C. PARCELS, who died at Richmond, Va., Apr. 1895.

40. George Washington Savage (Samuel Aldridge, Joseph, Samuel Phillips, Arthur, Thomas, Thomas), born at Buttermilk Falls (now Highland Falls), Cornwall, Orange Co., N. Y., 26 July 1819, studied law in his early life, but soon abandoned the law for the fire insurance business. In 1848 he was elected secretary of the then newly organized Merchants Insurance Company, and in 1855 was elected president of the Jersey City Insurance Company. Later, upon the organization of the International Insurance Company, he was appointed its secretary, but soon resigned and founded the Star Fire Insurance Company, which took a high rank among the local institutions. Five years after his retirement from the International Insurance Company he accepted the presidency of the Star Fire Insurance Company, and continued in that office until the Company went out of existence after the Boston fire of 1872. Later he became president of the Columbia Fire Insurance Company, and retained that office until his retirement from the insurance business. He was one of the founders of the New York Board of Fire Underwriters, and after being vice-president was elected president in May 1871. In 1856 he was a presidential elector from New Jersey, and cast one of the electoral votes of the state for James Buchanan. He also served during the Civil War as draft commissioner for Union Co., N. J. While president of the Jersey City Insurance Company he was appointed judge of the Court of Common Pleas for Union Co., N. J., and served in that capacity for five years. In July 1885 he was appointed U. S. consul at Belfast, Ireland, where he remained for four years; and in 1893 he became consul at Dundee, Scotland, and died there, while in office as consul, 3 Jan. 1894.

Children by first wife:

vi. John Muhlecher, b. 10 Dec. 1864; m. in New York City, 18 Jan. 1913, Mary Harney. Mr. Savage was vice-consul at Belfast, Ireland, and at Dundee, Scotland, while his father was consul at those places, and on his father's death was appointed consul at Dundee, holding this position until Mar. 1897, when he returned to New York.

41. William Henry7 Savage (Charles Tyler,5 Joseph,5 Samuel Phillips,4 Arthur,2 Thomas,2 Thomas1), born at Weston, Mass., 22 Nov. 1831, was taken, when about three years of age, by his parents to Falyal in the Azores, where he remained until 1837 and attended a Portuguese school. He then lived for some years with his paternal grandmother at Salem, Mass. In 1845 he removed to Roxbury, Mass., and lived there with his parents until 1849, when he went to California and thence to Australia, returning to Massachusetts in 1855 and settling at Harvard, where he aided his father in the management of his farm. On 1 Aug. 1861 he enlisted as sergeant in the Fifteenth Regiment of Massachusetts Volunteers, was slightly wounded, 3 July 1863, in the Battle of Gettysburg, and on 13 May 1864 was discharged for disability. On recovering from his wounds he re-enlisted, 27 Feb. 1865, as sergeant in Co. C, First U. S. Artillery, and after the war was assigned to recruiting service. At the close of his term of enlistment, 27 Feb. 1868, he received an honorable discharge, and returned to his home at Harvard, where he pursued the occupation of farmer until 1913, when he went to live with one of his sons at Lakeville, Mass. From 1879 to 1883 he was town clerk of Harvard. In 1881 he succeeded his father as a member of the Society of the Cincinnati, and in 1882 was commissioned a justice of the peace. He is in receipt of a pension on account of the wound which he received at Gettysburg.

He married first, at Northfield, Mass., 25 Sept. 1856, his first cousin, Annie Wentworth Thacher, born at Biddeford, Me., 7 Aug. 1835, died at Harvard 15 July 1892, daughter of Henry Savage (14, ix, 5) and Elizabeth Haven (Wardrobe) of Concord and Portsmouth, N. H.; and secondly, at Westford, Mass., 14 Sept. 1893, Martha Asenath (Wright) Fletcher, born at Westford 5 Dec. 1835, daughter of Ephraim and Asenath (Fletcher) of Westford, and widow of Sampson of Westford.

Children by first wife, the first two born at Northfield, Mass., the others at Harvard, Mass.:

i. Walter Irvin,* b. 14 July 1857; d. at Harvard 2 Oct. 1857

vi. Parker Thacher, b. 20 Feb. 1870; d. at Harvard 4 Sept. 1870.

In 1895 he enlisted as a bandsman in the Fifth Massachusetts Regiment, in the service of the United States, and served in the Spanish-American War. He then re-enlisted for twenty-two months as a bandsman in the Forty-Third Regiment, U. S. Volunteers, and went around the world. Mr. and Mrs. Jennison live at Hudson. Children, b. at Hudson: 1. Annie Savage, b. 2 May 1907. 2. David Warren, b. 29 Sept. 1911.

42. Henry Savage (Samuel Phillips, Joseph, Samuel Phillips, Arthur, Thomas, Thomas), born at Salem, Mass., 20 Oct. 1838, received his education in the public schools of Boston, and was in early life engaged in the wholesale coal business in Boston, at first on his own account, but later as a salesman for other firms. He was a genial, keen-minded man, whose life was quiet and uneventful. He died at Maplewood, Malden, Mass., 3 Aug. 1881.

Children, born at Chelsea:

i. George Henry, d. at Chelsea 17 July 1866.

ii. George Hubbard, b. 20 June 1867; m. at Lynnfield Centre, Mass., 28 Nov. 1893, Annie Willett Burbank, b. at Montvale, Woburn, Mass., 7 June 1864, dau. of Daniel and Frances Virginia (Davis). He prepared for college at the Chelsea High School and in 1887 entered Harvard University, from which he received the degree of A.B. in 1891. From 1891 until 1896 he was engaged in teaching. From 1896 to 1903 he was employed in equipping and operating a chemical laboratory for the New York Insulating Wire Co. at Wallingford, Conn., established for the investigation of problems in the manufacture of rubber insulation. His health having become impaired through overwork, two years were passed in its recovery; and in 1905 he removed to Worcester, Mass., where he planned and equipped a laboratory at the Electrical Cable Works of the American Steel and Wire Co. He still resides at Worcester, where he pursues his profession as an industrial chemist. No children.

iii. Emily Knox, b. 15 Apr. 1872; m. in Boston, 28 June 1899, Harry Pinkney Lynch, b. at Hoboken, N. J., 15 Dec. 1870, son of Hector Pierre and Elizabeth (Kirby). Mr. and Mrs. Lynch reside in Boston. No children.

Voted to raise, by tax, $90.00 to defray School and other expenses of the town. Adjourned. Geo Beebe Clerk

Mr James Haley and Mrs Huldie M. Downs,* both of this place were duly married on May 17 [?18] 1858 by Rev. Geo Beebe.

About 2000 Visitors during the Season of 1858

A U.S. Surveying Steamer enlivened our Harbor by her prolonged presence and her soundings were evidently made with care and completeness.

The Wife of Mr J. W. Rendall died while away in Rye. Consumption was the Cause

Several of our young men tried to better their Circumstances by engaging elsewhere in fishing; but finally concluded that they could do about as well at home and so returned

There was much needless disturbance in the place in consequence of the illegal though not immoral slapping of one of the scholars in our Summer School, by the Missionary. The disturbance was amicably Settled.

Miss Sarah E Gunnison, of Kittery, Me., was employed during three months as Teacher of the Summer School here, at a Salary of $8.00 per month and board. She was, as usual, liked by some and disliked by others.

Mr Oliver J. Shaw of Utica, N. Y. presented our Sabbath School with a very acceptable Library containing 100 Vols., and for which he has our hearty thanks and many wellwishes.

Several Gentlemen visiting the Shoals and friendly to the mission enterprise here, Charitably Contributed toward its sustenance. May the blessing of Him who said "It is more blessed to give than to receive" attend them.

An interesting Religious Awakening occurred here during the Spring and Summer in which a Considerable number of the inhabitants participated; witnessing a good profession and evincing a lively faith. But Shall its results be like the Morning dew?

Conscious of the value of Education, Pastoral Care, and Medical Assistance, the people now, more than formerly, Contribute liberally toward Securing them. But in consequence of the Smallness of their number and limited means they are still dependent on the assistance of the Society for Propagating the Gospel and other friends in Portsmouth for the principal amount required to sustain these interests.

In Consequence of an improvement in fishing-tackle a great many more fish are now taken in Winter than formerly.

Nearly all the Families in the place either take, or have access to, a weekly Newspaper. This fact, together with a Considerable Correspondence, especially in Summer, makes it proper to favor the place with a postal Convenience.

The Soil of the Islands is gradually lessening: which fact sujets, that future generations will yet be Compelled to bury their dead in the Sea or secure burial on the mainland.

At a legal town meeting held March 8th 1859, the following persons were chosen as town officers for the ensuing year —
1st W H Caswell, Moderator of the Meeting

1859 & 2nd John W. Rendall, Representative
3rd L. Lafayette Caswell, Collector
4th J. W. Rendall & John C Rendall School Committee—
5th W H Caswell
   Lem' B Caswell — Selectmen
   James Haley
6th George Seebe, Clerk

At this meeting a disposition was generally manifested to do town buisness legally. Especially was this the Case in regard to taxation. Accordingly a young man of considerable buisness energy was made Collector and who has given bonds to the amount of $100.00 as an assurance of his determination to fully discharge the duties of that office.

As usual the Democracy prevailed in the contest for State and County.

1859 & 1856— officers. By this however is not to be inferred that the democrats here are in favor of Slavery. No. There is not a man on the Shoals, of whatever party, but would help to free the suffering Slave of the South and be glad to see him a Selfreliant, intelligent and God-honoring fellow creature.

Richard L. Randall and family has moved away from here and now resides in Portsmouth, N. H.

Retrospectively — 1856

The Rev Daniel Austin of Portsmouth, N. H., very benevolently provided us with a beautiful Medicine Chest well filled; and also made provision for its annual replenishment. The accompanying Deed is contained in a small drawer in the side of the Chest. In the hands of the present Missionary it will be very servicable to us. May the good it shall be the means of doing be accredi[ted] to the Donor in the Great Account. [Just above this record there appears in another hand the following: “This medicine chest was lost — & there was no chest here for about 10 years Through the efforts of O. L. Frisbee & A. P. Preston a new one was made & brought to the Island Dec 1 — 1885.”]

1859. We have made out to Sustain a Town School during five months of the Summer and Fall. It is a heavy burden for so few to bear, whose means are so limited. A growing interest in education encouraged us to bear it. Indeed we can do but little more for our children than to give them the benefit of a good Common School.

Several Missionaries here have broken down under the labors of the Day School and the Pastorate. In this very bleak Situation, especially in Winter, and subject to the irritation to the Lungs which the incessant breathing of Salt air induces, it is no wonder that their Lungs and vocal organs fail them.

The Barque Henrietta, owned in Portland, Me., was driven ashore, on Hog Island, during a Snow Storm — No lives lost — She was afterward burned to get the iron and copper out of the hull.*

Prof. Oliver J Shaw of Utica N. Y., presented the Missionary with a beautiful Melodeon, to be used in the church. Its sweet notes are a treat to many and an attraction to others to attend service.

1859. At a considerable expense the Inhabitants of these Isles have put up a beautiful Vane on our Chapel — May their own hearts yield to the breathings of the Divine Spirit as that vane does to the winds.

[Entry of a note and mortgage at Gosport, 1 Oct. 1860, but without signatures and others details. The note is given by Joseph Rendall of Gosport to Barker, Adams & Co., lumber merchants in Portsmouth. The consideration, $114.72, is money due for lumber used in building a house described in the copy of the mortgage as “a certain dwelling house built by me the present year at said Gosport on a lot of land bounded northerly by land said to belong to John C Rendall — Easterly by land said to belong to William Robinson — Southerly and westerly by land belonging to the town of Gosport it being the sam dwelling house occupied by me as my family residence — Also all my right tittle and interest in the lot of land bounded and described as aforesaid on which said house is situated.”]

[George Beebe, Town Clerk, notes the receipt and record, 24 Nov. 1860, of a mortgage of personal property, of same date, from Lemuel B. Caswell of Gosport to Nathan F. Mathes and John O. Varrell, of the firm of Mathes & Varrell. Consideration, $1000. The property mortgaged is the outfit of the Atlantic House, which is owned and occupied by Caswell.]

* According to the Portsmouth Journal she came ashore in the afternoon of 30 Dec. 1859. She struck on the point between Babb’s Cove and Diamond Cove.
Lawrence Randall child of James A & Abby A Randall was born on Star Island on 17th April 1861

[An entry with pencil by J. E. S. Pray records a visit, 27 Aug. 1869, of a "Party from Exeter N. H. consisting of Wm N Hobbs & wife, J E S Pray & wife, Mary E Brackett A. H. Cram Henry Cram stopped at O. S. Caswell and had a glorious time."

[Record, 26 Aug. 1861, by Geo. Beebe, Clerk, of a mortgage made 24 Aug. by Elvin Newton of Gosport to Barker, Adams & Co. of Portsmouth. Consideration, $250. The mortgage covers shingles, boards, house-frame, etc. Across the face of this is entered, 20 Nov. 1863, by Origen S. Caswell, Town Clerk, the discharge given by Adams & Co. Joseph E. Adams and A. A. Randall are entered as witnesses.

Gosport, Isle of Shoals, N. H, October 18, 1870 — 9 o'clock evening.

To day there has been a very heavy wind from the north-west. The sea has been all day, & is now, very turbulent & rough. In our harbor three schooners belonging to Mr Johnson, of Portsmouth, the Crown, the Spray, and the Mary E. Caswell, — were blown from their moorings, & were stranded upon the rocks at Smutty nose & Hog Island. The Crown sunk with several barrels of oil, the most being afterward saved. The Spray was laden with barrels of Herrin & is unrepairable, having her side stoye in. The Mary E. was not injured so much but that she can be repaired. The Crown went to pieces.

But a terrible sorrow was visited upon Mrs. James R Randall. Her husband in the employ of the Messrs Laighton, at Appledore, ‡Really James Albuer] Randall.

went out a short distance from the Appledore there to see that his boat was well fastened, & on returning in his dory, with a companion, the waves filled his boat, & they sought to save themselves. His companion, by his advice, jumped upon the rocks & succeeded in saving himself from drowning. Mr. Randall followed him; but from the appearance of a very severe blow upon the left temple & eye, it is probable that as he struck the water in his jump, the surge threw him violently against the ledge, & the blow stunned him, depriving him both of mental & physical power, & the under current sucked him out of sight, & his affectionate wife & lovely children are without a husband & father. It is a terrible blow, enough to crush one down. He was drowned at two o'clock this afternoon, but his body has not yet been recovered. The interview with the heavily stricken & sorrow-burdened wife & mother was deeply affecting. Oh! our Father in heaven, & our Lord & Saviour, let thy presence & blessing & strength be shared by her, & be her comfort & consolation.

Oct. 19. 1870,—6 o'clock evening. The body of Mr James R. Randall was recovered this forenoon, & was brought over from the Appledore Island about four hours ago, & is at the house of Mr Jackson Caswell. Mr Randall's age was thirty three—

Oct. 21. 1870—The funeral services in respect of Mr James R Randall, were at his house this afternoon at 2½ o'clock. A delegation from the Order of Odd Fellows at Portsmouth N. H. came out to the funeral, & read their beautiful funeral service at the grave. The house was filled with weeping relatives and friends. The Lord bless the bereaved.

[A warrant, issued 30 July 1855, for the attachment of the goods or estate of William Robinson of Gosport, fisherman, to the value of

*He was a member of an interesting family of Norwegians, that came to the Shoals after 1860. They lived in various places. A large part of the time they were in the little cottage on the south side of Appledore long known as the "Norwegian cottage." The rest of the family moved away in the spring of 1885 and took up farming in North Dakota. The name, the correct spelling of which is Ingebritsen, is variously reproduced as Ingebersten and Ingebritzen. In any form it was too much for the Shoalers for daily use. They are said to have compromised on "Carpenter" as a manageable name for the family.

†The Shoalers were much given to nicknames, not always very flattering, and the use of abbreviated names was very common on account of the few family names on the islands. Thus John Handy Robinson was commonly called John Handy; John Cook Randall was John Cook, but sometimes Cook Randall; John Bragg Downs was almost always John Bragg. Even now "John Bragg's house" on Star Island is a mark for fishermen in getting the bearings of various fishing grounds near the Shoals. A daughter of William C. Berry.

[On these pages is recorded a series of petitions and notices concerning a town-meeting to be held in the schoolhouse on 11 Aug. 1863 at 10 A.M., because "the annual meeting of the inhabitants of said town, required by law to be held in March annually has not been held according to law and . . . it is necessary that such meeting should be held and town officers duly chosen and that other business of said town should be transacted by said town legally." This probably means that a meeting had been held in March, but under conditions which cast a doubt on its legality. However that may be, certain legal voters of Gosport, namely, Nathaniel F. Berry, William H. Caswell, Elvin Newton, S. H. Robinson, Josiah Randall, Daniel Clark, Asa Caswell, Joseph Randall, John Caswell, O. S. Caswell, Harrison Berry, Alfred P. Caswell, and John O. Downs, petition the selectmen to call such a meeting. Origen S. Caswell, Town Clerk, records the petition, without date, and also a similar petition to Nathaniel F. Berry, Esq., Justice of the Peace. This second petition is signed by the same persons who signed the first petition, except that Berry’s name is omitted and that the name of William Robinson is added. On 24 July 1863 Elvin Newton, Ephraim H. Downs, and William Robinson, Selectmen of Gosport, issue a warrant for the meeting on 11 Aug., and also certify, 11 Aug. 1863, that they have given notice of the meeting to the inhabitants by posting, 24 July 1863, a copy of this warrant at the place of meeting and likewise at the fish store of John Caswell, being a public place in the town. On 24 July 1863, also, Nathaniel F. Berry, Justice of the Peace, directs Elvin Newton, one of the legal voters of the town and one of the petitioners, to notify the voters of the town to meet as specified above. Elvin Newton makes return, 11 Aug. 1863, that he has carried out his instructions by posting, 24 July 1863, a copy of this warrant at the place of meeting and likewise at the fish store of John Caswell. Origen S. Caswell, Town Clerk, attests the entry of each of these documents in the town records. There is no record showing that the meeting was actually held, but the articles upon which it was to act are given in the town records as follows:

"First To choose a moderator to preside in said meeting
"Second To choose all necessary town officers for the year ensuing "Third To raise such sums of money as may be necessary to defray town charges for the ensuing year and make appropriation of the Same
"Fourth To see how much money the town will raise for the purpose of Schooling, and to raise the Same
"Fifth To raise such sums of money as may be necessary to pay the debts of said town and for Schooling for the past year and for debts incurred by those who acted as Selectmen of the town for the past year and to see what action the town will take in reference thereto.
"Sixth To see what sums the town will raise for the men who shall be drafted in this town and to take such action under the Statutes of this State in reference thereto as the town shall think best —
"Seventh To see how much money the town will raise for the support of the families of the men who shall be drafted from this town."

[On this page there is a memorandum in pencil concerning Wm. S. Rendall, which probably stands in some relation to the tax list on p. 449 of the original records, where his name does not appear. The memorandum is as follows:

"Tavern 1600

Meeting house lot 50†
Ball Alley 100

[On this page is an extended plan of a tax list, bearing no date. Spaces are prepared for Polls, Homestead, Buildings, Money on hand or at interest, Stock in trade, Cows and their Value, Sheep and their Value, Dogs, Salt, Total Value, and Reduced Value; but only a few entries are made, and these are confused by many figures and calculations written in at random and having no obvious relation to the list. So far as the list can be interpreted, the following statement seems correct:

*Another estimate of her age was 105, but in reality she was only about 83. The possibility of her being 100 years old in 1856 is destroyed by the consideration that this would make her about 61 in 1817, when her daughter Sally was born. A list of 1826 gives her age then as 52, which is evidently nearly correct.

This entry forms an interesting link between the final pages of the Gosport Records and the first. This Abigail Downs appears to be the granddaughter of that Peter Robinson and Agnes Down who were married by the Rev. John Tucke in May 1733, during the very first year following his ordination at Gosport. With another Agnes, her twin sister, and as the daughter of John Robinson and Elizabeth Downe, she shared the baptism of 15 Aug. 1773, three days after Mr. Tucke is said to have died (Kearsney, vol. 67, p. 239, note), which was doubtless the last ceremonial act of his long ministry on the Shoals. One of the first acts of the Rev. Jedidiah Morse, during his visit in Aug. 1800, was to condone her irregular relations to Richard Randall by a marriage ceremony as set forth on p. 86 of the original records. A couple of years later she became a widow, and then married Benjamin Downs. The descendants of these two marriages were numerous and took an active part in the life of the Shoals. She and her second husband are the "Nabbaye" and "Bennaye" of Celia Thaxter's sketches, in which she is praised as an industrious woman and a good housekeeper when well along in years and lacking in physical attractions. Mrs. Thaxter was mistaken, however, in saying that she also cared for "Old Peter," another ancient Shoaler whose age was much extended by local tradition. It is established on good authority and confirmed by several witnesses that during his last years Peter Robinson lived with Asa Caswell, or in an ell of Caswell's house.
† This probably means land near the meeting-house.

ONE LINE OF DESCENT FROM
CAPT. EDWARD JOHNSON OF WOBURN, MASS.

1. Capt. Edward\textsuperscript{1} Johnson \dagger (William, John, William), joiner, baptized at Canterbury, co. Kent, England, 16 Sept. 1598, emigrated to New England in 1637, and died at Woburn, Mass., 23 Apr. 1672. He was one of the founders of the town of Woburn, where, as well as in the Colony at large, he held many important public offices. He is famous as the author of the "Wonderworking Providence of Sion’s Savior in New England." He married, about 1620, Susan Munnter, who was born about 1597 and died at Woburn 7 Mar. 1689/90.

Children, all except the second baptized at Canterbury, England:

i. Edward,\textsuperscript{2} b. 18 Feb. 1620/1.
ii. William, b. probably in 1622; bur. 26 Jan. 1622/3.
iii. George, bapt. 3 Apr. 1625.
iv. Susan, bapt. 1 April 1627.
vi. Martha, bapt. 1 May 1631.

2. John,\textsuperscript{2} bapt. 10 May 1635.

2. John\textsuperscript{2} Johnson (Capt. Edward\textsuperscript{3}), baptized at Canterbury, England, 10 May 1635, died at Canterbury, Conn., about 1720. He married, 28 Apr. 1657, Bethia Reed, who died at Canterbury, Conn., 2 Dec. 1717, probably daughter of Esdras of Salem, Wenham, Chelmsford, Woburn, and Boston, Mass. He was by occupation a housewright or carpenter, and owned a sawmill in Woburn. In 1712 he and his wife Bethia were taken to the home of their son Obadiah in Canterbury, Conn., where they passed the remainder of their days.

Children, born at Woburn:

i. John,\textsuperscript{2} b. 24 Jan. 1657/8; m. Mary Carley.
ii. Bethia, b. 20 Jan. 1659/60; m. (1) Jonathan Knight of Cambridge, Mass.; m. (2) Joseph Woolcott of Cambridge.

*Cf. records of the birth and baptism of Isaac K. Newton, pp. 40, 90, of the original records.

\dagger For further information about Capt. Edward Johnson, his wife, and children, and for his paternal and maternal ancestry, see Register, vol. 67, pp. 169-180.

A genealogy of the branch of the family here outlined is in preparation, and any data relative to the members of the family who resided in Connecticut will be welcome.
THREE TO SELL TWO

ALL ADVERTISE IN SOUTHERN CITIES.

The method of advertising is by means of a circular letter addressed to all the leading merchants and manufacturers in the southern states. The circular letter contains a detailed description of the goods to be sold, along with prices and terms of sale. It also includes a statement of the advantages of purchasing from the company, such as superior quality and reliability. The letter is distributed through the mail, with copies sent to local merchants and distributors. The company also maintains a network of sales representatives who travel to the southern states to promote their goods and establish relationships with potential customers. This method ensures a wide reach and helps to generate interest in the company's products among potential buyers.
iii. William, b. 29 Sept. 1662; d. at Canterbury, Conn., 23 Sept. 1713; m. at Cambridge, Mass., 18 Feb. 1690/1, Mary Cook. He removed to Plainfield, Conn., being one of the original settlers and prominent men of that town, and later of Canterbury.

3. iv. Obadiah, b. 15 June 1664.

v. Joseph, b. abt. 1666; lived in that part of Plainfield, Conn., which was after Oct. 1703 Canterbury, and probably d. there 16 Mar. 1755; m. Elizabeth ———, who d. at Canterbury 11 Dec. 1724.

vi. Samuel, b. 29 Oct. 1670.

vii. Nathaniel, b. 15 May 1673.

3. Obadiah Johnson (John, Capt. Edward), born at Woburn, Mass., 15 June 1664, died at Canterbury, Conn., before 17 July 1740, when his will was proved. He married, 7 Sept. 1696, Rebecca Brooks, who died 1 Dec. 1752, daughter of Thomas of Canterbury. He removed when a young man to Plainfield and Canterbury, Conn., where he purchased a tract of land on the Quinebaug River, and was one of the first settlers and a prominent man. He was town clerk, and town meetings and religious services were held at his house. For upwards of forty years there seems to have been scarcely any progressive public movement in the community, either political, patriotic, or religious, which did not receive his support, and scarcely a petition or agreement which does not bear his signature.

Children:

i. Mary, b. at Plainfield 10 Oct. 1697; d. a widow after 1772; m. 19 Oct. 1717 Moses Cleaveland.

ii. Jacob, b. at Plainfield 16 Mar. 1699; d. 29 Jan. 1738/9; m. (1) at Canterbury, 14 June 1722, Mary Shepard, who d. 5 Mar. 1731/2; m. (2) 8 May 1734 Judith Haynes.

4. iii. Obadiah, b. at Plainfield (later Canterbury) 23 June 1702.

iv. Esther, b. at Canterbury 1 Sept. 1704; d. 1793; m. 19 July 1726 John Fish of Canterbury.

v. John, b. at Canterbury 6 Oct. 1707; d. 13 June 1726.

vi. Abigail, b. at Canterbury 29 Sept. 1710; m. 19 June 1729 Phineas Brown.

4. Obadiah Johnson (Obadiah, John, Capt. Edward), born at Plainfield (later Canterbury), Conn., 23 June 1702, died there 10 Apr. 1765. He married, 6 Nov. 1723, Lydia Cleaveland, b. 7 Dec. 1704, died 5 June 1775, daughter of Josiah and Mary (Bates). Like his father, Obadiah was a leading man in church and town affairs, and his will shows that he was possessed of considerable wealth in notes and lands. He was lieutenant and later captain, and served in the French and Indian War; and he was a deacon in the Separatist Church.

Children, born at Canterbury:

i. William, b. 13 Aug. 1724; d. at Canterbury 2 Oct. 1810; m. (1) 29 Nov. 1750 Betty Fasset, b. at Canterbury 13 Jan. 1727, d. there 1 Apr. 1779; m. (2) 23 Feb. 1780 Lodema Fuller, who d. 14 Sept. 1797; m. (3) 7 Oct. 1798 Elizabeth Dyar.

* Much search had failed to discover the maiden name of this Rebecca, until the will of her father Thomas Brooks, which mentions "daughter Rebecca, and son-in-law Obadiah Johnson," was found in Feb. 1914 in the New London, Conn., Probate Records.
1748/9; m. Rev. John Porter, first minister at North Bridgewater (now Brockton).

iv. John, b. 23 Mar. 1730/1; d. 13 Mar. 1801; m. at Canterbury, 11 Mar. 1756, Phyllis Peller, who d. in New York State in 1807.

v. Lydia, b. 4 Oct. 1733; m. (1) 10 Apr. 1752 Amos Fasset; m. (2) 5 Apr. 1759 David Paine.

vi. Obadiah, b. 18 Feb. 1735/6; d. at Canterbury 27 Oct. 1801; m. (1) 29 Apr. 1762 Mary Howard of Windham, Conn., who d. 10 Dec. 1763; m. (2) 6 July 1765 Lucy (Cady) Staveling of Plainfield, Conn., b. at Plainfield 11 Apr. 1742, d. 6 July 1814. In 1775 Obadiah Johnson was major of the Third Connecticut Regiment, of which Israel Putnam was colonel. He saw service during the siege of Boston and at Bunker Hill. He later became a lieutenant-colonel and colonel.

viii. Abigail, b. 7 Nov. 1742; m. 23 Apr. 1761 Joseph Clark.

ix. Ebenezer, b. 16 July 1745; d. 8 Oct. 1774; m. at Preston, Conn., 5 Dec. 1785, Lydia Brewster.

5. Jacob® Johnson (Obadiah, John, Capt. Edward), born at Canterbury, Conn., 24 Mar. 1739/40, died at Plainfield, Conn., 9 Aug. 1819. He married, 7 Apr. 1763, Abigail Waldo, born at Windham, Conn., 15 July 1744, died at Plainfield 7 Mar. 1822, daughter of Edward and Abigail (Elderkin). He inherited the farm on Black Hill in Plainfield where he lived. In 1788 he and his family left the declining Separatist Society, and returned to the Orthodox Church.

Children, born at Plainfield:

i. Louisa Abigail, b. 14 June 1764; d. 25 Apr. 1838; m. Stephen Bennett.

6. ii. Alfred, b. 27 July 1766.

iii. Anson, b. 13 Oct. 1768; d. 27 July 1769.

iv. Jacob, b. abt. 1775; d. at Brunswick, Me., 29 Apr. 1862; m. at Freeport, Me., 16 Sept. 1805, Isabella Nichols, b. at Cohasset, Mass., 10 May 1778.

v. Waldo, b. abt. 1778; d. at Plainfield 1 Oct. 1828, aged 50 years; m. before 1822 Ruth ———.

vi. Anson, b. 25 Aug. 1780; d. at New Carlisle, Ohio, 20 June 1859; m. 1808 Huldah Huntington of Windham.

vii. Obadiah Elderkin, b. 15 Jan. 1783; d. 22 Sept. 1811; m. 10 Sept. 1809 Lucy Morse.

viii. Ebenezer Murray, b. 19 Nov. 1786; d. at Terre Haute, Ind., 6 May 1858; m. 22 Nov. 1815 Elizabeth Huntington of Windham.

6. Alfred® Johnson (Jacob, Obadiah, John, Capt. Edward), born at Plainfield, Conn., 27 July 1766, died at Belfast, Me., 12 Jan. 1837. He married at Newburyport, Mass., 26 May 1788, Sarah Cross, born at Newburyport 17 June 1764, died at Belfast 6 Apr. 1838, daughter of Gen. Ralph and Miriam (Atkinson). He was graduated at Dartmouth College in 1785, studied divinity with the Rev. John Murray of Newburyport and with the Rev. Levi Hart of Preston, Conn., and was ordained a clergyman of the Orthodox Congregational Church at Freeport, Me., 29 Dec. 1789, being the first minister of that town. In 1805 he was called to Belfast, where he remained as minister until he resigned in 1813. He is spoken of by Governor Crosby in his Annals as a man of commanding presence, a bold, strong thinker, and learned in his profession. He represented Freeport in the General Court of Massachusetts in 1791, and served as chaplain during the War of 1812. He was one of the founders of Bowdoin College, and was for seventeen years a member of its Board of Government, a position which has since been filled by his son and grandson, bearing the same name. The finances of Belfast being embarrassed during the War of 1812, Mr. Johnson voluntarily relinquished his salary to the town.

Children, born at Freeport:

7. i. Alfred, b. 13 Aug. 1780.
   ii. Ralph Cross, b. 25 Sept. 1790; d. at Belfast 14 Nov. 1874; m. (1) at Camden, Me., 25 Nov. 1839, Sarah Winslow Cushing; m. (2) at Warren, Me., 16 Nov. 1847, Frances Decker McLellan.

7. Alfred Johnson (Alfred, Jacob, Obadiah, John, Capt. Edward), of Belfast, Me., born at Freeport, Me., 13 Aug. 1789, died at Belfast 22 Mar. 1852. He married at Newbury, Mass., 5 Oct. 1817, Nancy Atkinson, born at Newbury 22 July 1797, died in Boston 10 May 1864, daughter of Lieut. Amos and Anna (Knowlton). He was graduated at Bowdoin College in the Class of 1808, and was admitted to the Maine bar in 1811. For a period of twenty years he was judge of probate for Hancock (later Waldo) County, and during that time no appeal was ever taken from any of his decisions. He served as captain during the War of 1812, and for several years as judge advocate in the militia. In 1819 he was elected representative to the General Court of Massachusetts. In the same year he was a member of the convention which formed the constitution of the State of Maine, and was immediately chosen a representative to the Legislature of the new State. From 1838 until his decease, fourteen years later, he was one of the trustees of Bowdoin College, having been elected to this position to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father. Judge Williamson, in his History of Belfast, vol. 1, says: "As a lawyer and as a literary man, the opinion of Judge Johnson was often sought, and as often cited for its weight and authority; but in matters of business, or on questions of expediency, it was proved to be no less valuable."

MORE FACTS ABOUT THE ENGLISH SHERMANS*
By Thomas Townsend Sherman, A.B., LL.B., of Rye, N.Y.

An examination made for the writer by Messrs. J. Henry Lea and J. R. Hutchinson of many wills, proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, of residents of Yaxley, co. Suffolk, and its vicinity, has revealed the record of the will of Jane (Waller) (Sherman) Gardiner, dated 10 Jan., 15 Elizabeth (1572/3), and proved 11 Mar. 1572/3. Her first husband was Thomas Sherman of Yaxley, whose will is dated 20 Jan. 1550/1 (Register, vol. 54, p. 153). Her second husband, whose Christian name has not yet been definitely ascertained, may have been William Gardiner, who in 1568 was living and owned land in Stoke Ash in Hertesmere Hundred, near Yaxley, for he appears in the return of the lay subsidy of 1568 as taxed in Stoke Ash on £6 in lands. Jane Gardiner gives to the poor of Stoke Ash 5s., although none of the Shermans lived there. Her will, made twenty-two years after Thomas Sherman's death, is interesting and instructive, as it shows that she was his only wife and the mother of his sons, of whom she mentions all but one, William, the grocer, who was rich, lived in London, and was buried in Ipswich in 1583, his will being dated 28 May 1583 (Register, vol. 54, p. 158). She also mentions the wives of all of these sons except Henry, William, and Richard, and some of her grandchildren. The following is a copy of her will:

Elizabeth, who is mentioned in this will, wife of Thomas Sherman, was his first wife, and daughter of Anthony Yaxley of Melles, co.
Suffolk. His second wife was Barbara Wheatercroft, daughter of William and Alice of Ipswich. Barbara (Wheatercroft) Sherman died 18 Jan. 1621/2 and is buried in Yaxley church. Sybil, wife of Francis Sherman, was Sybil Grey, daughter of Thomas and Anne (Plumsted) of Goswold Hall, Thrandeston, co. Suffolk. Mary, wife of Anthony Sherman, was daughter of Sir Anthony Guydat, Knight.
After Anthony Sherman's death, which occurred in 1582, she married Robert Hall, in 1587. Elizabeth, wife of John Sherman, was his first wife and the mother of his children. He married secondly Marian, widow of Thomas Whiting of Ipswich; and thirdly Margaret———, who was his wife in 1586.

The De Banco Society of London is examining and reporting on the De Banco plea rolls, which are the clerk's minutes of the daily proceedings of the courts of Common Pleas and King's Bench, and also on certain early Chancery proceedings, these rolls and proceedings not being indexed. From such reports many interesting and important facts with regard to the Yaxley Shermans are learned.
In Nov. 1528 (Michaelmas term, 20 Henry VIII) Thomas Sherman of Yaxley, in his own proper person, brings suit to recover from Isabell Dedham, widow, the third part of certain lands in Burgate, co. Suffolk, as his right and heritage, into which the said Isabell has not ingress unless after the demise which Robert Hendry, former husband of Agnes, mother of the aforesaid Thomas, whose heir he is, made unto the aforesaid Isabell (De Banco Roll 1059, membrane 410). It thus appears that Agnes Fullen, the wife of John Sherman of Yaxley who died in 1504 (will, dated 10 Aug. 1504, in Register, vol. 54, p. 152), had married also Robert Hendry. In De Banco Plea Roll 797, membrane 225, 38 Henry VI (Apr.–May 1460), is a minute of an action by John Kew of Diss, co. Norfolk, and John Payn of Roydon, co. Norfolk, against John Sherman of Yaxley, yeoman, and Robert Sherman of Yaxley, yeoman, to recover a debt of ten marks. These two Shermans are probably John of Yaxley, an abstract of whose will, dated 20 Aug. 1465, appears in Register, vol. 66, p. 322, and his son Robert, who is mentioned in the will.

In Star Chamber Proceedings is a bill of complaint of Sir John Wiseman, Knight, against Thomas Sherman of Yaxley, stating that on 22 Apr., 22 Henry VIII (1530), complainant sent two of his servants to distrain for unpaid rent of an acre of land in Gors Close, co. Suffolk, part of the manor of Swattysshall owned by complainant, which rent Sherman had refused to pay for three years; that said servants seized by way of distress a plow with four horses; and that, as they were driving in the King's highway, Johanne Sherman and Margery Hege, with staves in their hands, and certain other riotous persons "made a sawte & fray upon the said ij servants & put them in daunger of their lyvis & greviously did bete William Erystehe & take away the said dystress from them." Afterwards, on 24 Apr., 23 Henry VIII (1531), complainant's servants again distrained the plow and horses; "but as they came thetherward, mette with them by the way, Johanne Sherman, the wyff of Thomas Sherman, Thomas Dykon and Margery Hedge with Stavys & stonys in their lappys, as well as other servants of the said Thomas Sherman, who with force & armis did fyghyt with them & them did bett, wond & yll intret."

Thomas Sherman was an attorney at law with a large practice in the Court of Common Pleas, and he was also a great litigant himself, as the court records show. His wife Jane seems to have been able to do her share of the fighting, when occasion offered.

The return of the lay subsidy of 1327 for Yaxley (Jakeslee) in the hundred of Hertesmere, co. Suffolk, shows that John Sherman was taxed there xii
d. In the return of the lay subsidy of 1524 Thomas Sherman of Yaxley was taxed there 7s. 6d. on £5 of goods. In the return of the lay subsidy of 1568 for Yaxley Thomas Sherman, gentleman, appears as taxed £1. 6s. 8d. on £12 in lands, and Francis Sherman, his brother, was taxed 2s. 6d. on £3 in goods.

It has been said that the maiden name of Agnes, the first wife of Henry Sherman of Colchester and Dedham, whose will is dated 20 Jan. 1589/90 (Register, vol. 50, p. 281), was Butler. The will of Thomas Butter of Dedham, co. Essex, clothier, dated 20 Aug. 1555 and proved 7 May 1556 (P.C.C., Ketchyn, 5), mentions his daughter Agnes Rolfe, makes a bequest of a silver pot to Harry Sherman's wife, and appoints Henry Sherman an executor. Possibly Agnes, the wife of Henry Sherman, was Agnes Butter, a sister or niece of the testator.

The abstract of the will of Henry Sherman of Dedham, dated 21 Aug. 1610, in Register, vol. 50, p. 285, does not mention the testator's son Samuel. The will, however, contains the following clause:

Item — my will and meaning is that my two sons Henry and Samuel Sherman shall sell my 8 acres of land in the Hallfeild to the best advantage of my children's children as afore bequeathed within two years after my decease, and my meaning is that the mayne profit which shall arise of the said land during the said two years shall be paid by them to my said son Daniel and his heirs.

The will of John Herberd of Yaxley, dated 23 Jan. 1458/9 (P.C.C., Stockton, 17), devises "all my lands late bought of Margaret Sherman & Thomas Porter, chaplain, lying in Yaxle in a field called Netherfeld."

RECORDS OF THE SOCIETY OF FRIENDS AT VASSALBOROUGH, ME.

Communicated by Hon. Henry Sewall Webster, A.M., of Gardiner, Me.

A Society of Friends, which still exists, was organized in Vassalborough, Me., in 1780. The History of Kennebec County, chapter xii, contains many interesting details of its early history. A house of worship was built in 1785–86, and the records of marriages commence soon after. As was customary, each certificate was recorded in full. The first certificate is here given at length in order to show the usual form; but of the later ones abstracts only are given, and the names of the witnesses have been omitted. Certificates were recorded, not as they were issued, but as they were presented to the clerk for that purpose; hence, as will be observed, they do not always appear in the order of their dates.

FRIENDS RECORDS OF MARRIAGE CERTIFICATES

Began the 13th of the 9th Mo 1787.

Zaccheus Bowerman of Fairfield son of Benjamin Bowerman of Falmouth in the County of Barnstable and State of Massachusetts Bay and Elizabeth his Wife (she being deceased) and Permelia Jones Daughter of Paul Jones of Fairfield in the County of Lincoln and Alice his Wife (she being deceased) having declared their Intentions of Taking Each Other in Marriage, before Several Monthly Meetings of the People Called Quakers in the County of Lincoln aforesaid according to the good Order used among them; their Proceedings after due Enquiry and Deliberate Consideration thereof were allowed by the Said Meetings, they appearing Clear of all Others and having consent of Parents Concerned.

Now these are to Certify all Whom it may Concern, that for the full accomplishing of their Said Intentions, this Twenty third Day of the Eighth Month in the Year of Our Lord one Thousand Seven hundred and Eighty seven, they the Said Zaccheus Bowerman and Permelia Jones appeared at a public assembly of the aforesaid People and others, in their Meeting Place in Fairfield and he the said Zaccheus Bowerman, Taking the Said Permelia Jones by the hand, did openly declare as followeth: Friends I take this my Friend Permelia Jones, to be my wife, Promising Through Divine assistance to be unto her a Loving and Faithfull Husband, Untill it Shall Please the Lord by Death to Separate us. And the said Permelia Jones did then and there in Like manner Declare as followeth: Friends I Take this my Friend...
Zaccheus Bowerman to be my Husband Promising Through Divine assistance to be unto him a Loving and faithfull Wife, until it Shall Please the Lord to Seperate Us. Or words of the Like Import.

And the Said Zaccheus Bowerman and Permelia Jones, as a further Confirmation thereof have hereunto Set their hands. She after the Custom of Marriage, Assuming the Name of her Husband.

Zaccheus Bowerman
Permelia Bowerman

And we whose Names are hereunto Subscribed, being Present with Others at the Consummation of their Said Marriage as Witnesses thereunto Set our hands the Day and year above written.

RECORDS OF THE GREENFIELD HILL CHURCH, FAIRFIELD, CONN.

FROM A COPY IN THE POSSESSION OF THE CONNECTICUT SOCIETY OF COLONIAL DAMES

Communicated by Miss Mary Kingsbury Talcott of Hartford, Conn.

The Greenfield Hill Society in Fairfield, Conn., was established in Oct. 1725 as the Northwest Society in Fairfield, being set off from the original church in Fairfield which dates from 1639. The Green-Greenfield Hill Church was organized 18 May 1726, when the first minister, Rev. John Goodsell, was ordained. The name Northwest Society was changed to Greenfield in Oct. 1727, and the word Hill seems to have been added to the name by usage merely. Rev. John Goodsell was graduated at Yale College in 1724. One of his successors in the ministry at Greenfield Hill was Rev. Timothy Dwight, D. D., afterwards president of Yale College, who lived at Greenfield from 1783 to 1795 and while there wrote a poem, entitled "Greenfield Hill," in which he praised the beauty of the surrounding country.

to ensure a more efficient trade and to meet the stiff competition from the Orient, the British government began to promote the establishment of factories in China. These factories were exempt from certain trade restrictions and tariffs, allowing them to produce and sell goods more competitively. The factories were often located near ports and transportation networks, facilitating the import and export of goods.

The British government also negotiated a series of trade agreements with China, known as the "Treaties of Nanjing," which allowed British merchants to establish trading posts and set up factories inside China. These agreements granted the British the right to trade and to maintain consular missions in Chinese ports. The treaties also provided for the extraterritorial jurisdiction of British subjects, which meant that they were immune from the laws of the local Chinese authorities.

In 1858, the Second Treaty of Tien-tsin was signed, which further expanded British trading privileges and rights. This treaty opened additional ports to British trade and allowed British subjects to reside in Chinese cities. The British also obtained the right to establish consular residences in these cities and to have access to courts of law.

These agreements and the establishment of factories and trade posts in China were intended to strengthen British economic interests in China and to exert influence over Chinese politics.
However, they also led to increased tension between China and Britain, as the Chinese felt their sovereignty was being compromised.

In conclusion, the British government's actions in China during the early 19th century were motivated by economic interests, particularly the desire to establish a more efficient trade route and to promote their industrial products. These efforts led to the establishment of factories in China and the negotiation of trade agreements that increased British influence over Chinese politics. The British government's actions, however, also highlighted the fragility of the sino-British relationship and the tension that would eventually lead to the Opium Wars.
bados, and are printed here because of the information which they furnish about the intercourse and the family ties between New England and Barbados in the seventeenth century.

Robert Walke of the parish of St. James, planter, makes an indenture, 19 September 1644, with Nicholas Walke of the same parish for one half of his twenty acres, reserving, however, the use of the crop “when the said Robert shall think good for going home for England.”

Walter Walke, planter in Barbados, sold, 16 May 1645, to Edward Breviter, gentleman, 10 acres in the parish of St. Peter.

Indenture, dated 22 February 1678 [1678/9], between Lieut. Robert Ayseford of the parish of St. Thomas, gentleman, guardian to John and James Root, orphans of John Root of the said parish deceased, and Robert Walke of the same parish and island, millwright, for two thirds of the plantation of the said John Root deceased, of 94 acres, together with two thirds of a stone windmill and a boiling house of stone.

John Chambers was buried at St. Michael’s in 1666.

Samuel Chambers was buried at St. Michael’s in 1674.

[The will of Thomas Walke, Esq., of Lower Norfolk Co., Va., dated 5 January 1693/4 and proved 15 January following, mentions brother Robert Walke of Barbados and sister Ann Chambers of Barbados. Thomas Walke was the founder of a noted Norfolk family and was the father of Anthony Walke, Esq., of “Fairfield,” Princess Anne Co., Va.]

Robert Child, “Doctor of Phisiecke,” sells, 2 October 1645, to Richard Vines, gentleman, a neck of land containing about 300 acres and two islands called Stair (?) Island and Wood Island, for one pepper corn on the Feast of St. Michael.

[This deed was probably entered in the Barbadian records by Richard Vines, who removed from New England to Barbados in 1646 and in October 1645 had sold to the Doctor a large tract of land in Maine. Savage says that Child went home to England in 1647 and never returned. The question now arises whether he may not have visited Barbados subsequently, after his quarrel with the Massachusetts authorities.]

Richard Vines, gentleman, bought, 14 November 1646, of John Greene, planter, a plantation of 25 acres in the parish of St. Michael.

Agreement, dated 28 May 1647, of Robert Bridges of Barbados, gentleman, to ship to John Jordan of New England, merchant, 1410 lbs. of muscovado sugar.

Ann Cromwell of Boston in New England, widow, executrix of her husband, Capt. Thomas Cromwell, deceased, gives a power of attorney to her loving friend Edward Hutchinson of Boston to collect debts due from John Manford of Barbados. Dated 2 October 1649.

[Thomas Cromwell came from London to Boston in 1646 and died in 1649. He had made a large fortune in privateering. His widow married Richard Knight of Boston.]

On 17 October 1649, before William Aspinwall, Notary and Tabellion Publick, etc., appeared Mr. Adam Winthrop of Boston, New England, husband of Elizabeth, late wife of Nathaniel Longe, late of Boston, merchant, and made Edward Hutchinson of Boston, merchant, his attorney to receive goods due in Barbados to Elizabeth his wife or to her late husband Nathaniel Longe.

[According to Savage’s Gen. Dict., Adam Winthrop married secondly Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Hawkins. If this is so, she was a widow at the time of her marriage to Adam Winthrop. His first wife, Elizabeth Glover, died in 1648. Cf. Aspinwall Notarial Records, p. 225.]
John Ruffe of Barbados, planter, and James Bycot [or Upcot] of the same, barber, sell, 4 March 1656/7, to Capt. William Mott of the same island, gentleman, part of a messuage where said Mott now liveth.

[Adam Mott of Portsmouth, R.I., had an aged father, John Mott, who was at Portsmouth as early as 1639. On 13 November 1654 the town of Portsmouth voted "to pay John Mott's passage to Barbadoes and back again if he cannot be received."]

John Woodmansey of Boston, merchant, makes, 22 May 1659, his friend Mr. David Morgan, now resident of Barbados, his attorney to collect such debts as are due him there and in other Carrabee Islands.

[According to Savage's Gen. Dict., John Woodmansey was a Boston merchant as early as 1659 and died about 1685. The surname is still found in Westerly, R.I., and in that vicinity.]

Col. Humphrey Hooke of Barbados, Esq., appears in the Barbadian deeds in 1659.

[He was perhaps the Bristol alderman, whose son, Francis Hooke of Kittery, married Mary, sister of Nathaniel Maverick of St. Lucy's, Barbados.]

[According to Savage's Gen. Dict., Robert Gibbs of Boston, merchant, was a son of Sir Henry Gibbs of Warwickshire and came to New England before 1660. He married Elizabeth, daughter of Jacob Sheaffe, and died in 1673, aged 37, leaving issue. William Dickinson has escaped the notice of Savage and probably did not remain long in New England.]

William Brenton of Newport on road Island within the Colony of Providence Plantation in New England, merchant, gives a power of attorney to Peleg Sanford of Newport to be his attorney in Barbadoes to collect what is due him there. Done at the Island of road, 17 December 1661.

[Gov. Peleg Sanford's first wife was the daughter of Gov. William Brenton. From this William Brenton, one of the early settlers of Newport, descended Admiral Sir Jahleel Brenton, who was with Nelson at Trafalgar.]

William Kent of Boston in New England and Mary his wife, formerly widow of John Mears, deceased, make John Puddifult of ye Bay in ye Barbadoes an attorney to collect such property as is owing them by the death of Thomas Dinsdeall, formerly uncle to the said Mary. Dated 4 April 1665.

Edward King, aged about 18 years, and Edward Winslow, aged about 25 years, testify, 7 May 1666, to the seal of Edward Rawson on papers relating to the case of Thomas Offield & Co. v. Richard Lockwood and the ship Phoenix for non-payment of wages in a voyage to Fayal and back to Boston, the ship being then at Barbados.

Elizabeth Cortis of Faury [?] in Cornwall, widow, conveys for love to her grandson Edward Guer, son of Edward Guer of Barbados, 20 acres in the parish of St. Lucy. Dated 17 October 1666.

[The name Guer suggests that of a well-known Boston family.]

Agreement of Isaac Winslow, master of the ketch Betty, with John flowle, merchant, dated 14 June 1667, states that he arrived in Barbados 23 December last.

[Isaac Winslow of Charlestown, son of John of Plymouth, the brother of Gov. Edward Winslow, married Mary, daughter of Increase Nowell, the secretary, in 1666. He died in Jamaica in 1670.]

VOL. LXVIII. 12
Note of Abraham Brown, dated at Boston 20 November 1667, on Mr. Crispin Hooper, merchant, in Barbados, to pay Mr. Benjamin Seay at the Bridgetown 6000 lbs. of muscovado sugar.

[Abraham Brown, a Boston merchant, came over in 1650. He married (1) 19 August 1653 Jane Skipper, and (2) 1 May 1660 Rebecca Usher. He was taken by Barbary pirates in 1654.]

Protest of William Condy, master of the ship Tryall, dated 15 February 1667 [1667/8], shows that he sailed from New London 31 December last, bound for Barbados.

Note of James Pendleton of Portsmouth on Pisquattacqua, dated 27 June 1668, on Mr. Daniel Browning, merchant, in Barbados, in favor of Mr. John Daney, for 5266 lbs. of muscovado sugar.

[James Pendleton, son of Bryan, was early of Watertown, Mass., but removed to Portsmouth, N. H., where in 1671 he was one of the founders of the First Church. Subsequently he removed to Stonington, Conn., and Westerly, R.I., and was the ancestor of the Pendleton family in that section of New England.]

A mutilated protest, dated 18 September 1668, mentions Capt. Robert Lock, late of London, now of Boston, merchant.

Michael Spencer, now resident on the Island of Barbados, sues William Coney, 18 November 1668.

[A Michael Spencer, son of John Spencer of Newport, R.I., was of East Greenwich, R.I., in 1692. Another Michael Spencer, probably a kinsman of John, was at Cambridge, Mass., in 1634.]

[According to Savage's Gen. Diet., Humphrey Davenport of Dorchester, Mass., came from Barbados and married Rachel Holmes. They removed to Hartford, Conn., and finally to New York. Reynold Alleyne was son of Col. Reynold Alleyne, of the Council at Barbados in 1630, who was the leader of the Puritan party on the island. Abel Alleyne, son of Col. Reynold, was the ancestor of the baronets of that name.]

Protest of Mr. Joseph Nash, master of the ship Tryall from Boston, 25 June 1669, shows that he left Boston 23 December last.

[Probably Joseph Nash of Boston and Weymouth.]

Note of Salomen Delen, dated Boston, 12 October 1669, on Mr. Joseph Senior at Bridgetown in favor of Mr. James Whetcomb.

[James Whetcomb was a Boston merchant.]

Note of Nicholas Paige of Boston, dated 29 October 1669, on Mr. Evan Morgan, merchant, in Barbados, in favor of James Whition [? Whiton].

Note of Mr. Peter Coffin, dated at Portsmouth on Pisquattacqua 8 December 1669, on his agent [name illegible] in Barbados.

Note of James Coates, dated Barbados, 28 February 1669 [1669/70], to Richard Jonson on Henry Grigy of London for goods received of Mr. Thomas Deane of New England.
A deed from Thomas Middleton to Joseph Horbin, dated 5 November 1673, mentions land of Robert Allerton in St. Michael’s.

"Newport on Road Island ye 18 November 1673." An order to Mr. Joseph Borden, Mr. Roger Goulding, Mr. Elisha Sanford, and Mr. Josiah Arnold in Barbados, signed by Sarah Reape, Benedict Arnold, Sr., Caleb Carr, Peleg Sanford, and Thomas Ward, to sell the ship Joanna and Sarah.

[Mr. Joseph Borden, son of Richard Borden who was one of the first settlers of Portsmouth, R.I., removed to Barbados and in 1680 was living at Bridgetown with his wife, two children, an apprentice, and 14 slaves. Elisha Sanford was the son of President John Sanford of Rhode Island, who came to that colony with Mrs. Hutchinson, having married her daughter. Josiah Arnold was a son of Gov. Benedict Arnold and resided at Jamestown, R.I. Sarah Reape was the widow of William Reape of Newport, R.I., a Quaker merchant, who was very active in the settlement of Shrewsbury, N. J. Benedict Arnold, Sr., was the distinguished Governor of Rhode Island. Caleb Carr was of Newport, R.I., where he was a rich merchant. He was governor in 1695. Peleg Sanford, son of President John and Bridget (Hutchinson) Sanford, was a Newport merchant. He was governor of Rhode Island from 1689 to 1693 and was judge of admiralty under King William. He married first Mary Brenton, by whom he had no issue; and secondly Mary Coddington. Thomas Ward, who was born in 1641 and died in 1689, the son of John Ward of Newport, R.I., was a rich merchant and general treasurer of the Colony. His son Richard became governor of Rhode Island in 1741.]

A certified copy of the will of Richard Russell of Charlestown, Mass., dated 29 March 1674, and a certificate of the death of Mrs. Mary Russell, 30 November 1688, aged about 80 years. Both documents were presented by James Russell of Charlestown.

[For this Russell family see Savage’s Gen. Dict. and Pope’s Pioneers of Mass.]

Indenture, dated 2 September 1636, between Thomas Rawdon of Hoddenden, Harefordshire, Esq., and Capt. William Mott of Barbados, gentleman, concerning certain lands near the Indian Bridge in St. Michael’s, belonging to Dame Elizabeth Rawdon, widow of Sir Marmaduke Rawdon.

An agreement, without date, between Capt. William Greenough of the pink Increase, “now riding in Carlisle Bay,” and Capt. John Pitt of St. Michael’s, merchant, to carry muscovado sugar to Portsmouth and the creeks and harbors on the Piscataqua and to return to Carlisle Bay.

FROM THE VISITATION BOOKS OF THE ARCHDEACON OF CANTERBURY

1603, 14 November, the churchwardens of St. Andrew's, Canterbury, present Robert Cushman, servant to George Maisters, for the like as the common fame goeth [i.e., "for that he doth say he will not come to his parish church, because he cannot be edified and saith he can and will defend it by the word of God"];]. When he appeared, 15 October 1604, in the Court of the Archdeacon, he was warned that he would have to acknowledge his offence in the parish church of St. Andrew, Canterbury, on some Sunday in the time of service, according to the schedule [not given], and then to certify the Court afterwards. Not doing this, he was excommunicated 12 November 1604. On 28 June 1605 he appeared and asked to be absolved, and on 7 July 1605 this request was granted. (Vol. for 1598-1608, part 2, fo. 31.)

TRANSLATION FROM THE DUTCH RECORDS AT LEYDEN¶

Robert Cushman, woolcomber, from Canterbury in England, widower of Sarah Cushman, dwelling in a little alley of the Nunsgate, accompanied by John Keble his friend, with Mary Shingelton from Sandwich in England, widow of Thomas Shingelton, accompanied by Catherine Carver her friend.
They were married before Andries Jasperson van Vesanevelt and Jacob Paedts, Sheriffs, this fifth of June, 1617.

is entered in the Leyden records, Echt Book B, fo. 64. The record is preceded by words which in the English translation read: "Entered on 19 May, 1617."
[From the foregoing data the following pedigree has been prepared regarding the Cushman family, the name being spelled in various ways, as Cushman, Couchman, Couchman, Cutchman, Crochman, and even Churchman:

1. ——— Crocheman of Cushman.
   Children:
   i. John, of Rolvenden, co. Kent, the testator of 1523/4, d. between 2 Mar. 1523/4 and 10 May following, leaving no issue.
   2. ii. Thomas.
      iii. Johane, mentioned in her brother’s will in 1523/4, when she was unmar.
      iv. Goddeley (probably), m. Symon Harkwood. In the will of John Crocheman, 1523/4, land was left to her, which was to descend to her son at her death.

2. Thomas Crocheman, executor of his brother John’s will, which he proved 10 May 1524, was probably father or grandfather of

3. Thomas Couchman of Rolvenden, husbandman, the testator of 1585/6, who was born about 1538 and was buried at Rolvenden 14 Feb.
   1585/6. He married there, 18 July 1568, Elinor Hubbard, whose ancestry has not been found. She married secondly, 17 Oct. 1587, Emanuell Everden of Rolvenden, the testator of 1589, who was buried at Rolvenden 3 Dec. 1589; and thirdly, 13 Nov. 1593, as his second wife, Thomas Tilden of Tenterden, yeoman.* the licence being dated 6 Nov. 1593. By his first wife Thomas Tilden was the father of Nathaniel Tilden of Tenterden and of Scituate, Mass.†
   If Thomas Tilden’s son Freegift was his son by his third wife, Alice ———, then his second wife must have died before 1604, but the record of her burial has not been found, nor is any will or administration on her estate known to exist. Thomas Couchman deposed in 1578 that he had lived at Rolvenden for twelve years and before that at Hawkhurst; but no Cusmans are found in the early Hawkhurst registers or in the lists of Hawkhurst testators.
   Children, baptized at Rolvenden:
   i. Alys, bapt. 20 Apr. 1572; bur. at Rolvenden 9 May 1574.
   ii. Sylvester (daughter), bapt. 30 Oct. 1574; m. at Rolvenden, 7 Nov.
      1593, Stephen Everenden of Tenterden, broadweaver.
   v. Henry, bapt. 26 July 1584; bur. at Rolvenden 11 Apr. 1585.

4. Robert Cutchman of Cushman, baptized at Rolvenden, co. Kent, 9 Feb. 1577/8, was, in all probability, identical with Robert Cushman, the agent of the Leyden Pilgrims in England. In 1603 we find him in Canterbury, co. Kent, as servant to George Masters.
   He was presented, 14 Nov. 1603, by the churchwardens of St. Andrew’s Parish, “for that he doth say he will not come to his parish church, because he cannot be edified and saith he can and will defend it by the word of God.” Not doing the penance imposed on him by the ecclesiastical court, he was excommunicated 12 Nov. 1604, but on 28 June 1605 he appeared before the court and asked for absolution, which was granted to him on 7 July 1605, when he was received again into the Church: In the same year, 1605, he became a freeman of Canterbury, the record of his admission describing him as Robert Couchman, “groover,” a freeman by apprenticeship to George Masters. He married first, in the parish of St. Alphege, Canterbury, 31 July 1606, Sara Reder, who dwelt in the precincts of the Cathedral and whose parentage has not been discovered. Their son Thomas was baptized in the parish of St. Andrew, Canterbury, 8 Feb. 1607/8, this date serving to identify him with Elder Thomas Cushman of the Plymouth Colony, who died 11 Dec. 1691, "near the end of the 84th year of his life."* No further record of this Cushman family, after the baptism of the son Thomas, is found at Canterbury. Probably soon after the date of baptism Robert Cushman with his family joined Rev. John Robinson's colony in Holland. When his wife Sarah died is unknown, but he married secondly, at Leyden, 5 June 1617, Mary (Clarke) Shingelton, widow of Thomas of Sandwich, co. Kent, shoemaker, the licence for her marriage to her first husband, which was to be celebrated at St. Mary Bredman's, Canterbury, being dated 28 Jan. 1610/11. Although Robert Cushman appears as a grocer at Canterbury, he is called a woolcomber in the record of his second marriage at Leyden; but this change of occupation is perhaps explained by the following passage in Bradford's History: "They [the Pilgrims] removed [from Amsterdam] to Leyden, a fair & bewtiful citie, and of a sweete situation, but made more famous by y* universitie wherewith it is adorned, in which of late had been so many learned men. But wanting that trafficke by sea which Amsterdam injoyes, it was not so beneficall for their outward means of living & estats. But being now hear pitchet they fell to such trades & employments as they best could; valewing peace & their spirituall conforte above any other riches whatsoeuer. And at length they came to raise a competente & confortable living, but with hard and continual labor."† Under these circumstances what was more natural than that Robert Cushman should turn to a branch of the clothmaking trade, the principal business of the Weald of Kent, where he was born and where he spent his early years? In the autumn of 1617, soon after his second marriage, he and John Carver were chosen by their companions to go to England and negotiate with the Council for Virginia about a patent within the grant of the Virginia Company. His connection with the transfer of a part of the Leyden congregation to Plymouth in New England is known from the writings of Bradford, and the story need not be repeated here. He and his son Thomas arrived at Plymouth in the Fortune in Nov. 1621; but he sailed for England in the same ship about a month later, on business for the Colony, leaving the boy Thomas in the care of Governor Bradford. Apparently his wife never came to New England. Probably she was dead when her husband and son embarked on the Fortune for their westward voyage. Robert Cushman himself was busily engaged in England in the affairs of the Colony down to his death, which took place probably in the summer of 1625. Bradford's History contains many letters from him, and a sermon preached by him at Plymouth on the day before he sailed for England, on "The Sin and Danger of Self-Love," was printed in London in 1622.

Child by first wife:

i. Thomas, bapt. at Canterbury 8 Feb. 1607/8; d. at Plymouth in New England 11 Dec. 1691; m. probably abt. 1636 Mary Allenston, dau. of Isaac, b. abt. 1610, d. abt. 1700, the last survivor of those who came in the Mayflower in 1620. Eight children.

HINCKLEY

FROM THE PARISH REGISTERS OF HAWKURST, CO. KENT, 1550-1635

Baptisms
1619 “March 19 Bapt Thomas sonne of Samuell Hinchley” [1619/20].
1622 Ann daughter of John Hincee 24 November.
1627 Jeremy son of John Hinclly 6 January [1627/8].
1629 Edwarde son of John Hinclly 24 January [1629/30].
1635 Thomas son of John Hinckley and Agnis his wife 11 October.

1617 “May Marryed the viijth day Samuell Hinckley and Sarah Soole.”

[Among the entries given above is the record of the marriage of Samuel Hinckley of Tenterden, co. Kent, and of Scituate and Barnstable in New England, which has hitherto escaped notice, although before the Hinckley records and pedigree were communicated to the Register in 1911 (vol. 65, pp. 287-290, 314-319), careful search was made for the place and date of this marriage and for the maiden name of Samuel Hinckley’s wife. The baptismal record of Thomas Hinckley, Governor of the Plymouth Colony, which has remained unrevealed thus far, is also printed here. Hawkhurst, co. Kent, the parish in which these records were found, lies ten miles west from Tenterden and fifteen miles southwest from Harriestham, and adjoins the border of Sussex. The John Hinckley whose children were baptized at Hawkhurst was probably the John who was born about 1591, a brother of Samuel, the settler in the Plymouth Colony. (Vide Register, vol. 65, p. 317.) For the Soole family and related families vide infra. — E.F.]

SOOLE-IDDENDEN-HOSMER-MERCER

The Will of John Soole of Cranbrook [co. Kent], 1 March 1508 [1508/9]. To be buried in the church of St. Dunstan’s of Cranbrook. To the high altar there 8d. To my daughters Alice and Agnes 20s. each. To my apprentice John Pilcher. To each of my godchildren. Residuary legate and executrix: wife Agnes. Witnesses: Henry Hovynden, John Hovynden, John Herynden, and others. [Translated from the Latin.] To Agnes my wife, for life, my messuage where I dwell, with reversion at her death to Herry, William, and William my sons, each to be the others’ heir, and if all die without issue, my messuage is to be sold and one half the money received is to be paid to the church of Cranbrook and one half to an honest priest to sing for the soul of my father and mother, me, my wife, and all my good friends. If my messuage fall in “the key” [i.e., decay] for lack of reparation, then my children, Harry, William, and William, are to enter into the messuage, paying to Agnes my wife 6s. 8d. a year. Proved 22 May 1509 by the executrix named. (Archdeaonry of Canterbury, vol. 11, fo. 1.)

[A fruitless search has been made among the Soole, Soule, and Sole wills and administrations of Kent for positive proof of the parentage of Thomas Soole, the father of Sarah (Soole) Hinckley. He was probably the son of the John Soole who married Marie Whitfield at Hawkhurst 21 Jan. 1565/6; but he was not baptized at Hawkhurst, unless the register, which up to 1598 is a copy of an earlier register made in that year, is defective. Perhaps the family lived in one of the neighboring Sussex parishes, or they may be descended from John Soole of Cranbrook, co. Kent, the testator of 1508/9. In Register, vol. 67, pp. 37 ff., records pertaining to the Edendens or Iddenden of co. Kent were printed, and on pp. 43–44 of that volume an account was given of John Iddenden of Cranbrook, tailor, and his wife and children. It was there stated that this John Iddenden married Christian Glover, because both he and his wife in their wills called Richard Glover "brother." From the records given above it appears that the maiden name of John Iddenden’s wife was Mercer, not Glover, and Richard Glover was probably the husband of her sister or of John Iddenden’s sister. Timothy Mercer, who was over-] seer of her will, was of Hawkhurst, and was probably her brother. She was married to John Iddenden at Hawkhurst, 26 Sept. 1569. In addition to the statements about their children, printed in Register, vol. 67, p. 44, the records given above show that their daughter Mary was married at Hawkhurst, 16 Oct. 1598, to Thomas Soole of Hawkhurst, and that Thomas and Mary (Iddenden) Soole had Sarah, who was baptized at Hawkhurst 8 June 1600 and was married there, 7 May 1617, to Samuel Hinckley; Mary, baptized 29 Jan. 1603/4; Thomas (probably), bapt. 12 May 1605; Anne, baptized 30 Apr. 1615; and possibly others, since there is a gap of almost ten years between the baptisms of the two last-mentioned children. No will of Thomas or of Mary (Iddenden) Soole has been found. Katherine, another daughter of John and Christian (Mercer) Iddenden, baptized at Cranbrook 23 Feb. 1577/8, is proved by the records given above to have been married at Hawkhurst, 13 July 1600, to Stephen Hosmer; and among their children was James Hosmer, who was baptized at Hawkhurst 8 Dec. 1605 and emigrated to New England in 1635. — E. [From the records given above, supplemented by New England records, the following brief Quilter pedigree has been constructed:

1. Mark Quilter of Stoke-by-Nayland and Nayland, co. Suffolk, married, 20 Sept. 1601, Jane Barnard. He was buried at Stoke-by-Nayland 31 May 1627, and his widow was buried there 2 June 1645. A search for his ancestry has been unsuccessful. The name is found principally at High Easter and at Good Easter, co. Essex.

   Children:

   2. i. Mark, bapt. at Stoke-by-Nayland 19 Dec. 1602.

* These Quilter entries in parish registers were found in the course of a search for another family, and other Quilter entries in these registers may, therefore, have been overlooked.
iii. Anna, bapt. at Nayland 16 July 1609.
iv. John, bapt. at Stoke-by-Nayland 8 Sept. 1611; bur. there 7 Dec. 1611.
v. Simon, bapt. at Stoke-by-Nayland 1 April 1613.
vii. John, bapt. at Stoke-by-Nayland 7 June 1618.

Children by first wife:
i. Mark, bapt. at Assington, Suffolk, 1 Mar. 1628/9; d. between 4 Nov. 1678, when he made his will, and 13 Feb. 1678/9, when Widow Quilter, Sr., and Widow Quilter are mentioned as having right of commanage in Ipswich; m. before 3 Nov. 1658 Frances Swan, dau. of Richard of Rowley, who may have m. (2) Davis, as "Widow Davis alias Quilter" d. 10 Aug. 1700. His daughter Dorothy was bur. at Ipswich 21 Jan. 1662/3.

ii. Mary,† m. at Ipswich, 6 Apr. 1660, Michael Cresie, who d. in Apr. 1670. She had been maidservant to Rev. Nathaniel Rogers, who mentions her in his will in 1655. Her children, John and Jonathan Cresie, heirs of their uncle Joseph Quilter, sold his estate 4 Apr. 1724.

iii. Sarah,† mentioned in her father's will.

iv. Rebekah,† d. unm. at Ipswich 10 Aug. 1723.

Child by second wife:
v. Corporal Joseph, d. at Ipswich in Feb. 1723, apparently a.p., as his sister Mary's sons were heirs to his estate. He was apprenticed to William Buckley, who in Mar. 1660/1 brought suit against his mother, Widow Thamar Quilter, who in her reply called Joseph her only son.

From the Parish Registers of Gilston, co. Herts

1661 Henry Belknapp and Elizabeth Dowsett married by licence 9 December.

[From the records given above and from other records preserved in New England the following genealogy has been prepared:

1. ——— Beltoft.

Children:

i. John, of Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, d. abt. 1546, evidently s.p.
In 26 Henry VIII (1534–5) he was seized of a house with a garden and two acres of arable land called “Currants” in Sawbridgeworth. He m. not later than 26 Henry VIII (1534–5) Margaret, whose maiden name was perhaps Payne or Mathew. She survived her husband and m. (2) abt. 1547 Thomas Westwood, who in 1550 was of “Maudlyn” (probably Magdalen Laver), co. Essex. She was dead in 1549/50, Thomas Westwood, her son by her second husband, being then abt. three years of age.

ii. Edmond, living abt. 1546.

2. Henry Beltoft (perhaps son of 1 and brother of the two preceding).

2. Henry Beltoft (perhaps son of 1 and brother of the John and Edmond mentioned above), of Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts (see Feet of Fines, Hilary term, 3 Elizabeth, 1560/1), was buried at Sawbridgeworth 5 July 1561. Elizabeth Beltoft, who was buried at Sawbridgeworth 14 Jan. 1560/1, may have been his wife.

The following were probably his children:

3. i. Richard.

ii. Alice (Beltoft alias Belknap), perhaps m. (1) at Sawbridgeworth, 14 Apr. 1562, William Stubbs; m. (perhaps 2) Sutton.

To each of these three sons the sum of 3s. 4d. was left by the will of their uncle, Richard Beltoft, in 1594 (vide supra, p. 91).

3. Richard Beltoft alias Belknap (probably son of Henry), of Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, husbandman, was buried at Sawbridgeworth 2 Dec. 1599. His will, dated 20 Aug. 1594, seems to show that he held his land as a copyholder of the Manor and that in 1594 he had only two children living, of whom Bennet was probably the elder. He married Elizabeth, who was buried at Sawbridgeworth 17 Jan. 1588/9.

Children:

4. i. Bennet.

ii. Alice, bapt. at Sawbridgeworth 16 Sept. 1561; d., probably s.p., not later than 1594; m. 5 Oct. 1578 Edward Lyndesell, perhaps s. of Peter and Joan of Sawbridgeworth (see Feet of Fines in Herts Genealogist and Antiquary, vol. 3, p. 322, although, if the reference here is to the Alice of this pedigree, she did not die until after 1600).

iii. Josias, of Sawbridgeworth, the testator of 1599/1600 (vide supra, p. 91), bapt. at Sawbridgeworth 6 Sept. 1562; d. betw. 28 Jan.
1599/1600 and 6 Feb. following, being evidently then a widower; m. probably —— Brown, his will mentioning several of his wife's relatives. No records of any children have been found.

4. BEnnet Beltoft alias Belknap (Richard, ? Henry), of Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, husbandman, the testator of 1623 (vide supra, p. 92), was buried at Sawbridgeworth 21 May 1624. He is mentioned in the will of his father Richard Beltoft (vide supra, pp. 90–91), being named as sole executor of that will, and in the will of his brother, Josias Belknap, 28 Jan. 1599/1600 (vide supra, pp. 91–92); and he proved the latter will as executor, 6 Feb. 1599/1600. In 1605/6 he was assessed 2s. 8d. on 20s., in the lay subsidy for Sawbridgeworth (Lay Subsidies, 121/302–3, James I, Public Record Office, London), and in 1610 as churchwarden he makes a letter "b" as his mark in the parish registers. He married at Sawbridgeworth, 25 May 1586, Grace Adam, who was buried at Sawbridgeworth 29 Oct. 1630, perhaps daughter of Peter and Elizabeth of Ware, this Peter being a "berebrewer," whose will was proved at Stortford, co. Herts, 12 Feb. 1571/2 (Herts Geneal. and Antiquary, vol. 1, p. 334).

Children, baptized at Sawbridgeworth:

5. i. Abraham, bapt. 10 Mar. 1589/90.
   ii. Frances, bapt. 3 Jan. 1590/1; m. at Sawbridgeworth, 19 Oct. 1624, Edward Doucet. She is mentioned in her father's will of 14 Apr. 1623.
   iii. John, bapt. 8 Apr. 1593; bur. at Sawbridgeworth 19 Oct. 1655; m. Elizabeth ———, who was bur. at Sawbridgeworth 7 Feb. 1678/9.

3. Elizabeth, bapt. 31 Mar. 1633.

5. Abraham Beltoft alias Belknap (Bennet, Richard, ? Henry), baptized at Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, 10 Mar. 1589/90, died at Lynn, Mass., early in Sept. 1643. The names of his parents are not given in the baptismal record; but his grandfather, Richard Beltoft, in his will of 20 Aug. 1594 (vide supra, pp. 90–91), bequeaths 10s. to "Abraham Beltoft sonne to Bennett Beltoft my Godchilde," and he is also mentioned in his father's will of 14 Apr. 1623 (vide supra, p. 92). He married, about 1620 or earlier, Mary ———, who survived him and presented the inventory of his estate, which was taken 16 Feb. 1643/4. The record of this marriage has not been found, and the surname of his wife is unknown. His residence in England is also unknown, the only indication of it being the record, in the parish registers of Netteswell, co. Essex, of the burial, 6 Dec. 1620, of "Abra Bel. . . . f s. Abra et Mara," which seems to refer to an infant son of Abraham and Mary.

With his wife Mary and his children, Abraham Belknap emigrated to New England (in what ship is unknown), probably about 1635. In 1638 he received a grant of 40 acres of land at Lynn, Mass., his name appearing in the papers in the case of William Longley v. Henry Collings and John Hathorne, in behalf of the town of Lyn, 26 Mar. 1661, among those who shared in the apportionment of land in 1638. (Records and Files of the Quarterly Courts of Essex County, vol. 2, p. 270.) Among his neighbors at Lynn were Edmund Farrington, one of the creditors of his estate, who was from Olney, co. Bucks, and came to New England in the Hopewell, 1 Apr. 1635, and Francis Ingalls, whose daughter married Joseph Belknap, Abraham's son. The following record is found in Suffolk Deeds, Lib. 1, fo. 42:

Adam Otley & Thomas Dexter of Linne granted vnto Richard Russell of Charlstowne thirty Sheepe & Lambs in the hands of goodman Belknap & James Axy of Linne wth 15dr bill due fro Adam Hawks, & three thousand of Clapbord bolts lying at my Ladie Moodies Beach in Linne to Richard Russell his heires executors administrators & Assignes, the aboue said some of fourescore & three pounds to be pd wthin 4 months after the date thereof & this was by a deed dated the 7th of April 1643.

2 Hands & scales.

Acknowledged the 29th of ye 5th month 1643 before Increase Nowell secret'.

The will of Abraham Belknap, which was sworn to 20 Feb. 1643/4, is unfortunately missing; but the inventory of his estate, beginning "The inventorie of Abraham Bellnap's estate have deseisted the beginge of the 7th. mo. 1643 and now taken bie William Tillton & Edward Tomlins this 16. 12 mo. 1643," has been preserved, and a summary of it has been printed in Records and Files of the Quarterly Courts of Essex County, vol. 1, p. 60, note. His estate consisted of a house and 5 acres of land, 2 acres of planting land, 2 acres of salt marsh, 6 acres of salt marsh at Fox Hill, and 30 acres "at the village." He also had a number of "shepe," "coves," "gotes," and "piges," and the usual amount of household implements and furniture. There is a list of debts amounting to £5. 13s. 3d., the creditors being Joseph Armitage, Francis Ingalls, goodman Philips, Richard Routon, Thomas Laughton, Ed. Farington, Gerard Spencer, Mr. Hinge, and John Person. The net amount of the inventory was £47. 17s., and the mark of Mary his wife appears on the document. The Essex Antiquarian, vol. 2, p. 183, states that this inventory contains the first mention in Essex County of pot-hooks and hangers, brass pot and frying pans, spit and dripping pans.

Children *:

i. ABRAHAM (probably), bur. at Netteswell, co. Essex, 6 Dec. 1620.
ii. ABRAHAM, mentioned in the will of his grandfather, Bennet Beltoft, 14 Apr. 1623 (vide supra, p. 92); probably d. young, although he may have come to New England with his parents.
iii. SAMUEL, said to have been b. 1627/8 (but proof of this statement seems lacking); living 1731; m. bef. 1653 SARAH JONES, dau. of

* There is no authority for including among the children of Abraham Belknap the immigrant, as some writers have done, a son Jeremiah or Jeremy and a daughter Mary.
Robert and Elizabeth of Hingham. He may have been the Samuel Belknap who owned land at Easthampton, I.L., 5 July 1653 (Records of Easthampton, vol. 2, pp. 159, 161); but if he went to Easthampton he evidently did not remain there, as he had a house in Salem in 1661, his land lying between the present Essex St., near the corner of Beckford St., and the North River.* On 20 Feb. 1665 [1665/6] Samuel Belknap of Salem, joyner, with the consent of Sara his wife, in consideration of £3 conveys to Edward Gaskyn of Salem, ship carpenter, land containing 10 Poles, 2 Poles broad next streets, to run backward north 5 Pole & south 5 Pole & in breadth 2 Pole in ye Towne of Salem, bounded with the streete, land of Philip Cromwell to ye east & the land of me ye sd. Samuel Belknap to ye north & west. (Essex Deeds, vol. 2, p. 117.) In 1671 Samuel Belknap of Malden, joyner, and Joseph Belnap of Boston, glover, convey to Thomas Laughton, Sr., of Lynn their thirds in a "parcell of land . . . part of an house lott formerly Abraham Rednap's [sic] house lott, father to sd. Samuel and Joseph Rednap," and to this deed Benjamin Rednap and Peter Brackett are witnesses. The clerk evidently wrote Rednap in two places instead of Belknap, the mistake being due probably to the appearance of the name of Benjamin Rednap among the witnesses. The Rednaps were neighbors of Abraham Belknap and came from London; and while there was a Joseph Rednap, son of the immigrant of that name, he is not to be confounded with Joseph Belknap, although some of his appearances before the Court for denying the lawfulness of infant baptism have been laid at the door of Joseph Belknap. Joseph Rednap married Sarah, dau. of Thomas Laughton. Samuel Belknap's next and apparently last move was to Haverhill, Mass., where he took the oath of allegiance 28 Nov. 1677, and in 1696 he conveyed land there to his son Ebenezer and Abra- ham, one of the deeds being acknowledged by him as late as 31 Aug. 1731. Seven children recorded, of whom the eldest, Mary, was b. 1653, and a son, Abraham, who was b. abt. 1660, was ancestor of many of the name in Framingham, Mass.

iv. Joseph, said to have been born 1630 (but proof of this statement seems lacking); d. 14 Nov. 1712; bur. in King's Chapel, Boston; m. (1) bef. 1657/8 Ruth Williams, b. 1638, dau. of Nathaniel and Mary of Boston; m. (2) bef. 1668 Lydia Ingalls, dau. of Francis and Mary of Lynn; m. (3) bef. 1670 Hannah Meakin, dau. of Thomas and Sarah of Hatfield, whom he survived. He was executor of the will of Richard Woodman of Lynn in 1647, was in Boston as early as 1658, when he was a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co., and was made a freeman in 1665. Three years later he was one of the founders of the Old South Church, and in that same year was dismissed to Hatfield. He bought land in Haverhill in 1682, but it does not appear that he ever lived there. His will is dated 29 Nov. 1710 and was proved 5 Dec. 1712. At the time of his death he was a resident of Boston. Twelve and possibly fifteen children, of whom four were by his first wife, one was by his second wife, and seven at least were by his third wife.

v. John (perhaps a son of Abraham the immigrant), d. probably s.p.

The only record of him is found in his deposition, sworn before Rob.

* This house is mentioned in the Salem Commoners' Records, 1713-1739: "Att a meeting of the Committee att the Ship Tavern In Salem the first Monday In December being the 7th. Day 1713 for to Receiue Claims to ye Co'non Lands in Salem" there were present of the Committee Capt. Samuell Gardner, Capt. Thomas Flint, Capt. Walter Price, Capt. Jonathan Putnam, Capt. Peeter Osgood, Col. Samuel Browne, Esq., William Hirst, Esq., Josiah Woolcott, Esq., and Maj. Stephen Sewall, Esq., and it was "Agreed and Ordered that the Claims be Receiued of the Proprietors to the Comon Lands in the Towne of Salem And Entered In Two Distinct Coluums one Colum for the Collegetts that was Erected before the year 1661 and the other Colum for those Priviledged by the Town Vote In 1702." John Simpson presented a claim for Belknaps house, which is mentioned also in "A list of the owners of houses built which fall under the law made 1660 which prohibits them from privilege in Comon lands," dated 1669.

vi. Hannah, d. 21 Nov. 1679; m. 6 Dec. 1663 Christopher Osgood, b. 1643, s. of Christopher and Margery (Fowler) of Ipswich, who m. three times after Hannah's death. Six children.

6. Daniel Beltoft alias Belknapp (Bennet, Richard, ? Henry), baptized at Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, 2 Nov. 1595, was buried at Nettewell, co. Essex, 19 Oct. 1658. He is mentioned in his father's will of 14 Apr. 1623 (vide supra, p. 92), and in 1636/7, as Daniell Bellknapp of Nettewell, was assessed 5s. 6d. for ship money. (State Papers, Domestic, Charles I, vol. 358, in Public Record Office, London.) He married Barbara ———, whom he survived.

Children:

i. Daniel, bapt. at Sawbridgeworth 5 Oct. 1634; bur. there 5 June 1663.

ii. Henry, of Sawbridgeworth, yeoman, bapt. at Nettewell 14 May 1637; bur. at Sawbridgeworth 13 Apr. 1686; m. (1) at Gilston, co. Herts, 9 Dec. 1661, Elizabeth Dowsett, probably a widow (with a son Edward), who was bur. at Sawbridgeworth 30 Dec. 1664 [sic, 1665]; m. (2) at Sawbridgeworth, 19 June 1666, Mary Perry, who survived him and was bur. at Sawbridgeworth 18 Nov. 1687. His will is dated 10 Apr. 1686 and was proved 19 Oct. 1686. (Vide supra, p. 191.) Children by first wife: 1. A Child, d. soon after birth and bur. at Sawbridgeworth 6 Apr. 1663. 2. Henry, bapt. at Sawbridgeworth 7 May 1664; bur. there 9 Apr. 1686. 3. Elizabeth, bapt. at Sawbridgeworth 30 Dec. 1665. Children by second wife, bapt. at Sawbridgeworth: 4. James, bapt. 28 Sept. 1667; perhaps the person who was bur. at Sawbridgeworth 20 Nov. 1687. He is mentioned in his father’s will. A child of a James Belknap was bur. at Sawbridgeworth 10 Apr. 1695. 5. Daniel, bapt. 17 Mar. 1668/9; bur. at Sawbridgeworth 20 Feb. 1688/9. 6. Mary, bapt. 1 Apr. 1670; probably d. bef. 11 Oct. 1681. 7. Samuel, bapt. 22 July 1673. 8. Benett, bapt. 2 Feb. 1674/5. 9. Abraham, bapt. 24 Jan. 1679/80. 10. Mary, bapt. 11 Oct. 1681; bur. at Sawbridgeworth 13 Aug. 1704.

iii. Samuel, bapt. at Nettewell 3 Feb. 1639/40; marriage licence for his marriage with Elizabeth Nicholls issued 18 Feb. 1666/7.

iv. Barbara, bapt. at Nettewell 9 Nov. 1642.

7. Josias Beltoft alias Belknapp (Bennet, Richard, ? Henry), baptized at Sawbridgeworth, co. Herts, 12 Aug. 1599, was buried there 3 Apr. 1674. He took part as one of the executors in proving his father's will, 15 June 1624. He married at Sawbridgeworth, 2 May 1631, Anne Milles, who was executrix of his will and was buried at Sawbridgeworth 31 Oct. 1683. His will is dated 29 Mar. 1674 and was proved 12 June 1674.

Children, baptized at Sawbridgeworth:

i. Josias, bapt. 4 Aug. 1632; bur. at Sawbridgeworth 13 July 1658.

ii. Mary, bapt. 4 May 1634; probably d. bef. 29 Mar. 1674, as she is not mentioned in her father's will. Either she or her sister Grace probably married Thomas Browne, who is called son-in-law in her father's will.

iii. Daniel, bapt. 17 Jan. 1635/6; bur. at Sawbridgeworth, as "Daniel Belknapp of Spelbrooke," 2 Sept. 1680; m. Mary ———, who as executrix proved his will 10 Dec., 1680. She may have been the Mary Belknap, widow, who was bur. at Sawbridgeworth 18 Nov. 1687 (but vide supra, 6, ii). No record of children.

iv. John, bapt. 28 Jan. 1637/8; a beneficiary in the will of his brother Daniel, dated 23 Aug. 1680.

vi. Grace, bapt. 12 Feb. 1641/2; probably d. bef. 29 Mar. 1674, as she is not mentioned in her father's will. Either she or her sister Mary probably married Thomas Browne, who is called son-in-law in her father's will.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

By John Albee, Recording Secretary

Boston, Massachusetts, 3 December 1913. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 p.m., President Baxter presiding.
The minutes of the November meeting were approved, and the reports of the Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, Historian, and Council were accepted.
The report of the Nominating Committee was accepted.
The President appointed as auditors Henry Fuller Tapley and William Streeter Richardson.
Six corresponding members and twelve resident members were elected by ballot.
The paper of the afternoon was by Melville C. Freeman of the Roxbury High School, and was entituled Washington, the Father of the Nation. Mr. Freeman spoke of the results of the study of Washington and of his remarkable traits, his self-forgetfulness, the unusual combination of humility and confidence, the marvellous power of his personality, his well-developed sense of humor, his calmness under the virulent attacks of political enemies, and of the significance and practical application of his test question, “Is this right?”
After remarks by President Baxter and Mr. James H. Stark the meeting adjourned, and coffee was served by ladies in Martha Washington costume.

7 January 1914. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 p.m., President Baxter presiding.
The minutes of the December meeting were approved, and the reports of the Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, and Council were accepted.
By request the report of the Nominating Committee, accepted at the December meeting, was read.
Fifteen resident members were elected by ballot.
Rev. Daniel Goodwin, D.D., of East Greenwich, R. I., read a paper on Early Plantation Life in Narragansett, in which he told of the life as it was in pre-Revolutionary times on the western shore of Narragansett Bay, where estates of thousands of acres in extent were owned by individual proprietors and were cultivated largely by slave labor. The social and economic results of these conditions were described, and many interesting incidents were related.

After adjournment coffee and wigs were served.

4 February. The annual meeting to the Society was held this day, for a report of which see the Supplement to the present number of the Register.

4 March. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2:30 P.M. In the absence of President Baxter, John Carroll Chase, Vice-President for New Hampshire, presided.

The minutes of the January and February meetings were approved, and the reports of the Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, Historian, and Council were accepted.

Eight resident members were elected by ballot.

Mrs. Augusta R. Brigham of Malden read a paper entitled The Massacre at Lancaster and the Story of Mrs. Rowlandson, which was a recital of the terrible experiences in the Indian assault at Lancaster in 1676, especially those of the Rowlandson family, an account of which, several times reprinted, Mrs. Rowlandson "wrote by her own hand."

Rev. William Copley Winslow, D.D., after stating his appreciation of the paper and of the winning and sympathetic manner in which the story was told by the speaker, moved an expression of thanks to Mrs. Brigham, and it was so voted.

NOTES

It having come to the attention of this Society that certain genealogists and publishers have used the name of the Society in connection with their own enterprises, the Society again desires to state that it has NO genealogical representatives in this country or in England, nor is it in any way connected with any publications other than those that it issues over its own name at 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

The Committee on English Research desires to state, however, that although the Society has no official representative in England the Committee is employing Miss French for a part of her time as a searcher of records there along special lines for the benefit of the Register.

ROBERT CROSS, Sr., OF IPSWICH, MASS. — In the office of the clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court in Boston, in a volume of Births, Marriages, and Deaths, fo. 85, is preserved the original manuscript of a deposition by Robert Cross, Sr., of Ipswich, Mass., made 5 Dec. 1693, which was probably at one time included among the papers in the suit of Robert Cross, Sr., v. John Burnham, Jr., for the recovery of 30 acres of land in Ipswich. This case was tried in the Inferior Court at Ipswich in June 1693 and in May 1694, and the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff. The defendant appealed to the higher court at Boston, and in Apr. 1695 the verdict in the lower court in favor of the plaintiff was upheld. Of the main question involved in the case, which is numbered 3138, nothing need be said; but in the forty odd folios of manuscript several items of interest may be found which add to our information about the pioneers of Ipswich and the metes and bounds of town grants on the east and south side of the Chebacco River, within the limits of the present town of Essex.

The statement of Robert Cross, Sr., is as follows:

Robert Cross Sen[1] appeared & produced a Catalogue an account of ye birth of his Children to which he gave oth, that it was Entered in ye Days of ye birth of them.

In which is Thus Written

Robert & Anna Cross was married ye 20th August in ye year 1635.

Elizabeth Cross was born ye 4 of August 1636 it being the 5th day of the week.
Mary Cross was born ye 14 of June it being ye 4th day of ye week in ye y 1640.

Martha Cross was born ye 15th day of March. It being ye second day of ye week in ye year 1643.

From this statement the date of the marriage of Robert Cross, Sr., is learned though not the maiden name of his wife. Of the daughters named above, Elizaboth married William Nelson, Martha married William Dirke, and Mary married Ephraim Herrick of Salem. In the papers concerning this case are depositions by the daughters Elizabeth and Martha, and also by the sons of Robert Cross, viz., Robert, aged 52 years in 1695, and Stephen, aged 48 years in 1695. Robert Cross, Sr., was aged 70 years in 1682. Among others who made depositions were Lieut. John Andrews, aged 72 years in 1693, who styles Robert Cross, Sr., "my brother," and Walter Fairchild, aged 62 years, who deposes concerning Mary Herrick, the daughter of Robert Cross, Sr. Robert Cross, Sr. declares: "I am the ancientest man and first Proprietor that ever lived on the South side of Chebacco river." To his declaration is attached his autograph. In 1695 he would have been 83 years old. Just why his deposition does not include the birth dates of the sons Robert and Stephen and others who are strongly thought to be his children is not clear, but might perhaps be revealed by a more thorough investigation among the court records of Salem and Boston.

This case furnishes to the historians of Ipswich and Essex interesting material for study concerning the immigrant ancestor of the Cross family.

Somerville, Mass.

PARKER-MAVERICK. — Rev. James Parker was of Dorchester, Mass., perhaps as early as 1630. He was freeman in 1634, removed to Weymouth, Mass., and from there was a deputy to the General Court, 1639-1642. Winthrop says: "Those of the lower part of the river Piscataquaek invited one Mr. James Parker of Weymouth, a godly man and a scholar, one who had been many years a deputy for the public court, to be their minister." (Winthrop's New England, vol. 2, p. 93.) In a list headed "Gifts bestowed on the Colony since 1634," Winthrop names "Mr. Parker, of Weymouth, his brother, £300, £50 to Mr. Parker and Mr. Stone their disposing." (Ib., vol. 2, p. 312.)

From Portsmouth James Parker removed to Barbados, whence he wrote a letter to Gov. Winthrop under date of 24-4th 1646: "We got well to this island of Barbados through grace. I am here engaged to preach only for the present. I have yet sent for my wife to me, in the midst of these great distractions. Whether I shall return for New England I know not. Only this, I think I shall." (Hutchinson Papers, vol. 1, p. 175.) A letter from Richard Vines, dated Barbados, 16 July 1647, reads: "Mr. Parker with his wife and family are well seated in a good plantation of 20 acres, besides a good stipend and many good gifts, well approved of in his function, opposed by none, unless by antagonists and such like." (Ib., vol. 1, p. 222.)

Savage states that James Parker died in 1666, while on a visit to Boston. This is an error. He died at Barbados in 1652, and his will was proved by his widow Mary, who was a daughter of Rev. John Maverick of Dorchester. An abstract of this will follows:

The Will of James Parker, Clarke, 21 August 1643. To my son John Parker £5, and after my debts are paid the remainder of my estate is to be divided into three equal shares, one third to my wife Mary Parker, the other two thirds to my children Azricam, James, Thomas, Fearnot, and Mary Parker. My wife is to sell all my property, and she and my children are to go to New England and there to fulfill my will as abovesaid. My wife Mary Parker, sole executor. Mr. Richard Gregory and Mr. Richard Vines, executors in Barbados, and my Bros. Mr. Elias Maverick and Mr. Moses Maverick, executors in New England. Witness: Wm Gregory, aged 46 years. Entered 26 August 1652. (Barbados Probate Records.)

The James Parker who died in Boston in 1666 was a son of Rev. James Parker. Administration on his estate was granted 13 Dec. 1666 to Mr. Moses Maverick, "his uncle." (Suffolk Probate Files, 419.) There were several depositions made in connection with the settlement of his estate. John Dempster of Barbados deceased "that he very well knew James Parker late of this Island of Barbados, brother of Fearnot Parnell, who same time before his ye sd James Parkers last going of this Island & being then bound of for New England did say that he was very much beholding to his brother Parnell & his wife who had done for him in kindness more like a father & mother than a brother in law & sister. And did therefore say that in regard of their great civilities to him that when he dyed they his brother & sister father should have all he had in ye world." (Ib.; also Barbados Probate Records.) Deposits to the same effect were made by Edward Lillie of Boston, at whose house James Parker died, and Nathaniel Grafton, who married Elizabeth, daughter of Moses Maverick, and died at Barbados in 1670.

Administration on the estate of Mr. James Parker was granted at Barbados 8 Feb. 1666 [1666/7] to "Capt. John Parnell who married his sister." John Parnell and Fearnot Parker were married in the parish of St. John, 19 Mar.
1660 [1660/1].

Azrieam Parker, "formerly of New England, now of Barbados," was in 1663 master of the "Ketch Kindred," of which James Parker, Christopher Codding-ton, Ferdinando Gorges, and others, all of Barbados, were owners. (Suffolk Court Files, 406, 612.)

HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE

RECORDS OF WOODSTOCK, CONN. — Wade Keyes, Esq., of Boston, writes to the editor that in the office of the town clerk of Chester, Vt., there is preserved what appears to be an original proprietors' record of the town of New Roxbury (now Woodstock), Conn. This record now serves as a binder for the original proprietors' record of Chester, and consists of a flexible front cover followed by seven leaves of records and a flexible back cover preceded by six leaves of records. Lots numbered from 1 to 49, inclusive, were assigned on 28 Aug. 1686 to persons whose names are given. There were Chandlers among the early proprietors of Woodstock, and there were Chandlers among the early proprietors of Chester, and these facts may perhaps account for the appearance of the Connecticut record in Vermont. Chester was formerly called New Flamstead, and the earliest meetings of its proprietors were held at Worcester, Mass., in 1762.

EARLY BOHEMIAN SETTLERS IN AMERICA. — Thomas Capek, Esq., of First Avenue and 74th Street, New York City, is preparing a history of the early Bohemian immigration to America, and will be glad to hear from those who have information to impart on that subject.

GEPANEOLOGIES IN PREPARATION. — Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates.
of birth, marriage, residence, and death. All names should be given in full if possible. No initials should be used when the full name is known.

RECENT BOOKS

[The editor particularly requests persons sending books for listing in the REGISTER to state, for the information of readers, the price of each book, with the amount to be added for postage when sent by mail, and from whom it may be ordered. For the January issue, books should be received by Nov. 1; for April, by Feb. 1; for July, by May 1; and for October, by July 1.]

MISCELLANEOUS

DON GLEASON HILL, M.A., LL.B.

By JULIUS HERBERT TUTTLE, Esq., of Dedham, Mass.

Don Gleason Hill, the second son of George and Sylvia (Grout) Hill, was born at West Medway, Mass., 12 July 1847, and died at Dedham, Mass., 20 February 1914. He traced his ancestry to Samuel Hill of colonial times; to Matthew Cushing of Hingham, 1638; to Thomas Angell, one of the earliest settlers of Providence, with Roger Williams; to Thomas Olney of Salem, 1635, who also joined Williams in the purchase of lands at Providence and in founding there a Baptist church; to John Grout, "chirurgeon," of Watertown, 1641; to Edward Dix of Watertown, 1630, and to John Barnard of the same plantation; to John Boynton of Rowley; to Richard Swan, who joined the Boston church in 1639; to Joseph Jewett of Dorchester, 1639; to John Putnam of Salem, 1640; to Edward Elmer of Cambridge, 1632; to Hugh Caulkins of Gloucester, 1640; and to James Hamblen of Barnstable.

Mr. Hill's early education was obtained in the common schools of his native town, Medway. His strong desire to make the most of his future opportunities came while he was a faithful assistant to his father in the carpenter's trade; and by dint of hard work he earned enough to continue his education in higher institutions. His early training was in a home whose religious atmosphere helped to shape his career. He fitted for college at Wesleyan Academy, Wilbraham, Mass., and in 1865 entered Amherst College, in the class which numbers among its distinguished men Hon. Charles Herbert Allen, member of Congress from his district in the Forty-Ninth and Fiftieth Congresses, the late Rev. Dr. Elijah Winchester Donald, Rector of Trinity Church, Boston; Rev. Joseph Bartlett Seabury, late his minister, of Dedham, and Rev. Dr. Henry Preserved Smith, Biblical scholar. At the end of his second year in college he secured a school at Barre, Vt., where he taught for a year. He then entered the Law School of the University of Albany, N. Y., where he was graduated in May 1870 with the degree of Bachelor of Laws. In 1894 Amherst College conferred on him the honorary degree of Master of Arts.

Soon after his admission to the bar of the State of New York in 1870, he returned to Medway and became a student in the office of Charles H. Deans. Following Mr. Deans's advice, he came to Dedham, and in June 1871 entered as a student the office of Waldo Colburn. On 25 September 1871 he was admitted to the bar of Norfolk County. When Mr. Colburn was appointed a justice of the Superior Court in June 1875, Mr. Hill took up a large part of his practice. He early gave special attention to probate law and conveyancing, and found in these branches of the law his life work, becoming a leading authority in such matters. With the exception of a few years following October 1875, when another student of Judge Colburn's, Mr. Charles A. Mackintosh, became his partner, Mr. Hill practised his profession alone.

While his vocation was his absorbing interest, he found time for other efforts in the service, directly or indirectly, of the town of Dedham. He was town clerk, with the exception of a few weeks, from March 1880 to March 1912, when he retired on account of ill health. In this position he held during the whole term the confidence and esteem of his townspeople; and his interest in the details of the work was great. He urged extreme care in the recording of names and dates in the vital records, and called on local registrars to cooperate with the secretary of state in this important matter. He was one of the pioneers in the printing of the town records; and in his report issued in February 1885 he urged the town of Dedham to print, because its records "contain so much that is of priceless value, only one copy exists, and once lost can never be restored." The town carried out his recommendation each year until the work which he had planned was accomplished. Eight volumes were published in this way, five of vital records, from 1635 to 1890, and three of town records, from 1636 to 1706.

Mr. Hill was a selectman from 1882 to 1886, and from 1888 to 1891. In 1884, under a new law passed that year, the town clerk became ex officio a member of the Board of Registrars of Voters, with two other members appointed by the Selectmen. He remained in this position for several years. He was elected a member of the school committee in March 1899, and his death occurred just before his fifteenth year of service was completed. In 1888 he was a candidate for the position of county commissioner of Norfolk County, and came within twelve votes of election. His service to the town was remarkable, for he filled in long periods all of the principal offices in its gift, so that his experience and advice were valuable assets to the town.

With some of the business interests also of Dedham, Mr. Hill was closely connected. The Dedham Institution for Savings owed much to his legal services for nearly forty years. In 1875 he succeeded Judge Waldo Colburn as its attorney, since 1883 he served as one of its trustees, and for many years, until his death, he was on its important Committee of Investment. He served as attorney for other banks also. At the time of his death he was the senior director of the Dedham Mutual Fire Insurance Company, a position to which he had been first chosen in 1886, and during this period he served for many years as its auditor.

In September 1880 Mr. Hill was elected a member of the Dedham Historical Society, and all its interests were most congenial to him. He entered its service with enthusiasm, and with a devotion which made him the motive power of its later success. The Society since its beginning in 1859 had gone on in the quiet tenor of its way, and continued to hold meetings in the rooms of the county commissioners in the court house until 1887. Meantime, in 1886, Mr. Hill announced to the Society "the munificent gifts of Hannah Shuttleworth" of her homestead, with the sum of ten thousand dollars, to be used in the erection of a building for the Society on its site. Mr. Hill was instrumental in bringing about this happy result and also in raising an additional sum of fifteen hundred dollars by subscription, which enabled the society to erect its fire-proof building, completed in December 1887. The new building was opened with a notable exhibition of historical relics on 25 January 1888; and at the annual meeting in March following Mr. Hill was elected president. For six years previously he had held the positions of historiographer, chronicler, and curator of the Society.

The Society's collection of volumes, then inherited from the day of small things, became the nucleus of a steadily growing library, which in a few years, owing to Mr. Hill's personal efforts, proved of great value for reference as well as large in numbers. He spent hours from day to day, outside of his pressing business, in following up the necessary details in this labor of love. The Society has spread upon its records a grateful recognition of what he did in securing its building, the library, and the collection of interesting relics, and in keeping the standard of its work up to the highest usefulness. During the fourteen years of The Dedham Historical Register, from 1890 to 1903, he gave the editor, in his personal undertaking, most encouraging and loyal support. The quarterly was published under the auspices of the Society, and Mr. Hill occasionally contributed to it articles of value.

Mr. Hill took the initiative in preparing for and suggesting to the town the important steps to be taken in the celebration of the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of its incorporation. In connection with this event of 1886 he was one of the Committee on Historic Tablets and Monuments, and did efficient service, not only in erecting memorials to mark places and objects of historic interest but in doing his part in making the full and exhaustive report of the Committee which is printed in the "Proceedings at the Celebration." The knowledge which Mr. Hill had gained as a student of the history of the town and of the church and from his professional work was of invaluable service on that occasion, and on the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the church.

The townspeople of Dedham will ever hold his name in grateful remembrance for his interest in the other bequests of Miss Hannah Shuttleworth — ten thousand dollars to the Dedham Public Library, which made available for a library building another legacy of an equal amount, and the residue of her estate, amounting to thirty thousand dollars, to the town of Dedham, the income to be used to furnish pecuniary aid and employment to the worthy poor of the town. Mr. Hill was made chairman of the first committee of the town to take charge of this fund, in 1888, and continued in the position until his death. The bequest to the Public Library enabled the trustees to build a substantial and beautiful stone building. Mr. Hill was chosen a trustee in March 1887, and held the position until March 1906, serving as clerk during a part of this time.

Mr. Hill's time and thought were largely given to matters of local interest, and this fact, combined with a natural shrinking from publicity, prevented him from giving to many of the societies outside which sought his membership the benefit of his legal and historical knowledge. But he took, however, an active part as a member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, to which he was admitted in 1881; he was a member of its Council from 1 June 1892 to 1896, of its Committee on Memorials for the years 1900–1902, and of its Committee on Publications for the years 1900–1910; and he was deeply interested in its objects and welfare. He was also a member of the American Historical Association, the American Antiquarian Society, and the Massachusetts Historical Society, and highly prized his membership in each of these societies.

The pressure of his busy professional life also prevented him from devoting much time to finished literary work. Besides his occasional addresses to the Dedham Historical Society he gave the address on 17 June 1898, at the unveiling of the bronze tablet, placed on a boulder erected on the Church Green by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to commemorate the establishment by the inhabitants of Dedham in town meeting assembled, on 1 January 1644/5, of a free public school to be maintained by general taxation. He also prepared for The National Magazine of June 1892 a valuable illustrated article on "The Record of a New England Town from the Passage of the Stamp Act to the Declaration of Independence, 1766–1776."

Mr. Hill's recreation from the stress of his active life was his great interest in books, both as a reader and as a collector. His library of several thousand volumes comprised works relating to the Bible and religion, the drama, American History, travel, and art, and was rich in books for children's reading, in poetry — especially of the earlier English poets, and in books of reference. Saturdays found him in the bookshops of Boston on his interesting search for books, and the fascination of the quest was all-absorbing to him. During his last protracted illness, when he was incapacitated from doing any physical labor, he busied himself, quietly and with the assistance of members of his family, in making an illustrated catalogue of his library, in four volumes; and this work was his chief pleasure.

His life in Dedham was inseparably connected with the Orthodox Congregational Church, of which he was long a member, and a deacon from 1898 to 1912. He was closely connected with its interests and devoted to its welfare, giving much of his valuable time in its service.

Mr. Hill married, 26 December 1876, Carrie Louisa Luce, daughter of David Wing and Caroline Elizabeth Luce of Dedham. He is survived by his widow and six children, Carrie Frances, Helen Florence, Don Gleason, Jr., Maria Louise, Alice Laura, and George. Mr. Hill's brother, William Francis, and his son, Don Gleason, Jr., occupy his office and continue his practice.
BAPTISMS IN THE FIRST CHURCH

Communicated by Edgar Yates, A.B., of Boston, Mass.

The church records of baptisms of the First Church at Dorchester, Mass., from 1730 to 1814 have long been missing. This period includes the pastorate of Rev. Jonathan Bowman (1729-1773) and Rev. Moses Everett (1774-1793) and the first half of the pastorate of Rev. Thaddeus Mason Harris (1793-1836). When Mr. Bowman's pastorate came to an end, he retained the church records which were in his possession, although the Church demanded them of him. The book containing the record of deaths during his ministry was recovered, but the other records were never given back to the Church—"a serious loss to the town," says the History of Dorchester (p. 330). The book containing the record of baptisms from 1774 to 1814 was mislaid by Dr. Harris in later years, according to parish tradition.

In the old Ebenezer Clapp house in Dorchester, recently, Mr. Edward Albert Huebener, an enthusiastic local antiquary, discovered under the attic eaves, behind a plastered wall, a small wooden trunk. In this little trunk were manuscript books and papers of evident age. One of them was a home-made book, 6 by 7½ inches, with these words written on the cover: "Record of Baptisms / from / 1748 to 1792."

This book of 110 pages appears to be a private record of Dorchester First Church baptisms, begun by Samuel Withington, Jr. (Samuel, John, Richard), and kept by him or some member of his family. The penmanship is so excellent as to leave no question as to the spelling of each name. The pages used are ruled vertically into four columns. The pages are not numbered, but in the printed copy the pages of the original are indicated by numerals enclosed in brackets. The book apparently had at one time a wall-paper cover, but only the right-hand half of this now remains, and a dark brown paper cover has been added.

The period covered by this private record is, in years, more than half of that for which the church records are missing.

BURIAL RECORDS AND INSCRIPTIONS
AT NASSAU, NEW PROVIDENCE

Communicated by ALFRED JOHNSON, Litt. D., of Boston, Mass.

The following records and inscriptions were copied by the writer during a visit to Nassau, New Providence, in March 1914. The records of burial were taken from the Burial Books of St. Matthew’s Parish, the oldest parish at Nassau, and comprise all the burial entries during the first half of the nineteenth century that refer to persons who were obviously Americans. They consist of seventeen entries from Book 1, which begins in 1802, and three entries from Book 2, and they are given in chronological order. The inscriptions are believed to include all the inscriptions at Nassau, at present legible, which give evidence of referring to persons who came to that place from the territory now forming the United States. Among them may be found the names of some of the American Loyalists who emigrated to Nassau at the time of the Revolution.

From the Burial Books of St. Matthew’s Parish

All other my lands unbequeathed, in Little Yeldham, Hinningham at the Castle, and elsewhere, to my brother Edward Parmenter, except a parcel of meadow and hop ground containing one rod, lying in Little Yeldham, now in the occupation of John Panell of Redgwell, which I will to my wife Elizabeth, she paying my funeral charges. Executor: my brother Edward Parmenter. [Signed] George Parmenter his marke. [Scal, a bird of some kind, not clearly distinguishable.] Witnesses: John Harrison, Edmund Browne, George Bucher. Proved 8 July 1613. (Commissary Court of London for Essex and Herts [Somerset House], 1613, original will.)

* The words in brackets are crossed out in the original will.
The Will of William Parmeter of Over [or Little] Yealdham, co. Essex, yeoman, 12 October 1613. To Margery my wife for life all my message and tenement where I now dwell called Tankerton, and after her decease reversion to Robert Parmiter my son, he paying to John Parmeter my son £5 one year after the decease of my wife; and if the said John die before the sum be due, reversion to his children, equally divided. To Margery my wife for life all my copyhold land called Cowell alias Gowldwells, and after her decease it shall be sold by Robert Parmeter my brother, if he shall be living, and the money arising therefrom is to be equally divided among George Parmeter, Ursely Parmeter, Sara Parmeter, and Margaret Parmeter, my children; and if my said brother be dead, then the land shall be equally divided among them. If my son George or my daughters Sara or Margaret shall die before said money be paid or land be possessed, reversion to my surviving children. My son Robert shall pay to John Parmeter, the son of John Parmeter my son, 6s. 8d. at the age of one and twenty years, and to Mary Parmeter, my son John's daughter, 6s. 8d. at the age of one and twenty years. To my son George and my daughters Sara, Margaret, and Ursely certain articles of furniture [specified] after the decease of my wife Margery, whom I make executrix. [Signed] Signa Gulielmi Parmeter. Witnesses: Richard Hamon and George Bucher. Proved 19 January 1617 [1617/18]. (Commissary Court of London for Essex and Herts [Somerset House], 1617, original will.)

The Will of William Parmeter of Upper [or Little] Yealdham, co. Essex, yeoman, 20 May 1615. Edward Parmyter my son having paid many debts for me and having been unto me a good and dutiful child, I give him all my goods and chattels. [Signed] The mark of William Parmyter. Witnesses: Richard Browne and John Parmyter. No record of probate. (Commissary Court of London for Essex and Herts [Somerset House], 1615, filed will.)

The Will of Henry Parmyter of Little Yealdham, co. Essex, grover, 16 June, 17 James I [1619]. To Audry my wife for life that tenement where I now dwell and the freehold land to it belonging in Yealdham, containing three acres, and at her decease reversion to my son William, he paying after his entry into the land to my children, Elizabeth, Henry, Audrye, and Thomas, 40s. each. † This manuscript is mutilated and the assessments are missing.
On 21 June 1607 Roger Golding complains that about ten years since John Parminster, late of Sudbury, deceased, made a will by which he appointed the complainant and one John Parminster executors of his estate of some £500, with lands in Sudbury, Tilbury, Little Yeldham, etc., and died about two years since. By said will testator left his estate to the wife of the complainant and her children and to others of his kindred and friends. But one William Parminter has secured for himself administration on the said estate, and in confederacy with John Parminster has seized and embezzled the estate of the deceased, and has not distributed it according to the latter's will.

William Parminster, one of the defendants, brother and administrator of the late John Parminster of Sudbury, maltster, replies that as complainant sues as one of the executors of a pretended will of deceased, said complainant should be joined as complainant with John Parminster, the other executor of the pretended will, and should not make the latter a defendant. This defendant knows nothing of any will made ten years ago, but has heard the other defendant, John Parminster, say that about 28 Elizabeth [1585–6] deceased did make a will appointing complainant and said defendant, John Parminster, as executors, and the said complainant did show this defendant a copy of the same and said that he intended to sue this defendant in the ecclesiastical courts, but he has not done so, and defendant doubts if such a will existed, as two years after the time of said pretended will said deceased loaned complainant over £40, which he would not have done had he made him executor of his estate. And moreover this defendant can prove by witnesses that on 24 September 1603 the deceased stated that one William Parminster, son of this defendant, should have all the estate of deceased. On the death of said deceased this defendant, believing that deceased died intestate, did sue forth administration on his estate in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury (deceased having estate in divers dioceses), which was granted to this defendant 19 September 1605. Deceased died 24 August 1605, possessed of an estate much smaller than is claimed by the complainant; and with the consent of John Parminster and of Thomas Smith and of Edith his wife, sister of the deceased, this defendant had the estate appraised, which amounted to £200. 12s. The debts of the deceased were £17. 7s. 4d. The defendant, John Parminster, received as his share of the estate £43. 1s. 6d., and said Smith and Edith his wife about £40. The costs of administration were £23. 16s. 8d. The house in Sudbury called "The Gallery" was the freehold of the said John Parminster, deceased, who with one Peregrine Parker, gent., did purchase the same in fee simple of one Peter Whyte on 6 June, 35 Elizabeth [1593], and on the death of the said Parker said John Parminster had the whole as survivor in fee simple, and, he dying without issue, it came to this defendant as his brother and next heir. Defendant denies any conspiracy with the other defendant, John Parminster.

The other defendant, John Parminster, replies that he thinks that John Parminster, deceased, made a will about 28 Elizabeth [1585–6], but knows not if it remained in existence until his death. Lately complainant sent his son to this defendant to show to this defendant a copy of said will, by which deceased left to his brother William Parminster, the other defendant, for life, lands, etc., in Little Yeldham, with reversion to Henry Parminster, said William's son, and left to this defendant, another brother, for life, lands in Little Yeldham, Tilbury, etc., with reversion to John Parminster, this defendant's son. Also he left to the said William £20 and to his children 6s. 8d. apiece, to this defendant £20 and to his children 6s. 8d. apiece, to the three children of Thomas Smith of Little Maplestead 40s. apiece, to Jane, wife of this defendant, cloth for a gown, to the complainant £5 and three guns, to the wife of the complainant (who died long before the testator) 20s., and to Thomas Golding 20s. This defendant prays that the complainant be required to bring the original will into court, as according to said will the testator left certain lands to this defendant and his children, which have been taken by the other defendant as eldest brother and heir. Deceased died about two years ago and about nineteen years after making said will. Complainant has long concealed the will for some sinister purpose, and as this defendant was unable to find any will of deceased, the other defendant obtained administration on the estate, and this defendant has received one third of the goods, according to the inventory in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury. This defendant denies any conspiracy with the other defendant, William Parminter. (Chancery Proceedings, James I, Bundle G-8, No. 43.)

[From the foregoing records and from some other sources the following information about the Parmenter families of Little Yeldham, co. Essex, and about the ancestry of Dea. John Parminter of Sudbury and Roxbury, Mass., has been derived:

William Parmenter, Sr., born probably about 1465, appears, with other Parmenters, at Little Yeldham, co. Essex, in the subsidy of 1523-4.

Thomas Parmenter, and Nicholas Parmenter appear at Little Yeldham
in the subsidy of 1542-1544. They belong apparently to the generation immediately following that to which William Parmenter, Sr., belongs. No wills have been found which throw light on the exact relationship of these men to one another or on their respective families; but doubtless the fathers of some of the Parmenters of the next generation are included in this list of names.

These men of the next generation are John Parmenter, born probably about 1515, and probably the progenitor of Family A, given below; George Parmenter, born probably about 1520, progenitor of Family B, given below; Richard Parmenter of Little Yeldham, who appears in the subsidy of 1565-6; and Robert Parmenter, born probably about 1550, progenitor of Family C, given below.

Family A

1. John Parmenter, of Little Yeldham, co. Essex, born probably about 1515, appears as John Parmenter, Jr., at Little Yeldham in the subsidy of 1542-1544, and is found later in the adjoining parish of Tilbury-by-Clare, co. Essex, in the subsidies of 1565-6 and 1571-2.

   The following were probably his children:
   i. John, settled in Sudbury, co. Suffolk, where he was a brewer or maitster, and d. 24 Aug. 1605, leaving no issue. He appears in several entries in the Sudbury borough records from 1597 to 1604 (Register, vol. 66, pp. 170-171). His estate was contested in Chancery by Roger Golding in 1607.
   2. ii. William, b. abt. 1540. He was one of the defendants in the Chancery suit brought by Roger Golding in 1607.
   iii. John, m. Jane ——. He was the other defendant in the above-mentioned suit. Children: John (eldest son), and others.
   iv. Edith, m. Thomas Smith of Little Maplestead, co. Essex; had issue.
   v. A Daughter, probably m. Roger Golding.
2. WILLIAM PARMENTER (John), of Little Yeldham, co. Essex, the testator of 1615, born probably about 1540, was buried at Little Yeldham 3 June 1615. He married, about 1563, AGNES ———, who was buried at Little Yeldham 6 Mar. 1600/1. He was one of the defendants in the Chancery suit brought by Roger Golding.

Children:

iii. WILLIAM, bapt. at Little Yeldham 24 Feb. 1570/1; bur. there 4 Apr. 1610.

iv. EDITH, bapt. at Little Yeldham 9 Nov. 1572.

v. EDWARD, named in the wills of his father and brother Henry; m. JOAN ———. Children, bapt. at Little Yeldham: 1. Edith, bapt. 9 Nov. 1613. 2. James, bapt. 2 June 1616. 3. John, bapt. 20 Jan. 1617/18.

vi. JOHN, bapt. at Little Yeldham 24 Sept. 1576; probably d. young.

FAMILY B

1. GEORGE PARMENTER, of Little Yeldham (also called Over Yeldham and Upper Yeldham), co. Essex, the testator of 1591, born probably about 1520, was buried at Little Yeldham 7 Feb. 1591/2. He married Alice ———. He appears at Little Yeldham as George Parmenter, Jr., in the subsidy of 1542-1544, is next found in the adjoining parish of Ovington in the subsidy of 1565-6, and appears again at Little Yeldham in the subsidy of 1571-2.

Children:

i. ROBERT, b. probably abt. 1545; living in 1613, when he is mentioned in the will of his brother William. Child (probably): 1. William, called of Cavendish, co. Suffolk, in the will of his grandfather, George Parmenter, in 1591.

ii. CHRISTIAN, m. ——— PAGE; had issue.

iii. RICHARD, of Little Yeldham, living in 1612. He was a legatee in the will of his brother George. Child: 1. Elizabeth, bapt. at Little Yeldham 16 Nov. 1572; mentioned in the wills of her grandfather and her uncle George.

2. iv. GEORGE, b. probably abt. 1550.

v. KATHERINE, m. ——— ALLISON; had issue.

vi. JONE, m. ——— STAINER; had issue.

vii. EDWARD, appears at Little Yeldham in a subsidy in 1596-7; living in 1612, being named in the will of his brother George. Children, named in the will of their grandfather: 1. Sarah, bapt. at Little Yeldham 18 Apr. 1585. 2. Edward, bapt. at Little Yeldham 21 Nov. 1585.

3. viii. WILLIAM, b. probably abt. 1560.

ix. ALICE.
2. George Parmenter (George), of Little Yeldham, co. Essex, yeoman, the testator of 1612, born probably about 1550, was buried at Little Yeldham 27 June 1613. He married first Amy ———, who was buried at Little Yeldham 13 Oct. 1594; and secondly Mrs. Elizabeth Purkas, widow, who by her former husband had children Rose Purkas, wife of ——— Taine, and Francis Purkas. George Parmenter is found in the subsidy of 1596-7.

Children by first wife:

i. Conscience, bapt. at Little Yeldham 25 May 1574; d. young.

ii. Robert (perhaps). A Robert Parmenter, son of George, m. at Little Yeldham, 22 Jan. 1597/8, Alice Edwards, daughter of William. If this man belongs in this family, he must have d. s.p. before the date of his father's will.

3. William Parmenter (George), of Little Yeldham, co. Essex, husbandman, the testator of 1613, born probably about 1560, was buried at Little Yeldham 4 Dec. 1617. He married, about 1585, Margaret ———. He inherited various lands in Little Yeldham from his father and copyhold lands called Cowell or Gouldwell by the will of his brother George, which he mentioned in his own will, dated 12 Oct. 1613 and proved 19 Jan. 1617/18. As only two of his children were baptized at Little Yeldham, it is likely that at some period he resided elsewhere; and therefore he was probably the William Parmenter who was assessed in the subsidy of 1596-7 in the adjacent parish of Sible Hedingham, the registers of which prior to 1680 are lost.

Children:

i. Robert, bapt. at Little Yeldham 23 Oct. 1586. He succeeded to the lands of his father by the latter's will, and was perhaps the Robert Parmenter who was assessed at Sible Hedingham in the subsidies of 1623-4 and 1627-1629 and at Little Yeldham in the subsidy of 1640-1.

4. ii. John, b. abt. 1588.

iii. Ursula, living in 1613.

iv. George, m. at Little Yeldham, 12 Mar. 1617/18, Mary Usher alias Clarke.

v. Sarah, b. abt. 1593; m. at Bures St. Mary, co. Suffolk, 4 Oct. 1616, John Cressall, the testator of 1625. After the death of her father she had evidently removed with her brother, John Parmenter, to Bures St. Mary.

vi. Margaret, bapt. at Little Yeldham 25 Feb. 1594/5; living in 1613.

4. Dea. John Parmenter (William, George), of Little Yeldham, co. Essex, and Bures St. Mary, cos. Essex and Suffolk, England, and of Sudbury and Roxbury, Mass., was born evidently about 1588, as the baptism of his elder brother Robert is recorded at Little Yeldham 23 Oct. 1586, and yet by 12 Oct. 1613 John Parmenter was old enough to be married and to be the father of two children, Mary and John, according to the will of that date of his father, William Parmenter. He may have been born at Sible Hedingham, co. Essex, but the early registers of this parish are lost. He inherited no lands from his father, and after the latter's death he evidently removed about eight miles from Little Yeldham into Bures St. Mary. Here his sister Sarah was married, 4 Oct. 1616, to John Cressall, who in his will of 9 July 1625 bequeathed a cow to his brother-in-law John Parmenter. Here also, as John Parminter,* he was a witness, 22 Feb. 1630/1, to the will of Henrie Loker of Bures St. Mary, co. Essex, glover (REGISTER, vol. 63, pp. 280-281). In 1639 John Parmenter, with his family, and also the

widow and children of Henrie Loker emigrated to New England, settling in Sudbury, Mass., where John Parmenter was early chosen selectman, deacon, and commissioner. A comparison of the signature of John Parmenter as a witness in the original will of Henrie Loker of Bures St. Mary with an autograph signature of Dea. John Parmenter as a commissioner of Sudbury, Mass., 6 Jan. 1639/40,* shows that the two signatures were made by the same hand. In the summer of 1660 he removed from Sudbury to Roxbury, Mass., where he died 1 May 1671, aged 83 years, according to the church records of Roxbury, which thus furnish additional evidence that he was born about 1588. His will, dated 25 Mar. 1671 and proved 25 July 1671, names wife Annis, daughter Woods, son-in-law John Woods, grandson John Parmenter, cousin [Bartholomew] Cheever, shoemaker, of Boston, and cousin John Stibbins.

Children by first wife, born in England:

i. MARY, b. abt. 1610; named in the will of her grandfather 12 Oct. 1613; d. at Marlborough, Mass., 17 Aug. 1690, aged 80; m. JOHN Woods of Sudbury and Marlborough, b. in England abt. 1610, d. at Marlborough 10 July 1678. He deposed in 1664, aged abt. 54 years. Children: 1. HANNAH. 2. JOHN, b. 8 May 1641. 3. Francis (dau.), b. 10 May 1645. 4. James, b. 18 July 1647. 5. Catharine. 6. Isaac, b. 14 July 1655.

Family C

1. ROBERT PARMENTER, of Little Yeldham, co. Essex, the testator of 1594, born probably about 1530, was buried at Little Yeldham 1 May 1594. He married, about 1561, AMYE——. He was assessed at Little Yeldham in the subsidies of 1565–6 and 1571–2.

Children:

i. JoANE, b. probably abt. 1562.

ii. AMY, bapt. at Little Yeldham 17 Sept. 1564.

2. iii. ROBERT, bapt. at Little Yeldham 8 Feb. 1567/8.

iv. JANE, bapt. at Little Yeldham 5 June 1571.

2. ROBERT PARMENTER (Robert), of Little Yeldham, co. Essex, baptized there 8 Feb. 1567/8, appears there in the subsidy of 1596–7. Neither his will nor any administration on his estate has been found.

Children, baptized at Little Yeldham:

ii. ROBERT, bapt. 24 Dec. 1592; m. (1) ELIZABETH——; m. (2) at Little Yeldham, 24 June 1626, AGNES (Anne) Ingram. Children by first wife, recorded at Little Yeldham: 1. Elizabeth, bapt. 25

INTRODUCTION

The analysis of the effect of geometric factors on the yield of a given crop is a complex task. Various studies have been conducted to understand the relationship between crop yield and factors such as soil type, climate, and geometry of the farm. This study aims to explore the impact of geometric factors on crop yield by analyzing data from a series of experimental farms. The data includes measurements of crop yield, soil type, and various geometric parameters such as farm size, field shape, and irrigation patterns.

Hypothesis

It is hypothesized that the geometric factors significantly influence the crop yield. Specifically, the study will test the following hypotheses:

1. Larger farm size is associated with higher crop yield.
2. Different field shapes affect crop yield.
3. Efficient irrigation patterns lead to higher crop yield.

Methodology

The study will involve a comprehensive analysis of data collected from multiple farms. The data will be analyzed using statistical methods to determine the significance of geometric factors on crop yield. The analysis will be conducted using a combination of descriptive and inferential statistics.

Data Collection

The data will be collected through field surveys and interviews with farmers. The surveys will include questions related to farm size, field shape, and irrigation methods. Crop yield data will be collected from various plots within the farms.

Data Analysis

The data will be analyzed using statistical software. Descriptive statistics will be calculated to summarize the data. Inferential statistics will be used to test the hypotheses. The analysis will include correlation and regression analyses to determine the relationship between geometric factors and crop yield.

Results

The results will be presented in the form of tables and graphs. The significance of geometric factors on crop yield will be discussed, along with any limitations or challenges encountered during the study.

Conclusion

The study will provide insights into the relationship between geometric factors and crop yield. The findings will be valuable for farmers and agricultural researchers in improving crop production. The study will also highlight the importance of considering geometric factors in farm planning and management.

THE PAINTER FAMILY WITH
NOTES ON THE LAMBERTON FAMILY

By Donald Lines Jacobus, M.A., of New Haven, Conn.

1. Thomas Painter lived at Hingham, Charlestown, and Rowley, Mass., between 1637 and 1644. In 1655 he was made freeman of Newport, R. I., and spent the remainder of his life there and at Westerly, R. I., where his name appears, together with that of his son Shubael, on the list of freemen. He married first Katharine ———, who died in 1641; and secondly ———. Winthrop tells us in his History (vol. 2, p. 174), under date of 1644: "A poor man of Hingham, one Painter, who had lived at New Haven and at Rowley and Charlestown, and been scandalous and burdensome by his idle and troublesome behaviour to them all, was now on the sudden turned anabaptist, and having a child born, he would not suffer his wife to bring it to the ordinance of baptism, for she was a member of the church, though himself were not. Being presented for this, and enjoined to suffer the child to be baptized, he still refusing, and disturbing the church, he was again brought to the court not only for his former contempt, but also for saying that our baptism was anti-Christian; and in the open court he affirmed the same." For this he was whipped, and "endured his punishment with much obstinacy, and when he was loosed, he said boastingly, that God had marvellously assisted him."

Children by first wife:
i. Elizabeth, d. in Boston 24 Apr. 1640.
ii. William, d. in Boston 30 Sept. 1639.

2. Shubael Painter (Thomas) resided at Westerly and Newport, R. I.* He married Mercy Lambert, who was baptized 17 Jan. 1640/1 and died evidently before 1677, daughter of Capt. George and Margaret (Lewen) of New Haven.

He was deputy, 1670-1672. On 12 May 1679 he was tried for contempt of authority, owned himself guilty, and was fined and bound to peace and good behavior. On 10 May 1680 "An Indictment by the Atorny Genil agnst Shuball panter of Newport for Indeavoring Contrary to law to publish Marriage in two publick meetings about the month of March last in the Yeare 1679 : 80 unto Hannah the wife of Thomas Martin, and for keeping Company with said Hannah after being forbidden & forwarned by Authority he being bound to this Court and in Court Called, Appeared pleads not guilty and Refers himselfe for Tryall to God and the Cunry The Jury Verdict Guilty: By the court Comitted to the Genil serjts Custody till called for. The Sentence of the Court is That Shubal painter either be sett in the stockes for a six howers time or pay twenty shillings to the Genl Treasury in mony betwixt this & Next Thursday twelve of the clock and that his bond be continued while next court and alse pay officers fees." (R. I. Court of Trials, vol. A, p. 51.) He was indicted, 27 Mar. 1683, for living with Hannah, the wife of Thom. Martin, contrary to law, was found guilty, and was sentenced to forfeit bonds and pay fee. As Shubael's wife Mercy was then dead and as he "published marriage" with Mrs. Martin, it seems probable that her husband had deserted or divorced her, and that only some legal quibble stood in the way of her remarriage. On 27 Mar. 1683 he was also prosecuted by John Williams for "takeing Sheep feloniously"; and he immediately commenced action against said John for "Slauntr and Defamation." He was acquitted on the sheep charge, and was awarded £3 damages and costs of court on his counter suit. The case was referred to the next Assembly because Shubael was absent, being employed about the country's service. In 1688 he was appointed constable.

In 1677 he sold to his brother-in-law, William Trowbridge, the share of the Lamberton estate to which his wife Mercy was heir; but in 1685 the sale was declared void, and the lands were resold to Samuel Smith. Probably it was held that this sale did not include undivided lands, for Shubael's son Thomas and daughter Margaret both disposed of land inherited from George Lamberton. His daughter Mercy seems never to have possessed any of this property; at least she did not assign her right in any deed on record at New Haven. An abstract of the Lamberton deeds is given in the Notes on the Lamberton Family, infra, pp. 284, 285.

Children:

i. Mercy, b. abt. 1664; m. 24 Nov. 1683 Edward Allen of Deerfield, Mass., b. 1 May 1663, d. 10 Feb. 1739/40. In 1678 he went to Suffield, Conn., with his father, and in 1686 he received a grant of land on Green River. He was town clerk 1704-1712. Children: 1. Elizabeth, b. 14 Mar. 1685/6; d. 7 Feb. 1690/7. 2. Edward, b. 11 Mar. 1687/8; removed to Greenfield, Mass.; d. 19 Dec. 1756; m. (1) 4 Feb. 1719/20 Martha Wells, who d. 26 Feb. 1719/20; m. (2) 1 Feb. 1721/2 Mercy Childs, who d. 26 Oct. 1758. 3. Mercy, b. 3 Feb. 1689/90; d. May 1772; m. 8 Apr. 1705 Peter Evans of Northfield, b. 21 Jan. 1673/4, d. 8 July 1752. 4. Sarah, b. 1 May 1692. 5. Martha, b. 6 Nov. 1694; d. 11 Feb. 1778; m.
Samuel Bardwell, b. 26 Sept. 1685, d. 18 Mar. 1771.  6. Jemima, b. 4 Feb. 1696/7; d. after 1770; m. 1 Mar. 1714/15 John Catlin, b. 8 Jan. 1686/7, d. 1 Dec. 1766, s. of that Mr. John Catlin whose family was almost annihilated by Indians in 1704. Of their twelve children four settled in West Haven, Conn., viz., John, b. 19 Nov. 1715, d. after 1790, m. 29 Aug. 1744 his first cousin once removed, Margaret Painter (3, ii); Mary, b. 3 Feb. 1718/19, m. 7 May 1746 Jonathan Smith, whose mother was Rebecca Painter (3, i); Elizabeth, b. 31 Mar. 1726, m. Thomas Mallory of West Haven and Woodbury, Conn.; and Esther, b. 24 May 1733, m. Capt. Ebenezer Trowbridge of West Haven.  7. Hannah, b. 12 Feb. 1698/9; d. after 1772; m. 25 Aug. 1735 John Stebbins, b. abt. 1685, d. 7 Sept. 1760.  8. Consider, b. 8 May 1701; d. 26 May 1701.  9. Samuel, b. 6 Apr. 1702; killed by Indians 25 Aug. 1746; m. 3 Nov. 1727 Hannah Hawks, b. 7 July 1703, d. 8 Mar. 1771. Of their twelve children the tenth was named Lamberton.

ii. Margaret, b. abt. 1667; probably married first —— Morris, perhaps a son of Capt. Richard of Newport; married secondly, as his third wife, Lawrence Clinton; and thirdly Jeremiah Mott, who was admitted an inhabitant of Westerly in 1699. With her third husband she removed, prior to 1742, to Wallingford, Conn. On 11 Aug. 1712, Richard Morris of Milford gave bond of £500 to the selectmen of Wallingford to be paid before June 1747, "the condition being that if he indemnifie and save harmless the said town of Wallingford upon the account of Margrett Mott of Wallingford, wife of Jeremiah Mott of Wallingford, then said obligation to be void." (Wallingford Deeds, vol. 11, p. 501.) On 29 Sept. 1743 Jeremiah Mott and Margaret Mott of Wallingford conveyed to George Clinton of New Haven one fourth of one sixth of the lands of George Lamberton, deceased. (New Haven Deeds, vol. 12, p. 184.) Margaret Mott could not have been in possession of this portion of the Lamberton farm, unless Mercy Lamberton was their mother, as a careful study of the deeds will show (vide infra, pp. 284, 285); and for this reason she is given here as a daughter of Shubael Painter. There is a mass of circumstantial evidence to prove that she was mother, by her first husband, of Richard Morris; and, by her second husband, of George Clinton and his brothers. Child by first husband:* 1. Richard, d. at Milford, Conn., in the spring of 1759; m. (1) 22 Dec. 1717 (registers of Trinity Church, Newport, R. I.) Elizabeth Auxeney; m. (2) 24 May 1721 (ib.) Jean Eddy, who d. at Milford in 1767, probably dau. of John (who d. 1726) and Elizabeth. He lived at Newport, R. I., and at Milford, Conn. In 1725 Jacob Mott et al., Proprietors, sold to Richard Morris of Newport, weaver, lot 56 at Easton's Point, and the latter sold it the following year. In a deed dated 15 Aug. 1726 Richard Morris disposed of land in which his wife Jane relinquished her right of dower. (Newport Deeds, vol. 2, p. 159, vol. 7, pp. 122, 144.) His children were: John, m. at Woodbridge, Conn., 12 Nov. 1750, Sybil Newton; Susanna, m. Samuel Bassett; Mercy, d. 25 Mar. 1778; and probably also: Thomas, d. at Cheshire, Conn., 21 Apr. 1777; Joseph, d. at Milford 3 Jan. 1778; George, d. at Milford 10 Mar. 1776, aged 45, m. Eunice Plumb.

3. iii. Thomas, b. abt. 1670.

3. Ensign Thomas Painter (Shubael, Thomas), born about 1670, removed about 1694 to West Haven, Conn., where he died in 1747. He married Rebecca Canée, born 22 Dec. 1671, died 1 June 1739, daughter of Zedcheus and Rebecca (Bristol).

In 1743 Ensign Thomas Painter of West parish conveyed to his sons Thomas, Shubael, and Deliverance all right to land in right of his mother, "who was one of the daughters of Mr. George Lamberton, formerly of New Haven deed." (New Haven Deeds, vol. 12, p. 85.) He purchased land in Wallingford, Conn., where his sister Margaret lived, but he never resided there. In his will, dated 9 Dec. 1746 and proved 1 June 1747, he mentioned his sons Shubael, Thomas, Jr., and Deliverance; grandchildren, the children of Rebecca Smith, deceased; and daughters Mary Stevens, Mercy Stevens, Rachel Smith (wife of Nathan), Elizabeth Painter, and Margaret Catlin. He gave equal shares to his children, "excepting my Daughter Elizabeth to whom I have given by Deed Something Extraordinary for her Extraordinary Care & trouble of me under my Difficulties by reason of a Cancer." (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 7, p. 117.) Capt. Samuel Candee and Jonathan Smith, the testator's son-in-law, were appointed executors.

Children:

i. Rebecca,4 b. 23 June 1695; d. 10 Sept. 1740; m. Jonathan Smith, b. 27 Oct. 1692, d. 30 Dec. 1759.

4. Capt. Thomas4 Painter (Thomas3, Shubael2 Thomas1), born 31 Aug. 1696, died at West Haven, Conn., in 1760. He married first Esther Mix, born 14 Apr. 1718, daughter of John and Esther (Morris); and secondly, after 1752, Mrs. Desire (Smith) Stevens, born 30 Sept. 1712, daughter of Samuel and Mary (Cooper) and widow of Thomas. She married thirdly —— Law of Wallingford, Conn.

In 1746 Thomas and Esther Painter conveyed their rights to the estate of their father, John Mix, Jr., deceased. (New Haven Deeds, vol. 13, p. 40.) In 1758 Thomas Painter conveyed land to his son-in-law, John Chandler of Woodstock, and his wife, "my only daughter Esther." (Ib., vol. 21, p. 71.) On 30 June 1760 administration on the estate of Thomas Painter was granted to John Chandler in right of his wife Esther, daughter of the deceased, the widow desiring the same. (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 9, p. 371.)

Children by first wife:

i. Esther,4 b. 20 May 1738; m. John Chandler of Woodstock, Conn.

ii. Thomas, b. 10 Dec. 1740; d. 18 Feb. 1747/8 (gravestone at West Haven).

iii. Elkanah, b. abt. 1742; d. 14 Feb. 1747/8 (gravestone at West Haven).

* Vide article on the Clinton family, to be published in a future number of the Register.
5. Shubael Painter (Thomas, Shubael, Thomas), born 23 Apr. 1698, died at West Haven, Conn., in 1785. He married first, 12 Mar. 1730/1, Elizabeth Dunbar, born 27 Mar. 1701, died before 1758, daughter of John and Elizabeth (Beecher); and secondly Abiah. (New Haven Deeds, vol. 28, p. 180.)

In his will, dated 19 Mar. 1782 and proved 17 Nov. 1785, he mentioned the three children of his eldest son Joseph, deceased (Anna Clinton, and Thomas and Shubael Painter); his son Gamaliel, “my son now surviving;” and his daughters Rebecca, wife of William Trowbridge, Jr., Lidia, wife of Gamaliel Benham, and Sarah, wife of Joatham Williams. (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 14, p. 429.)

Children by first wife:

7. i. Joseph, b. 26 Apr. 1731.
ii. Rebecca, b. 19 May 1734; d. before 1808; m. William Trowbridge, b. 13 June 1725, d. 6 Dec. 1793.
iii. Elisha, b. 29 July 1736; d. s.p. 1781 or 1782; m. Hannah. He was one of the grantees of Middlebury, Vt., 2 Nov. 1761 (Swift's Hist. of Middlebury, pp. 143, 145, 156). In his will, dated 12 Jan. 1781 and proved 7 Nov. 1791, he mentions wife Hannah, brother Gamaliel, and sisters Rebecca Trowbridge, Lydia Benham, and Sarah Williams (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 16, p. 621).
iv. Lydia, b. 1 June 1739; d. 18 Nov. 1814; m. Gamaliel Benham, b. abt. 1738, d. 8 Mar. 1811.
v. Sarah, b. 4 Oct. 1742; m. Joatham Williams.
8. vi. Gamaliel, b. 22 May 1743.

6. Deliverance Painter (Thomas, Shubael, Thomas), born 31 May 1701, was drowned near Stratford Point, Conn., 1 Sept. 1781. He married, 23 June 1725, Mary Smith, born 7 Mar. 1706/7, died at the home of her son in Roxbury, Conn., 29 May 1786, daughter of Samuel and Mary (Cooper) and granddaughter of Samuel and Obedience (Lamberton).

The aged deacon met a tragic end near the close of the Revolutionary War. On the night of 1 Sept. 1781 three British vessels landed one hundred and fifty men at West Haven, Conn., who, having secured the eleven sentinels, collected cattle and other plunder. They returned to their vessels without discovery, taking with them their booty, two of the sentinels, and Deliverance Painter and his brother-in-law, Capt. John Catlin. The boat carrying the four patriots cap-sized near Stratford Point, and Painter and the two sentinels were drowned, Catlin alone escaping. The Painter home, now known as the James Reynolds house, had been ransacked, and the son, Lamberton Painter, evaded capture only by hiding under tobacco leaves in the garret. Five of Deliverance's children died young, and their epitaph in the West Haven cemetery reminds one of Wordsworth's "We are Seven."

Three underneath the clods they be

In his will, dated 11 Aug. 1774 and proved in Dec. 1781, he names his wife Mary, his son Lamberton, and his daughters Mary Mallory of Woodbury and Rebeccah Sherman of New Haven (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 13, p. 102).

Children:

i. SAMUEL, b. 7 Mar. 1725/6; d. at sea Dec. 1748.

iii. AMY, b. abt. 1730; d. 2 Sept. 1751.

iv. THOMAS, b. 2 May 1733; d. at sea 13 Feb. 1755.

v. ABIGAIL, b. abt. 1738; d. 26 Jan. 1755.

vi. LAMBERTON, b. abt. 1740.

vii. REBECCA, d. at Roxbury, Conn., 18 Sept. 1788; m. JOHN SHERMAN.

viii. FREELove, b. abt. 1749; d. 26 Aug. 1751.

7. CAPT. JOSEPH3 Painter (Shubael, Thomas, Shubael, Thomas4), born 26 Apr. 1731, died at sea, near St. Christopher's, in 1766. He was commander of a vessel, and was lost at sea in a hurricane. He married, 25 Dec. 1755, AMY STEVENS, born 30 Sept. 1737, died about 1774, daughter of Thomas and Desire (Smith).

Administration on his estate was granted, Nov. 1768, to his widow Ama (New Haven Probate Records, vol. 10, p. 562). Administration on the estate of Ama Painter was granted, Feb. 1775, to Jesse Stevens (ib., vol. 12, p. 23).

Children:

i. AMY, b. abt. 1757; d. abt. 1832; m. (1) DAVID CLINTON, b. abt. 1755; d. on a prison ship abt. 1781; m. (2) THOMAS BENHAM of Amenia, N. Y.

ii. THOMAS, b. 24 Jan. 1760.

iii. BETTY, d. young.

iv. A CHILD, d. in infancy.

v. SHUBAEL, d. at sea before 1790.

8. JUDGE GAMALIEL5 Painter (Shubael, Thomas, Shubael, Thomas), born at New Haven, Conn., 22 May 1743, died at Middlebury, Vt., 21 May 1819. He married first ABIGAIL CHIPMAN, who died 21 Apr. 1790, aged 40, daughter of John; secondly VICTORIA BALL of Salisbury, Conn., who died 9 June 1806, aged 46; and thirdly MRS. URSULA BULL of Litchfield, Conn., who survived him, dying 28 Feb. 1824, aged 77.

On 15 Sept. 1764 Gamaliel Painter of Salisbury, Litchfield Co., Conn., conveyed land which had belonged to Mr. John Dunber (New Haven Deeds, vol. 27, p. 6). In 1773 he and his brother-in-law, John Chipman, were among the first settlers of Middlebury, Vt., although they are not on the list of the original grantees of that town, when its charter was obtained from Gov. Benning Wentworth of New Hampshire on 2 Nov. 1761, for in 1761 Gamaliel Painter was only 18.

years old. On 23 Sept. 1773 200 acres of land in Middlebury were laid out for Gamaliel Painter, who was already living in his house on that land. The settlers of Middlebury, Vt., came chiefly from Salisbury, Conn., and the name of the Connecticut town was given to the Vermont town which lies next south of Middlebury and which was chartered 3 Nov. 1761. In 1777 Gamaliel Painter was a member of the convention that framed the constitution of Vermont, and he served as a captain in the Revolutionary War. When Burgoyne marched southward in 1777, Gamaliel Painter was obliged to withdraw with his family from Middlebury, but in 1784 he returned with his family to that town. In 1784 the bounds of Salisbury, Vt., were moved northward so that 170 acres of Gamaliel Painter's land, including the site of his house, became a part of Salisbury; and on 20 Aug. 1787, calling himself of Salisbury, Addison Co., Vt., he conveyed all land given to him by the last will of his father, the witnesses being Joseph and Abigail Painter (ib., vol. 43, p. 116). He acquired much more land in Middlebury, removed in the fall of 1787 to Middlebury village, and became one of the most prominent citizens of the town. He encouraged the coming of new settlers by selling to them land in Middlebury; he served for thirteen years in the Vermont Legislature; he was a member of the Council; and was sheriff and a judge of the County Court. He was one of the original trustees of Middlebury College, incorporated in 1800, and in his will, his children being dead, he left all his estate, except an annuity for his widow, to that institution. From this bequest the College realized about $13,000; and one of its buildings, erected in 1814 and originally called West College, received in remembrance of this benefaction and still bears the name of Painter Hall. It is the oldest college building now standing in Vermont. A portrait of Gamaliel Painter may be found in Swift's History of Middlebury, from which most of this account of his life has been taken.*

Children by first wife:

[Back] "The PRESIDENT & FELLOWS of Middlebury College erect this Monument to the memory of a distinguished Benefactor of the Institution."
9. Lamberton 8 Painter (Deliverance, 4 Thomas, 3 Shubael, 1 Thomas 3), born about 1740, removed in 1783 to Roxbury, Conn., and died suddenly at West Haven, Conn., 22 Dec. 1795. He married his first cousin, Mabel Smith, born about 1738, died 26 Apr. 1808 (gravestone at Roxbury), daughter of Andrew and Mercy (Painter).

In his will, dated 20 Dec. 1795 and proved 21 Jan. 1796 (Woodbury Probate Records, vol. 9, p. 227), he devised to wife Mabel; to sons Thomas and Liman real estate; to two sons Samuel and Azadiak(?) £20, to be paid by sons Thomas and Liman; "I have given to my son Deliverance Lamberton the farm I purchased of my brother John Sherman;" to daughters Freeloove, Mabel, and Sarah (an error for Hannah) £90 between them, to be paid by their brothers Thomas and Limon; "daughters Abigail, Polly and Zillah have already recd at their time of there Marridge more than there Portion." The will is so poorly written that it is almost illegible in places.

10. Capt. Thomas 8 Painter (Joseph, 4 Shubael, 4 Thomas, 3 Shubael, 1 Thomas 3), born 24 Jan. 1760, resided at West Haven, Conn., and died 28 Oct. 1847. He married first, in 1783, Hannah Candee, born 1761, died 19 Nov. 1830, daughter of Samuel and Lydia (Sherman); and secondly, Dec. 1831, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Buddington of Hartford, Conn., who died 11 July 1849, aged 76. In his old age he wrote an interesting autobiography, which was published in 1910 by Mrs. Lewis Clephane. He served for six months in the Revolution in the New York campaign of 1776, and later served at sea on the privateer sloop Polly. Taken captive, he was imprisoned on the prison ship Good Hope in New York Harbor. From this he escaped by swimming, and after much privation reached the Jersey shore in safety. He continued to serve at sea through the greater part of the war, until he was again captured and immured in the prison ship Old Jersey. He was paroled, and the close of the war made his release permanent. In 1784 he was placed in command of the sloop Nancy, and for several years thereafter followed the sea. He afterwards engaged in the grocery and dry goods business, and was able in 1829 to retire from active pursuits.

Child:

i. Mary, m. Charles May.

UNPLACED LINES

The first Thomas Painter may have had other sons besides those given on p. 273; and it is believed that the two following unplaced lines belong to this family:

(1) William Painter* married in Boston, 28 May 1691, Mary Messenger.

Child:

i. Grace, b. 18 Dec. 1691.

(2) John Painter was of Wallingford, Conn., in 1738, removed about 1755 to Waterbury, Conn., and died 27 July 1796. He married, 27 Mar. 1738, Deborah Welcher, who died 26 Mar. 1794.

Children, the first five born at Wallingford, the sixth at Middletown, Conn., and the rest at Waterbury:

i. Johanna, b. 31 Jan. 1738/9.

ii. Sarah, b. 2 Apr. 1741; m. 8 Apr. 1762 Benjamin Williams.

iii. John, b. 29 May 1743; d. young.

iv. Edward, b. 5 Oct. 1745.

v. Susanna, b. 12 Aug. 1748; m. 25 Sept. 1771 Abel Ford.

vi. Eunice, b. 16 Mar. 1752; m. Nathan Woodward.

vii. Lot, b. 9 Feb. 1755; d. 21 Feb. 1757.

viii. Elizabeth, b. 7 Sept. 1757.

* Another William Painter, a sea captain of Charlestown, Mass., died 28 Aug. 1666, leaving a wife Elizabeth.
NOTE ON THE LAMBERTON FAMILY

Capt. George Lambertone, one of the merchant gentlemen who founded the Colony of New Haven, came from London. He is called of the parish of St. Mary's Whitechapel when, on 6 Jan. 1628/9, he married Margaret Lewen (Register, vol. 51, p. 189). Some account of him and of his family is given in The Converse Family, 1905, vol. 2, pp. 681 et seq. He was lost in 1646 on board the "great ship" he commanded, whose fate is the theme of Longfellow's poem, "The Phantom Ship." In the following year his widow, Margaret, married Deputy-Governor Stephen Goodyear.

Erroneous statements have been made concerning his family, one being that Mary, first wife of Lieut.-Gov. James Bishop, was his daughter. This error is based on a passage from the trial of Mrs. Godman for witchcraft in 1653, which states that Mrs. Godman "hath much inquired upon the time of Mrs. Bishops delivery of her children, and would speake of it so Mrs. Goodyeare and her daugher marveled how she could know, and Hannah Lamberton one time told her mother that Mrs. Godman kept her sisters count." It is evident that the Mrs. Bishop of the record was sister either of Hannah Lamberton or of her mother, Margaret (Lewen) (Lamberton) Goodyear, but she may have been Patience, wife of Henry Bishop (brother of James), instead of Mary, wife of James. At all events, it is certain that Mary Bishop was not a daughter of George Lambertone, as she left surviving issue who did not share in the Lambertone estate.

On 20 Oct. 1658 "Mr. Goodyeare & her children by Mr. Lambertone p'senting themselves before the court, she desired that y* portions w'em remaine vnpaid dew to the children, might be set out by ye Court, vpon which p'sition it was demanded of Willm Trowbridge, ye husband to Elizabeth Lambertone, what he had received of Mr Goodyeare. ... Hannah & Hope Lambertone, being at age, were appointed to receive their portions, w'em they desired might be delivered to their mother. ... Deliverance, who is to have a double portion, & Mercy, Desire, and Obedience, chose their mother for their guardian."

Children:

i. Elizabeth, b. abt. 1632; d. 1716; m. (1) 17 Oct. 1654 Daniel Selviant; m. (2) 9 Mar. 1656/7 William Trowbridge of West Haven, bapt. at Exeter, Devonshire, Eng., 3 Sept. 1633, d. Nov. 1688. (For descendants, vide The Trowbridge Genealogy.)

ii. Hannah, b. abt. 1634; m. (1) Samuel Wells of Wethersfield, Conn., who d. 15 July 1675; m. (2) Capt. John Allyn of Hartford, Conn.

iii. Hope, b. abt. 1636; d. between 1698 and 1704; m. (1) Herbert; m. (2) William Cheney of Middletown, Conn., who d. in 1705. In his will of 17 Sept. 1704 William Cheney named "my son-in-law John Williams and my daughter-in-law Abigail, his wife;" "John Clark, decd., my son-in-law;" and Cheeny, Ambrose, and Eunice, the three children of said John Clark. Child by first husband: 1. Abigail, m. (1) abt. 1688 John Clark of West Haven and Middletown, b. 23 Jan. 1664/5, d. 1702; m. (2)
John Williams of Middletown, who d. 6 May 1735. Abigail had issue by her first husband: 1. Anna, b. 5 Nov. 1690; d. before 1704. 2. John, b. 12 Apr. 1693; d. before 1704. 3. Ambrose, b. 25 Mar. 1696; d. 1764; had issue. 4. Cheney, b. 8 Oct. 1698; d. 4 Dec. 1764; had issue. 5. Eunice, b. 27 Aug. 1700; d. 1743; m. (1) 3 May 1722 Samuel Roberts, who d. 17 Dec. 1724; m. (2) Sept. 1726 Edward Jackson.

v. Mercy, bapt. at New Haven 17 Jan. 1640/1; d. before 1677; m. SHUBALL Painter of Newport, R. I. (Vide supra, 2.)

vi. Desire, bapt. 14 Mar. 1642/3; m. Aug. 1669 LIEUT. THOMAS Cooper, Jr., of Springfield, Mass., b. 3 July 1646, d. 1722. At a court held in Springfield in 1679, after the death of Desire's father-in-law, Lieut. Thomas Cooper, her husband, as the only surviving son, presented a petition for the distribution of his father's estate; and it appeared by a letter of his father to Mrs. Goodyear before his son's marriage with her daughter that he did signify to encourage her, he did not question but that he should make his portion worth about £100.

vii. Obedience, bapt. 9 Feb. 1644/5; d. 29 Mar. 1734 (gravestone at West Haven); m. 13 Jan. 1675/6 LIEUT. SAMUEL SMITH, b. 4 Dec. 1651, d. 18 Sept. 1726.

THE DESCENT OF THE LAMBERTON FARM

The correctness of the account given above of George Lambertson's family is proved by a series of deeds which dispose of the several portions of the Lamberton farm. This large estate of over 260 acres was, after Mrs. Goodyear's death, divided between the six Lamberton girls. As there are some complexities, abstracts of these deeds are given, most of which are self-explanatory, and all of which are from the New Haven Land Records:

[Vol. 1, p. 52] "I Shuball Painter of Newport in Rhode Island have sold unto my Brother in law William Trowbridge of New Haven all my rights title and interest which I have in a farm at New Haven on which the said William Trowbridge now liveth." Dated 4 May 1677.

[Vol. 1, p. 281] "I William Trowbridge have received this bill of my Brother in law Shuball Painter which said Shuball I own to be my act and deed upon consideration that we the above written, cannot agree about the price and pay I the said William do declare this bill of sale to be invaluable ... and what record hath been made upon this bill or any other shall be revoked." Dated 8 June 1685; recorded 20 July 1685 at the desire of Samuel Smith.

[Vol. 1, p. 281] Shuball Painter of Newport, R. I., conveys to Samuel Smith of New Haven "all my right, interest and title, that I now stand possessed of, or hereafter may lawfully accrue or descend to me ... in the lands of Captain George Lambertson deceased." Dated 9 July 1685.

[Vol. 1, p. 349] "Mr. George Lambertson's farm situate on the west side of New Haven harbor ... is divided unto Captain John Alling, Mr. William Trowbridge, Samuell Smith and Mrs. Hope Harbett ... by virtue of their mutual desire and agreement." Dated 22 Mar. 1685/6.

[Vol. 1, p. 367] John and Hannah Allyn of Hartford convey to Thomas Trowbridge, son of William Trowbridge of New Haven, "the full sixth part of Mr. George Lambertsons land that does descend to the said Hannah Allen.
as her portion in Mr. George Lambertons's lands. . . laid out or not laid out." Dated 15 Dec. 1687.

[Vol. 1, p. 635] Samuell Smith of New Haven conveys to William Johnson, senior, with the consent of Thomas Trowbridge, Junior, and of Mr. William Cheney of Middletown in the right of his wife Hope Cheney, the daughter of Mr. Lambertons some time of New Haven deceased, land "sold by Mrs. Goodyear our mother deceased, to said Johnson." Dated 20 Feb. 1692/3.

[Vol. 1, p. 760] William Cheney of Middletown, with the consent of Hope "my present" wife, conveys to Thomas Painter of New Haven about 40 acres, "formerly Mr. Lambertons." Dated 26 May 1698.

[Vol. 1, p. 816] John Clark of Middletown and Abigail Clark, his wife, enter their caution against any further record of the lands belonging to their mother, Hope Cheney, formerly Hope Lambertons, which did formerly belong unto Mr. George Lambertons, lying within the precincts of New Haven, they being the proper heirs of said land. Dated 23 May 1700.

[Vol. 10, p. 398] John Williams and Abigail his wife, Ambros Clark, Cheny Clark, Edward Jackson and Eunice his wife, all of Middletown, convey to Samuel Smith of West Haven all right to Mr. George Lambertons's third division lot in New Haven, descending to them from the estate of Mr. George Lambertons, excepting the farm at West Haven sold to Thomas Painter. Dated 27 Feb. 1728/9.

[Vol. 4, p. 290] Elizabeth Trowbridge, widow, daughter of George Lambertons, deceased, conveys to grandson Caleb Mallary 4 of the land laid out to Mrs. Goodyear, widow to Mr. George Lambertons, deceased. Dated 19 May 1714.

[Vol. 12, p. 184] Jeremiah Mott and Margaret Mott of Wallingford, for £100, convey to George Clinton of New Haven "all our Right Title and Intrest in the Estate of George Lambertons of New Haven aforesaid deed: being one fourth part of sixth part of all sd Lambertons Lands in sd New Haven whether divided or not yet divided." Dated 29 Sept. 1743.

From the Proprietors' Records (vol. 4, p. 137) we learn that the following claims to "half division" land were recorded 3 Apr. 1704: "Thom Trowbridge at ye West side 4 of Mr Lambertons 1st purchase Right. Thom painter 4 of Mr Lambertons 1st purchase Right. Lt Sam'l Smith 4 of Mr Lambertons 1 purchase Right." It is difficult to understand how, after Shubael Painter had sold all his rights to Samuel Smith, his son Thomas Painter could have inherited Lambertons land; but it is certain that he did, both from the record given above and from the fact that he later sold land which he inherited from his mother. Also the Margaret Mott who appears in the deed quoted above must have inherited her share of the Lambertons lands from the Painters, as all the other branches of the family are thoroughly accounted for. We have presented the facts, and must be content to leave this and other perplexities in abeyance.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

By John Albree, Recording Secretary

Boston, Massachusetts, 1 April 1914. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2:30 p.m., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the March meeting were approved, and the reports of the Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, Historian, and Council were accepted.

Ten resident members were elected by ballot.

On motion of John Albree it was Voted, That a committee of five be appointed by the President to prepare a draft of revised by-laws for the Society, to be submitted at a future meeting.

President Baxter appointed as members of this committee Charles Sidney Ensign (Chairman), Waldo Lincoln, John Carroll Chase, James Parker Parmenter, and William Prescott Greenlaw.

George Pierce Baker, Professor of Dramatic Literature at Harvard University, spoke on The Drama and American History, tracing the development of the American dramatic taste as shown in the plays that have appeared from time to time, such as "A Prince of Parthia," the first American play, remarkable for its dullness; "The Conquest of Canada," given but twice in 1773; "Indoctrum Parliamentum," an early drama of social life; "Marmion," which, though adapted by an American, yet had to be advertised as a London success to obtain popularity; the Indian plays once popular; and the many later plays which have an historical setting but in which the lessons of history are overshadowed by the interesting experiences of young lovers. Today, according to the speaker, we are just beginning to see what can be done on the stage with the portrayal of human life, and the result will be an ideal of larger citizenship and of better government.

President Baxter spoke of the enthusiasm that used to be aroused when Forrest and Proctor recited their lines in the old plays.

NOTES

It having come to the attention of this Society that certain genealogists and publishers have used the name of the Society in connection with their own enterprises, the Society again desires to state that it has NO genealogical representatives in this country or in England, nor is it in any way connected with any publications other than those that it issues over its own name at 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

The Committee on English Research desires to state, however, that although the Society has no official representative in England the Committee is employing Miss French for a part of her time as a searcher of records there along special lines for the benefit of the REGISTER.

PARENTAGE OF ARCHIBALD SPARGUE OF NEWBURYPORT, MASS. — Archibald Sprague, called "of Providence, R. I.," in his intention of marriage, married at Newburyport, Mass., 4 July 1813, Sarah, daughter of William and Martha (Nowell) Short and widow of Henry Sullivan Perry. Their son, Rufus William Sprague, was born 15 Nov. 1820, and Rufus William Sprague, Jr., son of this Rufus William Sprague, was born 29 Aug. 1849.

Archibald Sprague died of yellow fever, at Mobile, Ala., in 1840; but before his death he gave orally to his son, Rufus William Sprague, an account of himself, stating that he was the son of Rufus and Rosannah Sprague of Johnston, R. I.; that his father died when he was three years old, leaving a large family; that a guardian was appointed for him, who bound him as an apprentice to a man in Providence; that this man treated him badly, and he ran away when ten years old, shipped as a cabin boy and became a sailor, and swore that he would never go back to Providence; and that he never did go back to that place. This story was repeated by Rufus William Sprague in 1872 in a letter to his son, Rufus William Sprague, Jr., the latter having asked about his grandfather; and this latter is still in existence.

Rufus Sprague of Johnston, R. I., died about 1795, leaving a widow and fourteen children. In his will, dated 2 Sept. 1794 and proved 26 Aug. 1795, he makes the following bequests: To daughter Judah 15 Spanish milled dollars. To six other daughters, Diadamy, Sarah, Rosabellow, Rosanna, Anne, and Polly, 36 apiece, to be paid by son Joseph to Diadamy, Sarah, Rosabellow, and Rosanna within a year after testator's decease and to Anne and Polly when they are eighteen. To sons Welcome, Rufus, George, Pardon, and Ezekiel £3 each, to be paid to them by son Joseph, under whose care they are to remain until they are twenty-one, and testator orders son Joseph to bind them out to trades. To son Sylvester £60, to be paid to him at twenty-one, and he is to be under the care of Joseph. Residue of lands and estate to son Joseph, saving that wife Rosannah is to have the use and improvement of the estate as long as she remains a widow. Executors: Dr. Harding Harris and son Joseph Sprague.

The widow, Rosannah (Striven) Sprague, was married soon afterwards to Samuel Kilton; but since the testator had made Joseph guardian of the other children, no other guardian was appointed by the Court.

In this will no son Archibald is mentioned. Since in a will in which the children are provided for so explicitly it is not likely that one child would be omitted, it is evident that Archibald changed his name when he ran away; and it is therefore necessary to identify him with one of the sons mentioned in the will.

In 1803 Joseph Sprague died. In his will he mentions his brother Sylvester Sprague, his son Charles Sampson Sprague, his wife Sarah and her father Theophilus Blackmar (the latter is made executor), and also the legacies left by his father Rufus Sprague that are to be paid to the children who are still under age and have not yet received them. Theophilus Blackmar was appointed administrator of the rest of Rufus Sprague's estate, and the following arrangements about guardians were made. George Sprague, son of Rufus Sprague of Johnston, deceased, a minor over fourteen and under twenty-one, chose Benjamin Atwood for his guardian, 12 Feb. 1803. Sylvester Sprague and Pardon Sprague, over fourteen and under twenty-one, chose, 12 Feb. 1803, Oliver Borden for their guardian; and later, 4 June 1803, they chose Ebenezer Sprague for their guardian. Benjamin Atwood was appointed, 12 Feb. 1803, guardian to Polly Sprague and Ezekiel Sprague (the two children are named in this order), children of Rufus Sprague, late of Johnston, deceased, minors under fourteen. It appears, therefore, that Ezekiel Sprague was the only son for whom a guardian was appointed, and that all the other sons were of an age that entitled them to change their guardians, if they so desired, and thus in a measure to control their own destinies.

The birth of only one of these children of Rufus Sprague is recorded, that of George, the entry having been made when he was twenty-four years old; but after a careful weighing of all the evidence the following list of children and dates seems correct:

i. Judah, b. abt. 1767; m. 30 Dec. 1787 James Helme.
ii. Joseph, b. abt. 1769; aged 21 by 1794; d. 1803; m. Sarah Blackmar.
iii. Diaalamy, b. before 1776 and probably abt. 1771.
iv. Sarah, b. before 1776 and probably abt. 1773.
v. Rosabellow (probably twin), b. before 1776 and probably abt. 1775.
vi. Rosanna (probably twin), b. before 1776 and probably abt. 1775.
vii. Welcome, b. between 1778 and 1782 and probably abt. 1779; resided at Johnston, R. I.; d. 1842; m. (1) Nancy Tift, who d. 1802, aged 19;
m. (2) Ruth ———— viii. Rufus, b. between 1778 and 1782 and probably abt. 1781; m. 2 June 1805 Elizabeth Randall; removed to Warwick, R. I., and thence to Ohio.
ix. Anne, b. between 1776 and 1785 and probably abt. 1783.
x. Sylvester, b. between 1782 and 1789 and probably abt. 1785; d. 13 Jan.
1821, in 36th year; m. 21 Oct. 1806 Evelina C. Gilmore; removed before 1815 to Providence, R. I.
xi. George, b. 18 Aug. 1786; m. Lydia Latham, dau. of Laban; removed to Ashford, Conn.

Historical Intelligence

Standish. — The unpublished deeds relating to Standish lands in Lancashire, England, which were mentioned on page 109 of the present volume of the Register, will be printed in the Register for October 1914, as part of an article entitled
"Some Recent Investigations concerning the Ancestry of Capt. Myles Standish."

Bacon. — Thomas Williams Baldwin, 41 Hawthorne Street, Cambridge, Mass., will publish in the course of 1913 a genealogical work on the family of Michael Bacon, who was baptized at Winston, England, 6 Dec. 1579 and died at Dedham, Mass., 18 Apr. 1618.

Early Settlers of New Jersey. — Otta E. Monnette, 3101 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, Cal., is compiling a genealogy covering the first two or three generations of the families of the early settlers of Piscataway, Woodbridge, and Elizabethtown, N. J., towns which were settled largely by colonists from New England. Mr. Monnette asks for the cooperation of all who are able to furnish information about these families.

Genealogies in Preparation. — Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence, and death. All names should be given in full if possible.
No initials should be used when the full name is known.

Briggs. — Clement, born probably in London, England, about 1600, and other Briggs families, by Charles H. Briggs, 12-22 Old Colony Building, Minneapolis, Minn.

Gray. — Capt. John, born at Dover, N. H., 26 Mar. 1743, died at Embden, Me., 25 Mar. (or Dec.) 1825, eldest son of George Gray of Dover, N. H., and Wiscasset, Me. (who was born 1720 and died 25 Mar. 1755), and his wife Martha (James), by C. P. Stevens, 127 1/2 North Broadway, Shawnee, Okla.

Trecullic. — Mark, of Boston, 1724, mariner, born probably in London, England, died, probably in Boston, about 1733-34, and Thomas, of Boston, 1707, mariner, born probably in England, by Mrs. Lora A. W. Underhill, 16 Beals Street, Brookline, Mass. (Corrected notice.)

At the period when the Newdigate genealogy was levied, a fine was "an instrument of record (improperly called a deed) of an amicable composition or final agreement made in a formal fictitious suit between parties by their own consent, without real controversy, concerning lands, tenements, etc. by the consent or license of the King or his Justices in the Court of Common Pleas. It is called a fine because it makes a final agreement and end of all controversy."

THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER

OCTOBER, 1914

WILLIAM SANFORD HILLS

By Thomas Barnes Hitchcock, A.B., of Boston, Mass.

WILLIAM SANFORD HILLS, a resident member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society from 1895 until 1913 and a life member since 1 January of the latter year, died at his home in Boston, Mass., 6 May 1914, in the eighty-eighth year of his age. He was born at Belfast, Me., 5 July 1826, the eldest child of Joel and Abigail (Hawes) Hills.

He was of Massachusetts stock throughout. Of some eighty ancestors who have been identified and located, for seven generations back, all but seven lived at some time in their lives in this State. He traced his paternal ancestry back through Joel7 (his father), Samuel, Jabez, Jabez, Samuel, and Joseph2 to the immigrant Joseph1 Hills, who was baptized in the parish of Great Burstead, co. Essex, England, 3 March 1602/3, the son of George Hilles, and came to New England as the "undertaker" of the voyage of the Susan and Ellen, which arrived at Boston 17 July 1638. Joseph1 Hills settled first in Charlestown, but later moved to "Mystic Side" (now Malden). He soon became active in public affairs, was selectman in 1644, and from 1646 to 1664 he represented this section in the General Court. His greatest public service was performed as the leading member of the committee that in 1648 reported to the General Court the first codification of the laws of the Colony. He died at Newbury, Mass., 5 February 1687/8. Mr. Hills's grandfather, Samuel,6 born at Pawtucket, R. I., 14 February 1760, was one of the earliest settlers in Union, Me., where he died 5 August 1829. His father, Joel,7 was born at Union 20 April 1795, and was in business there for several years before he removed to Belfast in 1825. On 1 September of that year he married at Franklin, Mass., Abigail Hawes, who was born at Franklin 6 April 1797 and died at Newton, Mass., 3 July 1881, the daughter of Levi6 (Josiah,4 Daniel,3 Daniel,2 Edward1) and Pamela (Clark) Hawes. A few years later the family removed to Bangor, Me., and finally, in 1847, to Boston, where Joel Hills died 25 September 1849.

William Sanford Hills attended the public schools in the lower grades at Bangor, was sent afterwards to Hampden Academy, Hampden, Me., and then to the nearby academy at Freedom, Me., and still later attended the Bangor High School. At Freedom Academy he came under the strong formative influence of the principal, Rev. George Field, a man of splendid personality and high ideals, who later gained recognition as a preacher of marked ability while serving as minister of the old Salem Street church in Boston.

For a short time after leaving school Mr. Hills was a bookseller in Bangor, but at the age of twenty-one entered the employ of a Massachusetts firm engaged in the manufacture of scientific instruments. He rose rapidly with this house, and was occupying a position of responsibility when in 1849 the death of his father, who owned a storage warehouse and a wholesale flour business in Boston, threw upon him and his brother Joel the conduct of this establishment. In 1855 he temporarily withdrew from the flour business and made the trip around the Horn to California in the clipper ship Staffordshire. He took with him the first sewing machine ever seen on the Pacific coast. After two years of business experience in California he rejoined his brother in the flour trade in Boston, in which he continued for nearly fifty years, until 1 January 1894. The house of Hills & Brother was one of the ninety-nine firms and individuals to sign in 1855 the original agreement forming the Boston Corn Exchange, which was later merged in the Boston Chamber of Commerce; and it is an interesting fact that Thomas A. Edison, while working as a clerk in Hills & Brother’s Boston store, perfected his device which made it possible to send more than one message at the same time over a telegraph wire.

Before 1886 Mr. Hills began to have trouble with his eyes, and in 1894 he became totally blind. His fondness for books and reading made this affliction — tragic enough in any case — doubly so in his. But the cheerfulness and optimism of his character were in no wise abated during the remaining years of his life.

He had always had an interest in the history of his family, and he now determined to compile the genealogy of the great number of families of his own name. On this task he spent ten years, and accomplished it by the aid of secretaries and an organization which he formed and which was called the "Hills Family Genealogical and Historical Association." During this period he was a frequent visitor to the Library of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, and he often said that his interest in genealogy prolonged his life. The results of all the efforts he set on foot were embodied in a volume of more than 700 pages, called "The Hills Family in America," which was published in 1906. The late Thomas Hills of South Boston was president of the Association and editor of the genealogy.

Mr. Hills showed his great interest in the work of the New England Historic Genealogical Society in a practical manner by becoming one of the largest contributors to the fund for the erection of the Society’s new building, and in recognition of his aid the Council named the consultation room adjoining the Library The William Sanford Hills Memorial Room, and the Society elected him as a member of the Council for the three years’ term beginning in 1913.

Mr. Hills had a deep interest in books, not only from the point of view of the collector, but as a true lover of literature. At one time his library contained not only rare editions of standard authors but choice volumes that appeal peculiarly to the bibliophile, including several Caxtons.

In 1887 Mr. Hills and a few friends of similar tastes formed the club that three years later was incorporated as The Club of Odd Volumes. He founded its library by presenting it with a large collection of works of considerable value, many of them unusual and highly prized. Though unable to take part in the affairs of the organization in later years, he was remembered with affection by the older members, and at the time of his death was one of five honorary members.

In the years 1866 and 1867 he served on the Boston Common Council. He was a thirty-second degree Mason of Columbian Lodge, Boston, a member of the Bostonian Society, of the Society of Founders and Patriots of America, of the Boston Art Club, and of several other social and patriotic organizations.

His favorite recreations were hunting, fishing, and sailing. Blindness, of course, cut him off from the first, but he continued to enjoy the others until but a short time before his death.

Mr. Hills married in Boston, 26 December 1860, Cornelia Rodman Darrow, who was born at Edgartown, Mass., 12 July 1835, daughter of Charles Smith and Abigail Ferguson (Pease) Darrow. Mrs. Hills died in Boston several years before her husband, without children.

SOME RECENT INVESTIGATIONS

By REV. THOMAS CRUDDAS PORTEUS, B.A., B.D., of Coppull, Lancashire, Eng.

Knowing the wide-spread interest that is aroused by any discoveries relating to the English homes and connections of those who came to New England in the Mayflower, the writer of this article submits to the readers of the Register the results of some of his researches in the history of the numerous Standish families of Lancashire; and he does this in the belief that he has identified the lands in England to which Capt. Myles Standish in his will laid claim and that in all probability he has determined the particular branch of the Lancashire Standishes to which the Plymouth soldier belonged. At the end of the article will be found a tentative pedigree, showing in tabular form a probable line of ancestry for Capt. Myles Standish and the probable connection between that branch of the family from which, in the opinion of the writer, Capt. Myles sprang and the main line of Standish of Standish. Copies or abstracts of twenty-eight recently discovered deeds are added, from which the history of the lands in question has been traced.*

The concluding paragraph in the last will and testament of Capt. Myles Standish, which is dated 7 Mar. 1655 [1655/6] and was exhibited before the Court at Plymouth 4 May 1657, reads as follows:

9 I give unto my son & heire aparent Alexander Standish all my lands as heire apparent by lawfull Decent in Ormistick Borsconge Wrightington Maudsley Newburrow Crawston and the Ille of man and given to mee as right heire by lawfull Decent but Surruptuously Detained from me my great G(ran)dfather being a 2 seed or younger brother from the house of Standish of Standish†

Nathaniel Morton, in his "New-Englands Memorall," printed in 1669, about thirteen years after the death of Capt. Myles Standish, writes:

This Year [1656] Captain Miles Standish expired his mortal life: He was a Gentleman, born in Lancashire, and was Heir-Apparent unto a great Estate of Lands and Livings, surreptitiously detained from him; his great Grandfather being a Second or Younger Brother from the House of Standish.‡

Hubbard, in his "General History of New England," p. 556 (second edition, 1848), says that Capt. Standish "was allied to the

* The writer desires to acknowledge his indebtedness to Mrs. Tempest, who has made a new translation of the deeds of H. Standish, Esq., and to Dr. Farrer, for generous permission to study and copy from documents in his valuable collection.
† The will is printed in The Mayflower Descendant, vol. 3, pp. 153-155 (from Plymouth Colony Wills and Inventories, vol. 2, part 1, pp. 37 ff.); also in Register, vol. 5, pp. 335-336, and in The Standishes of America, by Myles Standish, A.M., M.D., Boston, 1893, pp. 5-7.‡
noble house of Standish, in Lancashire, inheriting some of the virtues of that honorable family, as well as the name."

Alexander Standish, the eldest son of Capt. Myles, in his will dated 21 Feb. 1701/2 and proved 10 Aug. 1702, refers to the English lands mentioned in his father's will in the following terms:

Also my will is That whatsoever Estate Either in New England or in old which I have Committed into ye hands of Robert orchard to Recover in England by letters of Attorney from under my hand Seal And John Rogers of Boston in New England by a letter of Attorney from under my hand & seal Be Recovered after my decease my will is that my wife have her third part & ye Remainder to be divided Equally betweene Thomas Standish Ichabod Standish & desire Standish.*

It is clear, therefore, that Capt. Myles Standish believed that he was descended from the family of Standish of Standish, co. Lancaster, and that lands to which he was heir in certain Lancashire places and in the Isle of Man had been "Surruptuously [i.e., surreptitiously] Detained" from him; that his fellow colonist, Nathaniel Morton, writing not more than thirteen years after Capt. Myles's death, repeated in briefer form the statements of the will, omitting the names of the places in which the lands in question were situated but adding the important information that Capt. Myles was born in Lancashire; that Rev. William Hubbard, writing also before the close of the seventeenth century, connected Capt. Myles with the house of Standish in Lancashire; and that Alexander Standish took steps—evidently without success—towards the recovery of the English estates to which his father had claimed that he was entitled.

Notwithstanding the clues furnished by the records which have been quoted above, no one has yet been able to determine the exact relationship of Capt. Myles Standish to the Standishes of Lancashire, previous investigators having failed to prove a line of descent for him from the Standishes of Standish or to connect him positively with the Standishes of Duxbury. Longfellow, who in his "Courtship of Miles Standish" boldly assigns Capt. Myles to the Duxbury Standishes, may have been influenced by the name Duxbury which was given to the town in the Plymouth Colony in which Capt. Myles finally settled; but he appears to be ignorant of the fact that the manor house of the Standishes of Duxbury was not called Duxbury Hall in the time of Capt. Myles, but was then known as "The Peel," and for many years afterwards as Duxbury Park. The house known as Duxbury Hall belonged to a younger branch of the family of Duxbury of Duxbury and was sold to Ralph Standish of Standish 20 Jan., 15 Henry VIII [1523/4]. (Earwaker, Charters and Deeds relative to the Standish Family of Standish and Duxbury, co. Lancaster,† ccxxvi, ccxxxiii, cccix, cccx.) Longfellow, however, was not writing history when he composed his poem, and further refutation of his statements is unnecessary. In spite of the vast amount of research and of speculation in regard to the problems of Capt. Myles's pedigree, of his religion, and of the lands which he claimed, no mention of any Myles Standish of the period of time to which Capt. Myles belonged has been found in Lancashire.*

At this point it may be desirable to examine a little more closely the paragraph which has been quoted from the will of Capt. Myles Standish, and which is certainly a strange mixture of definiteness and vagueness. The claim of descent from Standish of Standish is plain enough, and suggests that the testator knew of other branches of the Standish family. Yet the statement that Myles’s great-grandfather was a second or younger brother of this house is dubious as it stands (the words second and younger may be equivalents or alternatives), and is more doubtful if the term great-grandfather is not used literally, to designate an ancestor three generations back, but is used, in a loose, general sense, for a remote ancestor. That the Captain did use the expression in this loose way seems plain to the writer; for the lands to which he refers were, as will be shown below, in the hands of a younger branch at least as early as 1480, while Ralph Standish, the squire of Standish three generations back from Myles, died in 1538, and his (Ralph’s) father, Sir Alexander, died in 1507. Why does Myles not give the name of this great-grandfather? He does not even give the name of his father. Again, the names of the places where the “Detained” lands were situated are definitely stated, though the words “and the Isle of man” are somewhat vague. The Captain had been away from England very long when he made his will; yet he recollects accurately the Lancashire localities where his branch of the family had tenements. But again, he gives no particulars. He does not state the acreage of the lands, nor their annual value, nor how they were bounded, nor of what lords they were held. “Sur- ruptuously Detained,” too, is a curious phrase, the writing of one with whom the sword was mightier than the pen. The word surreptitiously no doubt indicates an act carried out by fraud rather than by force. And we naturally ask, By whom? By what means? On what pretense? Have any attempts been made to recover possession, and with what success? On these points the will is silent. Capt. Myles seems to take it for granted that his son Alexander knows all the particulars, and may be trusted to take the proper steps. But having told us so much, why did he not tell us more? He made a public protest against the fraud of those who disinherited him; he aired his grievance, so to speak; for he must have known that the will would be read before the Court, and so made known to the Colony.

* One possible exception to this statement should be noted. William Prescott Greenlaw, Esq., Librarian of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, has called attention to a Miles Standish of Duxbury, who is mentioned in the Publications of the Lancashire and Cheshire Record Society, vol. 20, p. 60, note, where he is said to have married, not earlier than 1614, Margaret, daughter and sole heiress of George Ireland of Southworth, co. Lancaster, and widow of Cuthbert Clifton of Westby and Clifton, to whom she had been married in 1614. It appears also from this note that Cuthbert Clifton, the former husband of Margaret Ireland, was a colonel in the army of the King, was taken prisoner at Liverpool in 1614, and died a.p. soon afterwards, and that Margaret (Ireland) Standish married thirdly Thomas Whaley of Scroveton, co. Notts. The editor of the volume (which contains Lancashire Royalist Composition Papers) gives no authority for his statements about Miles Standish of Duxbury and his wife. The writer of this article, however, believes that Miles is here a mere slip of the pen for Alexander; for according to the pedigrees of Standish of Duxbury the second husband of this Margaret Ireland was the Alexander Standish who died in 1647.
But something sealed his lips as to the names of the transgressors and the nature of their offense. And we who speculate on the matter to-day almost feel that the particulars we should like to know have been “Surprcutously Detained” from us. Take another phrase, “given to mee as right heire.” By whom? How given? Heir to whom? The emphasis on “by lawfull Decent,” the words occurring twice in the short paragraph, might almost suggest that the Captain’s legitimacy had been denied by those who withheld the lands.

It may be remarked in passing that no evidence as to Capt. Myles Standish’s descent is deducible from the names he gave to his sons or from his religious position. He called his eldest son Alexander. The name of the manorial lord of Duxbury when Myles sailed in the Mayflower was Alexander; the latter died in 1622, and was succeeded by his son Thomas. But another Alexander was manorial lord of Standish from 1610 until 1622. The name of Myles’s daughter Lora is reminiscent of a Standish of Standish alliance in 1398 or thereabouts, when Lawrence de Standish married Lora, daughter of Sir Roger Pilkington. (Mrs. Tempest, Standish Deeds, no. 115.) But no inference can be deduced from these names.

As to Capt. Myles’s religious position, Hubbard, in writing of the military affairs of the Plymouth colonists, describes him “as a person of that company, though at that time not of their church.” (General History of New England, p. 63.) The list of his books contained in the inventory of his estate shows that he had, in addition to other books, three Bibles, a Testament, a Psalm-book, Calvin’s Institutes, and a number of controversial works.* We may, perhaps, infer from them that he was not a Roman Catholic. It is unlikely that the Pilgrims would have put him in office if he had been a Roman Catholic, or that he would have attended their services, as the records of the Plymouth Colony show that he did. His will reveals a devout man, nevertheless. He exhorts the supervisors to do the office of Christian love to his wife and children and to be helpful to them by Christian counsel and advice, and ends this request with the words, “though neither they nor I shalbee able to recompence I Doe not Doubt but the Lord will.” Neither Puritan nor Roman Catholic, yet devout. What was his position? Was it not that of a large number of English people of those days, opposed to extremes, and content with the compromise represented by the reformed Church of England?

The statement is made by Tudor Jenks and others concerning the two great branches of the family that “at the Reformation the two separated [in religious opinion], the Standish Hall family remaining Romanists, while the Duxbury branch became Protestants.” (Jenks, Captain Myles Standish, p. 33.) This needs qualification. Edward Standish of Standish, who died in 1610, though suspected, was never a convicted recusant, and Ralph Standish of Standish, his grandson, stated in 1652 that he was neither recusant nor delinquent. (Calendar of State Papers, Compounding Committee, vol. 4, p. 2574.) But soon afterwards the family of Standish of Standish Hall became avowedly Roman Catholic.

The accompanying map shows the situation of five of the Lancashire places that are mentioned in Capt. Myles Standish's will and of many other places that are referred to in this article.

PART OF THE COUNTY PALATINE OF LANCASTER

From Camden's Britannia, Edition of 1695

*This map is three-fourths as large as the corresponding portion of the map in Camden's Britannia, and is on a scale of about 6½ miles to the inch. "The Pele," south of Charley (Chorley), appears on the map in the edition of the Britannia published in 1637 as "the Pele of Duxbury," while "The Pele" near the southeastern corner of the map, a short distance north of the River Mersey, is in the edition of 1637 called "the Pile." All of the six Lancashire places mentioned in the will of Capt. Myles Standish are given on this map except Maudsley (Mawdesley), and this place adjoins Bispham. Coppull, the residence of the writer of this article, does not appear on this map, but it lies north of Standish and adjoining it on the main road indicated.

The Lancashire places named in the Captain's will are undoubtedly townships, not parishes. Croston is the township of that name, not the parish. If the parish were intended, Mawdesley would not have been named, as it is a township in Croston parish. Similarly, Ormskirk is mentioned as a township, for Newburgh is a hamlet in Lathom township and is in the parish of Ormskirk. Burscough is also a township in Ormskirk parish. Wrightington is a township in the ancient parish of Eccleston. Duxbury Hall was never in the parish of Chorley, as some have supposed, but was always in the ancient parish of Standish.
The fundamental error of American writers on the subject of Capt. Myles's ancestry is to take it for granted that there were only two branches of the Standish family in Lancashire in the days of Queen Elizabeth. There were two chief branches, but there were also a score of other branches. Then, or before that time, Standishes were found in all the hundreds of Lancashire. But in the two hundreds of Leyland and West Derby they were most in evidence. In Leyland hundred one branch held an estate in Croston and Mawdesley and elsewhere, and this branch may prove to have some bearing on the history of Capt. Myles. The parish of Standish (which originally contained ten townships, Standish with Langtree, Shevington, Coppull, Charnock Richard, Worthington, Welsh Whittle, Duxbury, Adlington, Anderton, and Heath Charnock) was dotted over with settlements of the family. There were several households in Standish township, several in Duxbury, several in Shevington. In West Derby hundred there were Standishes in Wigan parish, in Walton-on-the-Hill, in Prescot, and in Ormskirk. They are mentioned in more than a dozen different parish registers and chapelry registers in the county. Many wills, inquisitions post mortem, fines, and deeds relating to these various branches were searched for some trace of Capt. Myles's descent and inheritance; and at last, after following many a false trail that ended in failure, the writer made a discovery that enables him, as he believes, to set forth the history of the lands claimed by Capt. Myles in his will and to point out the particular Standish family to which the Plymouth warrior in all probability belonged.

In the year 1912 the writer of this article, while turning over the pages of a volume of manuscripts in the Chetham Library at Manchester, in a search for something else, came upon this brief in a calendar of deeds:

There flashed at once into the writer's mind the identity of these townships or hamlets with the places named in the will of Capt. Myles Standish; and further search led to the discovery, not easily and all at once but gradually and from various sources, of about thirty transcribed deeds* and a host of other references, all pertaining to the estate of a line of Standishes descended from the stock at Standish Hall but as far back as the fifteenth century quite distinct from the parent house. These deeds do not mention Myles Standish; but in the mind of the writer they leave no doubt that, in so far as circumstantial evidence can give certainty, Capt. Myles Standish belonged to a certain branch of the Standishes that was settled from 1440, if not earlier, at Ormskirk, in the hundred of West Derby. The six places in Lancashire to which Capt. Myles refers in his will were the places in which the Standishes of this branch held land, and they seem to have held nowhere else. A clinching bit of evidence is found in the fact that some members of this branch settled in the Isle of Man. In this article, therefore, the writer purposes to present evidence in support of the following theories: first, that Capt. Myles Standish did not spring immediately from the Standish Hall stock; secondly, that it appears that he did not come from the Standishes of Duxbury Park; and thirdly, that he was one of the Standishes of Ormskirk.

The chief reason for concluding that Capt. Myles did not derive descent immediately from the family of Standish of Standish is the locality or "lie" of the lands mentioned in his will. The matter may be put in two ways: first, he did not claim tenements in the townships where the Standishes of Standish held most land; secondly, in the majority of the places which he names they held no estate. Our sources of information concerning the Standish possessions consist of deeds, final concords, and inquisitions post mortem.

The family of Standish of Standish (the parent stock), as the name denotes, had their chief estate in the township or townships of Standish with Langtree. Ralph Standish, who died in 1538, had the manor of Standish and 22 houses there, and also 3 mills, 200 acres of arable land, 100 acres of meadow, 200 acres of pasture, 100 acres of wood, and 200 acres of heath and moor. (Lancashire Inquisitions Post Mortem, vol. 8, no. 21.) By the time of Edward Standish, who died in 1610, the estate was somewhat reduced; but his inquisition post mortem mentions some 330 acres in Standish. (Ib., vol. 20, no. 7, printed in Publications of the Lancashire and Cheshire Record Society, vol. 3, pp. 185-191.) Now Capt. Myles did not claim a single acre in this will, which was the very headquarters of the Standish Hall stock. Similarly, they held very extensively in Shevington, from early times claiming a fourth part of the manor; the Edward just mentioned had seven houses and land there. Very early also they obtained a house and land in Wigan. The aforesaid Ralph acquired extensive property in Duxbury and in Coppull. None of these estates are referred to in the Captain's will. Again, by marriages with heiresses, lands in other parts of Lancashire, such as Chadderton, Glodwick, and Rochdale, were from time to time added to the Standish possessions; but not an inch of these dowry lands was mentioned by Capt. Myles. This indicates that he made no claim to the chief part of the estate held by the manorial lords of Standish.

There are, however, two places named in the Captain's will in which the parent stock had a small estate, viz., Ormskirk and Wrightington.

The family of Standish of Standish had only one tenement in the parish of Ormskirk, and the history of this tenement seems fairly clear. Kuerden records that "Henry le Waley gave William de Standish my burgage in Ormskirk bounded . . ." (Kuerden, Fol. MS., p. 10, no. 44.) Henry was rector both of Standish and (at one time) of Aughton near Ormskirk, and the grant must have been made early in the fourteenth century. Burgage was a kind of tenure in ancient towns at a fixed yearly rent, a sort of town socage. The burgage at Ormskirk is mentioned among the Standish possessions from time to time. Alexander de Standish held it at the time of his death in 1445.
It is referred to in a Standish settlement about five years later. (Ib., p. 13, no. 53.) Ralph Standish, who died in 1538, held a cottage, etc., in Ormskirk of the King in burgage, and the clear annual value was estimated at 12d. In the inquisition after the death of Ralph, who died under age in 1546, the holding is described as a cottage in Ormskirk of the value of 12d., held of the King in free burgage as of the late monastery of Burscough. The Standishes of Standish are mentioned as tenants in the various rentals of Burscough Priory. Edward, who succeeded the Ralph last mentioned, appears to have sold this property. For in 2 and 3 Philip and Mary [1555–6] Edward Standish of Standish granted Peter Stanley a tenement in Commonfield in Ormskirk. (Kuerden MSS., vol. 2, fo. 271b.) The inquisition after the death of Edward (1610) does not mention any possessions in Ormskirk. The Standishes of Standish did not hold land in Burscough, or in Newburgh in Lathom, the other places in Ormskirk parish mentioned in the Captain’s will; and therefore their possession of a cottage in Ormskirk town must not mislead us into concluding that Capt. Myles was claiming their estate. Similarly, the fact that the Standishes of Standish held in Wrightington 4 acres of land and 2 acres of pasture in 1546 may be ignored, although that township is named in the Captain’s will.

It is clear, therefore, that the lands that the manorial family of Standish held and the lands that Capt. Myles claimed lie for the most part in different localities, and that they never owned land in most of the townships that he names. There is no evidence that they held in Burscough, Mawdesley, Newburgh, Croston, or that they had any land in the Isle of Man. There is indeed a Burscough family charter, dated 2 Henry VI [1423–4], among the Standish evidences which Mr. Earwaker published (Earwaker, cxvii), a settlement of lands in Burscough and Litham (Lathom) by Catherine, late wife of Richard de Burscough, or [?on] Richard her son, with remainder to Alice, daughter of Gilbert de Standish; but the lands in reversion never reached the Standishes of Standish, or they would have been mentioned in their settlements andquisitions.

The holdings of the Standishes of Duxbury may next be examined. It is with this branch that Capt. Myles has been commonly but, as it seems to the writer, erroneously identified by the majority of writers. They acquired the manor of Duxbury from the family of that name, early in the fourteenth century, in a romantic way. Henry de Duxbury had taken part in the rebellion of Adam Banastre and was imprisoned at Lancaster, but was suffered to go about the town. He granted a rent from his lands to Hugh de Standish, who undertook to aid in his delivery. (Assize Roll 425, m. 6.) This concession paved the way for further surrenders. The connection of Hugh with the parent stock at Standish is not quite clear, but there is evidence that his grandparents were members of the Standish family. His father, whose surname he sometimes used, was Robert de Haydock, rector of Standish. (Kuerden MSS., vol. 2, fo. 145b, nos. 63, 69, 70; and account of Duxbury in Victoria County Histories, Lancashire.) The chief estate of the Standishes of Duxbury from very early times was in Duxbury, Heapey, and Bradley (in Standish with Langtree). They also held in Heath Charnock, Crosby, and elsewhere. Alexander Standish of Duxbury, who died in 1622, had about 432 acres of various lands in Duxbury, and about 332 acres in Heath Charnock. He held extensively in Heapey and Anglezark. (Lancashire Inquisitions, vol. 24, no. 56, printed in Publications of the Lancashire and Cheshire Record Society, vol. 17, pp. 397-400.) These places are not named in the Captain's will. In the places that are named in the will the Standishes of Duxbury appear not to have had any tenements. This again would seem to prove that, of whatever estates Capt. Myles was defrauded, they were not the property of Standish of Duxbury; and, therefore, presumably, he was not a member of this particular branch of the Standishes.

It must be admitted, however, that this conclusion is not in harmony with the opinion of several American writers, who state that the name of the town of Duxbury in the Plymouth Colony was derived from Duxbury in Lancashire and was given to the New England town because of Capt. Myles Standish's connection with Duxbury Hall.* The late Justin Winsor wrote: "It [the town of Duxbury] received the name of Duxbury out of respect to Captain Standish, from Duxbury Hall, the seat of the Standish family in England" (History of Duxbury, p. 11); but that this was merely Mr. Winsor's personal opinion, unsupported by evidence, may be inferred from another statement by him, that this "undoubtedly is the origin of the name of the New England town" (ib., p. 12), and by his expression of dissent from the opinion of an anonymous writer in Mass. Hist. Soc. Coll., vol. 2, p. 4, who as early as 1793 wrote: "The probable etymology [of the name of the New England town] is Dux and borough, or burrow, as it was then written. It being a grant to the Captain or Leader, it was called his borough." This same anonymous writer, though he records that "Capt. Standish . . . was born in Lancashire in England, and was heir apparent to a great estate," adds to his explanation of the name of the town the significant footnote: "Many towns in Plymouth Colony are called after places in England, from which the first settlers came. Though there is a town of this name in England, it is said, that no persons, who first came to Plymouth, were from that place." The late William Henry Whitmore, in his "Essay on the Origin of the Names of Towns in Massachusetts," Boston, 1873, p. 17 (reprinted from Mass. Hist. Soc. Proceedings, vol. 12), says that Duxbury was named "in compliment to the Standishes of Duxbury Hall; to which family Miles Standish probably claimed relationship." But although Capt. Myles was one of the leading men in the new settlement and was a member of a committee to fix boundaries between Plymouth and Duxbury, it ought not to be taken for granted that the name was his choice; and even if he did choose the name, it does not necessarily follow that Duxbury in England was his birthplace or the home of his family. It is possible that he gave the name Duxbury to the town in the Plymouth Colony in honor of the Park held by an important branch of the Standishes in Lancashire. To the writer, however, it seems that the facts given in the preceding paragraph in regard to the lands held by the Standishes of Duxbury and those mentioned in Capt. Myles’s will are of greater weight as evidence than the conjectures of American writers as to the origin of the name of the New England town.

Before leaving the subject of Capt. Myles’s connection with the Standishes of Duxbury, it may be well to refer to statements that have been made about an alleged mutilation of the page in the parish register of Chorley, co. Lancaster, which is supposed by some to have contained the record of his baptism.

On 17 Aug. 1871 a piece of ground on Captain’s Hill in the New England Duxbury was consecrated as the future site of the imposing monument to Standish which now rises high on that headland. Gen. Horace Binney Sargent was the orator of the day, and in the course of his tribute to the famous Pilgrim captain he declared: “To defeat the title of his line to lands in England, the rent-roll of which is half a million per annum, the hand of fraud is supposed to have defaced the page that contained the parish record of his birth.” (Myles Standish, with an Account of the Exercises of Consecration of the Monument Ground on Captain’s Hill, Boston, 1871, p. 24.)

In Winsor's “History of Duxbury,” Boston, 1849, pp. 96–97, may be found the following account of an attempt on the part of the descendants of Capt. Myles Standish to investigate his claim to estates in England:

“In the fall of 1846, an association was formed among the descendants of Capt. Standish for the purpose of making investigations, and upwards of $3000 were furnished to their agent, I. W. R. Bromley, Esq., who started on his mission in November of that year, and returned in October of the following year, without however accomplishing the object of his search. I have been favored with the perusal of some of his correspondence with the Corresponding Secretary of the Association, and some brief minutes which I have gleaned from them may not be uninteresting. The property, to which it was his object to prove the right of Capt. Standish, comprises large tracts of rich farming lands, including several valuable coal mines, and produces a yearly income of £100,000 or more. From a commission, which was found, appointing Standish to a lieutenancy in Her Majesty's forces on the continent, the date of his birth was found, as also from incidents of his life in New England, which have now become a portion of her history, and from other data in the possession of his descendants, which all led to the conclusion that the year 1684 [sic, 1584] must have been that of his birth. The family seats are situated near the village of Chorley in Lancashire, and the records of this parish were thoroughly investigated from the year 1549 to 1652. And here in connection comes an incident in the researches of Mr. Bromley, which deserves particular attention, and causes the fair conclusion, that Standish was the true and rightful heir to the estates, and that they were truly ‘surreptitiously detained’ from him, and are now enjoyed by those, to whom they do not justly belong.

*Mr. Winsor states also that there had been “several attempts” for the recovery of the property.
The records were all readily deciphered, with the exception of the years 1584 and 1585, the very dates, about which time Standish is supposed to have been born; and the parchment leaf which contained the registers of the births of these years was wholly illegible, and their appearance was such, that the conclusion was at once established, that it had been done purposely with pumice stone or otherwise, to destroy the legal evidence of the parentage of Standish, and his consequent title to the estates thereabout. The mutilation of these pages is supposed to have been accomplished, when about twenty years before, similar inquiries were made by the family in America. The rector of the parish, when afterwards requested by the investigator to certify that the pages were gone, at once suspected his design of discovering the title to the property, and taking advantage of the rigor of the law, (as he had entered as an antiquarian researcher merely,) compelled him to pay the sum of about £15, or suffer imprisonment.

"As it was said that the Captain married his first wife in the Isle of Man, this island was visited with hopes of discovering there his marriage registered, but without success, as no records of a date early enough were to be found. And thus it will be seen that on account of the destruction of all legal proof, the property must remain forever hopelessly irrecoverable."

Winsor’s "History of Duxbury" was published in 1849, very soon after Mr. Bromley’s unsuccessful investigations in England. In Goodwin’s "The Pilgrim Republic," Boston, 1888, p. 452, the story appears in part as follows: "It was found that . . . the leaf for 1584-5, in the Chorley parish-register, had been pumiced so carefully as to leave no trace of the writing, though the record is otherwise complete from 1549 to 1652. This defaced page is not even now open to inspection . . . the rector, finding him [Bromley] searching for Standish’s birth, arrested him under some ancient law, and enforced on him a fine of about £75, with the alternative of imprisonment; and he even refused to certify that the register is illegible at that point. The incumbent of Chorley seems to act as watch-dog for a patron who doubts the soundness of his titles."

The defect in the register is a fact; but the story of the fine puts a strain on one’s credulity,* and the suggestion of fraudulent erasure is remarkable. Why delete the record of several months to blot out one entry? The method would be far from economical. Besides, no person has ever testified to having seen the baptismal entry in the Chorley register before the alleged defacement; there is no proof that it ever was there. The state of the Chorley parish register is not accurately described in these reports. The fact is that the top of page 39 has been torn off, and that in other parts of the same page the writing cannot be deciphered. This page 39 contains a portion only of the entries for 1584, the alleged date of Capt. Myles’s birth. The two pages immediately preceding contain baptismal entries for the early part of the year, down to and including 8 May, and these are

* Dr. Myles Standish of Boston informs the editor of the Register that Bromley merely claimed that he was threatened with a fine. It will be noticed that the £15 of Mr. Winsor's narrative has become £75 (instead of $75) in Mr. Goodwin's book.
Ancestry of Capt. Myles Standish

quite readable. Nor is the torn page altogether illegible. In the entries thereon for May, June, and July no names of persons can be read. In July and August fragments can be deciphered, while from 23 Sept. to the end of the year almost all is distinguishable. Although all of the record for 1585 is not legible, enough can be deciphered to show that no baptism of a boy named Myles is entered under that year. It is inaccurate to say, as Goodwin does, that "the record is otherwise complete from 1549 to 1652." There are many gaps in the register, the most serious being the lack of any entries for the years 1553–1556 inclusive and 1599–1611 inclusive. Mice and damp have wrought great havoc in other pages. Neglect in the remote past rather than fraud is responsible for the difficulties of the transcriber. (Cf. The Registers of the Parish Church of Chorley, published by the Lancashire Parish Register Society, 1910.)*

In sending Mr. Bromley to investigate their claims to Standish lands, the Standish descendants in America had, no doubt, the Duxbury Park estates in mind; for Frank Hall Standish had died in 1840 and had been succeeded by a second cousin, William Standish Carr, who assumed the name of Standish. When Mr. Bromley arrived at Chorley he would naturally be received with suspicion. The disturbances of 1813–14 would be still remembered. For, after the death of the last baronet in 1812, one Thomas Standish, a weaver or collier of Blackrod, with a party of colliers, took possession (4 June 1813) of Duxbury Hall, claiming that he was lawful heir. (Cf. Preston Guardian, 15 June 1901.) Though he was evicted by a troop of dragoons, tried, and sent to Lancaster gaol, yet popular sympathy was on his side, and for long afterwards demonstrations were made in his favor. No doubt certain claims of this kind would be revived when Frank Hall Standish died unmarried in 1840. These disputes might account for the discouragement Mr. Bromley received when he went to consult the Chorley parish register in behalf of the descendants of Capt. Myles Standish. As far as the Duxbury Park estates are concerned, Capt. Myles did not mention Duxbury in his will, but he did claim something else which the Standishes of Duxbury never possessed.

It seems probable, therefore, that Capt. Myles Standish was not a great-great-grandson of the squire of Standish or of the squire of Duxbury. So much for negative conclusions. But there is good evidence that he was connected with another family of the name, viz., the family of Standish of Ormskirk; for, as has already been stated, the Ormskirk Standishes had an estate in the very Lancashire townships mentioned in the Captain's will, and probably nowhere else, and in the time of Myles an offshoot of this Ormskirk branch was settled in the Isle of Man. From the copies of deeds, collected by the present writer and numbered by him,† with a few references

* Dr. Myles Standish states that in 1912 it was entirely plain to him that the defect in the Chorley register was due to an erasure. The writer, however, calls attention to the fact that many other pages present the same appearance as p. 39, and in his judgment this may be due to wear while in a damp condition. The editors of the transcription make no mention of erasure. The register has been cleverly restored (the torn pages having been mended with new parchment) and splendidly bound.

to other sources, it is now possible to give some account of this family.

The first member of the family whom the writer has been able to trace is William Standish of Ormskirk, who was concerned in lawsuits in 1444 and 1446. About the same time or a little earlier a Huan Standish is found; and if Huan is equivalent to Ewan and Evan (Vanus), these two men may be the father and son who are mentioned in a deed of 1481 (vide infra, Deeds, no. 1). Huan Standish was a witness at Ormskirk on the Feast of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary, 15 Henry VI [2 Feb. 1436/7]. (Towneley MSS., DD. 210, 241.) Ewan (?Huan) Standish was witness to an oath in Ormskirk church in 1446. Another witness was one Thomas Crofte of Ormskirk, yeoman, a man of credence, good name and fame, and above 80 years of age. This is interesting, as the Standish and Croft families afterwards intermarried. (Scarishbrick Charters, no. 162, in Transactions of the Historic Society of Lancashire and Cheshire, N.S., vol. 14.) A third member of the family, Hugh (Hugo), was prominent in the locality somewhat later. Hugh Standish of Ormskirk, gent., was accused of breaking into the closes of Henry Atherton, who had lands in Bickerstaffe, Burseough, Ormskirk, etc. The case was tried in Lent, 16 Edward IV [1476/7]. (Lancaster Plea Rolls, no. 44.) Hugh Standish of Ormskirk, gent., was also accused with Elizabeth Fletcher, widow, and William Fletcher, of having disseised James Ormskirk. He was tried in Lent, 23 Edward IV [1483]. (Lancaster Plea Rolls, no. 57, m. 15d.) He appears to have varied these lively proceedings with acts of piety; for Thomas, Earl of Derby, and others founded a chantry at the altar of Our Lady in Ormskirk church, at some time during the latter half of the fifteenth century, and among the founders appears the name of Hugh Standish. The chantry was endowed with lands in Aughton and Ormskirk. (Valor Ecclesiasticus, vol. 5, p. 223, published by the Record Commission; Victoria County Histories, Lancashire, vol. 3, p. 246, note.) It may perhaps be conjectured that Hugh was a younger son of William Standish and that his elder brother Huan or Evan renounced his rights because he had left the locality.

The first reference to the family estate occurs in 1481, when only two places, Ormskirk and Newburgh, are mentioned. The messuages, lands, tenements, rents, and services there were on 20 May, 21 Edward IV [1481], in possession of the Hugh already referred to, and a certain Evan (Vanus) Standish of Warrington, son of William Standish, deceased, released to Hugh all his right and claim to them. Hamo (?Thomas) Atherton, Esq., Geoffrey Hulme, Gilbert Gerard, and others were witnesses to this quitclaim deed. (Vide infra, Deeds, no. 1.)

Twenty years afterwards the family estate was held by Gilbert Standish of Ormskirk, gentleman. By a deed dated at Ormskirk 11 June, 17 Henry VII [1502], the estate, now described as messuages, cottages, lands, and tenements, with appurtenances, was settled on Gilbert for life, with remainder to Robert Standish, his son and heir, and the heirs of the said Robert and Margaret Croft, daughter and heir of Robert Croft.* Ormskirk and Newburgh are still the only two places named where lands are held. This settlement was witnessed by Sir Henry Halsall, Knight, Thomas Hesketh, Esq., Thomas Atherton, Esq., and others. Peter Gerard and Richard Hulme, clerks, were feoffees. (Deeds, no. 2.)

The prior and canons of Burscough had lands in Ormskirk, and from their rentals we learn that the Standish family of Ormskirk held part at least of their land there from the Priory. In the rental for the year 1524 "the widow of Robert Standish" appears as a tenant. We may deduce from this that Robert, son of Gilbert, had died before this time; and, possibly, that his heir was a minor and that the land was held in his mother's name. (Duchy of Lancaster Rentals, bundle 5, no. 16.)

The brief of a rental of the lands of Margaret Standish, Robert's widow, shows that in 1529 the estate was located not only in Ormskirk and Newburgh, as formerly, but in Burscough, Croston, Mawdesley, and Wrightington as well. We may perhaps surmise that the lands in these four latter townships came from the Croft family by Margaret's marriage with Robert Standish. No details are given in the rental, but only the total sum, which is, "except libo redd," £3. 12s. 10d. (Deeds, no. 3.) The sum is not a very large one, even allowing for the different value of modern money. We have no means of deciding whether it represents the rents of the whole estate, or only of the third part usually held by the widow. But for the first time all the Lancashire townships mentioned by Capt. Myles Standish in his will are named in conjunction with the family of Standish of Ormskirk.

There is a gap at this period in the records of this family; but in 1539 a Thomas Standish is found in possession of the estate, and his wife Jane or Joan is mentioned. On 18 July 1539 Thomas Standish of Ormskirk mortgaged or sold for £10 a messuage and lands in Wrightington, of the clear value of 16s. over all manner of charges which Jane, wife of the said Thomas, had in the said tenement. Nevertheless, if Thomas or his heirs should wish to buy back the premises, they might do so on due warning and repayment within ten years. George Nelson, the purchaser, entered into a bond to keep true to these indentures. Four years afterwards a messuage in Wrightington in mortgage was surrendered to Thomas Standish of Ormskirk by George Nelson. The tenants had been William Hesketh and Alice Robinson. (Deeds, nos. 4, 5, 6, 8, 9.)

On 7 July, 32 Henry VIII [1540], a family settlement was made, the record of which is perhaps the most important deed yet discovered, for it names not only Thomas Standish of Ormskirk, but his two brothers, John and Huan, and in addition his own daughter Anne. In the feoffment Thomas gave his messuages, lands, tenements, rents, reversions, services, and all hereditaments whatsoever in Ormskirk, Burscough, Wrightington, Newburgh, Mawdesley, and Croston, or elsewhere in the County of Lancaster, to trustees, the first of whom was the rector of Aughton. The estate was for the use of Thomas himself for his life, and afterwards during five years for the use of Anne his daughter, provided always that if John, the brother of Thomas, or anyone else who was next heir to Thomas, paid Anne £20, the trustees were to hold the estate for the use of John or the next heir. After the five years the estate was to be held for the use of the right heir of Thomas legitimately begotten; in default, for the use of John, the brother already mentioned, and his legitimate heirs; in default, for the use of Huan, brother of the aforesaid Thomas, and the heirs of Huan. This settlement was sealed by Thomas Standish. Those who afterwards sold the estate may have infringed this trust, and it is very probable that Capt. Myles Standish claimed lands by virtue of the remainders in this very deed. (Deeds, no. 7.)

In 1543 a person appeared on the scene who was destined to have a fateful influence on the fortunes of Standish of Ormskirk. This was a gentleman named William Stopford, sometimes described as of Merton, or Martin in Burscough, and later as of Bispham (the Bispham near Burscough), a township in Croston parish. He was at one time secretary to the Earl of Derby, and is probably the William Stopford who farmed Eccleston rectory in Leyland hundred, and whose gravestone, dated 1554, may be seen in Eccleston churchyard. He was evidently a man of wealth and influence, and he seems to have acquired in parcels part, and perhaps all, of the estate of the Standishes of Ormskirk. The transfer began in the time of the Thomas Standish already mentioned.

On 10 May, 35 Henry VIII [1543], Thomas Standish, for divers considerations and £10, sold (ad opus imperpetuum) to William Stopford of Merton all his messuages in Wrightington, lately in the tenure of William Hesketh, Alice Robinson, and Robert Finch. An annual rent of 7s. was to be paid to Thomas and his heirs at Pentecost and at the Feast of St. Martin, in equal portions. Thomas appointed Richard Mason of Lathom and Richard Prescot as attorneys to deliver possession, and was bound in £60 to Stopford to keep the covenant made. (Deeds, nos. 10, 11.) It was probably this annual rent of 7s. from holdings in Wrightington that Thomas Standish of Ormskirk granted to William Stopford for the sum of £5. 3s. 4d. on 24 Apr., 37 Henry VIII [1545]. (Deeds, nos. 12, 13.)

Ill fortune was evidently dogging the steps of Thomas Standish. He was parting with his estate, and moreover he was unhappy in his domestic life. In 1558 (1548 is crossed out in Piceope’s transcript) this latter trouble reached its culmination, for on 20 Nov. in that year John Hanson, M.A., Archdeacon of Richmond, pronounced sentence of divorce between Thomas Standish of Ormskirk parish and Jane (Joanna) Stanley, otherwise Standish, of the same parish. The reason given for the divorce was that Thomas was not 9 years old and Jane not 11 years old when they were married. (Deeds, no. 14.)

This sad event is the last we hear of poor Thomas Standish. There is another gap in the records, but in the course of time his son and successor Hugh Standish is found in possession of the estates. On 20 Nov., 9 Elizabeth [1566], Hugh Standish, late of Wigan, gentleman, son and heir of Thomas Standish of Ormskirk, surrenders his right and claim to a messuage in Wrightington, in the tenure of Margaret Hesketh, widow, and Robert Hesketh, to William Stopford of Bispham. (Deeds, no. 15.) This refers to the land sold by his father, and we may infer that Thomas had recently died and had been succeeded by Hugh. Jane (Joanna) Standish, widow of Thomas Standish late of Ormskirk, probably the divorced Jane, appears again on 10 Aug. 1569, when she quitclaims to her son Hugh (Hugo) all right and claim that ever she had in all messuages, burgages, lands, and tenements in Ormskirk, Burscough, Newburgh, or elsewhere in the county. A few days afterwards, 14 Aug. 1569, Hugh granted to his mother Jane for life an annuity of 40s. out of all his messages, burgages, lands, and tenements in Ormskirk. (Deeds, nos. 16, 17.)

Hugh now began a series of transactions with William Stopford in which the estate of Standish of Ormskirk seems to have been bartered away. By a final concord made at Lancaster on Monday in the fourth week of Lent, 12 Elizabeth [1570], he sold or mortgaged to William Stopford and Roger Sonkey, for £10, 3 messuages, 4 cottages, 4 orchards, 26 acres of land, 5 acres of pasture, 4 acres of meadow, 10 acres of moor, and 8 acres of turfary in Wrightington, Newburgh, Ormskirk, and Burscough. Hugh granted them to William and Roger and to the heirs of William. (Deeds, no. 18.) About a year later, on 12 Feb., 13 Elizabeth [1570/1], we find Hugh Standish of Ormskirk, gent., leasing land in Ormskirk for twenty-one years to William Heiton of Birchley, Esq. (Deeds, no. 19.) On 8 Mar., 13 Elizabeth [1570/1], Hugh Standish, son of Thomas Standish, deceased, granted for £66. 13s. 4d. to William Stopford of Bispham all those messuages, lands, tenements, rents, services, and hereditaments whatsoever, which were his in Ormskirk. (Deeds, no. 20.) On 13 June, 13 Elizabeth [1571], Hugh was bound in an immense sum for those days, £200, to William Stopford, to keep covenants specified in indentures relating to Hugh's land "in the town of Ormskirk." (Deeds, no. 21.) A final concord was also made between them on the Monday after the Feast of St. Bartholomew [Aug. 1571], concerning tenements in Ormskirk. Hugh granted to William 6 messuages there and 4 cottages, 10 tofts, 6 gardens, 6 orchards, 12 acres of land, 4 acres of meadow, 10 acres of pasture, 1 acre of wood, and 5 acres of moor. But William regranted to Hugh for life part of the said tenements, viz., 4 messuages, 2 tofts, 3 gardens, 3 orchards, 6 acres of land, 2 acres of meadow, and 4 acres of pasture. (Deeds, no. 22.)

William Stopford now made it his care to secure the consent and quitclaim of those interested in the estate of Standish of Ormskirk in respect to these bargains with Hugh. The most interesting release is that given by John Standish of the Isle of Man, evidently the uncle of Hugh, that is to say, the brother of his father Thomas Standish. John has already been mentioned in the settlement made in 1540, when a remainder was vested in him. And the release given by him is highly important, since it shows that at least one member of the family of Standish of Ormskirk settled in the Isle of Man, thus making more probable the view taken by the writer that Capt. Myles Standish belonged to this branch. It also suggests, in the opinion of the writer, the direction in which we should look for the father and mother of Myles. In a deed, dated 1572, John Standish of the Isle of Man, for divers considerations and sums of money paid him by William Stopford of Bispham, releases to the latter all his rights in all those messuages, lands, and tenements which lately were in the possession of Robert Standish, late of Ormskirk, and all those messuages, lands, and tenements which William Stopford has by the gift and feoffment of Hugh Standish, late of Ormskirk, son and heir of Thomas deceased. The lands, etc., were in the vill of Ormskirk and Wrightington. (Deeds, no. 23.) In another deed, which is dated 20 Apr. 1572, and is probably a duplicate differently abstracted, the lands, etc., are described as lately in the possession of Thomas Standish, late of Ormskirk, gentleman, and as lying in the vill of Ormskirk, Wrightington, Parbold, Croston, and Mawdesley. Parbold & perhaps a mistake for Newburgh. Another place, "Ker-schagh," appears in the marginal heading, and may be an error for Burscough. (Deeds, no. 24.)

On 3 Oct., 14 Elizabeth [1572], Hugh Standish sold to William Stopford the Mersers Field in Ormskirk. (Deeds, no. 25.) A further grant and concession is dated 29 Jan., 18 Elizabeth [1575/6]; in this deed Ormskirk only is mentioned, but the bargaining away of the family interest there would seem to be comprehensive and absolute. Hugh Standish, late of Wigan, gentleman (the reversion to the old description is noteworthy), grants to William Stopford of Bispham, gentleman, all and singular those messuages, lands, tenements, rents, services, and whatsoever hereditaments he holds in the vill of Ormskirk. He also concedes any claim that he has in the premises for the term of his life or for a term of years. He makes Roger Sonky and Reginald Mason attorneys to deliver possession. (Deeds, no. 26.)

The Jane or Joan Standish who was divorced from Thomas her husband now appears on the scene again, but under a different name. She has evidently married again, and been left a widow a second time. She also has been persuaded by Stopford to renounce any claim to the estate he has purchased. The quitclaim deed, which is dated 3 May, 18 Elizabeth [1576], is in English; and by it Joan Scott of Wigan, widow, who stands endowed of the third part of all the messuages, etc., within the town of Ormskirk that were the possessions of Thomas Standish, sometime her husband, or of Hugh Standish her son, grants, for certain sums of money, unto William Stopford of Bispham and his heirs for ever all her estate, right, and demand in the said premises. (Deeds, no. 27.)

Yet another person gave up all claim to the estate in Ormskirk. The deed leaves us to guess whether his interest had come through his wife, and if so, who she was. On 12 Sept., 19 Elizabeth [1577], a certain Richard Mosse of Ormskirk granted all right and claim that ever he had in all the messuages, lands, etc., in Ormskirk that were lately the possessions of Hugh Standish or of Thomas Standish his father. (Deeds, no. 28.)

Thus, long before the birth of Capt. Myles Standish, a great part, at any rate, of the estate of the Standish family of Ormskirk had been alienated.* It is unlikely, however, that Hugh parted with the whole of his estate. The parish registers of Ormskirk show that descendants of Hugh remained in the locality for a long time. A Hugh Standish is prominent in the registers; and, if he be the one mentioned above, he must have been young when (about 1566) he inherited the estate and began bartering it away. Several children of Hugh were baptized at Ormskirk—Ann in 1591, Edith in 1592, Jane in 1595, and one without name in 1599. A child of Hugh was buried in 1600. Hugh Standish himself was buried 10 Dec. 1606 in the high chancel, an honor commonly reserved for benefactors. It will be recalled that his ancestor had contributed to the founding of a chantry. A Grace Standish was buried in the high chancel in 1620. Many other Standishes are named in the registers.

One might naturally expect to find in the Ormskirk registers the baptismal record of Myles Standish, but it is not there. The registers, however, are defective, like those of Chorley, a fact to which further reference will be made. But Capt. Myles was probably not a son of the Hugh who sold the estates; for this Hugh does not appear to have held lands in the Isle of Man, and his successor at Ormskirk seems to have been a Henry Standish. Nor did Thomas, Hugh's father, claim any Manx estate.

Now if Myles Standish was not a descendant of Thomas Standish, the father of Hugh, attention is naturally directed to the two brothers of Thomas mentioned in the latter's settlement of 1540, namely, John and Huan.

If the former of these may be identified with the John Standish of the quitclaim deed, then he did settle in the Isle of Man, as this deed shows. But in 1572 John renounced for himself and for his heirs forever all right to the lands in question; and therefore Myles could not reasonably claim the lands, or any moiety of them, if he were a son or descendant of John and knew about the deed of renunciation.

The other son of Robert Standish mentioned in 1540 as brother of Thomas and John was Huan. The probability is that Myles was his son or descendant. Did Huan also, like his brother John, settle in the Isle of Man? It is a remarkable fact that "Huyn Standish" was a landowner in Man. In 1540, at the time of the dissolution of the monasteries, he held a tenement in Sulby, consisting of lands of the Abbey at Lezayre. He paid to the Abbey a rent of 24s., as the Computus shows. This was the estate of Ellanbane, which continued to be held by the Standishes until the eighteenth century. The Standish heiress married a Christian, and the descendants were known popularly as the Standish-Christians, to distinguish them from other Christians. (Information from Canon Quine.) Ellanbane consists of a pretty house and grounds, but it has now passed from the possession of the Christian family. The comparative rarity of the form Huyn or Huan adds to the probability that this Huyn was brother of Thomas Standish of Ormskirk.

* The lands sold by Hugh Standish to William Stopford came partly by purchase and partly by marriage with the Stopfords, into the possession of the Hesketh family of Rufford, and it is quite possible that some of them remain to-day in the hands of the representative of that family, Sir Thomas Fermor-Hesketh of Rufford Hall, not far from Ormskirk.
There was considerable traffic between Lancashire and the Isle of Man, owing to the connection of the Stanleys, Earls of Derby, with both. They had large estates near Ormskirk, and they were "Kings" of Man. It has been shown that the Standishes of Ormskirk were connected by marriage with one branch of the Stanley family, Thomas Standish having married Joanna Stanley; and the Earls' interest in the Isle of Man might account for the migration thither of some of the Standishes of Ormskirk.

Owing to the difficulties of research in the Isle of Man, it has not been possible to draw up a connected account of the Manx Standishes. But the fragmentary items that have been collected indicate that there was more than one branch there in the reign of Henry VIII.

In the Manx Manorial Rolls, under the year 1511, there appears, below the heading "Cottages in Castletown," an Edward Standysh, who paid 2s. 4d. for "one room" granted by the lieutenant. (Information from Mr. W. Cubbon, Douglas Librarian, Isle of Man.) In 1540 the Huan already mentioned is found. About 1600 William Standish "the older" was vicar of Andreas, Isle of Man. A John Standish, son of William, was vicar of Lezayre about 1640. (Manx Society Vols.) As the question of the religion of Myles Standish is sometimes debated, it is noteworthy that several members of this section of the family were clergy of the Church of England. Not only clergymen but also parliamentarians are found amongst the Manx Standishes. A William Standish was a member of the House of Keys, 1637–1643. One of the name, described as William Standish of Ellanbane, gave depositions concerning the execution of Capt. William Christian in 1662. (Ib., vol. 26, p. 18.) This William Standish appears to have taken sides against the Countess of Derby. A John Standish was a member of the House of Keys in 1651 and took an active part in the rising on the Island when the Manxmen declared for the Parliament. He was probably lieutenant or cornet in the Lezayre militia. He was present at the capture of Peel Castle under Capt. Radcliffe, and took a flag of truce there with the ostensibly object of parleying with Maj. Woods, the commandant. His real purpose was to speak with the garrison in the Manx tongue, and to secure their defection in the night assault during which the castle was taken. Different persons of the same name, John Standish, were members of the Keys in later times. A William Standish is said to have owned Pulrose near Douglas. (Information from Canon Quine.)

The tradition is known in the Isle of Man that Rose and Barbara, the successive wives of Capt. Myles Standish, were natives of the Island and members of a Standish family there. But the story has possibly come from America. At any rate, Moore, once a deemster in the Island, says in his book on Manx names that careful search in the manorial records reveals no trace of Myles, Rose, or Barbara. This is probable; for it is chiefly landowners in succession who are named in the rolls, and Capt. Myles seems to have lost his Manx estate as well as his Lancashire lands.

The conclusion which we reach, therefore, is that Capt. Myles Standish came not from Standish nor from Duxbury, but from the Standish family of Ormskirk, co. Lancaster, through one of the younger branches of that family holding lands in the Isle of Man. It may be added that he was probably a descendant of Huyn, son of Robert Standish of Ormskirk.

If Capt. Myles was indeed born in Lancashire, as Nathaniel Morton in his "New-Englands Memorial" testifies, then his most probable birthplace was Ormskirk. It has been stated above that the old registers there are defective. For 1584 and 1585, the time about which he is supposed to have been born (vide supra, p. 349), the entries are fairly numerous; but another tradition assigns his birth to 1587 (see Mass. Hist. Soc. Proceedings, vol. 15, p. 324, Oct. 1877), and for March and April of this year there are no entries in the Ormskirk register, the spaces having been left blank by the clerk.

It remains to attempt to answer one or two questions which will no doubt, occur to many readers, but on which the deeds printed at the end of this article throw no light. Who was William, the first Standish of Ormskirk? How and when did the Ormskirk Standishes spring from the Standishes of Standish? Although the successive generations that have been mentioned, William, Hugh, Gilbert Robert, Thomas, show that Capt. Myles's statement about his great-grandfather must, as stated above, be understood in a genera sense, nevertheless he was likely to be right in the conviction that his branch of the family was descended from the manoria lords of Standish.

The view taken by the present writer, supported by a number of minute considerations too tedious to go through in detail, is that the family of Standish of Ormskirk was connected with that of Standish of Standish through a third, intermediate branch. With this view two other families of Standish may be mentioned in conclusion:

First, it is possible that one of the Standish families who held in Croston was the intermediate branch.

It will be remembered that Capt. Myles Standish claimed land in Croston and Mawdesley. Towards the end of the fourteenth century two members of the Standish family, Fulk (Fulco) and Robert married respectively the daughter and the widow of Sir William de Lea, who had an estate in Croston and vicinity. The relationship between Fulk and Robert is not stated. On 1 Feb. 1389/90 two cousins had an old charter confirmed to them. (Calendar of Patent Rolls, Richard II, 1388-1392, p. 184.) They were Thomas Fleming Knight, and Alice, daughter of William del Lee, Knight, whom Fulk de Standish had married. The cousins were heirs of a certain William de la Mare, to whom Edward I had granted a weekly market or Wednesdays at William's manor of Croston and a three days' fair on the eve, day, and morrow of St. Wilfrid the Confessor, and also free warren in all his demesne lands there and in Mawdesley and Longton. The other marriage was that of Sir Robert de Standish (son of John de Standish, squire of Standish, 1322-1350), who achieved distinction was knighted, and became sheriff of co. Lancaster. He married Isolda, widow of William de Lea. William and Isolda had held the manors of Croston and Mawdesley or moieties of them. Through these alliances the Standishes appear to have gained a footing in thes vills. Sir Robert and Isolda are mentioned in deeds relating to land in Croston in 11 Richard II [1387-8], and Robert's father John had obtained a lease of land in Croston. (Towneley MSS., BB. 102, 1643.) Soon afterwards another John Standish appears (whether son of Sir Robert or not cannot be ascertained), holding in Croston, Mawdesley, Wrightington, and other places. (Ib., BB. 1504.) These three townships are identical with three mentioned in the Captain's will. But part of the estate of this John came from his wife Alice de Bretherton, whose parents, Henry and Margery, in 1410 had land in Wigan, Ashton-in-Makerfield, Wrightington, Croston, and Euxton. (Lancaster Plea Rolls, no. 4, m. 21.) The son and heir of this John Standish was Christopher Standish (Towneley MSS., BB. 1606, GG. 1252), who married Margaret, daughter of Robert Unton. John Standish's daughter Alison was to marry Robert Unton's son Henry. (Ib., BB. 14.) Lettice, wife of Edward Rishton, was one of the daughters and heirs of Christopher Standish, 8 Henry VIII [1516-17]. (Ib., RE. 296.) The estate seems to have been sold to the Heskeths of Rufford, and nothing further has been learned of the family.

Secondly, there is yet another branch of the Standish family which held in some of the other townships referred to in Capt. Myles Standish's will; and this branch, the family of Standish of Scholes in Eccleston, in the parish of Prescot, appears more likely to be the connecting link between the parent stock and the Standishes of Ormskirk.

Sir Robert, son of John de Standish, has already been mentioned in connection with Croston. Ralph de Standish, another son of the same squire, and also a knight, was the first Standish of Scholes. Ralph, whose elder brother Henry was manorial lord of Standish from 1350 to 1396, served the Black Prince, who granted him an annuity of £20. He was knighted, and as Sir Ralph de Standish was made warden of Scarborough Castle in 1381. The references to him in Standish deeds show that he was a strong character and was not noted for conjugal fidelity. He was a large landowner, and among other estates acquired one named "The Scholes" in Eccleston in the parish of Prescot, which was held by him in 1366 of the Abbey of Cockersand, and was held afterwards by his heirs, as the rentals show. There are several indications of a connection between the important family of Standish of Scholes, whose descent can be traced down to the seventeenth century, and Standish of Ormskirk.

The nucleus of the estate of the Standishes of Ormskirk was in Ormskirk and in Newburgh, a hamlet of Lathom township. Now the Standishes of Scholes held in Lathom and Ormskirk (Pal. of Lancaster Feet of Fines, bundle 28, m. 87); in the latter vill they were tenants, holding messuages, land, and tenements, of Burscough Priory, as were the Standishes of Ormskirk. (Lancashire Inquisitions, vol. 9, no. 3.) Further, the Standishes of Scholes held in Sutton (the Sutton in Prescot parish), and were sometimes known as Standishes of Sutton. (Victoria County Histories, Lancashire, vol. 4, p. 94, note.) This is interesting; for a Hugh Standish (very possibly Hugh Standish of Ormskirk) held Pymfeldes and Northalk in Sutton in Apr., 37 Henry VI [1458-9]. (Piccope MSS., vol. 9. p. 370.) If it should turn out, as seems likely, that the Standish family of Ormskirk was derived from the Standishes of Scholes, then we have perhaps identified the "second or younger brother" through whom Capt. Myles traced his descent from the parent stock.

Some further particulars concerning this brave soldier may be given Sir Ralph de Standish, Knight, was the younger brother of Henry de Standish, of Standish, Esq. Their father John had many sons, of whom William, Henry, Edmund, and Ralph were mentioned in the settlement in 1332. (Final Concord, vol. 2, p. 89.) Another son John, is referred to in West's MS., and another, Gilbert, became rector of Standish in 1357. A seventh son, Sir Robert, has already been mentioned. William died before his father, and Henry succeeded to the manor. Ralph was the fourth son, but may have been the second surviving son when Henry became manorial lord. Dr West thought that Ralph kept Henry out of his estates for a time and this statement has crept into some of the pedigrees. (Cf. Foster Pedigrees of Lancashire Families.) It is an error due to the misreading of some of the deeds. Nevertheless, the younger brother was a strong character. In 1353, the King granted Ralph a pardon for breach of the peace, and no one was to reproach him for what had been done on 10 Apr. 1352. (Earwaker, xxxviii.) In 1366 he was serving the King in the retinue of the Black Prince in Aquitaine (Victoria County Histories, Lancashire, vol. 3, p. 365), and received the annuity already mentioned. In 1377-8 Richard II confirmed to Ralph, "our dear esquire," the annuity given by the King's late father (the Black Prince), but it was to be paid by tenants of Shotwyk, co. Chester, as Sutton was now part of the queen mother's dower. (Mrs. Tempest, Standish Deeds, no. 95.) By rearrangement, however, Ralph continued to receive the £20 from Sutton (Cf. Calendar of Patent Rolls, Richard II, 1377-1381, p. 124.) Other annuities were granted to him soon after. On 16 Oct. 1382, he explained to his dearest brother, Sir Gilbert de Standish, rector his wishes in regard to his lands which he had vested in trustees (Ib., 1381-1385, p. 216; Mrs. Tempest, Standish Deeds, no. 102. His estates referred to in various deeds include land in Wigan, Standish, Langtree, Shevington, Winstanley, Dalyston (? Eccleston) in Derbyshire (West Derby hundred), and other places. The charter of 16 Oct. 1382, just mentioned, is dated from London, where probably he died, for a fortnight after he had drawn it up, 30 Oct. 1382 his decease is announced and his annuity from Sutton was granted to another. (Calendar of Patent Rolls, Richard II, 1381-1385 p. 180.) The trustees of his estate in May 1383 granted some of his lands to Elizabeth, his widow, with remainder to their sons Nichola and Ralph and their heirs, then to John de Standish and Joan de Standish, children of Mary de Ince, who is not described as his wife (Mrs. Tempest, Standish Deeds, no. 104, correcting Earwaker lxxiii.) A part of this estate was bought in 1407 by Ralph Standish of Standish. (Earwaker, xciii-cii.) The description "alias Lord John," applied to one of the sons of Sir Ralph in West's and Earwaker's translations of the deeds, is erroneous. The Latin origina is "Johem Standysh alias dēm Johem fil Marie de Ines," that is, "John Standish otherwise called John son of Marie de Incex."

Sir Ralph’s knighthood and custodianship of Scarborough Castle have an important bearing on another doubtful point in the history of the Standish family. Several chroniclers and historians concur in the statement that the King’s esquire who helped to defend Richard II in the affray with Wat Tyler’s followers was named Standish. There is diversity of opinion, however, as to his identity. Froissart says it was a John Standvich, Knighton says Ralph Standyke, while Lingard calls him Robert Standish. Lingard relates that when Wat Tyler was talking with the King, he affected to play with his dagger, and at last laid his hand on the King’s bridle, whereupon Walworth, the Lord Mayor, jealous of his design, plunged a short sword in his throat. He spurred his horse, rode about a dozen yards, fell to the ground, and was despatched by Robert Standish, one of the King’s esquires. The rebels bent their bows to avenge the fall of their leader. Froissart’s account gives more detail: "Then dismounted one of the esquires of the King who was called John Standvich and drew a handsome sword [une belle épée] which he carried, and thrust this Tyler through the stomach and he was dead. . . . The King made three knights, one was the mayor of London, Mr [messire] John Wallourde, another Mr John Standvich, and the third Mr. Nicholas Banbre." (Froissart’s Chronique, Lettenhove’s edition, vol. 9, pp. 413–415.)

There is somewhat, however, for believing that Knighton is correct when he gives the name of the esquire as Ralph Standyke (Knighton’s Chronicle, Lumby’s edition, 1889–1895, vol. 2, pp. 137–138), and that the swordsman in question was one and the same person with the Ralph de Standish whom we have been considering. The latter was, as we have seen, an esquire in the royal retinue. His father John, who died in 1350, was an esquire in the heraldic sense at least, and bore in 1332 a saltire between four crosses patee. (Earwaker, xx.) There was also a Robert Standish in the King’s retinue, possibly a brother of the Ralph referred to above. (Calendar of Patent Rolls, Richard II, 1396–1399, p. 571.) Now in those days, when there were no biographical handbooks for reporters to consult, it was easy for a man to be confused with his deceased father or his brother, especially if all three were esquires.

But the remarkable bit of evidence is this. The affray with Wat Tyler occurred in June 1381, and in August of the same year Ralph, formerly addressed as “our dear esquire,” is now referred to as the King’s knight, and in terms which suggest that the elevation to knighthood was recent. The references occur in the grant of the wardenship of Scarborough: “14 August, 1381. Grant for life, for the better maintenance of his knightly rank, to the King’s knight, Ralph Standish, of the custody of Scardeburgh castle receiving 40 marks yearly, and 20 marks from the manor of Drakelow, Co. Chester.” (Calendar of Patent Rolls, Richard II, 1381–1385, pp. 32, 47.) This grant was confirmed and explained on 25 Oct. of the same year. Now on 12 June 1399 the esquire, Robert Standish, is not addressed as knight but as esquire, and therefore he was not promoted in con-connection with the Wat Tyler riot. (Ib., 1396-1399, p. 571.) But Ralph appears as knight for the first time in Aug. 1381, shortly after the disturbance, and he receives a grant to maintain his knightly rank, which suggests recent promotion. It can scarcely be doubted then that he was the esquire who despatched Wat Tyler and received knighthood for that service.

The following pedigree shows the probable connection of the Standishes of Ormskirk with the Standishes of Standish and indicates that member of the Ormskirk branch of the Standishes from whom Capt. Myles Standish was probably descended.

No doubt further light will be thrown by continued research on the relations between the Standish family of Scholes in Eccleston and the Ormskirk branch; and it would not be very surprising if it should turn out that the "second or younger brother" through whom Capt. Myles Standish claimed descent from the parent stock was the first Standish of Scholes, Sir Ralph de Standish, Knight, a wild but courageous soldier, brave in foreign strife and in civil commotion, valued and rewarded by his king and country, fittingly the ancestor of that brave pioneer who was the first military officer in New England.

The Family of George Parkhurst of Watertown and Boston, Mass.

By Edson Salisbury Jones, Esq., of Port Chester, N. Y.

The main facts that have long been known concerning George Parkhurst of Watertown and Boston, Mass., are that he first appears of public record, in America, at Watertown, under date of 10 May 1642, when it was ordered that a highway should be laid out by his house. He is not mentioned in the four grants of land between 25 July 1636 and 9 Apr. 1638, inclusive, and the date of his acquisition of the house lot is not disclosed by extant records; but Dr. Bond believed that the plot was Parkhurst's homestead of 16 acres. On the same date he was granted a farm of 56 acres. These lands appear to be all that he acquired by purchase or grant — his other holdings coming by a later marriage. Seven deeds, of record in the registries of Suffolk and Middlesex, show the disposition he made of some of the property.

The time of his arrival in America is unknown, and no evidence has been seen that a wife accompanied him; but unquestionably certain of his children came hither. Savage thought that George, who married Thomas Arnold, and perhaps other issue emigrated with their father; and Bond named the same two children, and conjectured that Joseph of Chelmsford was also his son.

One of the early proprietors of Watertown was John Simson, who was buried there 10 June 1643, leaving two sons, John and Jonathan, three daughters (born at Watertown 1634–1642/3), and a widow, Susanna, whom George Parkhurst soon married. By this union he acquired all the real estate of the deceased, except a small parcel alienated by the widow and 6 acres of upland, which she transferred to William Page on 9 Nov. 1643, acknowledging the deed on 28 Nov. of the same year. As Parkhurst sold 2 acres of the Simson land on 16 Nov. 1644, the marriage took place between these dates. Probably he soon removed from Watertown, as he was of Boston on 4 Oct. 1645, when he conveyed 6 acres; and he seems to have remained there (though possibly he returned to Watertown for a time) as late as 13 June 1655, when he sold 12 acres (in two parcels) of what had been Simson's land for £21. The last conveyances were made by permission of the General Court, granted 23 May 1655 in response to his petition, and two thirds of the sum realized were to be retained by Mr. Richard Brown for the benefit of Susanna's two Simson sons until they should come of age. After the date of the last-mentioned deeds the public records of Massachusetts disclose no reference to George¹ Parkhurst, as far as the present writer is aware.

As regards this petition, "A true copy of the original lying in the General Court Files in the year 1655" is to be seen in File no. 3175 of the Superior Court, Boston, in connection with a suit brought in 1695 concerning some land that had been John¹ Simson's; and in the same file is an affidavit by George² Parkhurst, made 30 July 1695, in which he calls himself "aged 78 years or thereabout," and refers to "my honored father George Parkhurst Deced, which married Jno Simsons Widdow." The petition of George¹ asserts that he was then [1655] "near 67 years old;" that he, his wife, and most of her children were in destitute condition; that she had had ten children during her twenty years' residence in America—seven sons and three daughters [five sons by Parkhurst, therefore]; that she had gone to London, England, with six of her children, but found her mother, brothers, and sisters unable to do what she had expected; that four of her children had remained in America, two of whom seem to have been bound out [Jonathan Simson was in the service of Richard Brown in 1659, according to the latter's will, and probably the other child was Benjamin² Parkhurst]; and that the petitioner desired to sell the land [apparently all that remained] in order that he might go to the aid of his wife. It is very probable that he returned to England, and that, too, as soon as possible after 13 June 1655.

Of the issue born abroad, we have been certain of George² and Phebe,² by reason of Thomas¹ Arnold's deed of 30 Mar. 1655 (also signed and acknowledged by his wife, Phebe Arnold) to "George Parkhurst my brother in law of Watertown" for 30 acres there "that I bought of our Father George Parkhurst and his wife Susanna," this instrument having been signed "In the presence of George Parkhurst our Father."

In 1873 the late William H. Whitmore, Esq., contributed to the Register (vol. 27, pp. 364-369) an article entitled "The Dalton and Batcheller Pedigree," in which he expressed conclusions as to the names of seven of George¹ Parkhurst's children, resulting from a study of copies of records, letters, and documents. The chief of these was an indenture of 22 Mar. 1663/4 between Ruth Dalton of Hampton, Mass., widow of Rev. Timothy Dalton, and Nathaniel Batcheller, her "constituted heir," whereby all her lands were conveyed to Batcheller upon his agreement to pay her £10 per year during her life and stipulated sums to others after her death. Among the latter were six persons, who, the writer thought, were very probably the issue of George¹ Parkhurst, as follows: Deborah Smith, wife of John; Elizabeth Merry, wife of Joseph; Phebe Arnall, wife of Thomas; Joseph Parkers; George Parkers; and Mrs. Mary Carter, wife of Mr. Thomas of Woburn.* The name of the seventh child was derived from a letter of "Georg Parkis" of Watertown, dated "the 25 of June '69," to his "Loueing Cous. Bashelder," asking the latter to pay "my brother Beniamen, five pounds of that twenty which will be due to me from my ant Dolton." This was endorsed: "My unkeill Gorg. Parkes his letter: sent by benjeimen Parkes."

Whitmore gave also an abstract of a receipt from "Josiphe Parkis of Chemford in New Inland" for £20, "resev'd of Nathaniel Bachier, executor to the last will and testament of my Ant Dalton deisised;" also an abstract of a power of attorney from Thomas Arnoll of Providence, for himself and wife Phebe, to collect a legacy of £20 bequeathed by the will of Mrs. Ruth Dalton to Phebe Arnold; and, lastly, a copy of a receipt by John Wyman to Batcheller for the equivalent of £14, "by ordre of my father in law Thomas Carter," given to "my mother in law, Merri Carter by Mrs. Ruth Dalton of Hampton deisised," which was endorsed: "Cosen John Whayman's aquitens about my unkeill Carter's Legassy."

As will soon appear, there should be no doubt that Deborah, Elizabeth, Phebe, Joseph, George, and Mary, mentioned in the foregoing indenture, were among the issue of George Parkhurst, and were born in England. Mrs. Ruth Dalton seems to have been a sister of their mother—not of George, else probably she would have named his later children.

There is certainty that one son, by Susanna, was "Daniel of George Parkhurst member of Ch. of Watertowne aged about 11 days," who was baptized in Boston 10, 4 mo., 1649, because George and Sarah Parkhurst had a daughter, Sarah, born 14 Sept. 1649, according to the Watertowne records. The Boston church records also give "Joshua of — Parkis of Watertowne," baptized 7, 1 mo., 1652, and "Callib of Mr. Parkis of Watertowne," baptized 26, 12 mo., 1653. Whether Joshua and Caleb were sons of George or George it is difficult to decide upon this evidence, though not improbably the former was the father. If so, he would seem to have been living at Watertown at the times, or the word "Church" was omitted from the records. He and Susanna were of Boston on 3 Oct. 1651, when she declared that she had previously sold land. This statement was acknowledged by both on 30 Oct. 1652 before Increase Nowell, but their residence at the latter date does not appear.

Benjamin would seem certainly to have been Susanna's son. The present writer recalls no mention of him in New England records; but a Benjamin, whose surname is variably spelled Parkis and Parkes, appears as a grantee of lands in Woodbridge, N. J., in 1670. In 1681 Benjamin Parkis received a commission as captain-lieutenant for Elizabethtown, N. J., which adjoined Woodbridge; on 16 Feb. 1683/4 an inventory of the personal estate of Benjamin Parkis of Elizabethtown, gentleman, was taken; and on 10 Mar. 1683/4 administration on his estate was granted to his widow, Martha. In 1686, 1690, and 1696 a Benjamin Parkis appears as owner of Elizabethtown land; in 1701 Benj: Parkhurst signed a petition as one of the residents of New Jersey; and on 9 Dec. 1721 Benjamin Parkhurst of Elizabethtown, weaver, made his will, which was proved 8 Dec. 1722 and named wife Mercy and children Martha, Mary, Hanna, Benjamin, John, and Samuel.*

* These New Jersey items may be found in the printed New Jersey Archives, vols. 2, 21, 23.
In the parish registers at Ipswich, co. Suffolk, Eng., the following baptisms of nine children of George Parkhurst have been found, the first in the parish of St. Stephen, the second in that of St. Mary-at-the-Quay, the third to the seventh, inclusive, and the ninth in that of St. Margaret, and the eighth in that of St. Mary-le-Tower:

1612 Phebey Parkhurst the daughter of George Parkhurst of the Key Parish and of Phebey his wife 29 November.

1614 Mary ye Do: of Georg Parkhurst was baptized at St. Lawrens 28 August.

1616 Sammewell sone of Gorge Prust [Parkhurst in later hand in margin] 2 February [1616/17].

1619 Deborah Dawter of George Prust [Parkhurst in later hand in margin] 1 August.

1621 George son of Georgde Parkhurst 5 June.

1623 John Sonne of George Parkehurst 19 October.

1625 Abigail Daughter of George Parkhurst 1 January [1625/6].

1629 Joseph Sonne of George Parkehurst 21 December.

It will be observed that six of these nine Christian names agree with the six mentioned in the indenture between Ruth Dalton and Nathaniel Batcheller, and that the name of the mother of the first was Phebe. Very probably all of them were her children. In Ipswich and vicinity search has been made for the marriage of George Parkhurst and Phebe — —, but without success. When the first two children were baptized, the father was living in the parish of St. Mary-at-the-Quay, where possibly, or probably, the marriage took place. Unfortunately, no marriages earlier than 1653 were to be found in 1902 in extant registers of this parish. Seemingly the family removed to the parish of St. Margaret after the birth of the second child, and there remained until the baptism of the ninth. No burial record of Phebe, wife of George, or of Samuel, John, or Abigail, as issue of George, was found, but there are some gaps in the registers. The family may have removed from Ipswich to a place as yet unknown; and in such place or in its vicinity Phebe² may have married Thomas¹ Arnold* and Mary² may have married Thomas¹ Carter. Rev. Thomas Carter was a native of co. Suffolk and a graduate of a school at Bury St. Edmunds. Rev. Timothy Dalton, husband of Ruth, was rector of Woolverstone, about five miles southeast from Ipswich, in the first third of the seventeenth century, and there several of his children were baptized. Many of the early inhabitants of Watertown, Mass., embarked at Ipswich when they emigrated.

Below is given an abstract of what is believed to be the will of the father of George¹ Parkhurst:

The Will of John PARKHURST of the parisse of Saynte Marye Keye, in the town of Ipswich, co. Suffolk, Clothier, 29 Mar. 1610. To wife Sara all household stuff, as bedding, brass, pewter, linen, and woollen, and the annual rent of

* The writer of this article thinks it not improbable that Thomas¹ Arnold was a co. Suffolk man, and questions the assumption that he embarked for Virginia in 1635. He was probably not a half-brother of William¹ Arnold, and the alleged ancestry of these two men, printed in the Register in 1879 (vol. 33, pp. 432 et seq.), is erroneous, as will be shown in an article to be published in a future number of the Register.

£8, to be paid half-yearly for life. To son George Parkhurst all shopstuff, all my implements of trade as a shearman, all my books of what title and print, and all the rest of my goods and stock, movables and immovables. To son John Parkhurst the annual rent of £5, to be paid her half-yearly for life. To daughter Thamar Parkhurst the annual rent of £5 to be paid her half-yearly for life. To daughter Hellen Parkhurst £50 at the age of twenty-one or marriage. To daughter Sara Parkhurst £40 at the age of twenty-one or marriage. My executor to put forth to best profit the portions of said John and Hellen, for their further education and bringing up. Son George, sole executor. “Cousin” Nicholas Babbe of Nedeham Markett, supervisor, and he is to receive 20s. for his pains. My executor is to give to the supervisor a bond of £300 for the faithful performance of my will. Witnesses: Nicholas Babbe scriptore, John Parkhurst, Samuel Pecke, Edward Catherall. Proved 7 June 1611. (P.C.C., Wood, 50.)

Of the children named by John Parkhurst in his will, the baptism of only one has been found in the Ipswich parish registers, namely Hellen, daughter of John Parkhurst, 1598/9, 7 [Jan]uary, in the parish of St. Mary-at-the-Quay; and this is the earliest baptism of a Parkhurst recorded in that register, which begins in 1559. I would seem that the testator may have previously resided elsewhere than at Ipswich. In Wodderspoon’s “Memorials of the Ancient Town of Ipswich,” it is stated that in 1576 there were four companies there, among them that of the Drapers, which included clothiers. If the records of this Company be extant, they may shed light on the parentage of the testator, John Parkhurst.

The earliest Parkhurst disclosed by any of the Ipswich parish registers is Christopher, whose daughter Anne was baptized in 1569, in the parish of St. Nicholas. Probably he was the Christopher who was appointed in 1561 by the Bishop of Norwich, John Parkhurst (inducted in 1560), as keeper of the Bishop’s Palace in Ipswich, where dwelt the bishops when they were in that part of their diocese.

The registers of Oxford University show Richard and Willia Parkhurst as taking the degree of M.A. in 1505/6; John as B.A. i 1506; Symon, Oliver, and John (of Langton) as enrolled there in 1510; Robert as B.A. in 1519/20; and John (subsequently Bishop of George, as B.A. in 1528. The last-named died in 1574/5, at 63; and therefore he was born about 1511 — and in Guildford, as stated in his will, dated 1 Feb. 1573/4 and proved 4 March 1576/ (P.C.C., Daugtry, 10), in which he named brothers Christopher (and his son Christopher) and Nicholas (and his son John) and “other of my brothers’ children, whom I would fain have brought up in learning;” sisters Helen, Agnes, Alice, and Elizabeth; brothers Beckingham; and cousin Margaret Crampton and her husband Richard Crampton.*

The earliest seat of any Parkhurst family, so far as known, was in Guildford, co. Surrey, where parish registers show many of the names from 1541 onward. George Parkhurst was mayor of Guildford in 1522, 1529, and 1536; George, Jr., died there in 1540, leaving a will which mentioned a wife and an unnamed child. In the vicinities were others, as John of West Clandon, whose will (1523/4) named a wife, four daughters, and sons John and Thomas; Henry of Shere, in 1525 (others are found there later); and John of Leatherhead, in 1525. The will (1558/9) of one John mentioned brothers Raff and Robert. Some Parkhursts were of Godalming. Others, as early as 1553, were of co. Kent,* and Rev. Robert Parkhurst was of co. Sussex in the same year. Richard and Thomas were of London in 1569 and 1584 respectively, when administrations on their estates were granted — that on the estate of the former to his brother, Anthony Parkhurst. Many Parkhursts were armigerous, as is shown by the Heralds' Visitations.

* Helen Parkhurst married Thomas Beckingham, and their daughter, Margaret, became the wife of Richard Crampton. The will (1580) of this Richard Crampton mentioned, among others, his brothers-in-law Richard and Nicholas Babbe.

It seems probable that John Parkhurst, the Ipswich clothier and testator, was descended from co. Surrey stock, and very likely from the Parkhurst family of Guildford, where the clothing trade flourished; but proof is needed to substantiate this conjecture.

A theory has been advanced that the earliest co. Surrey Parkhursts migrated thither from the Isle of Wight. The present writer has seen nothing to indicate this. The theory was based upon the presence on that island of Parkhurst Forest, which was said to have been so named in Domesday Book; but it is called therein "parco Regis." In certain pipe rolls in the time of Henry II it appears as "foreste de Witingelega." In 1545 it was called Caresbrooke Forest. It was also known as Avington Forest.

The surname Parkhurst was very probably derived from the residences of men in, at, or near a park hurst (park woods, or wooded park), of which there were many in early times; and the variations in spelling of the surname may have included Parkes (pronounced in two syllables) and others.

NOTES

It having come to the attention of this Society that certain genealogists and publishers have used the name of the Society in connection with their own enterprises, the Society again desires to state that it has NO genealogical representatives in this country or in England, nor is it in any way connected with any publications other than those that it issues over its own name at 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

The Committee on English Research desires to state, however, that although the Society has no official representative in England the Committee is employing Miss French for a part of her time as a searcher of records there along special lines for the benefit of the REGISTERS.

ROCHESTER (N. H.) VITAL STATISTICS. — In addition to the marriage records given on pages 203 and 204 of the present volume of the REGISTER, the following entries have been taken from the notebook which was kept by Rev. James M. Palmer of Rochester, N. H., and which is described on page 203, supra:

William Scales of Rowley, Mass., 1640," which was published in the Register, vol. 66, pp. 42-54. In each case the pedigree number of the person concerning whom statements are made and the number of the page in vol. 66 of the Register on which that person's record is given have been inserted.

Samuel Scales (15, p. 17) married thirdly, 1 Jan. 1816, Mrs. Lucy (Haraden) Lane, daughter of John and Susanna (Burnham).

Lucy Ann Scales (15, x, p. 48), daughter of Samuel and his third wife, Lucy (Haraden) Lane, was born 22 Dec. 1816 and died at Island Falls, Me., 28 June 1891. She married, 27 Nov. 1838, Alfred Seabury, shipbuilder, who was born 29 Oct. 1812 and died 16 Aug. 1864, son of Samuel and Sarah (Rackliff). Children: 1. Annie Maria, born 14 Nov. 1839; died Nov. 1873; married 17 Aug. 1861 John Lewis Mackey, born Dec. 1833. 2. Emily Adelaide, born 8 Feb. 1842; died 17 Dec. 1873. 3. Alfred Richmond, born 29 Jan. 1852; died 3 Jan. 1884.*

Dr. Edward Payson Scales (31, p. 53) was graduated at Dartmouth College in 1855. The name of his first child (31, i, p. 53) is May Beaman (not Mary Beaman).

Historical Intelligence

Genealogies in Preparation. — Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence, and death. All names should be given in full if possible. No initials should be used when the full name is known.

RECENT BOOKS

[The editor particularly requests persons sending books for listing in the Register to state, for the information of readers, the price of each book, with the amount to be added for postage when sent by mail, and from whom it may be ordered. For the January issue, books should be received by Nov. 1; for April, by Feb. 1; for July, by May 1; and for October, by July 1.]

The seventieth annual meeting of the Society was held on Wednesday, 4 February 1914, at 2.30 p.m., in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, President Baxter presiding.

The reading of the minutes of the January meeting was waived, and the monthly reports of the Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, and Council were accepted.

One honorary member, Hon. Woodrow Wilson, Ph.D., LL.D., one corresponding member, and fourteen resident members were elected by ballot.

It was then

_Voted_, That the reports of the Corresponding Secretary, the Treasurer, the Librarian, the Historian, the Council, including the Committees, and the Trustees of the Kidder Fund, being presented in print, and now in the hands of the meeting, be accepted and ordered filed with the originals.

_Voted_, That the proceedings of this meeting, with the annual reports accepted and the biographical notices of the deceased members, together with the proceedings at the dedication of this building, be printed as a supplement to the April 1914 number of the Register, that a copy of the supplement be mailed to every member of the Society not receiving the Register, to the families of members deceased during the past year, to donors in 1913, and to exchanging societies, and that the Council be charged with the execution of this order.

_Voted_, That the New England Historic Genealogical Society enters on its records at this time its appreciation of the services rendered by the retiring officers, George Walter Chamberlain, Corresponding Secretary, and Jerome Carter Hosmer, Waldo Lincoln, and Frederick Wesley Parker, Councillors, who have during their terms of office given of their time, their thought, and their counsel that the broad purpose of the Society, the collection and preservation of genealogical records for the public benefit, might be attained.

The Society then proceeded to the election of officers and councillors.

President Baxter appointed as temporary chairman Hon. Henry Nichols Blake, and Messrs. Lawrence Brainerd, Phineas Hubbard, and Henry Edwards Scott were appointed tellers.

The following conclusions have been drawn from the results of the experiments:

1. The presence of an unknown volume of gas is not essential.

2. The method is suitable for determining the volume of gas in small quantities.

3. The method can be applied to gases that are not compatible with other methods.

4. The method is more accurate than the traditional methods of determining the volume of gas.

5. The method is easier to perform and requires less equipment.

These conclusions have been reached after analyzing the results of the experiments. The method has been tested on a variety of gases and has shown good results in all cases.

In conclusion, the possibility of using this method for determining the volume of gas is high. It is recommended that this method be further studied and tested in various conditions to ensure its reliability and accuracy.
During the counting of the ballots Mr. George Francis Dow, Secretary of the Essex Institute, Salem, read a paper on The River Agawam, an Essex County Waterway, in which he described the country through which the river, now known as the Ipswich River, flows down to the sea at Plum Island. He told many stories and incidents about the life of the valley during the centuries. Stereopticon slides were used to illustrate the paper, and through these were shown the beauty and attractiveness of the scenery.

The tellers made their report, 68 ballots having been cast, and the Chairman announced that the following had been elected to the respective offices as designated:

President
James Phinney Baxter, of Portland, Me.

Vice-Presidents
Nathaniel Johnson Rust, of Boston, Mass.
Henry Deering, of Portland, Me.
John Carroll Chase, of Derry, N. H.
William Wallace Stickney, of Ludlow, Vt.
William Paine Sheffield, of Newport, R. I.
James Junius Goodwin, of Hartford, Conn.

Recording Secretary
John Albree, of Swampscott, Mass.

Corresponding Secretary
Boylston Adams Beal, of Nahant, Mass.

Treasurer
Charles Edward Lord, of Newton, Mass.

Librarian
William Prescott Greenlaw, of Winthrop, Mass.

Councillors for the term of three years, 1914, 1915, 1916
Charles Sidney Ensign, of Newton, Mass.
Alfred Johnson, of Boston, Mass.
Mrs. James Knox Taylor, of Boston, Mass.

President Baxter, on resuming the chair, spoke as follows:
"Permit me to thank you for this expression of your continued confidence and good will. When you elected me to this office thirteen years ago, I had no thought of continuing in it so long; but the years have flown so rapidly and so pleasantly that it seems but a short time ago when my old friend Gordon announced that the President's address would be in order. Then an address reviewing the work of the year in detail and remarks upon some subject of immediate interest were thought of importance; but times and men have changed, and it is thought that inasmuch as the reports are printed in pamphlet form and distributed to the members before the meeting, such an address is unnecessary, and instead of the somewhat elaborate address of the President but a few brief remarks are thought desirable.

"No doubt the Society gains by this, as in place of the former address you have the usual interesting monthly lecture. There is, then, little for me to do but to extend to you my thanks for your kind cooperation with me in the work of the Society and my best wishes for your health and happiness during the year before us."

"For whatever I may have done for the Society during my term of office I have been more than repaid by the many valued friendships which I have made among its members. At a recent meeting of a society of which I am a member, an officer, who had served it for fifty years, remarked that as he looked into the kindly faces of those before him, he imagined that he had not an enemy among them. 'Should I be wrong,' he said, 'do not let me know it, for I would always cherish the illusion.' I share his sentiment."

The meeting then adjourned, and refreshments were served.

John Albree,
Recording Secretary.
REPORT OF THE COUNCIL
Prepared by George Walter Chamberlain, M.S.

The New England Historic Genealogical Society has passed the sixty-ninth year of its existence in its admirable and commodious new building, located at No. 9 Ashburton Place, Boston. Here daily in its well-lighted and spacious Library many have accomplished a successful year’s work under favorable conditions.

Besides the usual routine business, the Council of the Society entered into deliberations and plans which, it is hoped, will effectively develop the future growth and insure the permanency of the Society as a New England institution.

Uses of the New Building

At the beginning of the year 1913 the custodian of the building was authorized by the Council to tender the use of various rooms to patriotic and kindred societies. The Boston Athenæum has availed itself of storage space to accommodate nearly 200,000 volumes, including many bulky modern newspapers, and all of its statuary, while its building is being reconstructed, and yet this great mass of materials is out of the sight of all who visit the Library or attend the meetings of the Society. The Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities is occupying the room on the Ashburton Place level, intended for a museum, and has arranged three novel displays which have attracted much attention. The room on the same floor next north of this is occupied by the Society of Colonial Wars. The Daughters of the American Revolution hold weekly meetings in the small hall on the floor below, and on the second mezzanine floor, adjoining the Treasurer’s office, the Massachusetts Society of Colonial Dames occupies a small room. In one of the Treasurer’s storage rooms a small space is occupied by the Massachusetts Society of the Cincinnati. During the year there have been frequent meetings of these and kindred societies in the halls and committee rooms of the new building.

Dedication

The dedication of the splendidly appointed new building occurred on 18 March 1913, the sixty-eighth anniversary of the incorporation of the Society. A large assemblage gathered at the appointed hour in Wilder Hall. The exercises of the afternoon were presided over by Hon. James Phinney Baxter, A.M., Litt.D., President of the Society, who spoke of the circumstances that had brought about the meeting and touched upon the work of those through whose efforts the building had been erected. After the invocation of the Divine blessing by Rev. James De Normandie, D.D., minister of the First Church of Roxbury, the dedicatory address was delivered by Hon. John Davis Long, LL.D., sometime Governor of Massachusetts, and Secretary of the Navy in the administrations of Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt.

The distinguished speaker congratulated the Society upon its work in preserving the old colonial traditions and history, emphasizing the importance of the home and the family, and urged upon all the duty to raise the standards of American life. He suggested that pride in ancestry is natural, and spoke most fittingly of the importance and dignity of the work in which the Society has so long been engaged.

Wilder Hall was filled with representatives of the best in our New England life and civilization. Among the distinguished guests present on the occasion were Edward Stanwood, A.M., Litt.D., representing the Massachusetts Historical Society; Gen. Francis Henry Appleton, A.B., President of the Essex Institute; Professor Wilfred Harold Munro, A.M., President of the Rhode Island Historical Society; Clarence Saunders Brigham, A.M., representing the American Antiquarian Society; Otis Grant Hammond, A.M., representing the New Hampshire Historical Society; Mrs. Barrett Wendell, representing the Colonial Dames of Massachusetts; Mrs. Charles G. Chick, representing the Daughters of the American Revolution; and Mr. William Wallace Lunt, President of the Society of the War of 1812.

After these interesting ceremonies were concluded, a reception was held, in which the members and guests participated.

Publications

The Council authorized this year the collection and arrangement of a complete set of the publications of the Society for purposes of exhibition. When this work is completed, visitors will find that this Society has published a larger amount of material measured by the number of titles, pages, and ems than any other historical or genealogical society in America.

A study of the evolution of many recent comprehensive genealogies will reveal the fact that the authors drew their material largely from genealogies and data which had appeared long ago in the early volumes of the Register. In fact, it is probably true that many authors would not have undertaken the task of producing a comprehensive genealogy had they not been able to draw largely from the publications of this Society.

As a source of family history and genealogy the New England Historical and Genealogical Register undoubtedly stand without a peer in America, if not in the world, and the data therein published were made accessible earlier than much of the family history reproduced by private enterprise. Not long ago a genealogical society published abstracts of English wills which had appeared in the publications of this Society fifteen or twenty years before.

English Research

The Committee on English Research has been increased from five to seven members, and the work of the year which the Committee has contributed to the Register has been very satisfactory. Among the families whose English ancestry has been published are those bearing the surnames of Austen, Bassock, Besbeech, Edendell, Hatch, Hathorne, Huckstep, Ivory, Johnson, Littlefield, Porredge, and Sewell. Notable among these was the interesting pedigree of the emigrant William Hathorne, whose descendants are widely scattered and prominently identified with American life and literature.

Recently the Society has secured the English antecedents of Capt. Myles Standish, the doughty warrior of the Plymouth Colony, and a most interesting and valuable article on this subject will appear in the Register during the coming year. The Society, however, will not be able to provide the funds which are necessary to continue the English research for our New England families, unless subscriptions from those who are deeply interested in the origin of the founders of New England are forthcoming.

Three rooms occupied by the editorial staff have been named the Robert Henry Eddy Memorial Rooms in honor of the Society's largest benefactor, and all publications of the Society in 1913 were issued therefrom. The conversation room on the Library floor has been named the William Sanford Hills Memorial Room, and is proving to be of great advantage to both members and visitors. The Treasurer's room has been named in honor of the late William Tracy Eustis, the large room on the Ashburton Place floor in honor of Moses Kimball, and a double range in the bookstack of the Library in honor of the late Deloraine Pendre Corey. Wilder Hall on the lower floor perpetuates the memory of the late Hon. Marshall P. Wilder, many years President of the Society. On the street floor the Council and Committees occupy the John Foster Memorial Room. A special committee in charge of marking these memorials has placed tablets on the Foster Room, the Hills Room, and the Corey Alcove, and it is expected that the committee will finish the marking during the coming year.

Needs

The increasing demands upon the Society are clearly seen in a wider use of the Library. Formerly this was used solely to secure information relating to the searcher's ancestors, or to the family from whom his name or descent was derived. Recently the Library has been drawn upon for information from which laws relating to heredity and eugenics may be deduced and set forth. In this field of research one can here accumulate and tabulate data bearing upon the most recent sciences to be developed in America.

The Society must keep pace with the demands upon it. To do that properly and to insure its ultimate success in gathering and preserving the records of New England families, it must substantially increase its endowment.

Already there have been gathered data relating to nearly eighty per cent of those inhabitants of New England who were here prior to 1800. The preservation of this accumulated information is of paramount interest to their descendants, now scattered throughout this country, but it may not be of interest to any substantial part of the population of New England a century hence, if the character of the population changes as rapidly as it has in the last half-century.

In the past the larger part of the membership of the Society has resided within fifty miles of Boston and within the limits of New England. Efforts to increase effectively the membership outside of New England have met with no large degree of success.

The Council desires to emphasize the necessity of securing as soon as possible substantial additions to the Society’s endowment and general funds, for the general purposes of the Society, and special funds for making the English research and for the binding, copying, indexing, and cataloguing of family records. These needs offer opportunity for creating memorials to families and individuals worthy of consideration.

Service

The splendid contributions of this Society to the literature of American history and genealogy were made by those who rendered real service to the world. Not a struggle for wealth nor a desire to boast of distinguished ancestry, but faithful, painstaking collaboration on the part of many wrought these results. As the founders of the Society thought, so must the Council continue to believe that “he most lives who best serves.” Above fault-finding and petty jealousies, the founders were true servants in the world in which they lived. Neither the lure of the millionaire’s wealth nor the fear of a pauper’s grave influenced them to falsify the facts which they discovered in the records relating to family history, which has become a sequence to antiquity itself.

In the same spirit of faithful, painstaking investigation must the Society continue to enlarge the scope of its work, the preservation of family memorials, in the midst of great commercial and racial transformations.
The Report of the Committee on Finance, by John Albree, Secretary:

The report of the Treasurer shows in detail the financial transactions and the condition of the Society.

During the year 1913 there matured and were paid
$3,000 Central Ry. Co. of New Jersey 4's, 1913.

There were bought for investment
$3,000 Northern Pacific-Great Northern Joint C. B. & Q. 4's, 1921.

The Society has received $432, being eighty per cent and interest of the bequest of Mrs. Melitable C. Coppenhagen Wilson (1836-1911), the author of John Gibson and His Descendants. From the estate of S. Millett Thompson of Providence, R. I., there has been received the sum of $50, for "the transportation and perpetual preservation of the manuscript history of the Thompson and allied families." Neither Mrs. Wilson nor Mr. Thompson was a member of the Society.

Charles Larned (1825-1913) of Boston, who became a life member in 1882, bequeathed $1,000 to the Society "as a permanent fund, the income to be used for the purchase of books for the Library."

The Report of the Committee on the Library, by Mrs. Mary Stickney Randall, Secretary:

A year's occupancy of the new building has given ample opportunity to test thoroughly the quarters provided for the Library and the clerical work connected therewith, as far as adequacy and convenience are concerned; and in every particular the work of those who planned the building has stood the test of use. No suggestion of any change has been received by the Committee. With a separate reading room for members having access to the bookstack and a conversation room on the same floor, and with rooms for the clerical work on the floor below, connected by intercommunicating telephone and the service stairs, the administration of the Library is simplified, and is made more effective and less expensive. This arrangement of rooms provides opportunity for conversation outside of the reading rooms, making it comparatively easy to maintain a degree of quietness hitherto unattainable—a most desirable state of affairs for those readers who use the Library for serious study. Only one third of the space intended for books is at present occupied, yet practically all of the books ever called for are shelved. The only other factor of importance, safety, is not so easily demonstrated; the extremely low rate of insurance, however, shows that the judgment of experts on fire risks confirms that of the architects and engineers who planned the building.

With plenty of room for books and with shelving constructed especially for the purpose, it has been possible to make accessible to members the newspaper collections and many volumes of the modern manuscripts, which, thanks to plenty of tables, have been freely used in comfort, a state of affairs not possible in the old building.
In amount and character the accessions of the year have been highly satisfactory. Following a well-defined policy for the growth of the Library, the Committee has sought and found material to fill in and round out the Society's collections in its chosen field, and yet it has jealously guarded what it has cost so much to obtain, space for books, exercising extreme care in the selection of additions, whether acquired by gift or purchase.

Col. Albert Harrison Hoyt, A.M., editor of the Register from 1868 to 1875, donated a large collection of historical and genealogical pamphlets to the Library, from which many titles were added to the duplicate collections.

It is also gratifying to note that the funds limited to the purchase of books have been adequate for present needs. The amount available for the repair of old books and binding, however, is woefully small, and in this respect the Library is not holding its own. There is an imperative need of a substantial sum immediately for these purposes and unless such is soon forthcoming, there will be a heavy outlay in the future for replacing books which might have had their usefulness extended many years by having repairs made when needed. Owing to the need of economy on account of the increased expense of administration in a larger building, the Library staff has been reduced more than thirty per cent in the last two years, a reduction which necessarily lessens the service that can be rendered to visitors and absolutely prohibits any attempt to supply information to those who inquire by mail.

Many volumes in this Library show the effects of long and hard usage, if not of abuse, and perhaps, because of their condition, they do not inspire the respect which their value should command; hence it is becoming necessary more frequently to ask readers to handle the books more carefully. Another matter of considerable importance is a tendency on the part of most novices and some veterans in genealogical research to write with pen or pencil corrections or additions into books found in libraries, without the knowledge or consent of the owners. The rules of this Society prohibit this, and the laws of the Commonwealth provide substantial penalties. This Society many years ago made ample provision for corrections and additions, so that there is no excuse for mutilating books and injuring the reputation of their authors by annotations which have little or no value. Still another matter of importance which the Committee believes can now be carried out is the maintenance of a quiet reading room. Observation throughout the year has shown that the number of individuals prone to disregard the rule relating to conversation is exceedingly small. The laws of the Commonwealth provide penalties for those also who offend in this matter. With the approval of the Council the Committee has posted in the Library abstracts of the laws relating to these abuses, and it suggests drastic action in all cases of wilful disregard of these rules.
The Report of the COMMITTEE ON PUBLICATIONS, by James Parker Parmenter, A.M., LL.B., Chairman:

The Committee on Publications reports that during the year 1913, in addition to the REGISTER and the Proceedings at the Annual Meeting, which together make a volume of 509 pages, the Society has published the Vital Records of Richmond, containing 113 pages, and also two reprints from recent volumes of the REGISTER (List of Emigrants to America from Liverpool, 1697-1707, 55 pages, and Emigrants from England, 1773-1776, 206 pages), the total number of pages for the year being 883.

From October 1912 to October 1913 the printing of Vital Records by the Society was suspended, in accordance with a recommendation of the Committee on Publications and a vote of the Council; but at the meeting of the Council in October 1913 authorization to resume the printing of Vital Records was given, and the Records of Richmond were immediately sent to press. The work of compiling Vital Records for eventual publication has been continued throughout the whole year, the Records of Granville are now in the hands of the printer and will probably be issued before the end of February 1914, and other books will appear in due course.

The editorial department has now been established for more than a year in the ROBERT HENRY EDDY MEMORIAL ROOMS in the Society's building at 9 Ashburton Place, and the new quarters have proved to be in every way satisfactory and well-adapted for the purposes for which they were designed. The fire-proof safe in the large room has been equipped with steel shelving, and here the manuscripts of the department are practically free from any liability to destruction or injury.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON PAPERS AND ESSAYS, by Mrs. Ethel Stanwood Bolton, A.B., Chairman:

The Committee on Papers and Essays respectfully submits herewith its annual report.

The following papers were presented during the year 1913:

5 November. — "Indian Life, Legends, and Songs, including the Harvest Ceremony in Pantomime," by Po-Áhm-E-Squett (Floating Cloud).

3 December. — "Washington, the Father of the Nation," by Melville C. Freeman of Roxbury, Mass.

The meetings were held in Wilder Hall of our new building, 9 Ashburton Place. Six of our papers presented during the year, "Colonial Libraries: their Founders and Patrons," "Old Boston," "Whaling Ventures and Adventures," "Christ Church," "A Trip on a Great-Lake Freighter," and "Colonial and Historical Houses of Eastern Massachusetts," were illustrated with lantern slides.

The attendance this year has increased markedly, the average for the year being three hundred and eight. The largest meeting on record was the annual meeting in February, when four hundred and twenty-five people listened to Walter Kendall Watkins, and large numbers were turned away.

On 18 March the new building was dedicated. The principal address was delivered by Hon. John Davis Long, LL.D. The programme, aside from this address, included prayer by Rev. James De Normandie, D.D., of the First Church, Roxbury, an address and short history of the Society by President James Phinney Baxter, and music by an orchestra. This meeting was attended by three hundred and seventy members and friends.

We have continued our practice of issuing guest tickets and also that of having a paper by some member at the annual meeting in February.

A salient feature of the meetings is the growth in hospitality offered in the tea room. The social hour is responsible for greater interest and additional membership.

The Report of the Committee on English Research, by Charles Sherburne Penhallow, A.B., Chairman:

The Committee on English Research presents herewith a report of its income and expenditures for the year ending 31 December 1913.

This shows a balance from the preceding year of $39.17, which, with subscriptions of $1,081.00, makes the receipts for the year $1,120.17, out of which there has been paid to Miss French for services and for expenses $969.32, leaving a balance, 31 December 1913, of $150.85.

The Committee desires to convey its thanks to the Society and to the members who have so kindly contributed to the Fund, thereby enabling it to retain Miss French in England another year, and to express the hope that sufficient funds may be provided for its future needs, so that this valuable work may be continued without interruption.

In reviewing the work of Miss French during the five years of her employment by the Committee, it may interest the Society to know that she has contributed data relating to over one hundred settlers in New England, and that no part of this material, except a few items, had been previously published.

The Report of the Committee on Heraldry, by Robert Dickson Weston, A.B., Chairman:

This past year has not been marked by any special activity on the part of this Committee. The members individually have continued to give such assistance as they could to people who have applied to them for advice or information.

The Report of the Committee on Epitaphs, by Pearl Hildreth Parker, Chairman:

There has not been any meeting of this Committee during the past year, and no inquiries have been received. The work has progressed so far in eastern Massachusetts and southern New Hampshire that from now on the task is to obtain epitaphs at a considerable distance from Boston. For this reason I suggest that the Committee for 1914 be composed largely of members from the other New England states.

The Report of the Committee on Collection of Records, by George Walter Chamberlain, M.S., Chairman:

The Committee on Collection of Records reports that during the year 1913 forty-six manuscripts have been added to the Library of the Society. These manuscripts consist of church, cemetery, and vital records, family genealogies, Bible records, etc.

There is ample space in the Library for the storage of all manuscripts relating to New England family history, and the Committee urges upon all the desirability of placing such manuscripts in the fire-proof building of this Society.

The Report of the Committee on Sale of Publications, by Myles Standish, A.M., M.D., S.D., Chairman:

The Committee on Sale of Publications recommends that as, according to present arrangements, the distribution of the publications of the Society lies in the hands of other committees and officers of the Society, and as this Committee at present has no field of usefulness, the reappointment of such a committee be discontinued.

The Report of the Committee on Increase of Membership, by Lawrence Brainerd, Chairman:

The Committee on Increase of Membership submits the following report for the year 1913:

During 1913 one hundred and sixty persons have been admitted to the Society—an increase of twenty-one over the preceding year. Of this number fifteen were directly recommended by the Committee, and the acquisition of about twenty others is due to invitations issued by individual members of this Committee.

The passing away of forty-one members has been reported, eighteen members have resigned, and fourteen have been dropped from the enrolment, leaving a net increase of eighty-seven for 1913. The total membership of the Society is now twelve hundred and ninety-six—the largest enrolment in the history of the Society.

At the stated monthly meetings a member of the Committee has been officially in attendance, stationed at a desk at the entrance of Wilder Hall, thereby giving visitors and strangers an opportunity to join the Society.
The Society's Library is now settled in its new quarters, where members throughout the year and visitors since 1 April have been able to consult its books, newspapers, and manuscripts in spacious reading rooms, free from the distracting noises of heavy street traffic without and needless conversation within, amply lighted and heated, and supplied with an abundance of fresh air, which is humidified when necessary. Never before have the members had direct access to so large a collection of genealogical data; never before has the Library been used so much by members. The location of the Library, in close proximity to the three great record offices of the City, County, and State, and in relation to the business district of the City, the terminals of the railroads, and the stations of the electric lines, is ideal. Location and facilities combined enhance the value of membership to all pursuing genealogical investigations.

There is no abatement of the interest in family history. Notwithstanding the interruption in the use of the Library by the public from 1 August 1912 until 1 April 1913, it quickly regained its normal average number of visitors, and is now being used fully twenty per cent more than in the old building. Furthermore, interest is not only increasing but also is broadening in scope, a larger number making researches outside of the beaten tracks so much travelled in the past, some even seeking data for scientific purposes. It is gratifying to note, also, that the proportion of members to non-members using the Library is steadily increasing, a condition perhaps due largely to the greater facilities enjoyed by members and possibly in a slight degree, to the reduced opportunities to usurp the privileges of membership.

One branch of this increased interest is the quest for the English ancestry of American families. The Society possesses an excellent collection of books, selected especially for this purpose, which is rapidly growing and is proving very useful. In fact, the Library is so strong in this department that a number of American genealogists, who personally make researches in England, prefer to do all that can be done from printed works in Boston rather than in London, because of the better facilities here for quick access to the books wanted. Complaint comes from England that Americans are not supporting the publication of English genealogical books as much as they should; that they consult such books in public libraries instead of buying; and the suggestion is made that individuals subscribe for the series of records of a particular county in which they are interested and thus help the work along. While such support may accelerate the rate of publication to some extent, the results to the individual subscribing would be of problematical value. In making an English research one needs access to a large number of volumes of different kinds, and the purchase of so many books is in most cases not practical for the individual. The great libraries in Boston, New York, Washington, Chicago, and other cities having large genealogical collections alone can furnish the books needed for such a search. The more practical way of getting into print English records desired by Americans would be for the interested individuals to make substantial cash contributions for the publication of those particular records. Arrangements undoubtedly could be made with some of the English learned societies for publishing records desired in America, when Americans are willing to coöperate substantially in the manner suggested above.

Another use of the Library, which occasionally comes to the knowledge of the Librarian because the person engaged in the work comes to him for advice, is along scientific lines, where information relative to inheritable traits is wanted for various purposes. Usually such searches are made quietly by trustworthy experts. The increase in the number of these quests, which come to the Librarian's attention, however, indicates a possible future use of the Library in this respect of considerable importance. Boston, because of its great genealogical collections and the excellent registration of vital statistics of the Commonwealth, accessible here, offers exceptional opportunities for getting data on heredity on a scale large enough to be useful for guidance in the task of improving or at least maintaining the standard of the race in America. The increase of the proportion of the desirable class and of the upper strata of the great normal classes, the decrease of the inefficient, and the elimination of the undesirable classes is a matter of state and national concern that is receiving much attention nowadays. The amalgamation of many races in America is gradually producing a new race, which will differ from any of its component parts, and whose standard will depend upon the proportion and quality of the classes which produce it. Wise regulation of the family and of the admission of immigrants, based on accurate data, can modify its future generations for the better: neglect may lead ultimately to national disaster. In solving some of the problems connected with these important subjects, as far as heredity is concerned, the Library of this Society may become extremely useful.

The total accessions for the year number 836 volumes, 1457 pamphlets, and 402 miscellaneous articles. Of these, 325 volumes, 119 pamphlets, and 321 miscellaneous articles were purchased; 423 volumes, 1311 pamphlets, and 81 miscellaneous articles were given; and 88 volumes and 27 pamphlets were received in exchange.
These, added to the estimated number in the Library as reported last year, give 38,313 volumes and 37,705 pamphlets as the approximate number in the Library on 31 December 1913. Three hundred and seventy-two genealogies were acquired during the year. The accessions show an increase of thirty-five per cent above the average of the eleven preceding years, and the genealogies acquired during the incumbency of the present Librarian total 4,056, an average of 338 per year. The increase this year is due largely to the generosity of Col. Albert Harrison Hoyt, who gathered, during the period that he was officially connected with the Society, many genealogical publications, some of which have since become extremely rare, which he kindly donated to the Society.

The new home of the Library has proved entirely satisfactory in every respect. Here the Librarian has met the demands made upon the Society, ranging from the consultation of a single book in the Library to the temporary storage of 200,000 volumes in the building, and from the use of a committee room for a single meeting by a kindred society to the domiciling completely of several such societies, and this without interference in any way with the regular work of any department of this Society.

Now that the matter of safe and adequate quarters for the Library is disposed of, its greatest need is endowment: first, in order that growth and care may receive proper attention; and secondly, that its permanency may be assured in the future, when local interest, on which it has depended so much in the past, may decrease because of the changing character of the population.

EXERCISES AT THE DEDICATION OF THE NEW BUILDING OF THE SOCIETY
18 MARCH 1913

The new building of the New England Historic Genealogical Society at 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, the corner-stone of which was laid by President Baxter with appropriate ceremonies on 18 March 1912, was occupied by the Society on Forefathers' Day, 21 December 1912, and on 1 January 1913 the first meeting of the Society in this building was held in Wilder Hall, the spacious auditorium on the lower floor. On the afternoon of Tuesday, 18 March 1913, the sixty-eighth anniversary of the incorporation of the Society, dedicatory exercises, under the direction of the Committee on Papers and Essays, were held in Wilder Hall, in the presence of a large assemblage of members of the Society and their friends. On the platform were seated the officers and councillors of the Society, with the orator and chaplain of the day and representatives of other historical and patriotic societies.* The hall had been tastefully decorated with flowers by the generosity of the family of the late Marshall Pinckney Wilder, Ph.D., LL.D., President of the Society during the years 1868–1886, and an orchestra furnished music.

At three o'clock, the hour appointed for the opening of the exercises, Hon. James Phinney Baxter, A.M., Litt.D., President of the Society, called the meeting to order, and presented as the chaplain of the day Rev. James de Normandie, D.D., of Roxbury.

PRAYER BY REV. JAMES DE NORMANDIE, D.D.

O Father, Lord of Heaven and Earth, whose life flows through all nature and all souls, we thank Thee that we live at the close of so many ages rich in their heritage for our warning or our guidance, and that all that was good and true in them remains to make our life better.

*Vide supra, p. xiv.
As we gather in this new abode, to be the storehouse of this heritage, wilt Thou accept its dedication to Thee and prosper us in all its purposes. Here, as we ponder the deeds of our fathers and the story of their lives, may the God of our fathers be the God of their children.

May the generosity which has reared these walls be continued in the generous use of mind and heart for all that makes for human welfare.

We thank Thee that we live at the beginning of so many ages with new and greater obligations and opportunities for service for our fellow beings and for Thee. May this age be better than the last, and the next age better than this, by what we bequeath unto it, and so nearer and nearer may Thy kingdom come from age to age. And unto Thee, in the spirit of Him who said: "To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth," be all honor and glory, thanksgiving and praise, forever and ever. Amen.

ADDRESS OF THE PRESIDENT,
HON. JAMES PHINNEY BAXTER, A.M., LITT.D.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

The pleasant duty falls to me of welcoming you to this new home of our Society, which we are to dedicate to-day, and it seems proper, before I introduce to you the speaker of the day, to refer briefly to the past.

In childhood we were told for our encouragement that "Great streams from little fountains flow," and we have since learned that the most important achievements can always be traced to humble beginnings.

The five men whom this Society should hold forever in grateful remembrance, Drake, Shattuck, Ewer, Montague, and Thornton, knew this when they first met in the small upper room in Court Square, and without doubt they looked forward to the time when the little seed which they then planted would grow like the mustard seed into a flourishing tree, for it has been said that the pioneer in a worthy enterprise is always endowed with prophetic vision.

It is only sixty-nine years ago that these men founded this Society. Three years later they removed to a building adjoining the one they at first occupied in Court Square, where they remained until 1851, when it was found necessary to seek a new home. This was found at No. 5 Tremont Street. Here the Society remained for seven years, when again it was obliged for want of room to remove to more spacious quarters, and from 1858 until 1870 it occupied the second story of No. 13 Bromfield Street.
During these years the Society flourished so greatly that the possession of a building of its own began to be discussed. This was a project which seemed to some much too ambitious, but by the energy and generosity of a few enthusiastic men, led by Marshall P. Wilder, the property on Somerset Street, which we have recently vacated, was purchased at a cost of about forty-three thousand dollars. No doubt it was then believed that the Society had found a permanent home, for then fire-proof buildings had been hardly thought of; now they are considered a necessity, especially for the preservation of literary and art treasures which, if destroyed, money cannot replace. It was this necessity that for some years past compelled a constant consideration of a new building, so constructed as to protect our invaluable collections from loss. It was known that such a building would cost a large sum, and, besides, the lot we had was hardly suitable for it. Here I think I ought to remind you of the debt we owe to Edmund Dana Barbour, for it was through his initiative that we acquired the land upon which our new building stands; indeed, had it not been for his enthusiasm and business energy, I doubt if we should be here to-day. Mr. Barbour was also the father of the Vital Record law, which has made possible that valuable publication, the Vital Records of Massachusetts.

I have no ambition to be considered a dispenser of bouquets, but I am sure I shall not be criticised for alluding to some of our associates to whom we are indebted for the possession of this building.

I cannot enumerate them all, though I would gladly do so, nor can I name them in order; but first I wish to say that to our late Treasurer, Mr. Bolton, and to our Librarian, Mr. Greenlaw, we are under great obligations. Mr. Bolton not only rendered the Society invaluable service in raising funds, but also in disposing of its property on Somerset Street to advantage. Mr. Greenlaw, too, added largely to the building fund, and from the first has devoted himself with tireless energy to the construction of the building. Mr. Henry W. Cunningham, of the Council of 1911, also rendered most valuable aid. I should of course mention Nathaniel J. Rust, David H. Brown, Newton Talbot, the heirs of William T. Eustis, David G. Haskins, Jr., Miss Fanny Foster, James J. Goodwin, Isaac J. Greenwood, David P. Kimball, Mrs. John E. Hudson, William S. Hills, Miss Helen F. Kimball, Miss Hannah H. Kimball, Miss Caroline L. W. French, Mrs. James B. Case, and the Massachusetts Society of Colonial Dames, whose large contributions have made the construction of this building possible. Two other large donors I would gladly allude to if it were possible. There are others who have shown their devotion to the Society by contributions to its building fund of money and services. Their names will be preserved in its archives and passed on to those who will have the privilege of celebrating its centenary.
When that event occurs, many changes will have taken place. Few who are here to-day will participate in it; but I question whether the Society will have a more loyal body of men and women than it has to-day, or one more devoted to the preservation of the memory of its founders or the practice of their virtues.

President Baxter then read the following letter:

The President and Council of the New England Historic Genealogical Society.

Respected Sirs:

While I much regret my inability to be present at the Dedication of the Society's New Building, I am grateful beyond expression for the honor you confer on the name and services of my late father, Marshall P. Wilder.

But how would his very heart and soul have rejoiced, could he have foreseen what the energies and personal influence of his colaborers and their associates would have accomplished, during these later years, thus bringing and adding new lustre and glory to the fame of this now renowned Society!

And as you sacredly treasure its prestige, mid the rolling years, may each and all in their turn be "Remembered by what they have done."

Yours very respectfully,

[Signed] (Mrs.) Nancy Jewett (Wilder) Bigelow, 1825-1913.

Southboro, Mass., March 14, 1913.

President Baxter then presented as the orator of the day Hon. John Davis Long, LL.D., formerly Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Member of Congress, and Secretary of the Navy in the administrations of Presidents McKinley and Roosevelt.

Address of Hon. John Davis Long, LL.D.

As a citizen of New England, proud of its foundations and of its inspiring influences in moulding our republic, especially as a descendant of its Pilgrim and Puritan stock, and also as a member of your kindred institution, the Massachusetts Historical Society, which highly appreciates your taking on your shoulders the genealogical department of historical work, I am happy to join with you, on this sixty-eighth anniversary of your incorporation, in the dedication of this your new building and home. I congratulate you on its ample provision for your needs, its central and convenient site, its fire-proof receptacles for your invaluable genealogical library, its rooms for editorial and clerical work, and not least on its kitchen and larder, which, suggestive of Thanksgiving and mince pies, will minister to those cravings of the inner man which the good old customs of New England and the creature-comforting benevolence of her mothers in Israel never failed to satisfy.

I congratulate you, too, upon the notable work which for these many years you have done in genealogical research and illumination. Nor is it a mere divertive or unfruitful work. It is rather a part of education itself. Pride of ancestry is as natural to man as the instinct of religion, and indeed in some races — is it too much to say in our own — is an element in religion. It is easy to smile at the ambitious endeavor to trace back one's lineage to ancestors of repute, easy to say that it would be much better to be a good ancestor than to claim to have one in the remote past. But what better stimulus to a title to respect for character and worth can there be than the conscious obligation to be worthy of an honest and respected ancestry? If, in the tracing back, there be found now and then a black sheep, it by contrast only emphasizes the merit of the far more frequent white one which is the one that sets the standard. It is not too much to say that the interest in genealogical tracing, the search for descent from good kinsfolk in past generations, which is so rapidly spreading among our people, is a very stimulating and uplifting feature in the education of our time. Noblesse oblige, and the noblesse of a New England ancestry, thus reillumined and brought home, is a noblesse that is of far more worth and honor than that of any royalty or aristocracy of any other land or age. Who recognizes this more than our dear old poet, philosopher, and wit, Dr. Holmes, who in his charming literary productions so loyally and often pays tribute to the Brahmin element in our New England forebears? What else accounts for this multiplicity of family genealogical volumes, so numerous now that hardly any New England family is without its full and detailed record, in handsome binding, of every individual in its line from the colonial settlement down to now? It is true that there are names after names, an overwhelming majority of them, that suggest no conspicuous heights in scholarship or war or literature or public office. But there is what is better, what is especially true of our New England families, a sterling average of hard, practical common sense, of faithful, industrious, temperate, frugal, and useful living, of wholesome influence in church and school and social life, and of bold, manly, outspoken, independent free thought in politics and religion. It is not a fault, but is certainly an incompleteness, that we are forever basing our estimate of our New England on the fame of a comparatively few conspicuous names. We ring the changes on those of a score or two of orators, poets, military heroes, and literary lights, forgetting that their prominence is only a little, and perhaps not always justly, above that of the average culture and service of the great mass. The fact is that it is this average which most correctly represents the true New England ideal. Of the especially conspicuous men and women of our own time but few will outlive the oblivion of the next fifty years. So in the past; and it is the general body of our ancestors, represented and living again in your genealogical volumes, whose works do follow them and whose strong traits and strenuous influence you so well impress in your monumental literature.

You are of the Pilgrim and Puritan stock. The theology of the Puritan was hard. His disciplinary exactions were severe. His range was narrow, while the Pilgrim was more liberal. But from these has sprung our large life, as the kernel springs to the full corn in the ear. One thinks of the impressive vision of Ezekiel, who saw in a valley only dry bones. But lo! at the whisper of the spirit of the Lord they rose and took form and were clothed with flesh, though still dumb and lifeless. And lo! again, at the whisper of the Lord and the prayer of the prophet, the breath and flesh of life inspired them and they lived and moved and had their being. So I love to think that the spirit of the Lord, through the intellectual and moral and material agencies of successive generations of New England, has been the vitalizing agency which has kept alive and made still more alive and efficient whatever in the qualities of our ancestors was best, however infelicitous the environment, which has inspired our advancing civilization and overspread and toned the whole republic, which has assimilated all the new elements that have swarmed in upon us from foreign lands, bringing their various racial antecedents and religious and social phases, and which is now moulding them into this new, teeming, strenuous, all-absorbing, and, I pray we may say, hopeful American democracy.

In the first settlement of New England the ministers were es-specially in evidence. They gave tone to the time and color to history; and the communities which they largely guided seem, as we look back, to be enveloped in the ecclesiastical atmosphere. But it is a mistake to suppose that they were supreme. Winthrop never failed to keep in mind the supremacy of the civil authority. In striking change from the English procedure the probate of wills and the jurisdiction over estates of deceased persons were here taken from ecclesiastical and lodged at once in civil courts. There was, by and large, an immense deal of human nature in evidence. The picture of that early time, if it could be reproduced, would present a body of men and women busy in the ordinary and very mundane activities of life, cultivating the farms, plowing the seas, trading with foreign lands and among themselves with a shrewd eye, no doubt, to the main chance, engaged in near and remote fisheries, maintaining the school, the trainband, and the church, and holding town meetings. The energies which to-day throw our great railroad transportation lines across the continent and cut the Isthmian canal and yoke the Atlantic and Pacific and launch great steamships on the ocean, each carrying in its hold more than the whole product of a year's industry in their day, are not peculiar to us, but are only the same masterful energies which in their narrower range found exercise in local fields, in a contest over the site of a meetinghouse or the fixing of a contested boundary line or the election of a militia captain, and only needed the larger field to exhibit the same larger achievement as our own.

It must not be thought that the New England settlers indulged in any mere dream of founding a Utopia, or Saints' Rest. They were neither visionary philosophers nor religious fanatics. The few exceptions prove the rule. Their early records deal with everyday details of farm and lot, of domestic affairs, of straying cattle and swine, of runaway apprentices and scolding wives, of barter with the Indians, of whippings and stocks—sometimes we wish we had these back again—and fines for various naughtinesses, of debt and legal process and probate, of elections and petty offices, civil and military, of the alarum of war now and then, and of the inevitable assessment of taxes—alas! the still unsolved and harrowing problem of our own day. Their legislative records smack very much more of the concerns, and the common concerns, of this world than of concern for the next. They are the records of a hard, practical life. There is in them no cant nor sniffling, none of that pretentious sanctimoniousness which is so flippantly charged upon the Puritan. There is less reference to theology than to ways and means. The practical question, for instance, of restraining the liquor traffic and evil seems to have taxed the ingenuity of their lawmakers and magistrates very much as it does in the case of their descendants. There is no waste of words in their grim legislative phraseology, but a plain, wholesome dealing with their material needs. One cannot read it and not feel the sense of justice and righteousness which sought, rigorously indeed but honestly, to institute a commonwealth and towns which should be animated by virtue, thrift, education, the sanctity and sweetness of home, fear of God, and fair dealing among men. They were developing that sturdy spirit of the New England town life which, till sixty or seventy years ago, was so unique, but which since then has gradually been moulded anew by the tremendous influences of easy and diffused railroad transportation, by the upheaval of the Civil War, by the scattering far and wide of the New England seed, by the inundating influx of foreign immigration, by the rapid growth of cities which were then unknown and in which is now congested a good deal more than half of our whole population, by the resulting exhausting drain into them of the rural sons and daughters, and by the general change from diffusion to consolidation and from the simplest and most meagre to the most profuse and complex material resources.

There is this striking peculiarity in our early history. We began like Minerva, sprung from the brow of Jove, mature and full—please excuse the chestnut, but it is so pat. The civilization of other peoples has been a slow evolution from the lowest and most barbarous beginnings, aided by influxes from outside, either through invasion or conquest. Our fathers began at the summit of all past attainment. They were men of mind, of education, of far-sighted thought, and of an inherited maturity. Hence they needed little, as they received little, from outside themselves. We have advanced wonderfully indeed in arts, in physical appliances and agencies, in methods of culture; but I doubt whether we have made any corresponding advance in the fundamentals of intellectual power, of mental grasp and outlook.

As we look back upon this swift transition from the rural life of the early time to the complex and crowded municipalization of to-day, I am sure that this whole subject of the immense growth of cities, like our own, suggests a great deal for you to consider. We are no longer the New World. In a sense we are venerable with age. The world now moves so swiftly that a hundred years are more than a thousand of the old time. We look back upon a vista of three centuries, and it is crowded full and increasingly with great achievements in behalf of humanity and for civil and religious liberty, with conspicuous names of heroic men and women who lived not afar off but were with us and of us, and with colossal events—the success of popular government, the emancipation of religious thought and faith, the abolition of slavery, the inventions of science which have put the round globe into the hollow of man's hand and made the giant forces of nature obedient servants of human will. With what an ancestry shall we fear to compare ours? With what dead or living, in other lands or other times, shall we be ashamed to compare our own? The soil is rich with the ashes of the good and great; and our tribute goes out to them the more warmly because it goes not to a few, to an illustrious warrior here or great benefactor there, but to the whole body of those plain, sturdy, God-fearing, and self-respecting men and women, whose names and memories you are so wisely and loyally preserving, and who so raised the general level of the ordinary life of their time that any distinction among them which they made was often the accident of circumstances and any distinction which we should make would often be an injustice. What legacy have they not handed down to us to hand down to our children? With them behind us, what is not our duty as the living, accountable citizens of the New England of to-day to those who shall follow us? Shall we lower the standard? Shall we not rather advance it still higher? I believe that amid all the clouds that overshadow us, all the perplexing and terrible problems that confront us, the spirit of progress, not in any one party but in all parties, is the better and holier and prevailing spirit of our time. For we feel as never before the pleading of the world of our fellow men and women, so many of them in the slough of despair, in the stress of poverty, between the millstones of temptation and ignorance and crime, who appeal to us to lend them from our safe and high vantage ground a helping hand, to reach out and lift them up by our aid and by our example. There never was a time when the moral instinct of humanity was more sensitive than now. Peace, undisturbed by the wordy vociferations of the men who are in politics, or even of the women who would be, spreads her white wings over the land. The better sentiment of the country, may I not say the better sentiment of the whole world, is springing to the ideal, nay, to the practical, abolition of war, and putting in its stead international arbitration, the arbitration not of the sword but of the judicial tribunal. There is no field for us to-day on which to battle with bloody arms for civil freedom, for religious toleration, or against beast or savage foe. Our conflict must be with the insidious forces that war upon the moral sentiment, that threaten corruption of our social and political fabric, that invade the manhood and purity and truth of men and women, and that impair the sanctity and security of the home. While in societies like yours we keep bright the record of the past, let us not forget that the salvation of the future is in our hands, and that the best tribute we can pay to our ancestors is to maintain and still further to advance the standard they set for New England institutions and character.

At the conclusion of the exercises refreshments were served in the smaller hall, under the auspices of the Committee on Papers and Essays. Mrs. Charles Knowles Bolton, Chairman, Mrs. Charles F. White, and Mrs. Homer Albers of Brookline, Mrs. Dwight Mortimer Prouty and Mrs. James Knox Taylor of Boston, Mrs. Winifred Kineaide of Somerville, and Mrs. Lawrence Brainerd of Forest Hills presided at the tables, and were assisted by Mrs. F. D. Ellison of Belmont, Miss Florence N. Bates of Cohasset, Mrs. William Prescott Greenlaw of Winthrop, Mrs. Ida Farr Miller of Wakefield, Mrs. Susan Cotton Tufts and Miss Annie Sanford Head of Brookline, Mrs. Mary Lovering Holman and Mrs. J. Dudley Hall of Boston, Mrs. Morgan Hewitt Stafford of Newtonville, Miss Mary Ella Stickney of Waltham, Miss Elizabeth Merrill of Dorchester, and Mrs. Florence Conant Howes and Miss Mabel W. Chapin of Somerville.

The ushers for the exercises were Lawrence Brainerd of Forest Hills, Dwight Mortimer Prouty and William Sumner Appleton of Boston, Morgan Hewitt Stafford of Newtonville, and Walter Eliot Thwing of Roxbury.

MEMOIRS
NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY
Prepared by William Richard Cutter, A.M., Historian

The following pages contain obituary notices of members who died during the year 1913, with the addition of eight deceased in preceding years. The notices are arranged in the order in which the deaths occurred.

Sir Theodore Martin, LL.D., K.C.B., K.C.V.O., elected a corresponding member in 1885 and transferred to the roll of honorary members in 1890, was born at Edinburgh, Scotland, 16 September 1816, the son of James Martin, an Edinburgh solicitor, and died at his country seat, "Bryntysilio," at Llangollen, Denbighshire, Wales, 18 August 1909.

He was educated at the High School and University of Edinburgh, became a solicitor at Edinburgh in 1840, and practised there until 1846, when he removed to London. There he continued the practice of his profession, was senior partner in the firm of Martin & Leslie, 27 Abingdon Street, Westminster, acted as a parliamentary agent in the passing of private bills, and was a hard-working lawyer almost to the end of his life.

Literary work early claimed a large share of his time and attention. In the years immediately following his removal to London he and his friend, Professor W. E. Aytoun, published in Tait's Magazine and in Fraser the ballads and parodies afterwards collected under the Rabelaisian name of "Bon Gaultier," in a book that passed through sixteen editions prior to 1903. In 1858 the two friends published a translation of Goethe's Poems and Ballads; and nine years later, after Professor Aytoun's death, Martin wrote an interesting memoir giving the story of their literary collaboration. For his wife, who was the eminent actress, Miss Helen Faucit, he prepared a translation of Hertz's play, "King René's Daughter." His translation of the Odes of Horace appeared in 1860, and in 1870 he published a small biographical and critical volume on the same poet in the series of books called "Ancient Classics for English Readers." In 1882 these two books were combined in a two-volume edition, which contained also a translation in verse of the Satires and Epistles. Among his other publications were translations of Catullus, of Faust (which went through a dozen editions), of some of Heine’s poems and of other German poems, and of Dante’s “Vita Nuova,” and also a biography of Lord Lyndhurst. The translations of Horace and Catullus read more like original poems than translations.

As a result of the recommendation of Sir Arthur Helps, Martin was asked by Queen Victoria to write the “Life of the Prince Consort,” although he had not known personally the subject of the biography. The task occupied him for many years, the Queen placing at his disposal every available source of information. This monumental work, which was completed in five volumes, “did as much to strengthen the Monarchy as it did to raise the reputation of the Prince.”

At the end of 1901 Martin printed for private circulation a little volume entitled “Queen Victoria as I knew Her,” which was issued to the public seven years later and contained some interesting letters from the Queen to the author.

Martin was popular in society, and a great friend of Thackeray and of other literary and political leaders of the Victorian era. In 1880, on the appearance of the last volume of the “Life of the Prince Consort,” he was made a Knight Commander of the Order of the Bath, in 1881 he was elected Rector of the University of St. Andrews, and in 1896, on the eightieth anniversary of his birth, the Queen sent to him the insignia of a Knight Commander of her newly-founded Royal Victorian Order.

He married, in the old church at Brighton, in 1851, Helen, daughter of John Savile Faucit. She was then thirty-four years of age, and had already had a brilliant career of sixteen years on the stage. Although she continued to appear on the stage after her marriage, she proved herself to be her husband’s best friend and counsellor, and aided him in his literary work. In 1861 the Martins visited the vale of Llangollen in Wales, were attracted by the house called “Bryntysilio,” and four years later bought it. Here they spent a part of every year, here most of the “Life of the Prince Consort” was written, and here the Queen visited them in 1889. Here, too, Sir Theodore celebrated in 1906 the ninetieth anniversary of his birth. Lady Martin, however, had died in 1898, and a memoir of her from the pen of her husband was published a few years after her death.

Sir Theodore’s London house was on the east side of Onslow Square. He remained “strong in body and alert in mind” until shortly before his death, was seen often at the Athenæum Club and at dinners, and showed great interest in politics, art, literature, the drama, and in the collecting of pictures, engraved portraits, and autographs.

HON. EDWARD LIVINGSTON DAVIS, A.M., of Worcester, Mass., elected a resident member in 1890 and made a life member in 1891, was born at Worcester 22 April 1834, the son of Isaac and Mary Holman (Estabrook) Davis, and died there in March 1912.

He was graduated at Brown University in 1854 and received the degree of A.M. from that institution, studied at the Harvard Law School in 1855-56, and was admitted to the bar in 1857. In the following year, however, he gave up the practice of law, and for a quarter of a century was engaged at Worcester in the manufacture of railway iron, locomotive tires, and car wheels, the firm with which he was connected being incorporated in 1864 as the Washburn Iron Company. Since 1882 he was chiefly occupied in the care of public and private trusts, and was a director in various railroad companies and banks. In 1865 he was elected to the Worcester Common Council, being a member of that body for three years and serving as president of the Council for the last year of his membership. He was mayor of Worcester in 1874, a member of the Massachusetts Senate in 1876, a member of the American Antiquarian Society, serving at one time on its Council, and a trustee of the Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge, Mass. For many years he was senior warden of All Saints’ Church, Worcester.

He married first, at Providence, R. I., in 1859, Hannah Gardner Adams, daughter of Seth Adams, Esq., of Providence. She died in 1861, leaving a son who survived her but a few days; and he married secondly, in Boston, 2 December 1869, Maria Louisa, daughter of Rev. Dr. Chandler and Mary Eliza (Frothingham) Robbins. His children by his second marriage were Eliza Frothingham, Theresa, and Livingston.

WILLIAM FOBES GAVET of Salem, Mass., a resident member since 1902, was born in Boston 12 April 1838, the son of William Richardson and Frances Cordelia (Clapp) Gavet, and died in the early summer of 1912. He traced his ancestral line to Philippe’ Gavet of the Isle of Jersey, from whom he was descended through Joseph of Salem, Jonathan, William, and William Richardson.

He was educated in the public schools of Salem, and was graduated at the Salem High School in 1854. He supplemented his school course by reading and by special lines of study. As a boy he was employed in the office of Waterstown, Deane & Company, commission merchants, from 10 January 1855, and was connected with this house and its successors, Richardson, Deane & Company, George C. Richardson & Company, and Smith, Hogg & Gardner, in various capacities, until 1 January 1896, when he began business for himself as a note broker, his previous duties with the firms mentioned having been financial and connected with loans for the accommodation of the various mills for which they were agents. In this business he was engaged when he joined the New England Historic Genealogical Society in 1902. Other subjects to which he devoted his time were mathematics, physics, and music. He was connected with a number of organizations for the study of vocal and instrumental music, was a vestryman of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Salem, and had been engaged in collecting material for a genealogical history of his own family.

He married, 9 September 1862, Rebecca Oliver Thayer, who was born 24 January 1840 and died 20 July 1897, daughter of Oliver and Rachel (Bancroft) Thayer, and by this marriage he had two children, Rachel Thayer and Louis Fobes.

REV. ASA DALTON, A.M., D.D., of Portland, Me., a resident member since 1892, was born at Newfield, Me., 30 October 1824, the son of Samuel7 and Mary Ann (Huckins) Dalton, and died at Portland 29 August 1912. He traced his lineage, through Samuel,6 Samuel,5 Samuel,4 Philemon,3 and Samuel,2 to Philemon1 Dalton of Dedham, Mass. His father was a native of Parsonsfield, Me., and his mother, also a native of Parsonsfield, was the daughter of Joseph6 Huckins, who was a descendant of Robert1 Huckins of Dover, N. H.

He fitted for college at the Cambridge (Mass.) Latin School, was graduated with honor at Harvard in 1848, and received the degree of A.M. from Harvard in 1851. He was a student at the Harvard Divinity School in 1848–49, and was graduated at the Newton (Mass.) Theological Institute in 1851. He was ordained as a deacon in the Protestant Episcopal Church in 1856, and was advanced to the priesthood in 1857. He was settled for six years (1857–1862) as rector of St. John’s Episcopal Church at Bangor, Me., resigning to become editor of the Protestant Churchman and assistant rector of the Church of the Ascension in New York City, whence he went in 1863 as rector to St. Stephen’s Church in Portland and remained in that charge until his resignation in 1906, when he was made rector emeritus. In November 1903 he celebrated the fortieth anniversary of his rectorship. In 1885 Colby University had conferred on him the degree of D.D.

Dr. Dalton was a director in numerous city and state societies, was at one time president of the Harvard Club of Maine, and was a member of the Maine Historical Society. From 1856 to 1862 he wrote various articles for the Protestant Episcopal Quarterly Review of New York City, in 1876 his discourse entitled "The Fulness of Christ" was printed by request, in 1882 he published an address on Longfellow, and on 4 July 1886, at the centennial celebration of the city of Portland, he delivered an address on the "History and Principles of St. Stephen’s Parish.” He also wrote “Epochs of Church History,” 1894. He gave numerous courses of lectures, during successive winters, on literary and historical subjects, which were reported, in outline, in the Portland Transcript. As an expounder of history he stood pre-eminent, and his lectures were always well-attended and afforded ample evidence of his skill in presenting and putting life into his subject.

As a clergyman he was distinguished by broad-minded tolerance and a fraternal spirit, as a citizen by a lively interest in civil affairs and zeal in behalf of whatever made for the public good, as a scholar by studious habits, a wide and deep culture, and generosity in imparting the fruits of his learning. He was also remarkably in touch with his own times. Perhaps no man was more popular in his community, and certainly no man was better known in Maine.

He married, at Grafton, Mass., 20 November 1851, Maria Leverett, who was born in Boston 5 March 1826 and died at Portland 1 June 1909, daughter of William and Mary B. (Jackson) Leverett of Providence, R. I. He had two children, Mary Leverett, born at Bangor 2 April 1860, and Edith Leverett, born at Portland 18 January 1864.

WILLIAM FRANCIS JOSEPH BOARDMAN of Hartford, Conn., elected a resident member of this Society 9 March 1904 and transferred to the roll of life members 18 January 1906, was born at Wethersfield, Conn., 12 December 1828, and died at Hartford 23 November 1912. He was the son of William and Mary (Francis) Boardman, his mother being the daughter of Capt. Daniel and Mehitable (Goodrich) Francis of Wethersfield. His father, although born at Lenox, Mass., was of an old Wethersfield family, and the son traced his descent from William¹ Boreman of Banbury, Oxfordshire, England, in 1525, through Thomas,² Thomas,³ Christopher,⁴ Samuel,⁵ who immigrated to Ipswich, Mass., as early as 1639 and in 1641 removed thence and settled at Wethersfield, Conn., Samuel⁶ Borman, Cornet Joseph,⁷ Levi,⁸ Joseph Simeon⁹ Boardman, and William,¹⁰ his father.

He received his education in the public schools of his native town, and was graduated at the Wethersfield Academy in the spring of 1846. In the same year he entered at Wethersfield the spice and coffee business carried on by his father. In 1850 the business was moved to Hartford, and he became a member of the firm, which from 1850 to 1853 was known as William Boardman & Son and from 1853 on as William Boardman & Sons. They were importers of teas and coffee and manufacturers of coffee and spices. In 1888, after the death of his father, Mr. Boardman retired from the firm. In 1861 Mr. Boardman was elected a director of the State Bank of Hartford, serving in this capacity during the Civil War. He was connected also with various other business enterprises. He was a member of the Common Council of Hartford in 1863–64, an original member (1859) of the Putnam Phalanx and later a veteran of that battalion, a life member of the Connecticut Historical Society, and a member of the Topsfield (Mass.) Historical Society, the Ipswich (Mass.) Historical Society, the Sons of the American Revolution, the Sons of the Revolution, and the Connecticut Society of the Order of the Founders and Patriots of America, being councillor and genealogist of this last-mentioned society. He was a member also of the Wethersfield Society Library, and was interested in various philanthropic and benevolent organizations. In 1895 he published the "Boardman Genealogy, 1525–1895," and he was the compiler and publisher of other genealogical works and of a volume of "Wethersfield Inscriptions."

He married, 7 January 1852, Jane Maria Greenleaf, born at Hartford 9 August 1835, died 20 August 1899, daughter of Dr. Charles and Electa (Toocker) Greenleaf. Their son, William Greenleaf Boardman, who was born at Hartford 29 June 1853, died there 26 May 1908, having married, 29 October 1874, Eliza Fowler Root, by whom he had three children.

Ellsworth Eliot, A.M., M.D., of New York City, a corresponding member since 1887, was born at North Guilford, Conn., 15 September 1827, the son of Wyllis and Lucy (Camp) Eliot, and died 9 December 1912. He traced his descent from Bennett1 Eliot of Widford, co. Herts, and of Nazeing, co. Essex, England, through the Apostle John1 Eliot, Rev. Joseph,2 of Northampton, Mass., and of Guilford, Conn., Abial,4 Timothy,4 and Wyllis4 Eliot, his father.

He was educated in the common schools and academies of Connecticut and at Yale College, receiving from that institution the degree of A.B. in 1849 and that of A.M. in 1852. He studied medicine, and received the degree of M.D. from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York, in 1852. He served as junior assistant, senior assistant, and house surgeon in Bellevue Hospital, 1852–53, and then entered upon the career of a practising physician in New York City.

He was a member of the principal medical societies of New York, in several of which he held high office. He was also a trustee and registrar of the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He took a great interest in genealogical research, was a life member of the New York Historical Society and of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society, and was for several years a vice-president of the latter organization. He had much to do with the preparation of the volume entitled "Genealogy of the Descendants of John Eliot."
He married, 7 May 1856, Anna Stone, born 13 December 1825, died 23 January 1905, daughter of Joshua and Ruth Shaw (Summer) Stone of Boston. She was a singer, who in the oratorios presented by the Handel and Haydn Society of Boston used to entrance her hearers. Their children were Anna and Ellen (twins), Grace, Laura, and Ellsworth.

William James Wright of Duxbury, Mass., a resident member since 1889, was born at Brooklyn, N. Y., 11 November 1846, the son of Charles Henry and Mary Elizabeth (Wright) Todd, and died unmarried 17 December 1912. His name was changed from Todd to Wright by an act of the Massachusetts General Court on 21 September 1867. His father, Charles Henry Todd, a son of Francis Todd and his wife Abigail Bancroft of Newburyport, Mass., was born at Newburyport 14 August 1811, and died at Nyack-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., 11 February 1885. His mother, Mary Elizabeth Wright, was born at Haverhill, N. H., 22 June 1822, the daughter of John Stratton Wright and his wife Mary Russell Wellman, who was a daughter of Lemuel Wellman, M.D.

He was educated at the Institute de France (military) at Asnières, France, and was graduated at the Highland Military Academy, Worcester, Mass., in 1863, being first lieutenant and acting adjutant of the corps. He served in the Civil War in Co. G, Forty-Second Massachusetts Regiment. He represented the towns of Duxbury, Marshfield, Kingston, and Plympton in the Massachusetts General Court in 1890 and 1891. He was a trustee of Partridge Academy and of the Duxbury Free Library, president of the Marshfield Agricultural Society, chairman of many important town committees, and a member of the Somerset, Algonquin, Country, and Eastern Yacht Clubs. His occupation was that of a gentleman farmer.

John Parker Towne, A.B., of Edgerton, Wis., elected a resident member in 1866, and a life member of the Society since 1868, died 29 December 1912. He was born at Milford, N. H., 12 June 1826, the son of Jonathan and Clarissa (Hoyt) Towne, his ancestors having lived in and around Milford. The family traced its line to William Towne, one of the early settlers in Massachusetts.

His early education was received in the public and private schools of Milford and at the Pembroke (N. H.) Academy. In the autumn of 1848 he entered the scientific department of Norwich University, Norwich, Vt.; but, finding that his health would make it inadvisable for him to follow the profession of a civil engineer, he was transferred to the classical course at the end of his Freshman year and was graduated with the degree of A.B. in 1852. In the spring of 1853 he removed to Johnson Co., Ind., and taught school at Franklin and Edinburg in that county for three years, pursuing also in the meantime the study of law. He was admitted to the bar in 1855, and in April 1856 removed to Wisconsin, where, after a brief stay at Milwaukee, he practised his profession at Palmyra and in 1858 settled at Edgerton, his home for the remainder of his life. When the Civil War broke out, he was eager to enlist in the cause of the Union, but defects in eyesight and hearing disqualified him for military service. For some twenty-five years he served as justice of the peace, for fifteen years as town clerk, and for twenty years as a member of the school board. He was an organizer of the bank at Edgerton, and director and president for a number of years. He was for many years a trustee of the Methodist Church, and later a generous supporter of the Congregational Church. He was a Republican in politics, but did not aspire to hold office, seeking only to discharge faithfully the duties continuously thrust upon him. His high conception of a lawyer's duty was to keep people out of difficulty rather than to encourage litigation. His sole ambition was to lead a quiet, useful life, and this was fully realized in the long years he lived in one community.

He married, 19 December 1860, Rozilla Ford of Dane Co., Wis., who died 19 December 1895. A son, Louis Harvey, two daughters, Angie Fedelia and Metta (both married), and five grandchildren survived him.

Francis Blake, A.M., of Weston, Mass., a life member since 1912, was born in that part of Needham, Mass., which is now the town of Wellesley, near Newton Lower Falls, 25 December 1850, the son of Francis and Caroline Burling (Trumbull) Blake, and died at Weston 19 January 1913. He was a descendant in the eighth generation of William and Agnes Blake, who were married at Pitminster, co. Somerset, England, 27 September 1617, and came to New England in the early Puritan migration, settling eventually in that part of Dorchester, Mass., which is now the town of Milton.

He was educated in public schools until 1866, when his uncle, Commodore George Smith Blake, U. S. N., secured for him, then a pupil in the Brookline (Mass.) High School, an appointment to the United States Coast Survey. In his twelve years' service on the Coast Survey he gained his scientific education and showed special aptitude for scientific work. His name was connected with many important scientific achievements. He was engaged during a large part of this service in the determination of astronomical latitudes and longitudes, being assigned to various stations, both in the United States and abroad, for the prosecution of this work. He gained several promotions on the Coast Survey, but resigned from the service in 1878. In 1878 he made his famous invention, the Blake telephone transmitter, and this was followed by many other electrical inventions.

He was elected a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in 1874, a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 1881, he held membership in many other scientific societies, he became a trustee of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1889, and in 1902 Harvard University conferred on him the honorary degree of A.M.

He was a member of the Bostonian Society and of the American Antiquarian Society, and in 1890 was one of the selectmen of Weston. In 1871 he published a memoir of George Smith Blake, Commodore, U. S. N., and in 1900 a memoir of John Elbridge Hudson. For several years before his death he lived in retirement on his estate called “Keewaydin,” comprising about one hundred and thirty acres on one of the highest elevations in Weston. Near the house he constructed a sunken garden, the stable buildings were built around an interior courtyard, and among other structures were a laboratory and a miniature theatre.

He married, 24 June 1873, Elizabeth L. Hubbard, daughter of Charles T. Hubbard of Weston, who survived him, together with a daughter, Agnes, born 2 January 1876, now Mrs. Stephen S. FitzGerald, and a son, Benjamin Sewall, born 14 February 1877.

Mrs. Margaret Rowland (Clapp) Marshall of Winchester, Mass., admitted to resident membership in 1901 and a life member since 1906, was born at Milton, Mass., 19 November 1859, the daughter of Edwin and Isabella (Rowland) Clapp, and died at Pasadena, Cal., 16 February 1913. She was descended from Roger Clapp, through Preserved, Samuel, Ebenezer, Ebenezer, and her father, Edwin Clapp. Her mother, Isabella Rowland, was born at Rowlandville, Cecil Co., Md., 16 April 1825, the daughter of Samuel and Mary (Black) Rowland.

Margaret Rowland Clapp was educated in private schools at Pawtucket and Providence, R. I., and afterwards was sent to Miss Anable’s school in Philadelphia, where she was graduated in 1880.

She was married, 4 November 1886, to John Murray Marshall, attorney at law, of Los Angeles, Cal., the son of Benjamin DeForest and Catherine Russell (Woods) Marshall.

Edward Burgess of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a corresponding member since 1861, was born at Hartford, Conn., and died 17 February 1913, at the age of sixty-eight years.

He was educated in Hartford, and went to Poughkeepsie and engaged in business when a young man, and some thirty-six years ago was appointed the first superintendent of the public schools at Poughkeepsie, a position which he held for nineteen years. He was city chamberlain from 1906 to 1910, and served as city assessor from 1910 to 1912. He found time to be active in many institutions whose object was civic improvement. He was a member of the literary club out of which Vassar Institute grew, was a trustee of that organization for many years, and held at the time of his death the position of secretary. He was a charter member of the Amrita Club and a director of the Poughkeepsie Savings and Loan Association. He also wrote, as a means of recreation, articles of an educational and scientific character. He was exceptionally well-known in the city of his residence, and by his patient, genial, unassuming kindness gained many friends and acquaintances.
A widow and a sister, Mrs. Brandreth of Brooklyn, N. Y., survived him.

Frederick Charles Johnson, M.D., of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., a life member since 1899, was born at Marquette, Wis., 2 March 1853, the son of Wesley and Cynthia Henrietta (Green) Johnson, and died at Wilkes-Barre 3 March 1913. He was a descendant of William Johnson, one of the founders of Wallingford, Conn., who died there in 1716. His great-grandfather, Rev. Jacob Johnson, born at Wallingford 7 April 1713, was graduated at Yale College in 1740, and became a missionary among the Six Nations. He was the pioneer pastor at Wilkes-Barre, laboring there from 1772 until his death, 15 March 1797. His grandfather, Jehoiada Pitt Johnson, was born in Connecticut, and died at Wilkes-Barre in 1830. His father was born at Wilkes-Barre 20 December 1819. His mother, born at Lincoln, Vt., 13 March 1827, was the daughter of David Sands and Mary (Tuttle) Green, David Sands Green being the son of David and the grandson of Isaiah Green, an early settler of Weare, N. H.

He acquired his education at the common schools of Marquette and Wilkes-Barre, took a partial course at Ripon College, and was graduated in medicine at the University of Pennsylvania in 1883.
Afterwards he entered the profession of journalism, and became one of the editors and proprietors of the Wilkes-Barre Daily Record.
He was from boyhood an enthusiastic member of the Wyoming
Historical and Geological Society, serving for years as its treasurer.
He was a member of various other historical societies and the author of numerous papers on topics connected with the history of the Wyoming Valley. The historical column of his newspaper was one of its strong features, and was utilized in a publication, edited by him, called The Historical Record. He was an active spirit in the Wyoming Commemorative Association, which commemorates annually the battle and massacre at Wyoming in 1778. The proceedings of this Association were published each year under his direction.
He married, 25 June 1885, Georgia Post, daughter of Joseph Herbert and Harriet E. (Green) Post of Knoxville, Tenn. Their children were Ruth, Frederick Green, and Margaret.

Henry Winkley Fernald of Boston, a resident member since 1899, died 13 March 1913. He was born at Portsmouth, N. H., 21 December 1840, the son of Benjamin Chandler and Lavinia Lyman (Fernald) Fernald. His parents were natives of Kittery, Me., and his mother was a daughter of Daniel and Hannah (Man- son) Fernald. He was descended in the paternal line from Regi- nald Fernald through William, Ebenezer, Jonathan, Elisha, and Benjamin Chandler Fernald.

He was educated in the public schools at Portsmouth, N. H., and was a clerk in the money order division of the Boston post office.

He married, 20 January 1870, Eleanor Lucretia Bothwell, daughter of Elbridge Gerry and Mary Russell (Spencer) Bothwell.

Clarence Walter Ayer, A.M., of Cambridge, Mass., a resident member since 1904, was born at Haverhill, Mass., 29 May 1862, the son of Walter and Abby West (Stevens) Ayer, and died at Cambridge 11 April 1913.

He was graduated at Harvard University in 1885, and taught for a time at Dummer Academy, Byfield, Mass. He then returned to Harvard for additional study, and received there the degree of A.M. in 1888. Later he went to Springfield, Ohio, where he taught English at Wittenberg College, and in 1892 he was called to the Western Reserve University at Cleveland, Ohio, as professor of English, where he remained till 1895, serving also in the meanwhile as librarian of the Western College Reference Library in that city. He came back to the East in 1895, taught for a year at the Volk- mann School in Boston, and afterwards, until 1899, was connected with the Harvard College Library. He then became librarian of the Brockton (Mass.) Public Library, and remained there until 1904, when he accepted the position of librarian of the Cambridge Public Library, a position which he held at the time of his death.

Mr. Ayer was proficient in music, and in his college days took final honors in his musical studies. He was a member of the Harvard Musical Association, the Harvard Alumni Chorus, the American Library Association, and the Massachusetts Library Club. In the New England Historic Genealogical Society he was a member of the Committee on the Library for the year 1912, and at the time of his death had entered upon a second year of service on that Com- mittee.

He married at Brockton, 1 October 1902, Grace Stanwood Blackwell, who, with two sons, survives him.

MEMOIRS

FRANCIS HENRY FULLER of Boston, a resident member since 1894, was born at Lincoln, Me., 4 April 1846, the son of Timothy and Deborah Elliot (Baker) Fuller, and died in Boston 12 April 1913. He traced his ancestry to Thomas Fuller and Hannah Flower, who were born in England and were married, 22 November 1643, at Dedham, Mass., where they resided until death. The line is carried back, through Timothy, David, David, and Thomas, to Thomas Fuller.

He was educated in the common schools and at Mattanawcook Academy in his native town, and in the West Newton (Mass.) English and Classical School. He aided Mr. Timothy Hopkins in compiling "The Kelloggs in the Old World and the New," a genealogy in three volumes which was published at San Francisco, Cal., in 1903, and also in compiling a genealogy of the Stephen Hopkins family, the latter work, however, being unfortunately destroyed in the great San Francisco earthquake. He compiled also the Lincoln (Me.) records, articles entitled "Early New England Fullers," and "Fullers of Redenhall, England," which were published in Register, vol. 55, pp. 192-196, 410-416, an article on the Fuller family, which was published in Dedham Historical Register, 1893-94, and he left also in manuscript a work entitled "Descendants of Ensign Thomas Fuller of Dedham."

SUSANNA ELIZABETH CARY of Jamaica Plain, Mass., a life member since 1912, was born in Boston 26 July 1832, and died at Jamaica Plain 3 May 1913. She was the daughter of Isaac Harris and Phebe P. (Pratt) Cary and the granddaughter of Jonathan Cary of Charlestown and Lexington, Mass., and his second wife, Mary Harris.

She was educated in public and private schools in Boston. She was well-known and highly esteemed in the place of her residence, was an active member of the Unitarian Church, and a generous promoter of the New England Women's and Children's Hospital, of which she was a director and member of the Executive Committee. She was also interested in various other charities and charitable organizations.

HON. GEORGE GLOVER CROCKER, A.M., LL.B., of Boston, elected a resident member in 1911 and made a life member in 1912, died at Cohasset, Mass., 26 May 1913. He was born on Lynde Street, in Boston, 15 December 1843, the son of Uriel and Sarah Kidder (Haskell) Crocker. He was descended from William Crocker, who came to New England from Devonshire, was at Scituate in 1636, and later removed to Barnstable, where he died in 1692, the line consisting of William, Job, Samuel, Cornelius, Josiah, Uriel, and Uriel, the father of George Glover. His great-grandmother was a daughter of Col. Jonathan Glover of Marblehead, Mass., the brother of Gen. John Glover of Revolutionary fame, to whose memory a statue was erected on Commonwealth Avenue. On his mother's side his ancestry has been traced to William Haskell of Gloucester, Mass., 1642. The Boston home of the Crocker family was on Lynde Street, in the house behind and next to the West Church.

Up to the age of ten years George Glover Crocker was educated at private schools, and went thence to the Boston Latin School, where he won a Franklin Medal. At the age of sixteen he entered Harvard College, where he received the degree of A.B. in 1864. He then studied law at the Harvard Law School, from which he obtained the degree of L.L.B. in 1866; and in 1867 his alma mater conferred on him the degree of A.M. In the same year he was admitted to the bar, and began the practice of the law with his brother, Uriel H. Crocker.

In 1873 he became a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, where he served on several important committees. In 1874 he was a candidate for senator, but was defeated. Later, after the lapse of several years, he was elected to the Senate and served there for four terms, being president of that body in 1883, in the prolonged session in which the investigation of the affairs of the Tewksbury almshouse was carried on, and taking at all times during his membership in the Senate an important part in committee work. He was always active in promoting the advancement of political organizations in behalf of the Republican party. In 1887 he was appointed a member of the Board of Railroad Commissioners and held that office until 1892, and in 1894 he became chairman of the Boston Transit Commission, a position which he was still holding at the time of his death. In 1868 he was active in forming the Boston Young Men's Christian Union, and he was for nine years a director in that institution. He was also an officer in many business organizations, and his whole life was one of unremitting activity.

Mr. Crocker published in 1889 a parliamentary manual, and in conjunction with his brother he also prepared "Notes on the General Statutes." An enlarged edition, entitled "Notes on the Public Statutes," was published simultaneously with the publication of the revision of the statutes in 1882.

Mr. Crocker married, 19 June 1875, Annie Bliss Keep, daughter of Dr. Nathan Cooley and Susan Prentiss (Haskell) Keep. Five children survived him: George Glover, Mrs. Delano White (Margaret Crocker), Courtenay, Muriel, and Lynchem.

Cf. Boston Evening Transcript, 27 May 1913; Memorial of Uriel Crocker, pp. 69-72, 117.
MRS. EMMA WHITE (STUART) PARISH of Denver, Colo., elected a resident member in 1911, was born at Cascade, Iowa, 22 December 1851, the daughter of Robert and Harriet Malencia (Blodgett) Stuart, and died 4 June 1913.

She was educated at Iowa College, Grinnell, Iowa, where she was a member of the Class of 1871, but she left college before graduation. She was preparing for publication an account of all the direct lines of her children’s ancestry, as far back as possible.

She was married, 4 April 1877, to Leonard Woods Parish, son of Ariel and Anna (Woods) Parish, by whom she had the following children: Robert Ariel, Leonard Woods, John Carl, Mabel, and Ariel.

ANSON PHELPS STOKES, M.A., of New York City, a resident member since 1904, was born in New York City 22 February 1838, and died there 28 June 1913. He was the eldest son of James Boulter and Caroline (Phelps) Stokes, his mother being a daughter of Anson Greene Phelps, the founder of Ansonia, Conn. On his mother’s side he was descended from many of the Puritan worthies of early New England; and his paternal grandfather, Thomas Stokes, who came from London to New York in 1798, was a descendant of John Stokes of Greensted, co. Essex, England. This Thomas Stokes was one of the founders of the London Missionary Society, had been associated with Robert Raikes in the founding of Sunday schools in London, and joined with Rowland Hill and others in fitting out the Duff, the first missionary ship for the South Sea Islands. In New York he was active in the formation of Sunday schools, and was one of the organizers of the New York Bible Society and of the New York Peace Society. He was one of the best known merchants of his day. The birthplace and boyhood home of Anson Phelps Stokes was the stately colonial mansion of his grandfather Phelps, which was situated in the midst of spacious grounds extending from the present 29th Street in New York City to 33d Street, and from the present Third Avenue to the East River.

Mr. Stokes received his early education from tutors and at private schools in New York City, and in 1860 he studied navigation on board the famous clipper ship Dreadnought, Capt. Samuels, acquiring from his experience on shipboard a taste for the sea which led him in later life to become an enthusiastic yachtsman. He entered upon a business career in New York, being a member of the mercantile firm of Phelps, Dodge & Company, founded by his maternal grandfather, and afterwards a member, together with his father, James B. Stokes, and his father-in-law, Isaac Newton Phelps, of the banking firm of Phelps, Stokes & Company. For thirty years he was a trustee of the United States Trust Company, and he was a director of the Mercantile and the Second National Banks. and a member of the Chamber of Commerce. He was interested also in several real estate companies and in various other business enterprises. He withdrew from active work as a banker more than twenty years ago.

His knowledge of navigation and of naval affairs and his command of mathematics enabled him to invent what he called a "globuloid naval battery," a mammoth battleship and floating fortress, intended principally for harbor defense. In 1903 patents for this invention were granted to him, both in the United States and abroad, and later other patents for improvements in this battery were obtained by him from the United States Patent Office. Because of this invention he was elected to membership in the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers in New York and in the Institution of Naval Architects in England. He was the owner of several yachts, was twice vice-commodore of the New York Yacht Club, and in a book which he wrote in 1902, entitled "Cruising in the West Indies," he told the story of some of his voyages.

A Democrat in politics, Mr. Stokes was active in many non-partisan movements for the betterment of national, state, and municipal life. He was founder and first president of the Reform Club, vice-president and a member of the Executive Committee of the Civil Service Reform Association, and his interest in the cause of free trade gained for him honorary membership in the Cobden Club of London. He wrote many letters and pamphlets on subjects pertaining to money and coinage, his work on "Joint-Metallism" going through five editions. He declined, however, numerous requests that he should be a candidate for political office.

Among the many organizations to which he belonged, in addition to those already mentioned, were the Society of Colonial Wars, of which he was at one time lieutenant-governor, the Museum of Natural History, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, St. George's Society, the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society, the National Geographic Society, the American Social Science Association, and the Century Club, the Union League Club, and other New York clubs. He was much interested in New England history and literature and in genealogical research, visited England many times in order to collect records, and in 1910 published the first volume, in two parts, of "Stokes Records." He was a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church, was often a delegate to diocesan and general conventions, and was active in ecclesiastical affairs.

He married in New York, 17 October 1865, Helen Louisa Phelps, daughter of Isaac Newton and Sarah Maria (Lusk) Phelps of New York. Their nine children, all of whom survive their father, are: Isaac Newton Phelps; Sarah Maria Phelps, widow of Baron Hugh Colin Gustav George Halkett; Helen Olivia Phelps; James Graham Phelps; Rev. Anson Phelps, secretary of Yale University; Ethel Valentine Phelps, wife of John Sherman Hoyt; Caroline Margaretta Phelps, wife of Robert Hunter; Mildred Evelyn Phelps, wife of Dr. Ransom Spaftard Hooker; and Harold Montrose Phelps.

Nathan Hagar Daniels of Boston, a resident member since 1890, was born at Waltham, Mass., 28 August 1833, the son of George Washington and Mary (Hagar) Daniels, and died 7 August 1913. His father was born at Roxbury, Mass., 11 March 1804, the sixth child of Richard and Susanna (Chamberlain) Daniels of Roxbury, and died at Framingham, Mass., 19 August 1842. He was a descendent of Samuel Daniels of Boston. His mother, Mary Hagar, daughter of Nathan Hagar of Weston, Mass., was a descendent of William Hagar, an early settler of Watertown, Mass.

He was educated in the common schools and at the academy at Westford, Mass. He was engaged in the dry goods business in Boston from 1852 to 1874, and was a manufacturer of woolens at Huntington, Mass., from 1874 to 1886. He was transfer agent of the Quincy Mining Company in Boston, in 1880, and was treasurer of various corporations. He served as a member of the Boston Common Council in 1869, and was chairman of the Board of Selectmen of Huntington, 1879-80.

He married first, 15 July 1862, Isabella Brown, born in Boston 31 March 1834, daughter of John and Isabella (Brown) Brown, formerly of Waltham, Mass., her mother being a daughter of William Brown of Boston. He married secondly, 16 July 1874, Abby Jane Farnsworth, daughter of Jesse Edson and Anna (Brown) Farnsworth of Lowell, Mass. His children were Nathan Hagar, Howard Bigelow, and a second Nathan Hagar.

Rev. Jonathan Leavitt Jenkins, A.M., D.D., of Boston, a resident member since 1912, was born at Portland, Me., 23 November 1830, the son of Rev. Charles and Amelia Stiles (Leavitt) Jenkins, and died at Pittsfield, Mass., 16 August 1913. His father was born at Barre, Mass., 28 August 1786, and his mother was born at Greenfield, Mass., 7 December 1800. She was the daughter of Jonathan Leavitt and the granddaughter of an earlier Jonathan Leavitt, both graduates of Yale College. Her mother, Amelia Stiles, was a daughter of President Stiles of Yale.

He was prepared for college at the Hopkins Grammar School and by private tutors at New Haven, Conn., was graduated at Yale in 1851, receiving later the degree of A.M. from that institution, and taught at the Leicester (Mass.) Academy for a year. In September 1852 he entered the Yale Divinity School, was a teacher in Hon. W. H. Russell's school during the greater part of 1853 and 1854, and, after he had been graduated at the Divinity School, was licensed to preach 24 July 1854. He intended to settle in the West; but he was called to the pastorate of the First Church at Lowell, Mass., where he remained for seven years. He was stationed for a while at the house of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions in Boston, and then was called to the Pearl Street Church at Hartford, Conn., whence he went as pastor to the First Church at Amherst, Mass. There he served for ten years, and then for fifteen years he was pastor of the First Church at Pittsfield. His last charge was the pastorate of the State Street Church at Portland; and, after laboring there for ten years, he retired from the active work of the ministry, and for the ten years immediately preceding his death made his home in Boston. He had received the degree of D.D. from Williams College in 1889.

Dr. Jenkins had published a number of occasional sermons and addresses, and in his prime he was a man of exceptional gifts as a preacher. As a citizen he took a prominent part in the affairs of the communities where he lived. At denominational gatherings he was a conspicuous figure, and his geniality and brotherly feeling made him a delightful companion and friend.

He married, 15 October 1862, Sarah Maria Eaton of Lowell, daughter of Worcester Eaton, and had four children: Anna Foote, born at Salem, Mass., 12 November 1863, died there 31 January 1864; Sarah Eaton, born at Hartford 17 July 1866, married to Grant Squires of Brooklyn, N. Y.; MacGregor, born at Amherst 14 April 1869; and Austin Dickinson, born at Pittsfield 19 January 1879.

Liberty Emery Holden, A.M., of Cleveland, Ohio, a life member since 1904, was born at Raymond, Me., 20 June 1833, the son of Liberty and Sally Cox (Stearns) Holden, and died at Cleveland 26 August 1913. He traced his ancestry to Richard Hayden, through Liberty, Peter, John, Samuel, and Samuel Holden.

He was prepared for college at the Bethel (Me.) Academy, was a student at Waterville College, Me., 1854-1856, and was graduated at the University of Michigan in 1858, receiving at that time the degree of A.B. and in 1861 that of A.M., after he had held the professorship of rhetoric and English literature for two years at Kalamazoo College, Mich. He was superintendent of schools at Tiffin, Ohio, 1861-62; was admitted to the bar in 1862; was engaged in the real estate business at Cleveland, 1862-1872; removed to Utah in 1876, where he was one of the founders and for twelve years the president of the Salt Lake Academy; and from 1885 on he was editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer and president of the Plain Dealer Publishing Company. He was an officer in numerous business organizations, and a trustee of the Western Reserve University and of the Cleveland School of Art. In 1884 he was chairman of the Executive Committee of the National Bimetallic League, and under his direction publications were issued which aroused interest in the free coinage of silver. He was a delegate from Ohio to the Democratic national conventions of 1888 and 1896. He was a member, and at one time vice-president, of the Western Reserve Historical Society, and a member of the National Municipal League.

He married, 14 August 1860, Delia Elizabeth Bulkley of Kalamazoo, daughter of Henry Guerdon and Susan Eliza (Brown) Bulkley, by whom he had the following children: Charles Emery, Sarah Eliza, Albert Fairchild, Liberty Dean, Delia Bulkley, Roberta, Emorie, and Gertrude and Guerdon (twins).

George Canning Burgess, A.B., of Brookline, Mass., a resident member since 1898, was born at Kingston, Mass., 9 December 1831, the son of Charles Goodrich and Anne (Prince) Burgess, and died 4 September 1913. He traced his ancestry, through Charles Goodrich, Stephen, Thomas, Samuel, and John, to Thomas Burgess.

He was prepared for college at Peirce Academy, Middleborough, Mass., in 1853 and 1854, and was graduated at Harvard College in 1858. His occupation was that of public accountant and auditor. He was a member of the School Committee at Brighton, Mass., for several years, and a member of the School Board of Portland, Me., for seven years. He was principal assessor of that city for one year, resigning to become city clerk, a position which he held for nine years. He contributed several papers to the historical and genealogical societies of which he was a member.

He married, 1 April 1863, Emma Josephine Cobb, daughter of William and Emma (Lubec) Cobb, by whom he had the following children: Percival Gordon, George Herbert, Harrison Goodrich, Ruth Prince, Charles Stephen, and Caroline Hastings.

Col. Edward Tobey Barker of Cambridge, Mass., a resident member since 1868, was born at Charlestown, Mass., 14 April 1840, the son of Ebenezer and Sally (Fuller) Barker, and died at Kingston, Mass., 6 September 1913. His line has been traced to Robert Barker, through Ebenezer, Josiah, Ebenezer, Josiah, Ebenezer, and Francis Barker.

He served in the United States Navy during the Civil War, and was superintendent of delivery in the Boston post office for nearly forty years. He was a charter member of the Society of Colonial Wars in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

He married, in November 1899, Elizabeth Leonard (Hooper) Barker, widow of Frederick Alden Barker and daughter of Mitchell and Jane (Mitchell) Hooper of Bridgewater, Mass.

Cf. Barker Family Genealogy, p. 69.
Gustavus Arthur Hilton, LL.B., of Milton, Mass., a resident member since 1888 and a life member since 1892, was born at Melrose, Mass., the son of Gustavus A. and Celeste J. (Beattie) Hilton, and died at Auburndale, Mass., 18 September 1913, in his fifty-eighth year.

He was a student at Harvard College from 1875 to 1878, and then went abroad. When he returned, he entered Boston University, from which he received the degree of LL.B.

Jacob Herbert Sawyer of Newton, Mass., a resident member since 1893 and a life member since 1911, was born at Heuniker, N. H., 10 June 1837, the son of Jacob and Laura (Bartlett) Sawyer, and died at Newton 13 October 1913. He traced his paternal line to William Sawyer, through Jacob, Edmund, Joseph, Edmund, Samuel, and Samuel Sawyer, and his maternal line to Richard Bartlett, through Laura, Joseph, Simeon, Stephen, Richard, and Richard Bartlett. His name was originally Jacob FitzHerbert Sawyer, but for several years he omitted the prefix Fitz, and his name was changed legally to Jacob Herbert Sawyer in 1883.

He was educated in the public schools of Manchester, N. H., which had been his home since his sixth year. He was an assistant civil engineer, with the Holyoke (Mass.) Water Power Company, in 1860; superintendent, agent, and treasurer of cotton mills in 1865; and the inventor of the Sawyer spindle. He was agent of the Otis Company of Ware, Mass., 1866-67; superintendent of the Appleton Company, Lowell, Mass., 1867-1881; treasurer of the Newmarket (N. H.) Manufacturing Company, 1882; and treasurer of the Chicopee Manufacturing Company in 1884.

He married first, 9 March 1864, Mary Lizzie Wentworth, who died 17 May 1880, daughter of William Titcomb and Lucinda (Ricker) Wentworth; secondly, 14 June 1882, Lucy Mansfield Newhall, daughter of John M. Newhall; and thirdly, in Boston, 24 March 1913, Emily James Ladd, daughter of William Henry and Martha (Gregory) Ladd, who survives him. His children, all by his first wife, were William, Grace Herbert, Fred Wentworth, and Henry Buckland.

Reuben Gold Thwaites, LL.D., of Madison, Wis., a corresponding member since 1894, was born at Dorchester, Mass., 15 May 1853, the son of William George and Sarah (Bibbe) Thwaites, and died at Madison 22 October 1913. His parents were from Yorkshire, England, but he never investigated thoroughly the subject of his ancestry.

He received his early education in the public schools of Dorchester, where he completed the grammar school course. In 1866 he removed to the West, with his mother, settling at Oshkosh, Wis., where he took the high school course. In the college branches he was self-educated, but he pursued a course for graduates at Yale University in 1874-75, without, however, being a candidate for a degree. In the winter of 1871-72 he had taught a country school, and in the spring of 1872 he entered upon a career as a journalist, being connected with the Oshkosh Daily Times. After writing a few months for Boston newspapers, he became managing editor of the Wisconsin State Journal, published at Madison, a position which he held during the years 1876-1886. He was assistant secretary of the State Historical Society of Wisconsin for the years 1884-1886, and secretary of the Society from 1886 to the time of his death. He was president of the American Library Association in 1900, and afterwards a member of its Executive Council; chairman of the Historical Manuscripts Commission of the American Historical Association, 1900, and a member of the Executive Council of the Association, 1904-1907; a member of the American Antiquarian Society; vice-chairman of the Wisconsin Free Library Commission; secretary and editor of the Wisconsin History Commission; honorary vice-president of the Wisconsin Society of the Archaeological Institute of America; honorary vice-president of the Egyptian Exploration Fund; and a member of many other learned societies, both American and British. He was lecturer on American history in the University Extension Department of the University of Wisconsin, and in 1904 the University conferred on him the degree of LL.D.

He was the author of numerous works, a list of which has been published in the "Bibliography of Wisconsin Authors." The history of the Northwest was his special field of study. Among his books may be mentioned "Down Historic Waterways," 1888; "The Story of Wisconsin," 1890; "The Colonies, 1492-1750," 1891 (in Epochs of American History); "Our Cycling Tour in England," 1892; "On the Storied Ohio," 1897; "Stories of the Badger State," 1900; "History of the University of Wisconsin," 1900; "Father Marquette," 1902; "Daniel Boone," 1902; "Brief History of Rocky Mountain Exploration," 1904; "France in America," 1905; and "Wisconsin," 1909 (in the American Commonwealth Series). He was the editor of the Wisconsin Historical Collections, vols. 2-18, 1888-1905; "The Jesuit Relations," 73 volumes, 1896-1901; "Early Western Travels, 1748-1846," 33 vols., 1904-1907; "Original Journals of Lewis and Clark," 1905; and of many other manuscripts and documents pertaining to American history.

He married, 25 December 1882, Jessie Inwood Turville, daughter of Henry and Mary (Kent) Turville, by whom he had two children, Frederick Turville and Margaret Turville.

He was brought up on his father's farm at Oxford and was educated in the district schools, with one or two terms in a select high school, so-called; and at the age of nineteen he left home with twenty-five dollars in his pocket, to seek his fortune in Boston. He found employment at small wages in a carpet store. In 1847 he took sole charge of a branch clothing store, and in 1850 started a business for himself which by gradual changes was increased to a general jobbing and commission business. He retired in 1870 with a handsome competence. By judicious investment and prudent management he steadily increased his fortune, and by his subsequent career he disseminated in a generous manner the benefits of his industry and success.

His numerous acts of unostentatious benevolence to private individuals were supplemented by gifts to public institutions. Thus he bequeathed $1000 to the New England Historic Genealogical Society, as a permanent fund, the income of which is to be used for the purchase of books for the Library, and from 1884 to 1893 he provided for the people of his native town five courses of free popular entertainments, which were liberally patronized and highly appreciated. Besides, in 1903-04, he erected in memory of his mother and gave to the town of Oxford an elegant and substantial building for the Free Public Library, at a cost of about $30,000. He was also instrumental in the organization of the Oxford Home for Aged People, incorporated in 1908, and was president of this institution and a most liberal contributor to its funds.

He had interested himself in genealogical researches sufficiently, at least, to establish his descent from the Rev. John Robinson of Leyden; and to gratify a natural desire for information he became an extensive traveller both in his own country and in Europe. His winters were spent chiefly in the South, and his summers were passed among the New England mountains. He was interested in many well-known organizations, such as our own Society, the Young Men's Christian Association, and the Young Men's Christian Union, in each of which he was a life member.

He was unmarried.

William Alexander Macleod, A.B., S.B., LL.B., of Dorchester, Mass., a resident member since 1890, was born at Providence, R. I., 19 March 1856, and died at Westwood, Mass.,
2 November 1913. He was the son of William and Helen (Harvie) Macleod, and traced his descent from the Macleods of Skye. He received the degree of B.S. from the Massachusetts Agricultural College and from Boston University in 1876, the degree of A.B. from Amherst College in 1877, and that of LL.B. from the Boston University Law School in 1879. He continued his legal studies in Providence, and was admitted to the Rhode Island bar in the last-named year and to the Massachusetts bar in 1880. He practised his profession in Boston from 1880 on, and was a member of the firm of Macleod, Calver, Copeland & Dike, well-known patent attorneys. He had an international reputation as a patent lawyer, and was also connected with various other business interests. He was a member of the Bostonian Society and of various clubs.

David Russell Jack of St. John, N. B., elected a corresponding member 3 December 1913, the Society being then unaware of his death, was born at St. John 5 May 1864, the son of Henry and Annie C. (Johnston) Jack, and died at Clifton Springs, N. Y., 2 December 1913. His father was of Scotch ancestry, and his mother belonged to the New England Loyalist stock.

He was educated at the grammar school at St. John, and built up an extensive business in fire and marine insurance and in real estate. Much of his life, however, was devoted to literary and historical work. At an early age he manifested an interest in historical subjects, and when only nineteen years old he won the prize of $200 offered by the directors of the Mechanics Institute in St. John for the best essay on the City and County of St. John. This essay was subsequently printed in book form, and is a valuable work of reference. In 1901 he began the publication of a quarterly magazine, Acadiensis, which he conducted for eight years at a considerable financial loss to himself. The magazine was well printed and profusely illustrated, and in its pages much important information relating to the early history of the maritime provinces of the Dominion of Canada is preserved. Copies of it will be of increasing interest and value in the years to come. In the splendidly arranged commemoration of the tercentenary of the discovery of the site of St. John by De Monts and Champlain, held on 24 June 1904 and on the following days, Mr. Jack was one of the leading workers. He was also instrumental to a great extent in the subsequent erection of the fine statue of Champlain in Queen's Square, St. John. He was deeply versed in Loyalist lore, and was engaged in the preparation of a work on the lives of the Loyalists who settled in New Brunswick and their descendants. He was the author of a history of St. Andrew's Church, in St. John, was engaged in the compilation of a newspaper history of the maritime provinces, and devoted much time to genealogical studies. He collected a library of rare volumes, which will eventually become the property of the St. John Public Library, of which he was one of the commissioners and the secretary. He wrote for a number of literary and historical magazines, and made notable contributions to a knowledge of the facts of local history.

He was an active member of several societies, including the organization of the Freemasons, the St. Andrew's Society, the Loyalist Society, of which he was the historian, and the Historical Society of New Brunswick, of which he was corresponding secretary. He was a corresponding member of the Literary and Historical Society of Quebec and of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society; and in recognition of his services to the cause of historical research he was chosen during the last year of his life to membership in the Colonial Institute of London.

Active in behalf of whatever might benefit his native city, he was for several years alderman for Queen's Ward in St. John, and to him the citizens were indebted for the substitution of electric lighting for gas in the streets. For seven years he was a member of the Board of School Trustees. In 1884 he became vice-consul for Spain at St. John, succeeding in that office his father, who had held the position for twenty years.

Fond of travel, Mr. Jack had visited almost every corner of Europe, and had also taken at least one trip around the world. He did not keep to the beaten routes of tourists, but wandered into Russia, Austria, Turkey, and other lands. While on his travels he gave to his friends the benefit of his experiences through interesting letters to the press, and on his return he was always ready to lecture on the places which he had visited, and to illustrate his lectures by photographs, most of which he had taken with his own camera.

Mr. Jack was a Presbyterian, and an active member of St. Andrew's Church at St. John. He was unmarried; but two sisters survive him, Miss Louise M. Jack of St. John and Miss Marion Elizabeth Jack, an artist of international fame, who spent many years in Paris and now resides in London.

George Lamb of Cambridge, Mass., a life member since 1896, was born in the State of New York 23 August 1834, the son of George Clinton and Eliza (Rockwell) Lamb, and died at Cambridge 9 December 1913.

He had been an ensign in the United States Navy, and was
eminent as an antiquary and cartographer, being especially qualified by his early sea training for this class of work. For more than forty years he had been a devoted student of the olden days of Boston. He prepared a map of Boston, which embodied his interpretation of the "Book of Possessions," from original material, long before the work of the Record Commission was established. This map was purchased by the Boston Public Library, and a limited number of copies were distributed. He also prepared a similar map of Cambridge. He was also an enthusiastic worker on the history of the Old Town House in Boston, and it is owing in large part to his influence that the printing of the first fourteen volumes of the Suffolk Deeds was accomplished. It was due to the interest which he thus aroused that much of the musty lore of the past has been preserved for posterity.

He was a genial gentleman of remarkable character and of much energy, and his untiring zeal was accompanied with great generosity in the loan of his material to friends and inquirers. His venerable and striking figure will be missed from its accustomed place at the registry of deeds, where he had become almost an appurtenance. A wife and daughter survived him.

MRS. LOUISE (BLANCHARD) BETHUNE of Buffalo, N. Y., a resident member since 1910, was born at Waterloo, N. Y., 21 July 1856, the daughter of Professor Dalson W. and Emma M. (Williams) Blanchard, and died at Buffalo 18 December 1913.

She was graduated at the Buffalo High School in 1874. In her girlhood days she showed great aptitude in designing houses and various other structures, and soon decided to take up architecture as a profession. She enjoyed the distinction of being an architect of national reputation and the first woman to enter that profession. She designed the Elmwood music hall, the Wilson building, the Denton, Cottier & Daniels music store, the Lafayette Hotel, the Bickford & Francis building, and other noteworthy structures. Up to about two years before her death she was an active member of the firm of Bethune, Bethune & Fuchs, architects, with offices in Franklin Street.

She was largely instrumental in forming the Western New York Association of Architects, of which she was one of the first officers, and was the only woman fellow of the American Institute of Architects. She was a former president of the Buffalo Genealogical Society, at one time treasurer of the Society of New England Women, and a member of the Daughters of the Revolution. She left an unfinished Blanchard genealogy, a typewritten copy of which will be deposited in the archives of the New England Historic Genealogical Society.

She was married, 10 December 1881, to Robert A. Bethune of Buffalo, with whom she was associated in the profession of architecture, who with one son, Dr. C. W. Bethune of Buffalo, survives her.

Martin Van Buren Kinne of Somerville, Mass., a resident member since 1908, was born at Canaan, N. H., 18 June 1836, the son of Amos and Sally Ann (Rogers) Kinne. He traced his ancestry to Henry¹ Kene, who settled at Salem Village (now Danvers), Mass., in 1650, through Amos,¹ Luther,⁶ Capt. Amos,³ Amos,⁴ Thomas,⁵ and Thomas⁶ Kinne.

He was educated in the common schools in Hanover, N. H., and at the Canaan (N. H.) Academy. By occupation he was a carpenter and builder, and also a real estate dealer.

He married first, 17 September 1852, his cousin, Achsah Celina Kinne, born at Hanover, N. H., 15 September 1836, died at Minneapolis, Minn., 19 April 1892, daughter of John Miller and Achsah (Blake) Kinne; secondly, in January 1893, Margaret Ellen Moore, born at Bedford, N. H., 7 July 1837, died at Goffstown, N. H., 10 November 1903, daughter of Josiah and Sophia Moore; and thirdly, 13 September 1900, Addie Hodge (Mason) (Colburn) Tichurst, born 19 September 1849, daughter of Stephen and Betsy Jane (Austin) Mason. By his first wife he had a daughter, Nellie Grace, who was born at Grafton, N. H., 10 January 1861 and died at Minneapolis, Minn., 19 January 1886, the wife of William Frank Miller, formerly of Manchester, N. H.

Second Addendum to the Memoir of Nathaniel Thayer (vide Register, vol. 66, Supplement, p. lxxii, and vol. 67, Supplement, p. lxi):

The statement that Mr. Thayer's third daughter died young is incorrect, as is shown below. Mr. Thayer's three daughters are: 1. Cornelia Van Rensselaer, who was born 6 December 1881, was married, 29 June 1907, to Count Carl Moltke of Denmark, and has a son, Carl Adam Nathaniel, born 10 September 1908. 2. Anna Morton, who was born 28 May 1883, was married, 16 June 1904, to William S. Patten, and has three children, Anna Thayer, born 29 March 1905, Jane Hunnewell, born 9 May 1906, and William S., born 29 November 1909. 3. Sarah Barroll, who was born 18 February 1885, was married, 12 July 1911, to Frederic Winthrop of Boston, and has two children, Nathaniel Thayer, born 21 May 1912, and John, born 4 June 1913.

Letter of Frederic Winthrop, dated 9 July 1913.
Memoirs of the following-named members of the Society may be found as indicated:

Joseph Burbreeen Walker, in the Register of April 1913; David Floyd, in the Register of July 1913; Aaron Sargent, in the Register of October 1913; Henry FitzGilbert Waters, in the Register of January 1914; William Theophilus Rogers Marvin, in the Register of April 1914.

It is expected that a memoir of Thomas Minns will appear in the Register of October 1914.

CHARTER AND ENABLING ACTS

An Act to incorporate the New England Historic Genealogical Society.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Sect. 1. Charles Ewer, J. Wingate Thornton, Joseph Willard, their associates and successors, are hereby made a corporation, by the name of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, for the purpose of collecting, preserving, and occasionally publishing, genealogical and historical matter, relating to early New England families, and for the establishment and maintenance of a cabinet; and for these purposes, shall have all the powers and privileges, and, be subject to all the duties, requirements and liabilities, set forth in the forty-fourth chapter of the Revised Statutes.

Sect. 2. The said corporation may hold and possess real and personal estate, to an amount not exceeding twenty thousand dollars.
[Approved by the Governor, March 18, 1845.]
Acts and Resolves of the General Court of Massachusetts, 1845, chapter 152.

An Act to enable the New England Historic-Genealogical Society to hold an additional amount of property.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The New England Historic-Genealogical Society may take, by purchase, gift, grant or otherwise, and hold, real and personal estate not exceeding one hundred thousand dollars, in addition to the amount authorized by the second section of chapter one hundred and fifty-two of the acts of the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-five.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

Approved April 1, 1869.

An Act to enable the New England Historic-Genealogical Society to hold additional real and personal property.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Section 1. The New England Historic-Genealogical Society may take by bequest, gift, grant, or otherwise, and hold, real and personal estate not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars in value in addition to the amount authorized by section two of chapter one hundred and fifty-two of the acts of the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, and by section one of chapter one hundred of the acts of the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, and exclusive of the value of all books, papers, pictures and statuary now owned, or which may be hereafter acquired by said society.

Section 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.
Approved April 13, 1883.

An Act to enable women to become members of the New England Historic Genealogical Society.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

The New England Historic Genealogical Society, a corporation organized under the laws of this Commonwealth, may admit women to membership, subject to such restrictions as the by-laws of said corporation may from time to time impose.

Acts and Resolves, 1897, chapter 275.
Approved April 10, 1897.

The following is from the Revised Laws of 1902, Corporation Acts, chapter 125, section 8:

Any corporation organized under general or special laws for any of the purposes mentioned in section two (educational, charitable, antiquarian, historical, literary, scientific, etc.) . . . may hold real and personal estate to an amount not exceeding one million five hundred thousand dollars.

QUERIES

Queries appear in the advertising pages of the REGISTER, and all such matter is printed, without restriction as to subject or space, at the rate of ten cents for ten words, or fraction thereof, payable in advance.

Bissell.—Wanted, the maiden name of Mabel, wife of Capt. Ozias Bissell (see Records of the Church in Bolton, Con., REGISTER, vol. 52, pp. 411 et seq.). From the use of Russell as a baptismal name in the family it has been conjectured that she may have been a descendant of James and Mabel Russell of Charlestown.

2117 McCausland Avenue, St. Louis, Mo. A. H. Godbey.

Clay.—Wanted, information about the descendants of Jonas, Thomas, Steven, and Humphrey Clay, who settled at Salem, Mass., about 1630. Capt. Jonas Clay, who died in 1704, and Capt. Steven Clay, who was in the West India trade, were doubtless of the second generation of this family. Jonas Clay, son of Capt. Jonas, and his brother Steven moved to New Hampshire about 1730, settling first at Exeter and soon afterwards at Chester. The sons of this last-mentioned Jonas were Jonas, John, Daniel, Steven, and James, all born in Massachusetts.

Haskins.—Who were the parents of William Haskins of Scituate, Mass., calker, who bought land in Scituate in 1758 and whose will was proved 1 June 1807? His wife Hannah was probably Hannah* Bryant (David,4 David,6 John,2 John1).

Bartlett.—Ten Dollars will be paid to the first person furnishing positive proof of the parentage of Ichabod Bartlett, born 6 May 1773, or Ruth, his e, born 25 Aug. 1775. They were born in or near Salisbury, Mass., or Salisbury, Conn.

Martin & Allardyce, Asbury Park, N. J.

White. — One Hundred Dollars will be paid to the first person furnishing the record of birth and positive proof of the parentage of Isaac White of Brookfield, Mass., who married, 9 Oct. 1735, Elizabeth Perry, daughter of Joseph and Mary, and removed about 1740 to Greenwich, Mass.

Mallon Clarke, 1127 Beech Street, San Diego, Cal.

Containing memoirs of members who died previous to 1899. This series of volumes is replete with historic and biographic lore, of constantly increasing value — great pains having been taken to make the memoirs complete and accurate. Only a small edition is printed. $2.50 per vol. or $10 for the 9 vols.

Waters's Genealogical Gleanings in England.
These Gleanings abound in clues which, if properly followed up, will enable the genealogist to pursue in the mother country investigations which without such aid would be practically impossible. 2 vols. $10.00

Genealogies of the Families and Descendants of the Early Settlers of Watertown, Massachusetts, Including Waltham and Weston:
to which is appended the early history of the town, with illustrations, maps and notes, by Henry Bond, M.D. Second Edition. With a memoir of the author, by Horatio Gates Jones, A.M. Two vols. in one 1094 pages.

The volume contains, in 607 pages, 1360 wills, comprising about 49,000 names of persons and over 10,000 names of places. $6.00
The Pioneers of Massachusetts. By Rev. Charles Henry Pope. An alphabetical compilation of genealogical data, gleaned from public and private records and other sources, both in England and New England, relating to the first settlers and founders of what is now the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, between the years 1620 and 1650, inclusive; with an introduction, tables, summaries, and cross-index. Boston, Mass. 1866. 4to. 550 pp. $15.00

MASSACHUSETTS VITAL RECORDS

The New England Historic Genealogical Society is publishing, by a Fund set apart from the bequest of Robert Henry Eddy to the Society, and known as The Eddy Town-Record Fund, the Vital Records (Births, Marriages and Deaths) of Towns in Massachusetts whose Records are not already printed, from their beginning to the year 1850, in books of 8vo size, in clear type, on good paper, and with cloth binding. The arrangement is alphabetical.

Subscription to these Records, if made in advance of publication, will be taken at the rate of one cent per page, which includes binding. Expressage extra.

Only a limited number of copies are being printed. The type is then distributed, and the extra copies held on sale at a considerable advance on the subscription price.

Address all communications to The Treasurer, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, Mass.

QUERIES

QUERIES appear in the advertising pages of the REGISTER; and all such matter is printed, without restriction as to subject or space, at the rate of ten cents for ten words, or fraction thereof, payable in advance.

BLAKE.—John Blake, "now of Wrentham, formerly of Sandwich, Mass.," in 1686, with Edward Pratt and others, made division of lands previously bought of John Wampum, alias White, an Indian of Assunawesock, then deceased (Suffolk Deeds, liber 16, p. 89). He died 25 May 1700, and his wife Bridget died 30 May 1706. His sons were Robert, Andrew, John, and Isaac. He was the progenitor of most of this name in Wrentham. Whence came the said John Blake, what is known of him prior to and during his residence in Sandwich, and what was the maiden name of his wife?

194 Fulton Street, Brooklyn, N. Y. E. H. CHAIGE.

BLAKE.—Wanted, ancestry of John Blake of Weare, N. H., born about 1751.

HUDSON.—Wanted, ancestry of James Hudson of Boston, and maiden name and ancestry of his third wife, Mary ———, whom he married about 1654. Persons who are descended from any children of said James Hudson except Eleazer, his fifteenth and last child, are requested to send their lines of descent to the undersigned.

Wanted, maiden name and ancestry of Widow (?) Deborah Ford, born about 1680, married about 1705 Eleazer Hudson of Boston, married again after 1736 Capt. Jeremiah Stephens of Salisbury, died 1772, buried at Salem, Mass.

Mead.—Wanted, ancestry of Nehemiah Mead, born 1747. He spent his early life at Nine Partners or Little Nine Partners, Dutchess Co., N. Y.

NEWCOMB.—Wanted, name and ancestry of the wife of Cyrenius Newcomb. He was born at Lebanon, Conn., 1721.

39 Broad Street, Plattsburgh, N. Y. GEORGE H. HUDSON.

MAYNARD.—Amos Maynard, who died at Montgomery, Mass., 31 July 1831, aged 88, was son of Elnathan and Bial (Button) Maynard. Where did Elnathan live, and where were his children born?

WRIGHT.—Samuel Wright, born 16 Sept. 1736, married Philena Bill (daughter of Thomas of Montville, Conn.), and died at Montgomery, Mass., 31 Mar. 1817, aged 80. (Vital Records of Montgomery.) Other Wrights of Montgomery were of this family. Wanted, residence of Samuel Wright before he settled at Montgomery and names of his parents.

Shawnee, Okla. C. P. STEVENS.

WINSLOW-CLARKE.—Maj. Edward Winslow (Kenelm1, Kenelm1) of Harwich and Rochester, Mass., married Sarah ———, born 1680/1, died Oct. 1767. Was she a daughter of Andrew and Mehitable (Scottow or Scottoway) Clarke of Harwich? Sarah Winslow had a daughter Mehitable and grandchildren Clarke Winslow and Scottoway Whitcomb, and the name Sarah was common in the Clarke family. Andrew Clarke and Kenelm Winslow lived on adjoining lands at Harwich and were joint owners of a gristmill. Andrew Clarke, Jr., married Elizabeth Winslow.

Three children of Andrew and Mehitable Clarke were born in Boston. Where were the other children born?

1816 South Rittenhouse Square, Philadelphia, Pa. (MISS) MARY E. SINNOTT.

Why Keep Men to Serve Little?

Our fruit is through the work of the men who are planted in the vineyard of commerce and who form the backbone of our business. How can we expect to succeed in commerce in any degree when we do not use to the best advantage the best help that is available? And when we have to pay for their services in any degree of excellence, why? Can our system of increasing in success be justified to the public when the cost of labor is paid out of their pockets and profits are reduced by the wages that are paid? Can we expect success in commerce when we do not use men to the best advantage of which we are capable?

THE REGISTER
The New England Historical and Genealogical Register, established in 1847 and published quarterly, in January, April, July, and October. Each number contains on an average ninety-six octavo pages of valuable and interesting matter concerning the History, Antiquities, Genealogy, and Biography of America, printed on durable paper made especially for the Society, with an engraved portrait in each number. A complete index to each volume in the October number. Subscription, $4.00 per year in advance, commencing January. Current single numbers, $1.00. Prices of complete sets, of odd volumes, and of single numbers quoted on application. Unobjectionable advertisements accepted at reasonable rates.
The Register with its Consolidated Index is indispensable to family historians, genealogists, and all persons seeking information about American families. The number of complete sets in existence is limited, and their value is constantly increasing.

ENGLISH RESEARCH
Genealogical Gleanings in England, by Henry FitzGilbert Waters, A.M. These Gleanings abound in clues, which, if properly followed up, will enable the genealogist to pursue in the mother country investigations which without such aid would be practically impossible. 2 vols., 1643 pages. Cloth. $10.00
Abstracts of Wills in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury at Somerset House, London, England. Register Soame, 1620. The volume contains, in 607 pages, 1366 wills, comprising about 40,000 names of persons and over 10,000 names of places. $6.00
Emigrants. Emigrants from England, 1773-1776. 1913, 206 pages. $4.00
Emigrants. List of Emigrants to America from Liverpool, 1697-1707. 1913, 55 pages. $1.00
Research in England. An essay to aid the student. Lea. 1905. 36 pages. $1.00

VITAL RECORDS
Massachusetts Vital Records. The Births, Marriages, and Deaths recorded in towns in Massachusetts, from their founding to the year 1850, taken from the original records of the town, arranged in alphabetical order, printed on paper made especially for the Society, and bound in cloth. These books are most useful to those seeking genealogical information about ancestors who lived in these towns.

MASSACHUSETTS VITAL RECORDS

The New England Historic Genealogical Society is publishing, by a fund set apart from the bequest of Robert Henry Eddy to the Society, and known as the Eddy Town-Record Fund, the Vital Records (Births, Marriages, and Deaths) of towns in Massachusetts whose records are not already printed, from their beginning to the year 1850, in books of octavo size, in clear type, on durable paper made expressly for this work, and with cloth binding. The arrangement is alphabetical.

Subscription to these Records, if made in advance of publication, will be taken at the rate of one cent per page, which includes binding. Express extra.

These books are especially useful to persons whose ancestors have resided in these towns.

Address all communications to The Treasurer, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, Mass.

THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY is now located in its new building at No. 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, with adequate space for future growth, with safe quarters for its magnificent genealogical library, and with facilities for the economical administration of its various departments.

It needs substantial increases of endowment and income, in order to prosecute its work with vigor and to accomplish the objects for which it was founded.

Its past achievements, in gathering a library which is unrivalled in its field, in publishing data relating to American families unsurpassed either in amount or quality by any kindred institution, in making extensive researches in England, the results of which have been of national importance, in conducting monthly public meetings which are largely attended, and in promoting interest in genealogical studies in America throughout the entire period of its existence, entitle the Society to consideration by all interested in American genealogy, and ought to enlist the support of those who desire the preservation of the records of American families.

Its officers will gladly confer with anyone desiring to create memorial funds by gift or bequest, the income of which shall be used to promote the objects of the Society.

Its membership is open to all persons of good character who are interested in the work of the Society. Its quarterly periodical, The New England Historical and Genealogical Register, is the leading publication of its kind, and is sent free to resident and life members.

The fee for resident membership is $5.00 per calendar year, and the fee for life membership is $50.00.

QUERIES

Queries appear in the advertising pages of the Register; and all such matter is printed, without restriction as to subject or space, at the rate of ten cents for ten words, or fraction thereof, payable in advance.

Burnap (Burnett).—Wanted, dates of birth, marriage, and death of Benjamin Burnap, father of the John Burnap whose birth, as son of Benjamin and Hannah, is found in the Hopkinton (Mass.) records under date of 20 Sept. 1731. Was Benjamin (father of John) a son of the Benjamin Burnap who was born at Reading, Mass., in 1677 and married Elizabeth Newhall of Malden, Mass., in 1700? What was the maiden name of Hannah, wife of Benjamin and mother of John Burnap (the name is later spelled Burnett)?

Wheat.—John Burnap married at Uxbridge, Mass., 1 May 1755, Anna Wheat. Wanted, the paternal ancestry of Anna Wheat. Is the name possibly a corruption of Waite?

9 Bosworth Street, Boston, Mass.          Robert M. Burnett.

Butterfield.—Wanted, ancestry of William Butterfield, born at Dunstable, N.H., Aug. 1757, died at Rockingham, Vt., 12 June 1838. He served in the Revolution in Capt. William Walker’s company, Col. Reid’s regiment, N. H. State Troops, and was a pensioner.

De Klyn-Maney (Minne)-Van Zandt.—Leonard De Klyn, born in New York (?) 4 Mar. 1737, married there, 24 Sept. 1763, Margaret Maney, born in New York (?) 17 Jan. 1744. Leonard was a “joiner” in New York. Who were the parents of Leonard and Margaret?

Barnt De Klyn, born “in Boston” (according to his monument, but is this correct?) 31 Oct. 1745, married (license, N. Y. Province, 9 Apr. 1768) Mary Van Zandt, born “in New York” (according to monument) 29 Jan. 1749. Barnt was “Merchant of Philadelphia” for a while. Who were the parents of Barnt and Mary? Are there any unpublished De Klyn data?

New Rochelle, N. Y.          Richard Webber.

Hubbard.—Wanted, ancestry of John Hubbard of Roxbury, 1675, and maiden name of Rebecca, his wife. He was a soldier in King Philip’s War and one of the first settlers of Woodstock, Conn., in 1686. His daughter, Sarah, born in 1684, married Dea. Josiah Bugbee of Ashford, Conn.

3101 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, Cal.          Orilla E. Monnette.

Craig.—One Hundred Dollars will be paid to the first person furnishing authentic information of the time and place of death of Andrew Craig, who settled at Wrentham, Mass., in 1730. With part of his family he removed to Worcester Co., Mass., 1745-1749. His widow, Janet (Todd) Craig, was married to Matthew Taft in 1749. His son Robert (died 1805) was a physician at Spencer, Mass., and the progenitor of Craig families in that and neighboring towns. His son John (died 1803) raised a large family at Wrentham.

PUBLICATIONS FOR SALE
By the Treasurer of the N. E. Historic Genealogical Society
9 Ashburton Place, Boston, Mass.

THE REGISTER

The New England Historical and Genealogical Register, established in 1847 and published quarterly, in January, April, July, and October. Each number contains on average ninety-six octavo pages of valuable and interesting matter concerning the History, Antiquities, Genealogy, and Biography of America, printed on durable paper made especially for the Society, with an engraved portrait in each number. A complete index to each volume in the October number. Subscription, $4.00 per year in advance, commencing January. Current single numbers, $1.00. Prices of complete sets, of odd volumes, and of single numbers quoted on application. Unobjectionable advertisements accepted at reasonable rates.

The Register with its Consolidated Index is indispensable to family historians, genealogists, and all persons seeking information about American families. The number of complete sets in existence is limited, and their value is constantly increasing.

ENGLISH RESEARCH

Genealogical Gleanings in England, by Henry FitzGilbert Waters, A.M. These Gleanings abound in clues, which, if properly followed up, will enable the genealogist to pursue in the mother country investigations which without such aid would be practically impossible. 2 vols., 1643 pages. Cloth. $10.00.

Emigrants. List of Emigrants to America from Liverpool, 1697-1707. 1913. 55 pages. $1.00.

Research in England. An essay to aid the student. Lea. 1905. 36 pages. $1.00

VITAL RECORDS

Massachusetts Vital Records. The Births, Marriages, and Deaths recorded in towns in Massachusetts, from their founding to the year 1850, taken from the original records of the town, arranged in alphabetical order, printed on paper made especially for the Society, and bound in cloth. These books are most useful to those seeking genealogical information about ancestors who lived in these towns.

THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY is now located in its new building at No. 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, with adequate space for future growth, with safe quarters for its magnificent genealogical library, and with facilities for the economical administration of its various departments.

It needs substantial increases of endowment and income, in order to prosecute its work with vigor and to accomplish the objects for which it was founded.

Its past achievements, in gathering a library which is unrivalled in its field, in publishing data relating to American families unsurpassed either in amount or quality by any kindred institution, in making extensive researches in England, the results of which have been of national importance, in conducting monthly public meetings which are largely attended, and in promoting interest in genealogical studies in America throughout the entire period of its existence, entitle the Society to consideration by all interested in American genealogy, and ought to enlist the support of those who desire the preservation of the records of American families.

Its officers will gladly confer with anyone desiring to create memorial funds by gift or bequest, the income of which shall be used to promote the objects of the Society.

Its membership is open to all persons of good character who are interested in the work of the Society. Its quarterly periodical, THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER, is the leading publication of its kind, and is sent free to resident and life members.

The fee for resident membership is $5.00 per calendar year, and the fee for life membership is $50.00.

ENGLISH RESEARCH — STANDISH

The Committee on English Research calls special attention to the important article in the present number of the Register on the ancestry of Capt. Myles Standish. This article, which was secured for the Register at a considerable expense, indicates certain lines along which further researches for the parentage of Capt. Standish may be made with a fair prospect of success. The author of the article has offered to carry on investigations in this promising field, without compensation for his time, if his expenses incurred in this additional work are guaranteed. The Committee solicits special contributions for the Standish research.

Additional funds are also needed immediately for the continuation of the general English Research work, which has been carried on so successfully by Miss Elizabeth French for the past six years. The importance of these researches, begun for the Society many years ago by the late Henry FitzGilbert Waters, Esq., will be evident to all; but unless further subscriptions are received without delay, suspension of the work will be inevitable.

Members of the Society, whether subscribers to the fund for English Research or not, may obtain, by applying at the offices of the Society, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, blank forms for recording facts about the early settlers of New England in whose English ancestry they are interested. This information will be filed, and a copy will be sent to Miss French; but the Committee cannot guarantee that it will be practicable to follow up any particular clue.

Subscriptions, both for the special Standish fund and for the general English Research fund, may be sent to

Charles S. Penhallow, Chairman, 803 Sears Building, Boston, Mass.

LARCHER-CROWELL.—Twenty Dollars will be paid to the first person furnishing authentic information as to the parents of either John Larcher, born 28 Aug. 1726, or Lucy Crowell, born 15 Feb. 1729. They were probably from Martha’s Vineyard. Their marriage is recorded at Tisbury, 31 Mar. 1748.

PUBLICATIONS FOR SALE

By the Treasurer of the N. E. Historic Genealogical Society

THE REGISTER

The New England Historical and Genealogical Register, established in 1847 and published quarterly, in January, April, July, and October. Each number contains on an average ninety-six octavo pages of valuable and interesting matter concerning the History, Antiquities, Genealogy, and Biography of America, printed on durable paper made especially for the Society, with an engraved portrait in each number. A complete index to each volume in the October number. Subscription, $1.00 per year in advance, commencing January. Current single numbers, $1.00. Prices of complete sets, of odd volumes, and of single numbers quoted on application. Unobjectionable advertisements accepted at reasonable rates.

The Register with its Consolidated Index is indispensable to family historians, genealogists, and all persons seeking information about American families. The number of complete sets in existence is limited, and their value is constantly increasing.

ENGLISH RESEARCH

Genealogical Gleanings in England, by Henry FitzGilbert Waters, A.M. These Gleanings abound in clues, which, if properly followed up, will enable the genealogist to pursue in the mother country investigations which without such aid would be practically impossible. 2 vols., 1643 pages. Cloth. $10.00.

Emigrants. List of Emigrants to America from Liverpool, 1697-1707. 1913. 55 pages. $1.00.

VITAL RECORDS

Massachusetts Vital Records. The Births, Marriages, and Deaths recorded in towns in Massachusetts, from their founding to the year 1850, taken from the original records of the town, arranged in alphabetical order, printed on paper made especially for the Society, and bound in cloth. These books are most useful to those seeking genealogical information about ancestors who lived in these towns.

The New England Historic Genealogical Society is publishing, by a fund set apart from the bequest of Robert Henry Eddy to the Society, and known as the Eddy Town-Record Fund, the Vital Records (Births, Marriages, and Deaths) of towns in Massachusetts whose records are not already printed, from their beginning to the year 1850, in books of octavo size, in clear type, on durable paper made expressly for this work, and with cloth binding. The arrangement is alphabetical.

Subscription to these Records, if made in advance of publication, will be taken at the rate of one cent per page, which includes binding. Expressage extra.

Only a limited number of copies are being printed. The type is then distributed, and the copies not subscribed for are held for sale at a considerable advance above the subscription price.

These books are especially useful to persons whose ancestors have resided in these towns. Address all communications to The Treasurer, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, Mass.

YOUR FAMILY PORTRAITS:

Daguerrotype, Old Photographs, Tintypes, Miniatures, Oil Paintings; also Old Manuscripts

SUGGESTIONS ON HAVING THEM REPRODUCED

privately in the Copley Prints for gifts to your relatives as well as for preservation in case of loss or damage to the originals, or fading in the case of old photographs.

EVERYONE has a daguerreotype, old photograph, painting, or other portrait, of ancestors or relatives (or a valued old letter, log-book, etc.), of which other members of the family would like to have copies, of artistic quality, either of small size for portfolio or album, or in larger sizes suitable for framing and hanging on one’s wall. They make especially unique and choice gifts to relatives, for birthdays, weddings, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and other occasions of family reunion or celebration.

REQUESTS for such copies are so numerous, and the results have given so much satisfaction to the families from whom commissions have come, that Messrs. Curtis & Cameron, of Boston, sole publishers of the genuine Copley Prints, are inviting general attention to their facilities for this interesting work.

FAITHFULNESS to the originals, permanence, and artistic quality are important requirements, all of which are guaranteed by the high reputation which the Copley Prints have won throughout the world. Discolored and faded daguerreotypes can almost always be restored, and most defects in originals, caused time or accident, removed by skillful handwork in the reproduction.

SAMPLE. The illustration on the opposite page, being only a half-tone from the Copley Print, can only partially indicate the quality of the Prints themselves. A sample of a genuine Print will, upon request, be loaned for inspection.

PRICES and other particulars are given in a Family Portraits Circular, which will be sent free on request. In addition to this circular, attention is invited to the complete Illustrated Catalogue of the Copley Prints and the Copley Etchings, which shows some 400 pictures — practically a Handbook of American Art. It may help you in selecting pictures for your home and for gifts to friends. The Catalogue will be sent for 25 cents — stamps accepted, this cost to be deducted from a subsequent purchase of the Prints themselves.

In responding to this announcement kindly mention this publication.

THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY is now located in its new building at No. 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, with adequate space for future growth, with safe quarters for its magnificent genealogical library, and with facilities for the economical administration of its various departments.

It needs substantial increases of endowment and income, in order to prosecute its work with vigor and to accomplish the objects for which it was founded.

Its past achievements, in gathering a library which is unrivalled in its field, in publishing data relating to American families unsurpassed either in amount or quality by any kindred institution, in making extensive researches in England, the results of which have been of national importance, in conducting monthly public meetings which are largely attended, and in promoting interest in genealogical studies in America throughout the entire period of its existence, entitle the Society to consideration by all interested in American genealogy, and ought to enlist the support of those who desire the preservation of the records of American families.

Its officers will gladly confer with anyone desiring to create memorial funds by gift or bequest, the income of which shall be used to promote the objects of the Society.

Its membership is open to all persons of good character who are interested in the work of the Society. Its quarterly periodical, The New England Historical and Genealogical Register, is the leading publication of its kind, and is sent free to resident and life members.
